Then the cat was out of the bag, if I may be allowed the expression; then we understood that party strife was to be introduced in the affairs of our municipal government, and a minority of only six members was to be crushed out, or dragged in the political arena, to be mangled and bruised by that party which when out of power, were clamorous that "party feelings should be kept out of our city affairs." And that majority was not satisfied with voting down every resolution that did not exactly agree with their views; and when even if it did, if it was of any importance, it was voted down, and they would again introduce it, and pass it, whenever a member from Ward 2 or 3 introduced the same resolution in substance, only interpersed by some technical phrase or some parliamentary rule, pretending to be ignorance of the Democratic member who introduced it previously. Again, at another meeting of the Council, I introduced a resolution in regard to the fire department, and advocated the claims of this body of men, composing one-fourth of our voting population; sir, will what reception were these remarks met? Why, at the very next meeting, a resolution was introduced to deprive of the [illegible] in the Board, four members of the Board [illegible] why was this done? simply because a member of the department advocated the claims of that large portion of our respectable citizens; men who are banded together for the interest of our citizens and for our common welfare; who, when the bell peals forth its notes of danger, are the men on the scene of fire, whether it be at mid-day or midnight, peril their lives, and what is scarcely less precious to laboring men,—their health, to battle the raging element, and to save property from destruction. Let the wind blow high or blow low, let the rainstorm beat, or the snows of winter mantle around our dwellings, then the alarm of fire comes, the fireman must away to his post of duty, and what is his reward? Why, a gentleman on this Council says: "he pay them 87 a year, and we have a right to abuse them as much as we please." But the question is, are the firemen to stand this abuse? Why, if we do not want our fire system, or the firemen to be abused, trampled upon and insulted by a class of men who know nothing of the wants of our department. Are our citizens, those of our taxpayers who support our institution,—going to see the Fire Department broken up and scattered?—Are they to permit their property thus to be endangered and laid liable to conflagration, simply because a few ignorant and wilful men have taken hold of the department, and redress which is asked, and what is absolutely needed to protect those men who are exposed the most in the discharge of their duties as firemen? A petition was handed before this Board from Engine Co. No. 1, and these same gentlemen who oppose the department resolved to have the subject brought before its proper committee, but must necessarily refer it to the Committee on Claims, a committee not appointed to concern themselves about matters connected with the fire department. But, sir, I think enough has been said in regard to this particular, and we will pass back again to the resolution of expulsion. After the subject of the Fire Department was introduced, a gentleman introduced a resolution to expel four members from the Council; but after some discussion, in which the gentlemen from Ward 2 found themselves somewhat lame, the matter was postponed on that evening; but, subsequently to the next meeting, a secret midnight cabal was called, at which one of the gentlemen who composed the so called majority was not invited to join simply because he told too much truth, and could not be permitted to act in caucus because he also committed treason by defending the rights and wishes of the fire department. I members, I understand, met upon that eventful night, and a vote was taken whether the resolution should proceed any further or be then dropped. And 12 voted, that as the subject had proceeded so far they had better go through with it; but one honest-minded man, a man who can judge between right and wrong, voted against any such proceedings. I think, sir, from the course I have pursued, although there may be others who would have acted with me, had they been in that august body, yet on such a question I should have voted in favor of tyranny; but it was found that the resolution which was introduced was not a legal one; that the Common Council had no power to turn out a member of its own body in an appointed office. [illegible] quandary; but a happy thought struck one of the members,—yes the thought of some outsider,—that a declaratory resolution might effect the object, and at the next meeting of a resolution was sent from the Council to the Aldermen. Thus ended the farce in the Council. And now, gentlemen, I am about to present to you my resignation as a member of your honorable body.

During the time that I have been here, I have experienced at the hands of some of the members every kindness that they could show, and for which I can only express my thanks. Any resolution that I have offered has been presented with a view to the best interests of the city. Notwithstanding, a certain member here has stated that any resolution which was introduced by a member from Ward 3, he would vote against.—But, sir, I have endeavored to do but my duty to my constituency and my duty to the city. And, although certain members of this board have used their endeavors to annihilate what minority there was in the board, yet thus far have their endeavors been signal failures. And, in closing, I would bid them beware; for a retributive justice is sure to follow their infamous proceedings.

Reply of the Mayor

To the Report of the special Committee, to whom was referred so much of the Mayor's address as relates to the appointment of officers:

To the Board of Aldermen of the City of Portsmouth.

Gentlemen:—On the 23d of February last, a committee of your number presented to you a long report upon "so much of the Mayor's address as relates to the appointment of officers," and they have caused it to be published in one of the papers of the city. It is not easy to perceive the occasion or purpose of such a report, unless it be to raise political capital in behalf of the party whom the committee represent. The fact that not a single political friend of the Mayor was placed on the committee, that the report recommends no action, and that it is partisan in its style and unfair in its statements, all tend to the same conclusion. It seems to me right therefore, that I should not submit in silence to its attacks, nor allow its misrepresentations to go uncorrected. But inasmuch as the negotiations referred to in the report of the committee were conducted under a mutual pledge of privacy on the part both of the Mayor and the Aldermen, I have felt that I could not honorably speak on this subject as your committee has done, until the injunction of secrecy had been removed by your vote.

I must first invite the attention of the Board to the fact that by the charter of the city, the Mayor has a negative upon the Aldermen in the nomination of all officers to be appointed by the board. The Mayor was elected by a majority of the votes of the whole city upon a strict party division, and without any pledge as to his official course. The Republican majority of the Aldermen have no reason to complain if the Mayor in the exercise of his discretion, should think proper to negative any or all of the nominations they may make. If he were to take the extreme course on this subject and secure the continuance of the present officers in their places, it is more than probable that he would but conform to the wishes of the majority of the whole city which elected him.

But the committee complain that in his inaugural address, the Mayor expressed his wish so to conduct the government of the city as to promote the welfare of our whole people, irrespective of party divisions, and that he expressed his willingness to co-operate with the City Council for that purpose in placing in office such men and such only, as are believed to be capable, honest and faithful." From the principle in this declaration, the Mayor has never for a moment swerved. By what rule of interpretation the committee construe such language to mean a strict division of the offices among active political partisans, either by number or by the amount of the emoluments of the offices, the Mayor cannot understand. The very idea of having aside party divisions, and of looking for honesty, faithfulness and capacity alone, in the selection of officers, is inconsistent with every principle avowed in the report of the committee. If I understand that report, its author seems to regard the offices of our city including the Mayor's, as spoils to be divided among the respective partisans of the appointing power in proportion to their pecuniary value, and as rewards, in fact, for political services. Such ideas are not only contrary to anything advanced in the inaugural address of the Mayor, but they are repugnant to every principle of an honest and faithful administration of the city government. If the duties of this Board in making appointments are to be rated by this low scale, I see no reason why the Mayor should not use the power the charter gives him, and gratify the majority of the city, by consenting to no change which does not favor his own political party.

That the Mayor was actuated by no such principle, and that he has fairly attempted to carry out the intentions expressed in his inaugural address, a correct statement of his negotiations with the Aldermen will clearly show. Privately, and at the early stage of negotiation and compromise, he put into the hands of the Aldermen the following list: (The blanks were left for the Aldermen to fill at their pleasure.)

For City Marshal—Andrew J Beck.
For Assistant Marshals—Andrew J. Hough, Joseph P. Carter, John W. Pickering, Charles Littlefield, E. A. Dresser, Daniel L. Randall.
For Collector of Taxes and Treasurer—Jacob Walden.
City Physician—whom you please.
Health Committee—Sylvanus Wood, C. Pierce, and whom you please. Not particular about these men.
Surveyors of Highways—No. 1, ——, No. 3, Robert Rowell, Jeremiah Langdon.
Street Commissioner—Eben Hainess
Lamp Lighters—North end, Ayers, or whom you please; South end, Wm. Lassey.
Fence Viewers—the old ones, or whom you please.
Sealer, &c.—A. D. Germain
Measurers of Wood—the old ones, or such alterations as may be thought best.
Surveyors of Lumber—same as last year with such alterations as may be deemed advisable.
Lot Layers—A. M. Roytound B. Akerman, or please name them.
Keeper of Powder Magazine—name him.
Keeper of Pound—Daniel Spinney, the old one, or name him.
Committee on Truancy—name it.
Clerk of Spring Market—the present one if you please.
Harbor Master—Nathan Godfrey.
Watchmen—to be equally divided in each Ward—Ward 1, Richard A. Desmond, Oliver Wendell Ward 2, James Ayers, Meshach T. Mashmore, Franklin H. Brown, Wm. Shannon; Ward 3, Wm. Woodman, Augustus Brown, Oliver Dennett, Wm Batchelder, Chas. H. Mason, Daniel Walker; Ward 3, William Lear, John E. Abbott, Joshua Walden, Wm. Jenkins, Reuben Rand, Jr., Wm. H. Swain.

Prior to furnishing the Aldermen with the above list, the Mayor had had a full and free conversation in regard to Marshal Beck. The amount of which was that he was then in office, not as a partisan, but elevated by the votes of every Whig Aldermen of 1859, and those of two Democratic Aldermen. No charges had been preferred against him, and no one pretended that he was any less competent to discharge the duties of his office in 1860 than he was in 1859, when he was elected over the nominee of the Democratic party by a union of men of both parties. It is due to the Marshal to say that down to this hour he has never solicited the Mayor to retain him in office, but has on several occasions offered to resign the post, if by thus doing, it would tend to the advancement of the interests of the city.* Of this the majority have been informed, and the Mayor intimated to them that if the nomination of A. J. Hough would be more acceptable to them, his name should be substituted in place of that of Mr. Beck. He also said to them that in case the city government should conclude to elect a City Solicitor, and they would name a man competent for the place, his nomination should be confirmed.

Under all the circumstances, the list seented to the Mayor to be nearly an equal division of the offices politically, and it was submitted with the understanding that he would listen to any suggestion as to the change of any particular candidate, with a view to the advantage of the public service. By the charter the police of the city is placed peculiarly under the direction of the Mayor, and the responsibility of its administration rests on him, and hence the Marshal should be a friend in whom he has confidence. Let it be remembered that he was under no obligation to surrender to that party any of the offices. What did he concede to the Aldermen? The Street Commissioner, three of the Assistant Marshals, the City Physician, two of the three Highway Surveyors, the City Solicitor, if the office should be created, a fair division of the watchmen, and several other offices. The Mayor submits it to the judgment of the whole city, whether the proposed arrangement was not fair and liberal, in view of the principles expressed in his inaugural address.

The Mayor's nominations were not satisfactory to the "Republican majority" of the Aldermen, and it now seems by the report of their committee that they objected, not because the candidates were not "capable, honest and faithful," but because the list did not give to the friends of the "Republican majority" a sufficient share of the public money—of the spoils. Tried fairly by this base and corrupting test the list presented by the Mayor, is far from being as unequal as represented. Besides the salary of the Street Commissioner, the monopoly he enjoys of laying the sidewalks and other contingent charges, amount to no inconsiderable sum. Besides this he has the expenditure of thousands of dollars upon the streets of the city, most of which is paid for labor, so that the patronage of his office is greater than that of all the other officers of the city, appointed by the Mayor and Aldermen.

It seems to indicate on the part of the committee a consciousness of the weakness of their case, that they attempt to set off the election and salaries of the City Clerk and Messenger, and the Mayor himself, against the nominations of the Mayor, in the division of the city offices. Why did they not put into the list, the Aldermen, the Common Council, the Engineers and Overseers of the Poor? With quite as much propriety could they have done so. The city clerk's salary should be put on their side of the account, if considered at all. It is a wonder that the pay of the clerk of the Common Council has not been added, to swell the side of the account charged to the Mayor. This little circumstance probably escaped the recollection of the astute committee. The Mayor was elected by the people, and it is anything but just to include him or his salary in this most profligate calculation of a division of the offices even if the government of the city is to be administered upon such a principle. The City Clerk and Messenger were elected without the intervention of the Mayor. It is to be presumed that they were chosen because they were capable, honest and faithful; no more so than the Mayor's candidates for their places—facts which the report of the committee seems to admit. Yet it is very distinctly intimated in the report that these men would have been rejected and perrone less qualified for the places chosen, if the majority of the City Council had not expected from the Mayor, in return, the concession of the election of their partisans to offices of equal pecuniary value. If such are the ideas of the committee as to a just administration of the city government, the Mayor assures them that they are not such as he endeavored to express in his inaugural address.

*This is also true in regard to every other officer in the city, with the exception of two holding unimportant offices

Subsequently, a committee of the majority called on the Mayor, and furnished him with the annexed list, with E. M. Brown as Marshal. On another occasion Brown's name was erased, and that of Samuel Rowell substituted. The list follows:

City Marshal—Samuel Rowell.
Charles W. Stimpson, Emery A. Dresser, Chas. H. Littlefield, Daniel L. Randall, Andrew J. Hough, Josiah P. Carter—Assistants.
Collector and Treasurer—Nathan Walden.
Street Commissioner—Eben'r Haines.
City Physician—Abner B. Bennett.
Health Officers—Dr. Wm. Leighton, A. C Pierce, Robert Roberts.
Surveyors of Highways—Walter Scott, Charles Hoyt, Samuel Rowell.
Lamp Lighters—Andrew J. Ayers, Eben'r F. Brackett.
Sealer of Weights and Measures—U. Blaisdell.
Surveyors of Wood—Old Board.
Surveyors of Lumber—Old Board.
Lot Layers—A. M. Roytound, B. Akerman.
Keeper of Powder Magazine—Sam'l Donnell.
Keeper of Pound—Daniel H. Spinney.
Com. on Truancy—N. Medbery, E. M. Brown, Andrew J. Hough.
Clerk of Spring Market—John W. Fernald.
Harbor Master—Nathan Godfrey.
Watchmen for Ward Two—Christian P. Hodgdon, Joseph W. Marcen, Ira A. Brown, Daniel F. Smith, Meshach T. Muchmore, Ivory Goodwin.
Watchmen for Ward Two—Wm. Lawson, R. Gilman Kendall, Wm. H. Deverson, Robert O. Sides, Jeremiah M. Hough, Robert M. Harden.

It will be seen that this very liberal and equal list was presented with the confident expectation that it would be acceded to, at once, by the Mayor, as "likely to promote the welfare of our whole people, irrespective of party divisions," because all that it claimed was one of the three highest offices in the city, two of the five Aldermen, four of the six Assistant Marshals, two thirds of the Watchmen, two of the three Surveyors of Highways, the entire Board of Health, and all of all the other offices. No wonder that such contumaciousness on the part of the Mayor in not surrendering all that could, should call down upon him the censure of this committee of the "Republican majority," because he had said that he was ready to co-operate with the City Council in placing in office, such men, and such only, as are believed to be capable, faithful and honest."

So far as the candidate of the "Republican majority" for Marshal is concerned, the Mayor is not acquainted with him; and all that he has heard of him came from a member of this committee. When the nomination of the Board of Engineers of Enoch F. Wiggin, as one Assistant, to place with Moses Yeaton, was first proposed to be acted upon by the Mayor and Aldermen, the Alderman alluded to objected to the election of Wiggin, not because he knew anything against him, but because an ex-Alderman had told him in the cars that Wiggin was an untruthful, dishonest, dishonorable man, and unfit for any office in the gift of the city government. This information was credited by the Aldermen, and the nomination was referred to the Committee on Fire Department, one of which this said Alderman was chairman. At the next meeting of the Board, the committee reported that they had inquired into the charges made against Mr. Wiggin, and found that they were untrue and that he was a man of good character and a competent engineer. This does not relieve the character of the chairman of the committee on the Fire Department to exculpate Wiggin from the charges made against him, show conclusively that the informer was a member of private character! This, then, is all the evidence the Mayor has in his possession to show that the nominee of the Board, (for so the Alderman alluded to) is a fit man to be appointed City Marshal, yet he hopes that the "Republican majority" had better evidence than this of his qualifications, else they would never have thought that his election to an important office, could, by possibility, "promote the welfare of our whole people" of private character! This, then, is all the evidence the Mayor has in his possession to show that the nominee of the Board, (for so the Alderman alluded to) is a fit man to be appointed City Marshal, yet he hopes that the "Republican majority" had better evidence than this of his qualifications, else they would never have thought that his election to an important office, could, by possibility, "promote the welfare of our whole people."

The Aldermen are reminded of the Mayor's course in readily confirming their nominee for Chief Engineer, although he had unanimously, and promptly, rejected his nomination of Gen. Hadley, who was presented to them, solely on the ground of restoring harmony to the ranks of the noble and true-hearted firemen. Was there concession in this case, and if so, by whom was it made?

At the time this list was presented to the Mayor he was informed by those who presented it, that "our folks" objected to the Mayor's nominee for the office of Collector and Treasurer, and that he had once been a rumseller. Not that he was not competent, faithful and honest, but that at some period in his life he was engaged in a traffic in which as respectable, honorable, high-minded men as we have in the community, had been engaged. The Mayor subsequently learned from Ward one, who was on this committee of conference, informed the Mayor that he had made enquiries and was satisfied as to the character and qualifications of the nominee;—but down to this time, none other of "our folks" have made the fact known that this objection is removed. If such is the test of the "Republican majority," to judge candidates by, it may be apprehended that a large class in the community would be proscribed from ever holding office of trust and honor.

If the Mayor was satisfied, which he by no means is, that he had not offered fair and honorable terms of compromise, after what has been enacted by the "Republican majority" in the two branches of the city government, and by "those behind them outside who appear to be equally high minded man to say whether he is not now precluded from making any further concessions.

The Mayor will say, in conclusion, that he is now ready, and will at all times stand ready, at a suggestion from the "Republican majority," to go on with an election of city officers, and will either nominate or confirm the candidates on the list furnished by him—believing as he does that they are men capable, honest, faithful, and that their election will promote the welfare of our whole people, irrespective of party divisions.

Wheeler & Wilson's

SEWING MACHINES.

—THE—

WHEELER & WILSON M'FG CO.

Invite the attention of Seamstresses, Housekeepers, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of shirts, &c., to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, fitted to adorn the parlor, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer. Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses. Substituting, as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body-destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;

2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;

3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;

4. Hemming and seaming attachments;

5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;

6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with

7. Economy of Thread;

8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The change made in the tension during the past year, so that the upper thread is used from the original spool, and the addition of the hemmer, by which hems of any width are turned and stitched without any previous basting, evince the care of the Company in incorporating with the machines every device that can tend to perfecting them. They now combine every improvement that has been invented for sewing, and the Company feels confident that, in their present form, they are by far the best ever offered to the public; and refers, for confirmation of this opinion, to the thousands of families and manufacturers who use them.

The Lock Stitch made by this machine is the only stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

Economy of Sewing Machines.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company has prepared tables showing by actual experiment of four different workers, the time required to stitch each part of a garment by hand, and with their Sewing Machine. The superiority of the work done by the Machine, and the healthfulness of the employment are advantages quite as great as the saving of time. Subjoined, is a summary of several of the tables—

From the Journal.

AN ARCTIC BOAT JOURNEY.—Brown, Taggard & Chase of Boston, have issued the promised book by Dr. Isaac I. Hayes, Surgeon of Kane's Expedition. The book is well written and well printed, and from the intense interest there has been excited, the world over, by the various expeditions to the Arctic regions—first that of Sir John Franklin himself, and then those which followed in the forlorn hope of finding him—will secure to it a host of readers. Whether any good sufficient to compensate for the dear sacrifice which has been made to navigate those regions, will ever be realized or not, whatever relates to them, or records the exploits of the heroic men who have been induced to make the sacrifice, will be read with avidity. The volume is for sale by J. H. Foster.

THE CHARITABLE CONCERT, by the united choir of the several churches of the city, in aid of the City Mission, promises to be of the highest order of excellence. The programme comprises many of the finest Choruses, Duetts and Solos of the old and best composers.

Those engaged in it, evince a deep interest in the object, and there is no doubt but the Concert will prove far superior to any which has been given here for many years. It takes place at the Stone Church, next Sunday evening.

The great depression of mechanical industry the past winter, has created unusual demands upon the City Mission, and its funds are exhausted. Liberal contributions have been made, as pressing exigencies required; yet, notwithstanding this, the calls are constant and pressing. It is hoped that the efforts now made will result in replenishing its funds, and thus gladden the hearts of the destitute among us.

We have no doubt that those who attend will feel well repaid. Would it not be advisable for the several religious societies to omit their regular evening lectures for this occasion?

Mr. Isaac W. Ambler, who is now in this city disposing of his book to procure the means of securing an education to fit him for usefulness, has for a year past been the City Missionary of Biddeford, and brings high testimonials from all the clergymen of that city, also from Wm. P. Haines, Esq., the factory agent. Buy his book, and aid him in his laudable effort to be properly fitted for the ministry.

To the Editor of the Journal.

Yesterday, we had the pleasure of meeting in our city Mr. Isaac W. Ambler, who is interested in a literary enterprise, bearing a recommendation to the favorable notice of the readers of the Journal. Mr. A. was formerly a soldier in the British army, and after a long service came to New-England. But a life in the army had induced habits of intemperance, which seemed incurable, until "the Great Awakening," when he became a reformed man and a true Christian. His friends in the neighboring city of Biddeford made him City Missionary in that place, and since that time he has been an active worker in the cause of temperance and religion. And the many strange and wonderful events in his life have been gathered into a little book, which Mr. Ambler now offers to our citizens intending to devote the proceeds of the sale of this work to the securing of an education. The book is one of great interest, and must receive the commendation of all lovers of temperance and religion. Will not your readers purchase the book, and thus assist Mr. A., who deserves great praise for his late laudable efforts? We hope that, at the next temperance meeting Mr. A. will be present and tell his own story.

A FRIEND TO TEMPERANCE.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

A Convention of the several Sunday Schools in this city will be held on Wednesday next, March 7th, on which occasion the Rev. Mr. Turner, or the American S S Union, and other gentlemen from abroad are expected to be present.

On Wednesday morning, at 10½ o'clock, a meeting for teachers, parents, &c. will be held in the Middle street Baptist Church.

In the afternoon, at 2½ o'clock, the Children of the several Sunday Schools will meet in the Methodist Church in State street, and be addressed by several speakers.

In the evening, at 7½ o'clock, a general meeting will be held in the North Church—which all interested in Sunday Schools are invited to attend.

Portsmouth, March 3, 1860.

The wife and daughter of the chief clerk in the Post Office at St. John's, N. F. (says a correspondent of the Traveller,) with two servant girls, have been detected in robbing the mail when they were in need of funds, and appropriating the contents of the letters. If they found bills of exchange or foreign notes they destroyed them. In one case, a widow woman named Woods met with a serious loss. Some of her friends in England sent her a £50 Bank of England note. Mrs Shea, not being able to pass it burnt it. Numerous other cases have come to light. The discovery created great excitement, the parties implicated being related to some of the high government officials. The four females are imprisoned in the Penitentiary awaiting their trial.

Messrs. Editors,—Allow me, through your columns, to acknowledge the receipt of a note from New-York city, containing five dollars, "to be appropriated to charitable purposes through the agency of the City Mission; being the first of an annual contribution for this purpose from the merchant sons of Portsmouth."

Portsmouth, March 1, 1860. N. MEDBERY.

TWO PAIRS OF TWINS.—Last evening, a lady resident in Spring street presented her husband with two daughters, and was left by the attending physician in a comfortable condition. In the course of three hours thereafter a ring was heard at the door bell, and under the impression that the Doctor had returned to see his patient, the servant hastened to answer the summons. No one was to be seen in the neighborhood, but upon the stoop was found a basket, which contained two newly born male children, apparently twins. The lady, when informed of the circumstance, seemed well pleased, and at once adopted the little waifs—placing them in bed beside her own. The young travellers were fast asleep, and were comfortably wrapped in costly embroidered flannels.—N. Y. Tribune, 23d.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ A New York paper says "there was lately a gathering of Anti-Buchanan Democrats from New England at the Astor House. There were present Messrs. Butler and Wheeler of Massachusetts, Sidney Webster, John H. George, and many others of less note. The session was a long and heated one; but, on the first show of hands, Franklin Pierce turned up as the A No. 1 favorite of all parties present.—Sydney Webster developed a very elaborate plan by which it is hoped to capture a majority of the New England delegations."

☞ On Sunday, several of the clergymen of Lynn preached sermons concerning the strike. Sensible remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Strain, the Catholic priest. He told his people to be orderly, let the expressmen alone, not make this a political question, avoid intoxicating liquor, and not to raise a hammer as long as the Yankees held out.

The "strike" is extending. The fishermen report that fish have struck off; and there are apprehensions that the clams may follow Jim Ball's bivalves to deeper water. —Newburyport Herald.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.
FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN.

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1853.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had only the expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I first made use of it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Alamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1850.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effect on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will turn out as beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all; Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P.S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage than by publishing several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the greater part of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large bottle a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore Eyes, inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the most reliable remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the world, as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a cough from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, and therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, finding themselves benefitted in their lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others, that my Cough Drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every sufferer give them a trial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very hard cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.
THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with cures of

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
Office the last of 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of inventions or improvements, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given from some of the MORE SUCCESSFUL OF THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of his subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, from the commencement, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MAGUIRE,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a more more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them the largest and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 5, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmitigated success of great labor and much pains on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE REJECTED applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS. EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS.

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE COMBINE, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

"First—the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—it is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relives by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—it is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forest under the direction of the Dr., and many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR INFANTS AND CHILDREN ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unrivaled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—lastly—at costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for these same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for ten years, and can say, of it, what we have of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN EFFECTING A CURE, nor did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by one who tried it. On the contrary, all are delighted, speak in terms of highest praise of its wonderful virtues. We speak this matter, "what we know," after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the veracity of what we advance. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the PRESCRIPTION OF AN EXPERIENCED AND SKILLFUL NURSES and has been used with NEVER-FAILING SUCCESS in New England and never-failing success, in MANY CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, from teething, or from any cause. We speak this in the confidence of our knowledge of its efficacy. Do not let your sons and daughters, suffer, and your child and the relief that ABSOLUTELY SURE this medicine, if timely used, may be secured. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any other form of disease, that no mother who has a child suffering from any other form of disease, that no mother who has a child suffering from any other form of disease, that no

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
Is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor, giving in the character it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation; indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and bones, organic disease, named tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This low corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by the taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must purify the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is compiled from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the secure cure of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As we recommend one of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
FOR THE CURE OF
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and become discarded, this has gained trial by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, MARCH 5, 1860.

☞ The Political Discussion at the Temple on Friday evening was commenced at a quarter before 8 o'clock. Mr. Morse introduced the speakers, Messrs. Tenney and Rollins, both of Concord.

Mr. Tenney spoke first, occupying three-quarters of an hour, chiefly in giving views of the ground occupied by the Republican party, in preserving our liberties inviolate, and resisting the encroachments of despotic and oppressive rule, whether exercised on white men or black.

Hon. Mr. Rollins followed, and spoke over an hour.

He considered the question as to the result of the election to be, not whether Governor Goodwin shall be elected, nor whether the Republicans shall have the Council and Senate and House, for he regarded these things quite certain. But the question is, By how large a majority shall the Governor be re-elected? and how large a majority shall the Republicans have in the House?

He made a brief survey of the Political history of our State and Nation for the past years,—and said the Republican party was called into being by the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and the violation of promises and professions by the Democratic party, led by unscrupulous leaders.

The speaker also alluded to the change of democracy in this State, from opposition to Slavery in '48, to slavery extension in 1859 and 1860.

He reminded the Democrats present that their party in this State had 6000 majority only a few years ago, and asked, Why have you not got this majority now? The answer was briefly, that you have lost all this majority, and were a few thousands in the minority, because Franklin Pierce and Stephen A. Douglas pushed the Kansas Nebraska bill through Congress at the dictation of the slave power and for the extension of slavery—and because violence in Washington and Kansas was used for the same purpose.

You went into the last presidential election in this State with the pretences of sham popular sovereignty, non-intervention, Buchanan and Free Kansas; and though in the minority, you threw a large vote.

These turned out to be a sham, and you know it; but the crafty and unprincipled leaders of the party, (not the honest people of it,) under the dictation of the slave power, offer you now the Dred Scott decision as interpreted by Mr. Buchanan, as the platform of the Democratic party.

Not only so; the leaders of the party now in Congress, the Senators of the party, demand a law for the protection of slavery in the territories against the people there.—And the leaders of the democratic conventions in Concord, and in two of our Counties at least, have passed resolutions to the same effect.

The N. H. Patriot has not yet endorsed these things, nor yet published what the democratic disunionists and slavery extensionist have said and done in Congress: and I don't know that the N. H. Gazette has.

Well, then, the Gazette deserves credit for honesty and manliness in avowing the platform as it is and will be—the only one of the party that does so in this State, if we except the Democratic Standard.

The others pretend to follow Douglas and talk of popular sovereignty. But Douglas himself maintains that all property, including slaves, may go into the territories,—and be subject, when there, to the same court that pronounced the Dred Scott decision.

This is modern democracy; this is modern popular sovereignty. Do you like it? Will you vote to sustain it?

The orator closed with invitations to all who did not like such things, to vote the Republican ticket,—and roll up a great majority, say 5000 to 8000.

Both orators were applauded, and the meeting closed with three cheers.

UNDERWOOD'S SPEECH.—The Dover correspondent of the Traveller writes:

On Wednesday evening, John C. Underwood, of Virginia, addressed the Republicans of this city, at the City Hall, which was well filled with an enthusiastic audience, quite a number of ladies occupying the gallery. The speech was of a practical kind, full of truth and uncontroverrible statements and statistics. Among other important assertions, Mr. Underwood said that long before the repeal of the Missouri compromise, Senator Mason was causing to be circulated a subscription paper in Virginia to raise recruits for Kansas, with the avowed intention of "keeping the balance of power" with the South as he called it, but in fact to offset California, which came in as a free State, with Kansas, which they determined to make a slave state; and the coup d'etat of the Democracy after that, through Mr. Douglas, (the repeal of the Missouri Compromise) was a part of this grand scheme. This is the boasted pure and undefiled "Popular Sovereignty" of Douglas and his party! Let it be repudiated in New Hampshire on the 13th of March, with an overwhelming condemnation!

THE "STRIKE" IN HIGH QUARTERS.—By the abstract of the New York circular, says the Traveller, it will be seen that a movement towards a "strike," is making in what is familiarly known in New York, as the "Swamp," a combination of more powerful and concentrated wealth, than is found in the same number of hands anywhere else in the country. In the hardest times, the "Swamp" paper has stood the highest of any in New York, equal to the best of that in Boston, formerly termed "gilt-edged," but since the reaction of 1857, changed to "fire proof." The swamp men are dealers in hides and leather.

LEATHER.—A circular letter from New York, signed by the largest dealers in hides and leather, says they are selling leather at a loss of from two to five cents a pound, while hides are too high to replace the stock sold. The cause of this they attribute to too great a supply of the manufactured article, a too great capacity for such manufacture, and too much desire to crowd the tanneries with more hides than they can do full justice to. Some reform must be adopted, they add, to prevent future ruinous losses, as there is not only a surplus left over from last year, but a large supply of hides on the market, and a large supply of hides sent out last fall yet to come in from the tanneries; and to crown the whole, a surplus of shoes on hand, and a reduction in the manufacture.

A MISTAKE CORRECTED.—Several papers in different parts, and some in New Hampshire, have attributed the low price of shoe work, to a falling off in the Southern maket, on account of indignation! Not only so, Senator Douglas lately referred to the shoemakers' strike, in the Senate, and assigned as the cause of the trouble, the withdrawal of southern patronage.

The Newburyport Herald, thoroughly posted up in the shoe trade, spoils this by saying,—"nothing could be further from the fact. The southern demand for shoes in the last year was much larger than ever before!!" The Herald adds —

When men have abundant means—as the south will have so long as cotton, sugar, tobacco and negroes bring present prices—they will not go bare-footed; and where does Senator Douglas suppose their shoes come from? The trouble is not in the demand, but in the over-production, which will cease as soon as the work on shoes pays no more than ordinary labor, equally pleasant, and not before.

☞ The boarding-house-keepers' strike, at Haverhill, is a good movement. At the first meeting, Rev. Mr. Cole said that every boarding house keeper in town had suffered from $10 to $200, but the widows had suffered the worst. He had visited two or three who had lost from $10 to $40 each, within a short time. There were young men who don't calculate to pay their board, and he noticed one who has within the last year left three places, owing about $75.—The tailors also suffer from these men, who are not willing to pay any bills but their grog bill.

Mrs. Swett said she had recently met a young man, who had his hair oiled and a cigar in his mouth, who insulted her when she asked him for her pay.

It is understood that at the next meeting a list of 'delinquents' will be made up, which will be handed to the manufacturers, some of whom have already promised not to employ such fellows. It is hoped that the town will thus be rid of their presence. The grocers, provision-dealers and stable-keepers are talking of similar organizations for mutual protection.

THE RESULT OF VACCINATION—Much excitement is said to exist in Westford, Mass., on account of results which have attended several cases of vaccination. The Lowell Courrier says that on Monday, 20th ult., Mr. Samuel Fletcher, Postmaster, was vaccinated, that he commenced to have chills and swellings the next day, that, mortification ensued, and that he died on Saturday. He was sixty-eight years of age, and a much respected citizen. Six others have been afflicted in a similar way, though it is hoped not so dangerously. The matter used was procured from the city physician of Boston, who has gone to Westford to investigate the cases. Some who have been vaccinated with the same matter have experienced no unfavorable effects from it.

MISSING RECORDS FOUND.—A volume of the records of the Old South Church in Boston, which has been missing more than half a century, has been found. It was in the safe of a room formerly occupied by a prominent lawyer, now deceased, and it is thought the records were examined by him in some suit, and were forgotten. The Transcript hears that the volume sheds so much light upon some of the parish funds, that it is probable a different use of them will hereafter be made, so that they will reach the poor of the society, as was intended by the original donors.

☞ We see in some papers that the shoemakers in Hamilton, N. H., have struck. We have no town of Hamilton in this State. We suppose it may be Hamilton, Mass.

CONGRESS.—In Senate, Friday, March 2, Mr. Wilson introduced a bill to amend the act for the execution of the public printing. The private calendar was considered, and twenty-two bills passed. Adjourned to Monday.

The House passed the bill making appropriations towards carrying into effect the treaty stipulations with the Indians in Washington and Oregon.

The House voted for Printer. Whole number of votes, 187; necessary for choice, 94; Ford had 96, Glosbrenner 72, Seaton 9. Mr. Ford was declared elected.

Gov. Ford goes in by two majority this time, which indicates that if he could be elected half a dozen times he would got a good majority. Ford is a strong man, of great personal influence, and having received the largest vote once, thus showing that he was the man to concentrate upon, it was impossible to make headway against him. Mr. Ford is a lawyer by profession, but before he entered the law was a practical printer.

SCENE IN COURT.—Last week two Germans were brought before W. C. Binney, Esq., of Amesbury Village, on a charge of assaulting a Scotchman, a fellow-boarder with them. The Germans employed as counsel a "limb of the law" from Newburyport, who subjected the complainant to a rigid cross examination, and in the course of his remarks wished to have the witness show the court the way and manner in which he was assaulted. The Villager says Scotia's son, not able to make it readily appear in English to the unwilling ears of the lawyer, immediately seized him by the hair of the head and gave him such a shaking as to lead him to exclaim in the language more forcible than eloquent, "hold, enough." This very practical demonstration of the way and manner of the assault was not to be controverted, and created no little amusement in the court room.

SHOE TRADE OF BOSTON.—The Shoe and Leather Reporter tables give the shipments of boots and shoes from Boston, the present week, as 4039 cases by sea and 14,410 by rail. Total shipments by rail and sea, 18,449 cases.

Some of the large buyers, the Reporter states, have completed their purchases and returned home. They have probably bought at prices as low or lower than ever before. A firmer feeling is now manifested on all sides, and the manufacturers are holding their goods for better prices. The strike is extending, and no one can tell where it will stop. It is conceded that the strike will prove a benefit to the employers. Many of the manufacturers have considerable quantities of goods on hand, for which they have now a prospect of obtaining fair prices. The advance struck for by the journeymen is 30 per cent. above the prices generally paid. Few manufacturers have shown a disposition to accede to their demands, and it is impossible for any large num er to do so. Without their agency, says the Traveller, the losses of the season will be transferred from the manufacturers to the journemen.

CHURCH BLOWN DOWN IN TIME OF SERVICE.—The Massillon (Ohio) Journal says that during the gale of the 22d the gable end of the Lutheran church at West Brookfield, O., was forced in and the roof carried off. At the time a service was being held, the congregation numbering between three and four hundred. Fifteen persons were injured, four having fractured limbs. Great excitement and consternation prevailed, and the number of the wounded is considered very small in view of the circumstances under which the disaster occurred.

☞ "Vanity Fair" gives a biography of Wm. H. Seward. He was born in Florida, N. Y., 4004 years B. C.; at the age of two years he was expelled from Eden; one year later he slew his brother Abel; since which time he has had Daniel devoured by lions, persecuted the Christians, put the children of Judea to death, plotted with Arnold to betray the Americans, bribed the London Times; and he will soon put all the slaveholders to death, make Fred Douglass Secretary State, convert all the whites into burnt cork, learn the banjo, and govern the United States as a province of Liberia.

☞ An American traveller in Italy, stopping at Genoa, very naturally visited the house where Columbus was born. In writing home, he regretted that he did not see that illustrious personage, as he wished to thank him for discovering the fine country of which he had the honor to be a citizen.

☞ The majority of Gov. Goodwin, last March, was about 3500. The Concord Statesman wishes it brought up this year to 4000; and thinks it may be, by due effort of the Republicans,—but thinks also it may be cut down to 3000, if they should go to sleep.

DEATH FROM A FALL IN THE STREET. A woman named Ann Callahan has died in Boston, of a compound fracture of one of her legs, caused by a fall in the street a week previous. She was forty years of age.

[From the Boston Transcript.]

THE WRECK.

BY ALBERT LAIGHTON.

The ocean sang to my heart last night,
When I folded my hands in rest,
A tune as sweet as the mother sings
To the child upon her breast.

But to-day it wails like a funeral dirge,
As they tell in the quiet town,
How the English ship, with land in sight,
With a hundred souls went down.

There may be caused in a single moment the destruction of a friendship which it has required years to build up. But when it is once destroyed, it can never be restored. Although a cracked friendship, like a cracked tumbler, may be cemented; the moment you put it into hot water, the bottom will fall out, or it will come to pieces!—Beecher.

The Hon. Emerson Etheridge, being called on the other day to say who he called his friend, said: "I call every man my friend who wears an honest face, speaks the English language, swears by the Holy Bible, and does not spell Constitution with a K."

LABOR.—All wealth, say the political economists, is created by labor. Labor pays all price. The land may be monopolized, it is not wealth, and there is no wealth in the world which is not created by labor.

Parents are responsible for the destiny of their children. You must train your children aright, or nothing will save them.—Beecher.

Fanny Fern's opinion is that there is no such process as making love. It is the spontaneous growth of the heart; or, rather, it springs from a spiritual seed, planted in a warm material soil, and is half a passion flower and half a heavenly exotic.

Liver Complaint.

The liver, being the great purifying organ, arrests in its substance many morbid products, the fertile sources of disease. The PERUVIAN SYRUP stimulates the liver to the performance of its functions, lessens the evils of bad digestion, and thus acts at the same time in a restorative and preventive manner.

Testimony from a well known physician.

Letter from S. H. Kendall, M. D., Boston, Jan. 22, '59.—I was for many years afflicted with Liver Complaint, of which I was cured in 1854 by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and have enjoyed perfect health ever since.

S. H. KENDALL, M. D.

The use of Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, for Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection, is second to none in America or abroad. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" as a certain cure for dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy so indispensable for the restoration of health. The numerous acknowledgments of its superior excellence and beneficent results, have assured the proprietors that it cannot but prove a great cure to the afflicted, and impart vitality to the thorough system.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

The unequalled success that has attended the application of this Medicine in Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchial Affection, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Incipient Consumption, has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, many of whom advise us of the fact under their own signature:

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS.

AUBURN, Sept. 6, 1858.

S. W. Fowle & Co,—Sirs:—I most cheerfully add testimony in favor of the Balsam. We have used it in our family, in bronchial affections, Coughs and Colds, and esteem it a most valuable remedy; and have recommended it in various complaints of this nature with invariably happy results.

W. B. LYNCH, M. D.

MANSFIELD, Tioga Co., Pa., Aug. 1858.

Gentlemen:—Having used in my practice the last four years, Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, with great success, I most cheerfully recommend it to those afflicted with obstinate Coughs, Colds, Asthma, &c.

H. D. MARTIN, M. D.

CAPE VINCENT, N. Y., July 17, 1858.

Gentlemen:—After using Dr. Wistar's Balsam for a long time I can say from repeated observation that I regard it as one of the best kind of Cough medicines, and take great pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted.

W. H. WEBB, M. D.

BROWNVILLE, N. Y., July 18, 1858.

Gents:—Having sold Wistar's Balsam two years past, and having used the same myself with great success, I cheerfully recommend it to all who are suffering with Asthma or Consumption.

☞The New England Troupe of Glass Blowers closed their week's exhibition here, at the Temple on Saturday evening. They give creditable and instructive entertainments, and are worthy the confidence and patronage of the public.

The beautiful colored glass Firemen's Trumpet, offered to the Company which sold the most tickets—was awarded to Atlantic, No. 6, which sold 500, to 343 for Granite State, No. 1. The other Companies made no effectual competition, though it is said all took side with one or other of the companies named, and aided in swelling their sales. The presentation was begun by a young lady, whose address Prof. Grafham was obliged to finish himself; and the trumpet was received by Foreman Foye of 6, with thanks to all who aided his Company in getting it.

Then came the drawing of the fifty prizes, of glass work, awarded among the audience by lot. All passed off satisfactorily, and the crowded audience dispersed.

Address (oughter be) to Common Council,
by b,
on an attempt to deprice him of his seat.

Messrs. Editors:—

Being about to present a Subject for the consideration of the Council; one of Vast importance to Myself (as well as to my constituents), I must (demand the indulgence of the members — pardon me, I thought I was in Council,) ask of your readers a favorable consideration of its Subject, while I review the Actions we have fought in, and how I done before we capitulated.

At my Last election I had more votes than anybody else from any of the other two places to be Represented! before That, I was Assistantengineer of A Department, and held that situation before I was appointed again. Again, before the city government was inaugurated, and in the first month of the year, (which was January,) I was re-elected to fill the office of engineer of the ensuing year. I entered both offices, and would have filled them according to the laws of the State, but I was surprised to find that somebody from the Other places had discovered a mistake: I assure you it was of the Head, and not the heart. We met! Our first meeting was a decided Victory, and gave much satisfaction to All from Our place; a Veteran was elected Clerk, and the worthy President we always found just in his dealings. I want to say again we were satisfied. At 2d meeting our appointments were received, and then I was convinced that our Chief officer thought we were all from one place. At the 3d meeting a communication was received from a Higher place than any I have spoken of, asking us to direct them about the expediency of buying a Steam engine. I know my Constants will not find fault with me if I I say trembled when I thought of the many accidents that have happened to Steam engines.

Then one of them members from Ward 2, who didn't have as many votes as I, and never been appointed Injanuary, or had the other qualifactions I have spoken of, Arose, and said folks from his place wished no advice from our side of the house; how audacious! This was the first shot we had from the other side. He then loosed a string, and let a Cat out of a bag; then there was strife! and running in hot haste; a little party of six were "dragged into the arena, to be mangled, bruised, and crushed out" by the ferocious annimal! And this was sanctioned by that party wao are so clamorous about their Accidental majority!

Why, Mr. Editor, they would'nt even vote for any of Our things if they were ever so important, if it did'nt agree with their views! but after covering it up in Parliament a week, then they would bring it in themselves and pass it. Again, at one time, one of Our folks advocated the claims of 1-4 of our population, and did not have even a Public reception therefor! at the next meeting they tried to deprive 4 of Us of our seats, because a member of the Department attempted to advocate the claims of those who are banded together for our common welfare notwithstanding the state of the weather, let the winds blow high or blow low; and do you believe it? somebody said if we paid a man $7,00 a year we had a right to abuse him as much as we please. The question is, are we to stand such abuse? Why no; and besides, somebody, or a committee has got something they claim, and they aint the proper ones to have it! did you ever hear the like? But I must go back to Where they tried to take our seats away; before they did it, they held a secret midnight Cable arround 13 of their own side, and one honest man of the number resisted this petty act of tyranny, and a dreadful accident was the result. The remainder of them lame from some cause; and they did not press us out of them.—Then somebody outside sent in a happy thought that if some one from a Higher place only declared them vacant it would effect the object. Thus ends not my life, but my Service until Re-appointed to Command, and I bid All beware if they interpose ANY obstacles. b.

☞There has been a Post Office established at South Berwick Junction, Me., and William A. Cromwell appointed Postmaster.

☞We had our regular Saturday night alarm of fire, about 1 o'clock Sunday morning—entirely unaccounted for, save by rowdyism. Some (of course half-drunken) rascals smashed in the windows of Mrs. Chase, in Atkinson street; then passed up in town; and in a short time the alarm was given, which became so general. If a majority of the people are satisfied with the present police arrangements of our city, it may be of little avail to oppose them; but some folks may see fit to prepare to defend their own houses from such assaults.

WRECK OF THE HUNGARIAN.—Halifax, Mar. 2.—An official letter has been received from Mr. Townsend, government agent at the wreck. He says that it is ascertained beyond doubt that no survivors exist. Only three bodies have been found, one woman, one man supposed a fireman, and one child about two years old. The cargo and material are scattered along shore from Tusket, around Cape Sable, as far east as Ragged Island. A considerable quantity of goods are drifting ashore at the mouth of Shelburne Harbor. The country people generally, are acting honestly.—Three stores have been hired at Barrington, in which to collect the property, which is of considerable value.

The ship's articles have been found, showing seventy-four crew. No passenger list has been found, and the rumored finding of the clearance is untrue. The only passengers who are known to be on the Hungarian were William Boultenhouse of Sackville, N. B., and Doctor Barritt of New York, whose box was found, containing a number of letters from his wife and daughter.

The mails were soaked to a pulp, but will be sent to Halifax by the cutter.

Three trunks have been found, one belonging to Margaret Roberston, of Montreal, one to Robert Martin, of Toronto, and one to W. R. Crocker, Norwhich, Conn.

DRUNKEN ROW AND CHILD MURDER. Last Friday evening, February 24, Patrick Kinley and wife, living on Oak street in Malden, got into a drunken row. The neighbors hearing the disturbance, went in and found that after hurling stove covers, chairs and furniture at each other, they had tumbled upon the floor and were tearing each other's hair. Their little child, about six weeks old, was found upon the floor dead, its skull being fractured in several places. It had been crying bitterly but a few moments previous. It was buried;—but the authorities had it disinterred, and a post mortem examination was held by the doctors, who state that the child came to a violent death. An inquest was called, which found a verdict that the child received its death at the hands of its parents. Kinley was arrested and locked up for examination; but the mother has disappeared. She stated, before her disappearance, that the child died in a fit; but the evidence before the inquest is, that the child was trodden upon, and that it was used by one of the parents to pound the other with! This is another instance of the maddening effects of the liquid poison which is distributed to the lower classes in community, in violation of the law.—Boston Journal.

☞The New Orleans True Delta says: In Missouri there would seem to be some doubt. Buchanan and his associates in Washington, and such demagoguges as Green, one of the senators in Congress from that glorious state, have in a great degree destroyed not only the organization of the democracy, but, in fact, annihilated the party itself, until it now has become a question whether the opponents of slavery will not be able at the next great trial to transfer Missouri to the scale of the enemies of the South. If Bates, of that State, receive the free soil nomination, and trafficing politicians are able to substitute some plastic tool of their own selection as the candidate of the Democracy instead of Douglas, we are fully persuaded that Missouri will be lost to the constitution party of the Union, and before a distant day will pass into the ranks of the free States in perpetuity.

SEWING MACHINES.
—THE—
WHEELER & WILSON M'FG CO.

Invite the attention of Seamstresses, Housekeepers, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, &c., to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, fitted to adorn the parlor, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer. Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses. Substituting, as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body-destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The change made in the tension during the past year, so that the upper thread is used from the original spool, and the addition of the hemmer, by which hems of any width are turned and stitched without any previous basting, evince the care of the Company in incorporating with the machines every device that can tend to perfecting them. They now combine every improvement that has been invented for sewing, and the Company feels confident that, in their present form, they are by far the best ever offered to the public; and refers, for confirmation of this opinion, to the thousands of families and manufacturers who use them.

The Lock Stitch made by this machine is the only stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

Economy of Sewing Machines.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company has prepared tables showing by actual experiment of four different workers, the time required to stitch each part of a garment by hand, and with their Sewing Machine. The superiority of the work done by the Machine, and the healthfulness of the employment are advantages quite as great as the saving of time. Subjoined, is a summary of several of the tables—

	BY MACHINE. Hours	Min.	BY HAND. Hours	Min.
Gentlemen's Shirts,	1	16	14	26

Seams of any considerable length are stitched, ordinarily, at the rate of a yard a minute.

By the sworn statements made by the several Sewing Machine Manufacturing Companies, it is shown that the

WHEELER & WILSON MANUF'G CO.

during the past year,

made more than double the number of Machines of any other establishment, and were still unable to supply orders!

They have won the highest premiums at the Fair of the United States Agricultural Society;—at the State Fairs of Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, California, and at the Fairs of the American Institute, New York; Mechanics' Association, Boston; Franklin Institute, Philadelphia; Mechanics' Institute, Baltimore; Metropolitan Mechanics' Institute, Washington; Mechanics' Association, Cincinnati; Kentucky Institute, Louisville; Mechanical Association, St. Louis; Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco; and at hundreds of County Fairs.

These machines have been used by many families in this city for several years, all of whom pronounce them to be the perfection of a Sewing Machine. Full instruction in the working of the Machine, given to purchasers.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE
GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore, in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an-hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times. Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S
PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of wasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

SUICIDE AT CANTON, ME.—Sanford Hinkley cut his throat on Sunday morning so that he died before medical aid could be obtained. The cause was depression of spirits, following a week of intemperance. He had been sober for a number of months previous, but the temptation has done his work, and another young man has fallen a victim to rum. Hinkley's parents reside in Lewiston, where he is to be carried for interment. —Portland Advertiser.

TAUNTON is a flourishing town and perhaps can afford to be a city; it will not cost more than ten thousand dollars annually for the honor, and we will venture that it will not cost less then five thousand. Our experience as a city has been most sad. The taxes are increased at least ten per cent, and the government is 20 per cent poorer. If for the small cities there could be an organization with a mayor at the head invested with the veto power, and one branch in the government, as for instance the board of aldermen, it would be as good as a town government.—Newburyport Herald.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circulars for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefited by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it is due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff entirely gone from my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully Yours,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Alamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man who was almost bald, nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now fully as thick, glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

Yours, respectfully, WINNEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds a pint, and retails at a price more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use the Drops." JOHN F. STICKEN.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried almost everything." MINERVA MORRILL.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are troubled with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness, after preaching or labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, will relieve speedily. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it." REV. NATHAN T. ALLEN.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted." REV. NATHAN F. ADAMS.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters relating to the validity of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The important facilities he has enjoyed during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, which, together with an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, now in his office, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MAGNIN,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 5, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable success is a great talent and ability; his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS. EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we wish to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who has obtained from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently enhiors on removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, in comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests of the Medicinal Herb, Lobelia, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequaled. For Colds in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and for a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it.—Lastly—It costs but little more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself to the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

Sold by CHURCH & DUPONT, Druggists, No. 35 Maiden Lane, New York

In Portsmouth by W. R. PRESTON.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say of it, what we have of any other medicine, which has stood the test, TO EFFECT A CURE, never did we know an instance to disappoint us, on the contrary, all are delighted in speaking in terms of highest merit of its wonderful virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we know, after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where it is administered, relief will be found from pain and exhaustion in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is given.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but soothes, corrects, and invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC. and overcome even this, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it to be the BEST and surest REMEDY IN THE WORLD in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We mother who has a child suffering from any other cause, Do not let your own prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of phisology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency. Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the door-house, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door; or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract with them at an end, our duty to them ended, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Patronize your own.

STEPHEN H. SIMES. JOHN S. RAND

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief that "impurities of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can not easily withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cures of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate disease of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thru-t upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has proved friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1860.

WHITES IN TROPICAL CLIMATES.

The defenders of negro slavery often assert that white men are unable to work in a hot climate. Facts, the history of nations in the tropical regions, contradict the assertion. It is true that in the equatorial regions round the globe the native population is dark colored, the color being the effect of climate; in other words, the intensity of the solar heat. But there is a constant migration of the human family into all the regions of the earth, and the human complexion is no obstacle to labor anywhere. There is a prevailing prejudice that white men cannot work in the Southern parts of the United States. But they do work successfuly far beyond the Southern limits of our Union, in Mexico and Central America.

From Frœbel's (a German) recent book, "Seven Years Travel in Central America, Mexico and the far West of the United States," fol. 196, we make the following extract. He says:—"The following facts, not generally known in Europe, will contribute to throw light on the question of 'white labor' in regions where the climate is generally supposed to exclude its exercise to any available extent. At New Orleans, the market is provided with vegetables, mostly cultivated by Germans. They are the owners of the greater number of gardens that surround the city, at Lafayette, Algiers, the Half-way House, and Carrolton, in which these vegetables are grown,—and they neither keep slaves, nor do they employ hired negroes. If they are able to engage hired hands, those hands are Germans. In Western Texas, where, in certain districts, Germans form the greatest number of the population, German farmers, on their own property and in good circumstances, cultivate the cotton by their personal labor. But there, under a sun as hot as it ever was in Honduras, at a short distance from a coast where the yellow fever rages, I have met gentlemen who had been officers, professors, men of science, lawyers, or of similar positions in Germany,—some of whom had been wealthy proprietors and used to all the comforts and charms of refined European life,—standing behind the plough; and I have never heard them complain of this or any other agricultural occupation in the hot climate being injurious to health.

"In travelling through Georgia and Alabama, I became acquainted with a wealthy planter of Louisiana. Our conversation turned upon the question of slave and free labor, and their relative merits, when that gentleman remarked, "Alabama has great resources in mineral wealth, but the State wants entirely a different population to turn them to profit. I have been a slaveholder all my lifetime; but I have my eyes open." 'Do you think, then,' I asked him, 'that the climate of the Carolinas, of Georgia, Alabama, and Louisiana, would allow negro labor to be generally supplanted by the free labor of white men?' 'Certainly, I think so," was his answer. 'There are very unhealthy places in these States, but they are fatal to negroes also. I have employed Germans in occupations in which they had to expose themselves to the hottest sun during the whole day, and I found they endured it just as well as my negroes did. The pretended inability of white men to work in a hot climates is all nonsense.' I have heard similar opinions from other gentlemen derived from the same experience.

"Thousands of emigrants from the North of Europe arrive annually at New Orleans and on the coast of Texas, and there is not the slightest reason why they could not, with an equal degree of safety, reach the worst places on the coast of the Central America."

Helper's celebrated book, read by millions in the free states, mentions some facts similar to those stated by Frœbel, and we have no doubt but they are true. But it requires some time for persons migrating from a cold to a hot climate, or vice versa, to become acclimated, and this does not depend upon the human complexion or color of the skin. In warm climates the people do not labor so hard as in Northern latitudes, because the agricultural products are more easily obtained. Necessity to gain the means of subsistence is the mother of labor in all countries. HOMO.

The Ohio liquor law has a provision that the wife, child, parent, guardian, employer or other person, who shall be injured in person, property or means of support, by an intoxicated person, has a right of action against the party who sold the liquor, if sold contrary to law. Mrs. Jane Bush of Urbane has just received damages of Peter Lawson to the amount of $5000 under the above section. Lamson sold the husband of Mrs. Bush one pint of whisky with which he became intoxicated, and in his drunken fury chopped off the left foot of the plaintiff. She sued for $20,000 damages and the jury awarded her $5000.

The new Roman loan has been negotiated with Belgian capitalists.

300 Bavarians have enlisted for the Papal Army, and had arrived at Ancona.—More were expected to follow.

☞ By the steamer Africa, just arrived in New York, we begin to get some idea of the loss of life on board the Hungarian.

A passenger by the Africa says that Mr. Cameron, of Montreal, and Mr. Wilson, of Toronto, were passengers in the lost steamship Hungarian.

Capt. Shannon, of the Africa, says the Hungarian had 140 passengers. So the loss of life, if she had 70 in her crew, must be over 200.

THE CHINESE CELEBRATION IN CALIFORNIA.—The Chinese New Year, 2nd January, was celebrated in San Francisco, by the pig-tails after their odd style. The Pagan churches was thrown open to the public. In the "Lee Yup Asylum" inclosure is their principal church. It is internally a magnificent affair, costly with carvings, gorgeous with gilding, fragrant with burning incense, and illuminated with lanterns and wax tapers. Joss, the brick-red god, sits in the rear; before him tea smokes in dainty little cups; rice, roasted-joints and baked meats abound. A band of Chinese musicians occupies the side seats, making fine martial music, with bells, drums and gongs, all made of brass. Yankees do not hesitate to march up to the presence of Joss himself, and inspect the quality of his garments. The worshipers seemed pleased to receive visitors, and never scowl, though they come in smoking cigars, and are considerably more the impertinent than polite in their investigations. The holidays were kept up for several days, and visiting, exchanging cards and presents, hospitality and unbounded good humor, were the order of the week.

HAVERHILL.—It is stated on the authority of the railroad that conveys, it, that 120 barrels of rum and beer are coveyed into Haverhill every week. There is good reason why the boarding houses of that town shall seek to protect themselves against imposition. If their boarders drank less they could more promptly pay for "bed and board." This is the case everywhere;—there is never any dependence to be put in men that are habitually drinkers; and the best strike that could be had in this country would be on the head of rum and beer barrels.—Newburyport Herald.

The Tribune correspondent at Washington says:—

The order for removing the main bodies of troops from Utah to the Texan and New Mexican frontiers, referred to ten days ago, are prepared. The troops will start with the first grass on the plains, commanded by Gen. Johnston. Col. Chas. T. Smith will command the force left to keep Brigham Young in order, consisting of six companies of infantry, four of cavalry and two of artillery.

☞ James Bogardus of New York, the iron architect, has obtained from a warehousing company in Havana a contract for an immense iron structure, for the storage of sugar in that city. The building will be eight hundred feet long, fronting on the bay; seven hundred deep and thirty high. Three years will be required for its construction. It will cost $1,200,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 3.—A brutal homicide was committed here this morning.—John Parker, a cartman, was beaten to death, by two young rowdies, at a lumber yard. The attack was unprovoked, and the rowdies have not yet been arrested.—Parker was a Prussian by birth.

☞ A heavy failure is reported at Albany—Rathbone & Co., stove dealers. Their liabilities are not yet precisely known,—but are mentioned as likely to amount to between $300,000 and $600,000. They were stove founders, and sold in the west.

NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—John G. Boker, a wealthy German merchant, died to-day.—Mr. Boker was well known as the owner of the Dusseldorf Gallery of Paintings, father of the young lady who eloped with John Dean, and proprietor and importer of the bitters which bear his name.

☞ The Virginia Commissioners appointed to audit the expenses incurred at Harper's Ferry, report the total amount to be $185,667.03.

☞ The Boston Evening Gazette learns that Rev. Dr. Huntington's resignation has been accepted, and that his connection with Harvard College will cease at an early day.

SURROGATE'S COURT.—NEW YORK.—The late W. E. Burton and his Wives.—Case of the contested will of William E. Burton, the Theatrical Manager. It now appears that this case stands in the following position: By his will Mr. Burton left $1000 to Jane Livingston Burton; but it is stated that he never was married to her.—Since then Mrs. Elizabeth Burton of England has appeared as a contestant, on the ground that she is the widow of the deceased. It now appears that there is another widow in Philadelphia. While Mr. Burton was in that city his wife in England went there and commenced legal proceedings against him, in the course of which a collateral question was raised as to the validity of his marriage with her (the English wife) which was declared to be void. Subsequently, the marriage with the Philadelphia lady was annulled. Thus, as it now stands, there are three apparent widows, while it would seem there are none in reality.

☞ Some weeks ago, Mr. Adams, keeper of the East Cambridge Jail and House of Correction, was accused of furnishing bad food to the prisoners and convicts, not keeping the prison warm enough, &c. As their custom is, a Committee of the Legislature gave the complainants a hearing, and their testimony was printed in the newspapers, but end first.

Some paper in the State of Massachusetts remarked that if half the allegations were true, the people of Massachusetts should say nothing about the evils of slavery till these evils in their own State were removed.

Uncle Toby said—No, no; let the people protest against this evil and that.

Whereupon somebody set up a bitter cry of disapprobation at Uncle T., because he dared to spoil such a pretty picture. Nevertheless it is spoiled. We learn from the Boston Transcript that the examination has closed; that the trouble came from some persons who wished to get Adam's place, and that "he has been re-appointed to his present place by the sheriff of Middlesex county, Mr. Kimball, because of his fitness for the position, and for that alone, as Mr. Adams opposed Mr. Kimball's nomination for the shrievalty. The exoneration, so far he is concerned, is complete, and adds to his reputation as an honorable man."

The provisions, cookery and warmth turn out to be as good as usual in such places: good enough for prisoners' fare.

☞ The Buffalo Express says that not long ago Young America undertook to have a surprise party at the house of Dean Richmond. In full feather, with eatables and drinkables and music, the self-invited guests, to the number of two hundred, drove up to Dean's door, rang the bell, and prepared for a rush in. But they reckoned wrong.—Dean answered the bell in person, and of course blocked up the entrance. He politely asked their business of the leader of the party. He was informed that it was a "surprise party." He assured them that he was not surprised at all—was not surprised at anything now-a-days; did not intend to have a party that night; when he wanted one he would make proper preparations, and bid the guests himself. He wished them all a pleasant "good night," and closed the door.

MELODEON INSTRUCTOR.—Oliver Ditson & Co. have published a "New Method for the Melodeon, Harmonian, and other instruments of the Organ class, selected mainly from Zundel's Melodeon Instructor. To which are added a collection of the most popular songs of the day, and a variety of Psalm and hymn tunes."

The reputation of Zundel's Instructor is well established. It is praise enough of this new work, to say that the selection is judicious, giving a good instruction book at a small price; and that the music and words for practice, sacred and secular, is a valuable addition.

The book is for sale in Portsmouth by J. H. Foster.

LITERARY ANNOUNCEMENT.—Messrs. Brown & Taggard of Boston have in press a new and complete edition of Carlyle's Essays, revised, enlarged and annotated by the author. The work will be in four volumes, printed at the Riverside press, on fine tinted paper, in the style of the Boston edition of the "Curiosities of Literature." It will have a copious index and new portrait, and will be altogether the finest edition of Carlyle ever issued on either side of the Atlantic.

☞ In the canton of Vaud, Switzerland, a society has lately been organized, having for its object the collection of money to be applied in purchasing and freeing slaves in this country. The sum of $400 was received a short time since by a Swiss clergyman, acting for the society, at Highland, Madison county, Ill., and appropriated in purchasing a colored Methodist minister of St. Louis.—The liberated minister will depart for Liberia, where it is his intention to labor in the establishment of schools for the enlightenment of his race.

☞ At the Lynn churches on Sunday, requests were presented in behalf of the strikers, asking the clergymen to preach upon the virtue and necessity of temperance at this particular time.

Liver Complaint.

The liver, being the great purifying organ, arrests in its substance many morbid products, the fertile sources of disease. The PERUVIAN SYRUP stimulates the liver to the performance of its functions, lessens the evils of bad digestion, and thus acts at the same time in a restorative and preventive manner.

Testimony from a well known physician.

Letter from S. H. Kendall, M. D., Boston, Jan. 22, '59.—I was for many years afflicted with Liver Complaint, of which I was cured in 1854 by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and have enjoyed perfect health ever since.
S. H. KENDALL, M. D.

The use of Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, for Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection; is second to none in America or abroad. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy so indispensable for the restoration of health. The numerous acknowledgements of its superior excellence and beneficent results, have assured the proprietors that it cannot but prove a great cure to the afflicted, and impart vitality to the thorough system.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

The unequalled success that has attended the application of this Medicine in Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchial Affection, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Incipient Consumption, has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, many of whom advise us of the fact under their own signature:

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS.

AUBURN, Sept. 6, 1858.

S. W. Fowle & Co,—Sirs:—I most cheerfully add testimony in favor of the Balsam. We have used it in our family, in Pulmonary affections, Coughs and Colds, and esteem it a most valuable remedy, and have recommended it in various complaints of this nature with invariably happy results. W. B. LYNCH, M. D.

MANSFIELD, Tioga Co., Pa., Aug. 1858.

THE MASQUERADE BALL.

Messrs. Editors:—The Fancy Dress and Masquerade Ball came off on Thursday evening, at Irving Hall, as per notice, and in point of beauty and style exceeded anything of the kind ever seen in Portsmouth. About one hundred and twenty-five ladies and gentlemen were present, most of whom appeared masked and in costume. So great was the demand for tickets, that three and five dollars were offered on Thursday for them. The Hall being quite small, a limited number only could be accommodated.

At 8 o'clock the dancers began to arrive. As each carriage drove up to the door with its freight of mysterious looking personages, a cry of admiration resounded from the anxious bystanders, who crowded the sidewalks to catch a glimpse of the favored ones. By 9 o'clock the ante-rooms were thronged, and the procession was formed and marched to the Hall. A more picturesque and beautiful sight we seldom have witnessed. The gorgeous costumes, the eccentric and anomalous personations, combined with the brilliant music, rendered the scene grand and imposing.

The dancing having commenced, a scene of merriment began, of which but a slight idea can be conveyed by verbal description. Strangers accosting one another and endeavoring to penetrate through the disguise; ladies dancing with their most intimate friends, without the slightest knowledge of whom they were; the general whirlwind of excitement, jostling, and disarrangement of costumes—were decidedly interesting.

The masks were of various kinds, but some set characters were favorites; among these were Pickwick, of portly dimensions, with his tri-colored umbrella; Robert Ridley, from the South; Shylock, the Jew, to all appearance aged and infirm—yet when the cornet sounded, he was on his taps. A Monk, with cowl and gown, at one hour was seen performing the marriage ceremony, and the next engaged in dancing a polka with the bride. Sam Slick, the Yankee, made himself perfectly at home with King Richard. An Indian Chief and Squaw attracted much attention. An Italian Peasant and wife were much admired for the style of their costume. One gentleman, who remained masked during the evening, and personated the King, bore off the palm as to richness and elegance of costume.

Polly Hopkins was personated by a young gentleman with good effect. One lady took the part of Princess, accompanied by her lord and master. An aged French soldier, Hungarian Count, Knight in armour Turkish lady, the Grand Vizier, and a Fairy—were noticed for the taste displayed in their costumes.

Some good-looking persons chose for rarity to be ugly, and assumed hideous and grotesque faces. One personated an old Hermit, another a Devil, and a third a Ghost. Our Navy was represented by two Jack Tars, who danced "strong, if not handsome." Almost every nation was represented by ladies and gentlemen in rich and elegant costumes, the following of which attracted our attention: America by her military and navy officers and those in citizens' dress; England by her courtiers, dukes and earls; one gentleman appeared in French court costume worn nearly 100 years ago, and others in French court costume of a later period; the Norwegian in his furs and an Arab chief were personated; a Chinese ambassador, a Scottish chief, a Mexican guerrilla, a Portuguese officer, a Russian noble, a Circassian and lady, a fine old Irish gentleman, a Chilian, and a native of the Sandwich Islands—all of which were costumed in fine shape.

Some of the Shakspearian characters were personated with fine effect. Henry VIII. Othello, Romeo and Juliet, and other minor characters, and Capt. Bobbleston, with a medal of honor from the Crimea, created much fun. Military costumes of every company, it would seem, that have been in existence since the settlement of Portsmouth, were worn. The Continental costume was adopted by many, one of which appeared as Gen. Warren. Cornwallis was personated by one in an English military suit. The Fire Department was fully represented, and many other personations, which we were unable, from their peculiar costumes, to define.

Very few unmasked until 11 o'clock; at that time many appeared in a second costume, and the masks were taken off. A few persons remained incog. the entire evening. Perfect harmony and good order was preserved throughout the evening, which enhanced the pleasure enjoyed by every one. At three o'clock the masqueraders retired to their homes, and thus ends first masked ball ever given in Portsmouth, so far as we know. H.

☞ We learn that the receipts at the Sabbath evening Concert were $103, of which, the trifling expenses being subtracted,—the bulk of the preparation being gratuitous,—the City Mission will receive $85 or so.

☞ He that thinks himself the happiest man, really is so; but he that thinks himself the wisest, is generally the greatest fool.

THE CONCERT at the Stone Church, Sunday night, was creditable to all concerned in it; and was well attended. Mr. Preston, who made all arangements, and was also musical director, took much pains to present an acceptable entertainment, and with good success. The choir comprised about fifty performers, from most of the church choirs in the city—including an orchestra of half-a-dozen pieces, which, though not so prominent when accompanying so fine an organ, yet must have done much to aid the vocal parts, and added considerably to the quality and power of the choruses.

Miss Bartlett played the organ accompaniments, with her usual skill and good taste; and was assisted by Miss Hadley in the two voluntaries, for four hands, with fine effect. The power and beauties of the splendid instrument were pleasantly and appropriately displayed.

The choruses were rendered with spirit and precision, remarkable, considering the limited practice of the choir. The programme consisted almost entirely of favorite old pieces, and reminded many a hearer of days and concerts lang syne. Songs or solos were sung by Misses Lizzie Boardman, Hattie Rand, Mary Miller; Messrs. Jarvis, Carter, and others.

ENTERTAINMENTS.—After hearing the fine concert, Sunday evening, gotten up by an amateur musician in a few weeks,—it would seem that we might oftener have something of the sort in Portsmouth. There are performers sufficient among us whose services could be procured—and it only needs the requisite tact and talent to bring out and combine the forces. And the large churches, with their fine organs, are just the places for concerts. Cannot we have others?

EDUCATION.—Immediately after reading, writing and cyphering—if indeed not with or even before them—should come physical development, including singing. And yet, with their long lists of studies, some unnecessary if not useless, in our public schools—is it not passing strange, that neither gymnastics nor music have a place in the teachings?

SINGING.—The disnal, lamentable dearth of Singing Schools in Portsmouth, of late years, has been a source of regret to all who love music, and have the best interests of the young at heart. We are gratified to learn that Mr. Israel Kimball is engaged in a "labor of love," which will tend, as far as its influence is felt, to counteract the sad deficiency in our educational system. At his suggestion, the members of the North and Middle st. Sabbath Schools meet once a week, alternately, at the two vestries, for singing under Mr. K.'s direction. He was always a popular as well as competent teacher, and young and old never needed any urging to flock to his classes. We are glad, since he is no longer able ro exert his admirable vocal powers for the public good and enjoyment so efficiently as formerly, that he is yet "doing what he can" for the cause of music and improvement of the youth about him.

Messrs. Editors:—Allow me to call the attention of your readers to the Sabbath School Convention, which is to be held in this city, on Wednesday next, when several speakers from abroad, who have had long experience in the Sunday School work, will be present.

The object of this Convention is to create an interest in the Sunday School cause in our community. Similar conventions, recently held in some of the neighboring cities, have resulted in great good. One was held in Portland last week, which was largely attended, and was in every respect a decided success.

A cordial invitation has been extended to the several Sunday Schools in the city, and to all who are interested in them, to join in the convention, and it is hoped that the attendance will be full. S.

Wheeler & Wilson's

SEWING MACHINES.

—THE—

WHEELER & WILSON M'F'G CO.

Invite the attention of Seamstresses, Housekeepers, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, &c., to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, fitted to adorn the parlor, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer. Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses. Substituting, as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body-destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The change made in the tension during the past year, so that the upper thread is used from the original spool, and the addition of the hemmer, by which hems of any width are turned and stitched without any previous basting, evince the care of the Company in incorporating with the machines every device that can tend to perfecting them. They now combine every improvement that has been invented for sewing, and the Company feels confident that, in their present form, they are by far the best ever offered to the public; and refers, for confirmation of this opinion, to the thousands of families and manufacturers who use them.

The Lock Stitch made by this machine is the only stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

Economy of Sewing Machines.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company has prepared tables showing by actual experiment of four different workers, the time required to stitch each part of a garment by hand, and with their Sewing Machine. The superiority of the work done by the Machine, and the healthfulness of the employment are advantages quite as great as the saving of time. Subjoined, is a summary of several of the tables—

	BY MACHINE. Hours	Min.	BY HAND. Hours	Min.
Gentlemen's Shirts,	1	16	14	28

Seams of any considerable length are stitched, ordinarily, at the rate of a yard a minute.

By the sworn statements made by the several Sewing Machine Manufacturing Companies, it is shown that the

WHEELER & WILSON MANUF'G CO.

during the past year,

made more than double the number of Machines of any other establishment, and were still unable to supply orders!

They have won the highest premiums at the Fair of the United States Agricultural Society;—at the State Fairs of Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, California, and at the Fairs of the American Institute, New York; Mechanics' Association, Boston; Franklin Institute, Philadelphia; Mechanics' Institute, Baltimore; Metropolitan Mechanics' Institute, Washington; Mechanics' Association, Cincinnati; Kentucky Institute, Louisville; Mechanical Association, St. Louis; Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco; and at hundreds of County Fairs.

These machines have been used by many families in this city for several years, all of whom pronounce them to be the perfection of a Sewing Machine. Full instruction in the working of the Machine, given to purchasers.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore, in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

E. A. STEVENS'

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

OLD DOMINION COFFEE-POTS!!

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times. Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S

PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of roasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefited by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it is due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In an unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dye. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling of arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I most cheerfully commend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Slamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man may be proud of his nearly departed hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no wonder my partner was objected to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more than one-third more than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. Among the following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancer, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Cancer in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1 a bottle.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaints, Costiveness, Headache and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the great remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1 a bottle.

His Pleasant Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness; this is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely." ALVIN BICKEM.

"I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. BICKEM.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found great relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many." ABBY MIXAM.

"I have been afflicted for a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe it is the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I have given a few of them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found decided relief in the quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JOHNSON.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "The certifies that we have found great relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

TYRANNUS RAILS,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of DR SIMEON SWETT'S MEDICINES constantly for sale at his residence in

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (SECOND DIVISION OF 1857).

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters appertaining thereto. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none of MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." THOS. EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in the form necessary to secure to them a valid and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 1, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability as his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICK rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that cures or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who has derived from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the fertile uncultivated grounds of Maine, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and before a powder has been given in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs no more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their diversions; for the merits of this preparation itself is the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physiology to the correction, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency. Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and your Spirits are depressed, or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with two drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and not scattered on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-house; if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door; or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the child becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and dirty habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or diseous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are rendered fatal by the taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. No cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can derive for this severe, prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have been discovered for the eradication of this disease from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE AND EXCITIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOLOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The extensive purposes and virtues of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its disorders and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or weakened by disease, is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish plants my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and disclosing for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from seeming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affection of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thru t upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained ried ds by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7, 1860.

DEY DEACONS.—By the records of one of the oldest religious societies in Boston, it appears that there was a large consumption of wine for church purposes in the parish several generations ago. Taking the number of communicants, and the amount of wine charged in a year, it would appear, from the records, there was an average consumption of a pint of wine to a church member, each communion season! It is shrewdly suspected, however, that the deacons and leading members of the church, at their business meetings, partook quite freely of the parish stores, and thus incurred bills for wine, which seem rather strange to those who have imbibed the idea that, in the "good old times" about which we hear so much, men were less frail and dry, when good wine cost them nothing, than they are in our day and generation.—Boston Trans.

Only forty years ago, it was a custom, in one of the largest churches in Newburyport, for the sexton, at whose house the communion vessels were kept,) to put up the surplus wine from the flagons into bottles, after the communion, which bottles be carried to the old and feeble or sickly members of the church.

In some other churches elsewhere, the usage was to provide a certain quantity of wine and bread for each communion, and bestow the surplus on the minister, as an official perquisite.

In the fifteen years from 1825 to 1840, something had happened, whereby the quantity of wine for a church of 100 communicants, had diminished more than one-half.

We cannot think of anything to make this change, except that the temperance reform had broken up the secular drinking of wine by christians, and so made them sparing in their drink at the sacrament.

The idea of the Transcript, that men in former generations were as free drinkers as their grandsons now are, is true; and we will add, they were much more so.

In this city, the last 20 years, there has been less drinking and less drunkenness, (great as it is, and terrible) than in either twenty of the preceding forty. And so of all the neighboring country.

In the churches, that is, among the members, on this same ground, there is not one-twentieth, we think not much more than one-hundredth, part of the wine and spirits drank now, that there was forty-five or fifty years ago.

☞ Mr. Marston, Representative in Congress from this district, has sent us a great variety of speeches, not only from Northern men and Republicans, but from men of all parties and from all parts of the country.

Among them is one (now before us) from Mr. Millson of Virginia, on the Post Office bill, and especially against the abolition of the franking privilege.

For plainness of statement, calmness and fairness of argument, and independence of party influence, we have rarely seen any thing better in the line of speech-making.

Mr. Millson distinctly reprobates the practice of the Senate, in tacking new legislation on to the appropriation bills, as they did last year on the Post Office bill—because, as he shows, by the huddle and juggle of committees of conferences at the heel of a session, 75 per cent. of all new schemes are driven through Congress at the Senate's dictation, just as if there were no House at all.

Mr. M. considers the franking privilege a benefit to the people, but a burden to members of Congress; and don't believe the Post Office is any more bound to pay for itself than the army or navy.

Mr. Vallandigham of Ohio, and Mr. Nelson of Tennessee, agree with him as to franking—in their brief remarks which are printed with his speech.

So the subject is not partisan, but will be settled on other grounds.

☞ When Rev. Dr. Lord's letter in favor of slavery appeared, we gave liberal extracts from it, and remarked that, so far as we knew, not a single minister of his own denomination in this State agreed with him in his peculiar theology, and very few of them, if any, in his views of slavery.

Both these remarks have been fully borne out and confirmed in the Congregational Journal, which is the only paper of that denomination in the State; its editor taking nearly the same ground as we did, in regard to the venerable president's personal services to the College, and in criticizing his letter. Some of the correspondents are more severe. One writer says:

He seems like one who, having been scared by the ignis fatuus of error and radical reform on the one hand, has plunged into the bottomless quagmire of despotism on the other.

☞ At Whampoa, in December last, fifteen brokers, who had been concerned in stealing natives and selling them into bondage, were beheaded, and their heads exposed on poles. At about the same time, the slave depots were surrounded, and the entire native slave population released.

A cold snap—the snap of a pistol.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Monday, Mar. 4th, a bill to authorize the sale of arms to States was considered.

Mr. Fessenden offered an amendment restricting the number according to the basis of the population of the States or Territories. No action.

In the House, Mr. Millson offered a resolution providing for the election of a Chaplain.

The House agreed to vote for Chaplain Tuesday.

Mr. Sherman made an ineffectual effort to bring up his mileage bill, and gave notice of similar motion to-morrow.

The House refused to suspend the rules to take up the bill for the improvement of Chicago harbor.

On motion of Mr. Sherman, the House referred the Pacific Railroad bill to a Special Committee of fifteen. He declined to be a member thereof.

Mr. Barksdale asked leave to offer a resolution proposing (the Senate concurring) to adjourn on the 4th of June. The House refused to suspend the rules—97 against 69; not two-thirds.

Mr. Covode asked leave to introduce a resolution for the appointment of a select committee of five for the purpose of investigating whether the President or any other officer of the government has, with money, patronage, or any other improper means sought to influence Congress, or any committee thereof as to any act referring to the rights of States or territories;—whether any officers, by combination or otherwise, have sought to defeat the execution of any laws, and whether the President has refused to compel the execution of the same; said committee to enquire into abuses in the Chicago and other Post Offices, and the Philadelphia and other Navy Yards, and other public works; and taking the President's letter of November, 1858, on the occasion of the centennial celebration at Pittsburg, into consideration; what amount of money was used in Pennsylvania for electioneering purposes, in what districts the same was expended, and from what sources it was derived. Said committee to have power to send for persons and papers, and report at any time.

Mr. Florence objected to the introduction of the above resolution. The charges should be specified. He would not sit in his place quietly when such insuendoes were directed against honest men. (Laughter.)

Mr. Covode said something about the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

[Mr. Florence has a reason for opposing the investigation, as he enjoys the reputation of representing a navy yard.]

Mr. Ashmore and others of the Democratic party objected; but Mr. Cobb said if any party are guilty of corruption let it be ferreted out.

Rules suspended, 117 against 45. The Resolution was adopted under the operation of the previous question.

Mr. Reagan offered a joint resolution that $5,000,000 be placed at the disposal of the President, to defray the expenses of volunteer forces to be called into military service for the suppression of hostilities on the Rio Grande. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

SUFFOCATION FROM COAL GAS.—William Woebler, an old citizen of Bethlehem, Pa., was suffocated night of 21st inst., by the gas escaping from a coal stove in the room adjoining his bed-room, the door of which was open. Mr. W. was at the time confined to his bed by illness. His wife and daughter were also affected by the gas, and slept till the evening of next day, when they got up and began making preparations for bre akfast, unconscious of their long slumber. A neighbor who called set them right on this point, when they went to Mrs. W.'s room and found him dead.

☞ The last Spanish mail steamer conveyed to the army in Africa a part of the Cuban contribution, about $500,000 and some three hundred thousand cigars, together with an immense quantity of tobacco in bales, scraps, and paper cigarettes! This is certainly a royal gift, such as no other five provinces in old Spain could make.—Cuba will do still more in the money line, and her voluntary contribution will exceed $1,000,000.

☞ The hotel and restaurant keepers of Philadelphia have been holding a series of meetings to discuss the excise laws. A committee reported, Feb. 24, an amendment to the existing license act, which it is proposed to press upon the attention of the State Legislature. It provides that all retail dealers in Philadelphia shall pay a license of not less than $40 nor more than $500 per annum, and the parties who sell without a license shall be fined $1000 for each offence.

☞ Two of the first families in Virginia, viz. Clemmens and Whitcher, in Henry County, had a fight about a week ago, over a divorce case.—Three men named Clemmens were killed in the room where depositions were being taken, and three on the Whitcher side wounded. The latter, on examination, were discharged, on the ground of self-defence.

☞ A ballet girl died in Cincinnati, last week, of an attempt to produce abortion; and her seducer and a physician have been arrested. On her death-bed she called her seducer to the side of her couch, and placing her hand in his, forgave him and begged him to be a good man.

☞ The ice has passed down the Merrimac from Lawrence and below, so that the river is clear.

☞ The striking shoemakers at Dover had a grand procession on Monday, March 5, with banners, and the South Berwick Band of music.

They have also formed a society for mutual protection and improvement, chosen officers, &c.

A Dover correspondent of the Atlas says:

Some of the bosses agree to the terms, but the strikers refuse to go to work till all the manufacturers agree to accept their prices. We are afraid they will not be able to hold out a sufficient length of time to see this brought about. They are very unfortunate in striking just at this time, when the market is well stocked with goods and trade is over, thus giving the manufacturers the advantage of the strike. The strikers deserve much credit for their general good conduct. They have thus made friends, and gained the sympathy of the people.

In Lynn, on Tuesday morning, the journeyman shoemakers, about twenty-five hundred in number, assembled in the square, accompanied by the Lynn Band. The members of Ward 4 were presented with a beautiful banner, with the motto, "Hope never dies." They then proceeded to Salem.

The shoemakers of Newburyport held a meeting on Monday evening, and voted to strike. The agreement was signed by one hundred and seventy-nine persons. The stichers and binders (females) also met, and agreed to strike for higher wages.

On Tuesday, a procession numbering about one hundred journeymen were parading the streets, escorted by the Newburyport full band. Thus far the proceedings are very orderly and quiet.

☞ The rioters at Lynn are cared for. On Saturday evening, Wood and Buckley were held for trial on the second Monday of May at Newburyport, in the sum of $700 each. The other three, Murray, Murphy and Perry were held in $1200 each. They gave bail.

"DR CAMLBEELL'S EASY METHOD WITH THE SLAVERY QUESTION."—We assure the Free Press, that we shall support the nominees of the Charleston Convention, "nolus volus," as General Taylor used to say. As we understand it, there are three theories in regard to niggers—Congressional prohibition—non-intervention—protection. If one is adopted, so; if another, so; if another still, so.—Union Democrat.

Take equal doses of the above, sugar over with one and a half columns of public printing, and take as often as may be necessary. It throws the patient into a somolent state, and very much facilitates the easy disposition of all questions of politics, especially those relating to slavery.—Manchester American.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—S. P. Hanscom, one of the most "irrepressible" of the reportorial corps, has performed a novel act. Offered the place of Clerk to the Committee on Territories, by the chairman, Hon. Gusha A. Grow, (with whom he went to Kansas as clerk of the committee when the investigations were made,) he respectfully declined it, giving as a reason that his newspaporial engagements occupy his entire time.

The House Judiciary Committee have chosen for their clerk, G. F. Hobbs of Great Falls, N. H.

The Naval Appropriation will be reported this week. The appropriations will be reduced one million from last year.

☞ It seems to be settled that the second daughter of Queen Victoria, the Princess Alice, is to have as husband the young Prince of Orange. The marriage is to take place on the anniversary of the Queen's birthday, on the 24th of May next.

UNPRECEDENTED.—There is a house in Duxbury, Mass., in which fifteen children, eleven girls and four boys, were born of the same parents, and, what is still more singular, the eleven girls were all married in the same room. There are no such families now-a-days; two is considered a complement.—Sat. Eve. Gaz.

SHEEP.—At Brighton, twenty-three sheep were sold that weighed 4604 lbs. Thirteen of the lot averaged 231 lbs. each. They were from Ontario Co., N. $400 was paid for the lot—$17 each.

The fastest skating on record is one mile in 1 min. 56 sec., by Wm. Clarke, at Madison, Wis. George Howard is said to have accomplished 30 miles in an hour.—Wilkes' Spirit.

☞ Hon. Abe. Lincoln of Illinois, the defeated adversary of Douglas, has been stumping in Connecticut and New Hampshire.

Every drop of perspiration brought to the brow by labor is the shadow of a dollar earned—or should be.

☞ Twenty thousand dollars' worth of nutmegs were burned by a fire in New York on Thursday.

If a body wants a body his store to patronize, shouldn't a body pay a body money to advertise?

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN.—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away; and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously satisfied myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute suffering, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters. There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments in the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, emetics, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters" Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation in destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

☞ The Sunday School Convention will be held this day. The morning session in the Middle st. Chapel, commencing at half-past ten o'clock, to be occupied in a free discussion of the practical subjects connected with the Sunday School cause; the afternoon session, at half-past two, to be a children's meeting—singing by the children and addresses to them by Mr. I. P. Samuel, a missionary of the A. S. S. Union in Wisconsin, and others. The evening session will commence at half-past seven, when addresses may be expected from several gentlemen. All are invited to attend each meeting. S.

☞ In the large choir at the Concert, Sunday evening, we noticed Mr. Ebenezer Haines,—doing good service, as usual, in the orchestra. Mr. Haines, with his clarionet, has been a support of all our orchestras, and given the key-note for a large majority of our home concerts, for considerably more than a quarter of a century,—though he is a young man yet. We don't see what all the musical people would have done without him, or would do without him now. Long may it be ere strength fail him to fill his favorite instrument, or his ear lose its accuracy, or his fingers forget their accustomed skill.

PROPRIETY AND GOOD MANNERS.—How delightful it is, to attend an entertainment of any sort where all is conducted "decently and in order." And how hideously out of place, and unendurable, is the clapping of hands and the thumping of boot-heels so common at all sorts of exhibitions, and too often practiced by apparently well-bred people.

☞ The number of deaths in Portsmouth during the month of February was twenty-two, as follows:—

Males twelve—aged 3 months, 3, 4, and 7 months, 2 years, 2 years 6 mos., 6 years, 22, 34, 37, 62, 70.

Females ten—aged 2 years, 4 yrs. 6 mos, 6, 13, 15, 50, 64, 70, 75, and 88 years.

☞ It will be seen that Lamprey & Haines' and Elliott's Quadril e Bands have united, and are prepared to furnish superior music for balls and parties, as usual. This is now one of the most complete and efficient Bands we know of; and eminently worthy of patronage.

ELECTION IN NEWCASTLE.—The annual election for choice of town officers was held in Newcastle, on Tuesday, with the following result:—

For Moderator, William A Meloon, rep., had 54 votes; Thomas Tarlton, dem., 58, and was elected. Democratic majority, 14.

For Town Clerk, no opposition was made to William Vennard, republican, who was elected.

Selectmen, Calvin Davis, Jr., Thomas Rand, John Locke, 2d, all democrats.

The rest of the officers eleeted were democratic.

HOW IT HAPPENED.—A number of politicians, some of whom were seeking office under government, were seated on a tavern porch talking, when an old toper named John D———, a person who is very loquacious when corned, but the very opposite when sober, said that if the company had no objection he would tell them a story.—They told him to "fire away," whereupon he spoke as follows:

"A certain king—I don't recollect his name—had a philosopher upon whose judgment he always depended. Now, it so happened that one day the king took it into his head to go a-hunting, and after summoning his nobles and making the necessary preparations, he summoned the philosopher and asked him if it would rain. The philosopher said it would not, and the king and his nobles departed. While journeying along, they met a countryman on a jackass. He advised them to return; 'for,' said he, 'it certainly will rain.' They smiled contemptuously upon him and passed. Before they had gone many miles, however, they had reason to regret not having taken the rustic's advice, as, a heavy shower coming on, they were drenched to the skin. When they had reached the palace the king reprimanded the philosopher severely.

"'I met a countryman,' said he, 'and he knows a great deal more than you, for he told me it would rain, whereas you told me it would not.'

"The king then gave him his walking papers, and sent for the countryman, who soon made his appearance.

"'Tell me,' said the king, 'how did you know it would rain?'

"'I didn't know,' said the rustic; 'my jackass told me.'

"'How, pray, did he tell you?' asked the king.

"'By pricking up his ears, your Majesty,' returned the rustic.

"The king sent the countryman away, and, procuring the jackass of him, he placed him—the jackass—in the office the philosopher had filled. And here," observed John, looking very wise, "is where the king made a great mistake."

"How so?" asked the auditors eagerly.

"Why, ever since that time," said John, with a grin on his phiz, "every jackass wants an office!"

GOING HOME WITH THE GIRLS.—The entrance into society may be said to take place immediately after boyhood has passed away, yet a multitude take an initiative before their beards are presentable. It is a great trial, either at a tender or tough age. For an over-grown boy to go to a door knowing there are a dozen girls inside, and to knock or ring with absolute certainty that in two minutes all their eyes will be upon him, is a severe test of courage. To go before these girls and make a satisfactory tour of the room without steeping on their toes, and sit down and dispose of one's hands without putting them in one's pockets, is an achievement which few men can boast. If a boy can go so far as to measure off ten yards of tape with one of the girls, and cut it short at each end, he may stand a chance to pass a pleasant evening, but let him not flatter himself that all the trials of the evening are over.

There comes, at last, the breaking up.—The dear girls don their hoods, and put on their shawls, and look so saucy and mischievous, and unimpressible, and independent, as if they didn't wish anybody to go home with them. Then comes the pinch, and the boy that has the most pluck makes up to the prettiest girl, his heart in his throat, and his tongue clinging to the roof of his mouth, and crooking out elbow, stammers out the words "shall I see you home?" She touches her fingers to his arm and they walk home a foot apart, feeling as awkward as two goslings.

As soon as she is safe within her own doors he struts home, and really thinks he has been, and gone and done it. Sleep comes at last, with dreams of crinoline and calico; and he wakes in the morning, finds the doors of life open to him, and the pigs squalling for breakfast.

A BRIGHT BOY.—We never read the scene in Henry IV, where Falstaff and Prince Henry exchange characters, without thinking of a similar one, said to have occurred in an ancient parsonage a great while ago. Rev. Mr. Regulus was an excellent man, rather eccentric and somewhat economical. Jonas, a farmer's boy, used sometimes to go with presents to the parsonage, a sharp-eyed little fellow, but rather uncouth in his manners. One day he bro't in a leg of mutton, laid it down without ceremony, and was making off.

"I'll teach that boy a lesson in good manners," said Mr. Regulus to his wife. "He needs to have the clown rubbed off a little." "Jonas, come back here a moment. Don't you know, my fine fellow, that you should not come into a house in this way, without knocking, and with your hat on. Sit down in my arm-chair. Imagine yourself the minister, and I'll come in with the mutton, and show you how a boy ought to behave."

Jonas sits up gravely in the arm-chair, and Mr. Regulus goes out with the leg of mutton.

Enter Mr. Regulus, in the character of Jonas. He takes off his hat, with a low bow.

"My father sends his compliments to Mr. Regulus, and asks his pastor to accept a token of his regard."

Jonas, from the arm-chair: "I thank you. Mrs. Regulus, just give that boy a ninepence."

The lesson was mutual.—Monthly Religious Mag.

HOW THE SULTAN'S DWARF SECURED A WIFE.—The Sultan's favorite dwarf, a man about thirty years old, and three feet high, a few years ago took a notion to marry, and applied to the Sultan for a wife.—The Sultan gave him permission to go into his harem and take the one whom he could kiss! The dwarf, like all other small men, was ambitious to have a long wife. While the Sultan's five hundred women, who knew the terms according to which the dwarf was permitted to choose, were laughing at the manikin, he went up to one of the tallest and handsomest of them, and struck her a sudden blow on the stomach. She collapsed with the pain, and before she could recover he caught her by the neck and gave her the dreaded kiss. The Sultan kept his word, and the tall beauty is now the mother of the dwarf's children.

Wheeler & Wilson's

SEWING MACHINES.

—THE,—

WHEELER & WILSON M'F'G CO.

Invite the attention of Seamstresses, Housekeepers, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, &c., to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, fitted to adorn the parlor, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer. Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses. Substituting, as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body-destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The change made in the tension during the past year, so that the upper thread is used from the original spool, and the addition of the hemmer, by which hems of any width are turned and stitched without any previous basting, evince the care of the Company in incorporating with the machines every device that can tend to perfecting them. They now combine every improvement that has been invented for sewing, and the Company feels confident that, in their present form, they are by far the best ever offered to the public; and refers, for confirmation of this opinion, to the thousands of families and manufacturers who use them.

The Lock Stitch made by this machine is the only stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

Economy of Sewing Machines.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company has prepared tables showing by actual experiment of four different workers, the time required to stitch each part of a garment by hand, and with their Sewing Machine. The superiority of the work done by the Machine, and the healthfulness of the employment are advantages quite as great as the saving of time. Subjoined, is a summary of several of the tables—

Seams of any considerable length are stitched, ordinarily, at the rate of a yard a minute.

By the sworn statements made by the several Sewing Machine Manufacturing Companies, it is shown that the

WHEELER & WILSON MANUF'G CO.

during the past year,

made more than double the number of Machines of any other establishment, and were still unable to supply orders!

They have won the highest premiums at the Fair of the United States Agricultural Society;—at the State Fairs of Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, California, and at the Fairs of the American Institute, New York; Mechanics' Association, Boston; Franklin Institute, Philadelphia; Mechanics' Institute, Baltimore; Metropolitan Mechanics' Institute, Washington; Mechanics' Association, Cincinnati; Kentucky Institute, Louisville; Mechanical Association, St. Louis; Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco; and at hundreds of County Fairs.

These machines have been used by many families in this city for several years, all of whom pronounce them to be the perfection of a Sewing Machine. Full instruction in the working of the Machine, given to purchasers.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The ease with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

E. A. STEVENS'

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

OLD DOMINION COFFEE-POTS!!

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times. Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S

PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of wasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandriff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with the time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For the benefit of the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it till restoring gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stanton, Ala., July 29th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir:—Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish it make known to the PUBLIC the effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will soon become beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I am several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had your hair restorative in use during the loss of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among the most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, sore eyes or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Dandelion root combined, for Liver Complaint and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for those complaints that he has tried and known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who are afflicted from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops than all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently recommend my oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. EDWIN KEYES, 2d.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Resident 15 years.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of inventions, and opinions rendered on the matters rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove this, and is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IN THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents; he has also the most extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, which gives him a like advantage, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MAGRUDER,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their invention in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable evidence of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twenty selected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, WITH ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE COMFORT, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

This preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly, it is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—it is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forest under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, while it will prove a relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR INFANTS AFFLICTED WITH TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels, and for Cholera Infantum, and for Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect safety—and for its use in a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to consult your family physician first, and be satisfied with no other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for them, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

Sold by CHURCH & DUPONT, Druggists, No. 35 Maiden Lane, New York.

GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Wholesale Agents, Boston.

And by all respectable Druggists throughout the country.

In Portsmouth by W. R. PRESTON.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, of it, what we have of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN ONE INSTANCE TO EFFECT A CURE, or did we know an infant to suffer, we feel certain, all are delighted to speak in terms of highest praise of its operations, and recommendation of its marvellous virtues. We speak this matter, "what we know," after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the truth of what we here declare, that if the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the children from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC.

and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and surest remedy IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every sufferer, we have the foregoing complaints, Do not let your own prejudices of others, stand in the way of your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is thereon, on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of more than twenty years practice—had recourse to the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of phisiology, with more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of this "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your nerves in a shattered state, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The Chronicle Office is open from 4 o'clock in the morning till 8 in the evening, to receive advertisements, notices, &c., duly authenticated and authorized by responsible parties; may be left in the drop-box in the street door, when the office is closed—and will be inserted next morning if necessary or desired.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of our delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, to be placed in the house door; or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from the above, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the World, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Bickford's Spring Balance,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poisonous. Being the circulating fluid it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor hitherto one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases consequently we find that they are followed by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this baking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the restore of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but all those other affections which arise from it, such as
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DISPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "purifying of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties pervade the system, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energies restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every household, but the more formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what stuff to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many interior remedies that govern the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefit on the afflicted, they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1860.

VACCINATION.

Messrs. Editors:—Seeing in your paper of Monday a partial account of the results of vaccination in Westford, Mass., and that part, too, likely to alarm the community, and to prevent many from availing themselves at the present time of the benefit of a genuine and properly conducted vaccination. I have copied from the Boston Journal of Saturday a paragraph in which is given a statement of the cause of the unfortunate results which followed from the use of improperly prepared vaccine matter. Thus, by giving the origin as well as the results of these cases, you will confer a favor upon that part of the public who employ competent practitioners, by relieving them of unnecessary fears; and at the same time you will warn physicians or others who have either forgotten or never known the effects of impure vaccine matter.

In addition to the paragraph published a day or two since, in regard to the result of vaccination at Westford, we learn that although but six or seven persons have been seriously affected, at least sixty were vaccinated in all, and all of them, with the above exceptions, are either not sick or doing well. The material used had every appearance of being perfectly good. It consisted of crusts, two or three of which were dissolved together in a little vial with water, and a thread soaked in this solution was the medium of its introduction. Twenty-eight were vaccinated on the day the matter was prepared, and no bad results followed in any of them. Twenty seven or eight were vaccinated afterwards from the same solution, and of these five were severely affected.—Two more were vaccinated, and died. From these facts, it would appear that some decomposition or other chemical change probably took place in the material after its first preparation; and that to this, rather than to anything inherent in the original matter, or in its mode of application, is ascribed by most of the medical men who are conversant with the facts, the unlocked for results which have followed.

In every case where the vaccine matter took, the parties have been taken sick within a day or two. Those whose vaccination did not take, have experienced no effects of the operation.—Boston Journal.

In this statement your readers will perceive that no ill effects followed from the use of the freshly-prepared matter, but from the use of the matter after decomposition had commenced; and its operations were the same as would result from a wound on the hand of the operator in dissection. In this statement one other fact is worthy of attention—that the ill effects of vaccination with impure matter follow immediately, and do not, as many imagine, remain to be developed at any subsequent period, in the form of one of the diseases of the skin, or some of the manifestations of scrofula.

It is evident, then, by a due investigation of these cases, that the loss of confidence should be not in vaccination, but in the operator who performed the operation.

While this subject is before us, I will answer a question which is often asked, as at this time it may be a subject of interest to many of your readers. It is this—"How long does vaccination last as a protection against small pox?" The answer can only be given correctly by considering each one's case by itself; yet it may be stated as a general rule, that if a person was vaccinated when a child, re-vaccination should be performed after the age of fifteen; and if vaccination was performed for the first time after that age, it is well to remember that peculiarities of constitution, with other causes, add to the effect of time in lessening its protective power.

As I have not exhausted the subject, it is advisable in doubtful cases, and for those who have been exposed to small pox, to consult a physician. B.

CITY ELECTIONS.—Newcastle, N. H., as we have before stated, has chosen democratic town officers. The democratic vote was 68; republican 54; majority 14.

In Chicago, Ill., the Municipal election passed off without any disturbance. The vote was large, probably reaching 18,000. Returns received indicate the election of the entire Republican ticket by 600 or 700 majority. We suppose this elects Long John Wentworth mayor. His opponent was a Douglas democrat.

In Rochester, N. Y., Utica and Auburn, republican mayors are elected; in Troy a democrat. In Alexandria the entire American ticket was elected.

☞ Dea. William Caruthers, of the Baptist Church, and trader at Salisbury Mills, committed suicide by hanging himself in the cellar of his store on Tuesday, in a fit of melancholy. He was a Scotchman, of good family, brother of Rev. Dr. Caruthers of Portland. He leaves a widow, who is insane, and two sons from 16 to 21 years old.

A LONG PETITION.—Seventeen hundred tax-payers and fifteen hundred women of Lowell have petitioned the mayor and aldermen for the impartial enforcement of the laws, including the law against liquor selling.

CONSIDER ME SMITH.—There is a very good story in the papers of the day of a joke (?) which was played by the Rev. Dr. Caldwell, formerly President of the University of North Carolina.

The doctor was a small man, and lean, but as hard and angular as the most irregular of pine knots. He looked as if he might be tough, but he did not seem strong.—Nevertheless, he was, among the kowing ones, reputed to be as agile as a cat; and in addition, was by no means deficient in knowledge of the 'noble science of self-defence;' besides he was as cool as a cucumber.

Well, in the freshman class of a certain year, was a burly mountaineer of eighteen or nineteen. This genius conceived a great contempt for the doctor's physical dimensions, and his soul was horrified that one so deficient in muscle should be so potential in his rule.

Poor Jones—that's what we'll call him—had no idea of moral force. At any rate he was not inclined to knock under, and be controlled despotically by a man that he imagined he could tie and whip. He at length determined to give the gentleman a genteel private thrashing some night in the college campus, pretending to mistake him for some fellow student.

Shortly after, on a dark and rainy night, Jones met the doctor crossing the campus. Walking up abruptly; "Hello Smith!—You rascal! Is that you?" And with that he struck the doctor a blow on the side of the face that nearly felled him.

The doctor said nothing, but squared himself, and at it they went. Jones's youth, weight and muscle made him an ugly customer; but after a round or two the doctor's science began to tell, and in a short time he had knocked his beefy antagonist down, and was astraddle on his chest, with one hand on his throat, and the other dealing vigorous cuffs on the side of his head.

"Ah, stop! I beg your pardon doctor'—Doctor Caldwell, a mistake! For heaven's sake, doctor,' groaned Jones, who thought he was about to be eaten up, 'I really thought it was Smith!"

The doctor replied, with a word and a blow alternately, "It makes no difference for all present purposes; consider me Smith!"

And it is said the doctor gave Jones such a pounding, then and there, as probably prevented his ever making another mistake as to personal identity, at least on the college campus.

MISERY VS. MUSCLE.—If any man who has fully studied the social condition of this country, were called on to declare what one subject is best worth popular consideration and full practical development, he would, unquestionably, decide in favor of education, since in that word is summed up the whole destiny of coming generations. It again asked what division of education is best worthy of attention, he would certainly answer that, under existing circumstances, physical culture is by far the most important. If the reader will be pleased to reflect seriously on the full meaning of "physical culture," he cannot fail to agree with us.

Physical culture involves not only judicious exercise and a strict observance of all the laws of health, but also, by their aid, the cultivation of cheerfulness and that genial state of the mind which looks hopefully forward to the future, and does not, at every little misery of life, give this world up despairingly as a bad job, and sigh out that there is only joy in Heaven. Healthy persons are not given to this doleful despair, or to that sentimental, mournful Pharisaism which is the devil's best friend in this country. Talk as much as you will, morbid mind, of the chastening effects of misery, you will find that health, real health of body and of mind, is the crowning test of perfection.—Frank Leslie.

☞ Saml. George, of Seabrook, N. H., being drunk in Newburyport, on Monday, as we learn from the Herald, was lodged in the Watch House. On being searched previous to being locked up, a bottle of rum and the pictorial life of John Brown, showing his advent into Kansas, and how murderously he was hung in Virginia, was found in his possession, which led the officers to believe that he was a newly fledged New Hampshire Republican, an insinuation which he immediately repelled by stating that he was chairman of the democratic committee on ways and means for the town of Seabrook, and had come to the city for his supply of election drops, as the means to toll the fossils in his party to the polls on the 13th. He was ordered to pay $2 and costs;—but having no money, he was sent to the House of Correction for 30 days.

LOUISIANA.—Baton Rouge, March 6.—At the Democratic convention a series of resolutions was adopted expressing admiration of patriotic conservative northern men, and undiminished confidence in President Buchanan's Administration; embodying the principle of Davis's territorial resolutions; recommending the adoption by the National Convention of the two-thirds rule; that the vote of the Louisiana delegation be cast as a unit; and in case of the election of a Black Republican President, that Louisiana should meet her sister slaveholding States in council, for the adoption of measures for their protection. Mr. Slidell is recommended for the Presidency.

FIRE IN NEPONSET.—On Monday night, a fire broke out in the stable of the Neponset House, that consumed the building, two horses and thirty head of cattle. The loss was $6000.

A bill has been introduced into the New York Assembly for the protection of the boarding house keepers. Another is talked of to protect boarders against strong butter and weak tea and coffee.

When we read the almost interminable sentences of some writers, we cannot help thinking that their readers are in danger of being sentenced to death. [This is Prentice's.]

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Tuesday, March 6, the Vice President submitted a certified copy of the Kansas Constitution.

Thaddeus Hyatt was brought before the Senate, and it was ordered that he be remanded to the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms till 2 o'clock Friday, to answer questions propounded to him by the Senate Investigating Committee.

Mr. Brown's resolutions relative to slavery in the Territories were taken up, and he spoke in their favor, going to the utmost length of pro-slavery sentiment.

The Senate accepted the invitation of the ladies of the Mount Vernon Association to accompany them on their visit to Mount Vernon, on Wednesday afternoon.

The Military Academy bill was debated.

The House passed a bill for the protection of female passengers on board emigrant vessels.

Mr. Cochrane's Revenue Code (very convenient for use) was postponed to the first Tuesday in April, when it will doubtless be enacted. It gathers all the revenue laws into one book.

The House then proceeded to the election of a Chaplain. On the second ballot, Thomas H. Stockton, of Philadelphia, was elected by a large majority.

The bill to reduce the mileage of members of Congress was taken up and passed by a vote of 154 to 21.

The invitation of the ladies of the Mount Vernon Association to the House to accompany them on their visit to Mount Vernon, on Wednesday, was accepted.

Mr. Hoard offered a resolution asking for a select committee of inquiry into certain statements made by Messrs. Adrain, Haskin and Hickman last December, to the effect that the President endeavored to bribe them from their course of duty.

Mr. Brauch hoped no objection would be made from the Democratic side. If the President was to blame, it should be known; if not, the calumny should be exposed.

Mr. Houston and others participated in the debate, which was of an exciting character, after which the resolution was adopted. Adjourned.

GUILTY—BUT DRUNK.—The business of the Court in one of the frontier territories was drawing to a close, when one morning a rough sort of a customer was arraigned on a charge of stealing. After the clerk had read the indictment to him, he put the question—"Guilty or not guilty?"

"Guilty, but drunk, your honor," answered the prisoner.

"What's the plea?" asked the Judge, half dozing on the bench.

"He pleads guilty, but says he was drunk," replied the clerk,"

"What's the case?"

"May it please your honor," said the prosecuting attorney, "the man is regularly indicted for stealing a large sum of money from the Columbia Hotel."

"He is, hey? and pleads—"

"He pleads guilty, but drunk."

The judge was now fully aroused. "Guilty, but drunk—this is a most extraordinary plea. Young man, you are certain you were drunk?"

"Yes, sir."

"Where did you get your liquor?"

"At Sterrett's."

"Did you get none anywhere else?"

"Not a drop, sir."

"You got drunk on his liquor, and afterwards stole the money?"

"Yes, sir."

"Mr. Prosecutor," said the Judge, "do me the favor to enter in that man's case a nolle prosequi. That liquor at Sterrett's is enough to make a man do anything dirty; I got drunk on it myself, the other day, and stole all Sterrett's spoons! Release the prisoner, Mr. Sheriff. Adjourn the court!"

☞ Some watchful patriot in Hampton has lately made the astounding discovery that documents franked by J. P. Pike, ex-member of Congress, have lately come to Hampton by mail. The Independent Democrat informs us that the "pub. documents" referred to are "Patent Office Reports" for 1858, which were franked by Hon. James Pike, and put into the Post Office at Sanbornton Bridge last November. Some were directed to Concord, but most of them to persons in Rockingham and Strafford counties. By the negligence or ignorance of mail agents and postmasters, they all got to Senator Hale's house in Dover. Mr. Hale sent them back to the post office—and after Mr. Pike wrote to Washington about the matter, the Post Master General ordered the Dover P. M. to forward them. Of course he had to obey—and hence the mare's nest, in which the only eggs are, incompetent, ignorant, unaccommodating men in care of the mail.

DEATH OF COL. BOYD.—Died, on Tuesday, at the Elm House, in Portland, Col. George Wm. Boyd, aged 69. He was a native of Portsmouth, N. H., and graduated at Bowdoin College in the class of 1810. In his younger days he travelled much in this country and in Europe, passed several years in Orleans, was a good French scholar a man of extensive reading, of highly cultivated mind and good heart. He was a gentleman of the old school, and long to be remembered by those who enjoyed his acquaintance.—Advertiser.

At Lynn, the other day, a Sabbath-school teacher asked a little girl who the first man was. She answered that she did not know. The question was put to the next, an Irish child, who answered, "Adam, sir," with apparent satisfaction. "La," said the first scholar, "you needn't feel so grand about it he wasn't an Irishman!"

THE MARKET PORTERS of Newburyport have struck, and refused to carry dinners to private residences at the old rates, on account of the probable rise in boots.

TITIAN'S RECLINING VENUS.

Has for two centuries been the admiration of all beholders. Artists, connoisseurs, and the public will therefore by glad to learn that a magnificent Engraving, colored in oil, of the

PICTURE THAT ENCHANTS THE WORLD,

Has been issued by the undersigned, at a price which places it

WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.

Our Engraving is the only authentic copy ever published in America, of the

GEM OF THE DRESDEN GALLERY,

For which the government of Hanover paid

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

It represents the Goddess reclining on a couch and radiant with celestial loveliness. The warm lights and soft shadows which lend such a strange fascination to all the undraped divinities of Titian, are admirably reproduced in this picture, and the accessories, both in the foreground and background, enhance the general effect.

This picture is splendid without goudiness, warm without pruriency, and brimful of the very soul of art. [New York Express.

It is the best piece of flesh coloring ever executed in this country. [New York Leader.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

MESSRS. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute suffering, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with the exception of sulphur soap, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters.

There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity of pills, emetics, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by simple means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacters of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters." Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

Yours, &c., JAMES LEWIS, M. D.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan F. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w

CHARITY.—We take pleasure in publishing Mr. Preston's Card, respecting the late Concert; and as we read it, we can but ask, to whom, of all he mentions as aiding on that occasion, does the award of benevolence really belong? We think to Mr. P. himself especially, and those he names, except "the public." They paid their hundred dollars or so, for a concert which cost, (or would have cost, if all the labor of its preparation had been paid for,) and was richly worth, vastly more than that amount; and we don't see any great sacrifice or liberality in that. The tickets on such occasions, and to such entertainments, should be at least half-a-dollar—or at any rate, those who choose, should be invited to pay that price; so that "the public" may contribute a sum at least equal to that given by the getters-up of the concert. However, we "rejoice with those who do rejoice" in the happiness this money will bring; and hope to be always ready to aid as we may, any such object. F.

☞ We are pleased to learn that the friends of Mr. Elliott, of the Quadrille Band, are to give him a Complimentary Levee, at Rechab Hall, on Monday evening next, 12th inst. The Cornet Band are to play the introductory march, which is an original Quickstep dedicated to their leader, by Mr. Elliott. We are glad to note these mutual courtesies, between the two Bands. The musicians of our city have not always held their own personal feelings or preferences, and real or imaginary grievances, as secondary and in subjection to the progress of the art they often profess to love so much more than its profits. The more's the pity for the cause of music among us. Mr. Elliott is a fine musician,—widely known and highly esteemed,—and what is vastly more, a thorough gentleman; and we wish him a bouncer of a "benefit."

NOMINATION OF A PLUMMER PROFESSOR.—On Wednesday, at the meeting of the Board of Overseers of Harvard College, the Corporation submitted the name of Rev. Andrew P. Peabody, D. D., of Portsmouth, N. H., as successor to Rev. Dr. Huntington, Preacher to the University and Plummer Professor of Christian Morals. This nomination will doubtless be confirmed by the Board of Overseers, and will be acceptable to the friends of the college, as a judicious selection. Whether it would be equally acceptable to Dr. Peabody and his parishioners, remains to be seen.

☞ The several meetings of the Sabbath School Convention, on Wednesday, were quite interesting to those engaged in the enterprise. The day was unpleasant, but the conference of teachers, parents and others, in the morning, was encouraging and hopeful; and there was a good attendance in the afternoon, at the Methodist Chapel, of children and their friends. The exercises consisted of singing by the children,—a good entertainment if there had been no other,—addresses and prayers by clergymen and others.

☞"One swallow (of balmy air) doesn't make a summer." And in order to assure us that "Winter's cruel reign (that of a good spanking sleigh-team we could tolerate) is not o'er," notwithstanding the almanac says so—we had a disagreeable snow-storm on Wednesday; which, coming after the delicious June-like days in which we had been revelling, made us wish for the climate of Central America, concerning which we have just been reading.

☞ Between ten and eleven o'clock, on Wednesday evening, fire broke out in a barn situated in the outskirts of the city, near the Woodbury mansion, and was wholly consumed.

THAT PRIZE TRUMPET.—Messrs. Editors of Chronicle:—I notice in your issue of the 3d inst., mention of the presentation of a Glass Trumpet to Atlantic Engine Co. No. 6. I also noticed by the returns, that of the three Companies which entered for the prize, No. 6 shows a sale of 500 tickets, No. 1 of 343, while No. 2 only sold FOUR! That was too bad! only sold four! worked hard, too. No doubt that met with better success in selling those of No. 6.

But that Trumpet is not what I wish to speak of now. It has been suggested that a Horn (not to cost over "four" cents) be presented to No. 2, as a token of admiration of their magnanimous conduct on that occasion. Should sufficient encouragement be promised, the books will be opened for subscriptions before soon, or whenever a suitable committee of honest men can be found, who are willing to engage in the operation. Probably No. 6 would esteem it a privilege to do something, and I feel certain No. 1 would subscribe liberally for that object, as it is intended for a surprise. SANCHO.

Motto for a young jurist—Excel Shaw. —Boston Post.

A CARD.

The subscriber deems it incumbent upon himself thus publicly to return his sincere thanks to those individuals from the several choirs of the city, who voluntarily lent their aid at the concert at the Stone Church, for the benefit of the City Mission; to the instrumental performers, for their valuable assistance; to the organists, for their splendid voluntaries and accompaniments; to the editors, for their liberality; to the doorkeepers, for their gratuitous services; to the public, for their generous patronage; and last, though not least, to the wardens and parishioners of the Stone church for their liberality in granting the free use of their house for the occasion. Such favors are not soon forgotten; and the labor bestowed at such times, is fully repaid by the satisfaction of knowing that we have extended to those less fortunate than ourselves, the hand of relief in their time of need. W. R. PRESTON.

☞ The subscriber would gratefully acknowledge that he has received through Mr. Wm. R. Preston, for the benefit of the poor in our city, the sum of eighty dollars—the proceeds of the concert of sacred music, at the Stone Church, on Sabbath evening last. N. MEDBERY.

Wheeler & Wilson's

SEWING MACHINES.

—THE—

WHEELER & WILSON M'FG CO.

Invite the attention of Seamstresses, Housekeepers, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, &c., to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, fitted to adorn the parlor, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer. Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses. Substituting, as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body-destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repair;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The change made in the tension during the past year, so that the upper thread is used from the original spool, and the addition of the hemmer, by which hems of any width are turned and stitched without any previous basting, evince the care of the Company in incorporating with the machines every device that can tend to perfecting them. They now combine every improvement that has been invented for sewing, and the Company feels confident that, in their present form, they are by far the best ever offered to the public; and refers, for confirmation of this opinion, to the thousands of families and manufacturers who use them.

The Lock Stitch made by this machine is the only stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

Economy of Sewing Machines.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company has prepared tables showing by actual experiment of four different workers, the time required to stitch each part of a garment by hand, and with their Sewing Machine. The superiority of the work done by the Machine, and the healthfulness of the employment are advantages quite as great as the saving of time. Subjoined, is a summary of several of the tables—

	BY MACHINE. Hours	Min.	BY HAND. Hours	Min.
Gentlemen's Shirts,	1	16	14	26
Frock Coats,	2	36	16	35
Satin Vests,	1	14	7	19
Linen "		48	5	14
Cloth Pants,		51	5	10
Summer "		38	3	50
Silk Dress,	1	13	10	22
Merino Dress,	1	4	8	27
Calico Dress,		57	6	37
Chemise,	1	1	10	31
Morcen Skirt,		35	7	28
Muslin "		30	6	1
Night Dress,	1	7	10	12
Drawers,		28	5	6
Silk Apron,		15	4	16
Plain "		9	1	25

Seams of any considerable length are stitched, ordinarily, at the rate of a yard a minute.

By the sworn statements made by the several Sewing Machine Manufacturing Companies, it is shown that the

WHEELER & WILSON MANUF'G CO.

during the past year,

made more than double the number of Machines of any other establishment, and were still unable to supply orders!

They have won the highest premiums at the Fair of the United States Agricultural Society;—at the State Fairs of Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, California, and at the Fairs of the American Institute, New York; Mechanics' Association, Boston; Franklin Institute, Philadelphia; Mechanics' Institute, Baltimore; Metropolitan Mechanics' Institute, Washington; Mechanics' Association, Cincinnati; Kentucky Institute, Louisville; Mechanical Association, St. Louis; Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco; and at hundreds of County Fairs.

These machines have been used by many families in this city for several years, all of whom pronounce them to be the perfection of a Sewing Machine. Full instruction in the working of the Machine, given to purchasers.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES.—PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times. Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of wasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of DR. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months ago a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that any hair would ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Slamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir:—Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever, at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like—by publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE!

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least ninety per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use Dr. Swett's Cough Drops."

MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct.

CHARLES C. RICKER.

CALAIS, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. EZRA MERRILL.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, have relieved me wholly. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.

EXETER, July 20, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. "L'AMOUR."

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Special attention given to assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Also, Examination of Models and Papers for design works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities to those who intend to secure valuable and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me FIFTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unanimity in favor of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWENTY rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unrivalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and having a powerful antispasmodic it cures all convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations or the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their everlasting puffing; for the same reason, it commands itself to the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over 10 years, and can say with truth of it, what we have of any other medicine, that it NEVER HAS YET, WHEN TIMELY USED, FAILED TO EFFECT A CURE, nor did we know an INSTANCE in which the contrary, all are delighted to speak in terms of highest praise of its MEDICAL VIRTUES. We speak this matter, "what we know," and pledge our "reputation for the fulfilment of what we utter." In almost the instance where we have given it, the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion from want of sleep, and within fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered, the child is fast asleep, the prescription is PERFECTLY SAFE and PLEASANT TO TAKE, and is the most reliable and tender medicine in the world, in all cases where the child is suffering from pain, but bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC. and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, IN ALL CASES OF DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your own feelings, or the prejudices of others, prejudices, or the prejudices between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, SURE to follow the use of one bottle. Full directions accompany each bottle. Now genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, discovered the idea ON VITALIZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of phislology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, as, Cold, Headache, Languor, Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy. Two bottles will cure ten dogs. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate and bring into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and speedy relief. As it is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children, and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS,

The Chronicle Office is open from 4 o'clock in the morning till 8 in the evening, and advertisements, notices, &c., duly authenticated and authorized by responsible parties, may be left in the drop-box in the street side of the office, closed—and will be inserted next morning if necessary or desired.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterwards "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores open at the time of delivery, will be left on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door, or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from the above, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and than any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers; we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

ARCTIC PALATES.—Bills of fare vary much, even in Greenland. I have inquired of Peterson, and he tells me that the Greenland Esquimaux (there are many Greenlanders of Danish origin) are not agreed as to which of their animals affords the most delicious food; some of them prefer reindeer venison; others think more favorably of young dog, the flesh of which, he asserts, is "just like the beef of sheep." He said a Danish captain, who had acquired the taste, provided some for his guests, and they praised his mutton! After dinner he sent for the skin of the animal, which was no other than a large red dog! This occurred in Greenland, where his Danish guests had resided for many years, far removed from European mutton. Baked puppy is a real delicacy all over Polynesia; at the Sandwich Islands I was once invited to a feast, and had to feign disappointment as well as I could, when told that puppy was so extremely scarce that it could not be procured in time, and therefore cooking pig was substituted.—M'Clintock's Voyage of the Fox.

CHEAP BOARDING.—A green looking yankee, from one of the "rural towns," put up with his team at one of our public houses a few nights since, ate well and slept well, and was leaving next day without paying his bill. On being dunned by the landlord, he plead poverty, etc., and could not pay. The landlord then said he would take the horse and vehicle, and get his pay out of these. "Squire," said Jonathan, "are you licensed to keep a tavern? cause if you ain't, you had better let go my horse, for if you take him, I should go and enter a complaint for your keeping tavern without license, and the fine I guess is fifty dollars." Having no license, landlord let go the horse, and the lodger drove home: the landlord no doubt having come to the conclusion that it would be better to obtain a license than to keep a free house for man and horse.—Portland Adv.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability,—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.
In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.
If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication so cheap as can be obtained.

Bickford's Spring Balance,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1860.

☞ Tuesday next is the Annual State Election in New Hampshire. A Senator to Congress may be chosen by our next Legislature. The Manchester Union Democrat says:—

Our Democratic friends don't realize the magnitude of the issue before them. * * * * The existence of the Republican party is in our hands—not the New Hampshire branch only, but the whole party. * * * Now, suppose we elect Col. Cate—what does it show? It shows that a sectional party cannot rely upon a united North. If New Hampshire repudiates it, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and several North Western States will certainly do the same. * * * A Republican majority of 5000 will perpetuate the Republican party; while a small decrease of the Republican majority of last year, will dissolve the whole fabric.—Did you ever think of this? Then remember what you are fighting for.

☞ Town Clerks, Postmasters, and other friends, are respectfully requested to send us returns of votes for Governor, names and party of representatives, and a full list of town officers elected. Where they can do it conveniently, a full return of votes for all officers, is best.

The shoemakers' strike is extending and becoming more general every day. As yet their courage and enthusiasm seems unabated. At a meeting of female strikers in Lynn, Mr. Thos. Driver said he had lived in the South and eaten with the blacks, and had come home convinced that there was slavery in Lynn worse than that of the blacks of the South. He advised moderation and union in their endeavors.

A public meeting of sympathizers in Philadelphia have subscribed $1000 to aid the New England strikers.

Mr. Wm. Baker, who stated that he did not belong to the craft, made a practical speech, recommending the contribution of "material aid" to the strikers in New England. He recommended to the meeting, not to make war upon capital, but to combine together, save their money, and become capitalists. He extolled labor-saving machinery as one of the greatest blessings to mankind.

☞ Mr. Mason's great Committee of investigating John Brown's invasion, is about closing. He hoped, and perhaps expected, to elicit facts implicating many of the principal men of the Republican party, but it has proved a total failure. The principal evidence drawn out is, that Brown never made known his object beyond the few men who accompanied him. If he did, no others gave him any countenance. The investigation will not probably cost the government over $50,000!

☞ The Attorney General of Iowa, reports to the Legislature that he has found it impossible to collect any portion of the $150,000 of the State School Funds, illegally loaned to individuals by Dr. J. D. Eads, the late Superintendent of Public Instruction. It is also doubtful whether anything can be collected on Ead's official bond. So the State is chiseled out of the entire sum. Dr. Eads is a Democrat, and from his high office doubtless stood as high in his State and party, as Treasurer Peck did in Maine. Truly riches take to themselves wings, and fly away.

☞ A destructive disease has made its appearance among the cattle in North Brookfield, Mass., and vicinity, and considerable excitement exists among the farmers in that region. The disease was introduced last summer by a calf of foreign breed, brought from the town of Belmont. It fixes itself upon the lungs, and produces a violent cough, and the lungs are finally destroyed. Some of the cattle attacked with it linger along for weeks, while others die in a few days after the attack. None have recovered.

☞ No. 1, New Series, of Norton's Literary Letter, just published at New York, contains the Bibliography of the State of New Hampshire, being a descriptive catalogue of books and pamphlets relating to the History and Statistics of it. Prepared by Samuel C. Eastman, of Concord, 1859. With a copious and valuable index.

The Literary Letter is a valuable aid to Historians, Antiquarians, and Virtuosi generally.

AN AMERICAN COLLEGE AT ROME.—An institution, bearing this title, has recently been established at the capital of the Papal power. The design is, to receive into it young men from America, who are to be trained in such a manner as to return to this country qualified to carry out the favorite plans of the Papists in regard to the conversion of the United States to Romanism.

☞ The Albany Atlas and Argus says the two divisions of the Republican party are best distinguished as the "Pro-Bates" and the "Repro-Bates."

A FAILURE AND ITS CAUSES.—A correspondent informs the Traveller, that a failure lately occurred in a town of New Hampshire for $17,000. The failure was said to have precipitated by the seizure of $4400 worth of malt which they had bought in Albany, but which was attached on its arrival in Boston. It is further stated that representations were made to the Albany dealers that the purchasers were worth $30,000, and that those representations were unfounded. A member of the firm, while on his way to Washington a short time since, was arrested in Boston. It is stated also that a Roxbury dealer sold them a large quantity of syrup. Noticing soon after an auction notice of syrup for sale, he went to the auction, and found that it was the same syrup for which he had their name.

MURDERER ESCAPED TRIAL.—Corporal Chas. G. Cooper, formerly of the U. S. ship Brooklyn, who was charged with the murder of George Ritter, on board the ship, just previous to her departure from New York for the Gulf, was discharged from custody, no indictment having been found.

He was doubtless guilty, and witnesses were on their way to convict him, but the case was hurried through before they could get there.

☞ The Italian correspondent of the London Times has been ordered out of Rome by the police. He is an Italian by birth, but a naturalized British subject. He applied to the English representative, Mr. Odo Russell, whose energetic remonstrance to the Roman authorities proved unavailing, and the offending newspaper writer was not allowed to remain.

☞ Levi Jennings of East Cambridge, Ill., recently deceased, by his will divided an estate worth seventy to eighty thousand dollars, equally between his wife, living with the Shakers of Union Village, Ohio, and a woman with whom he passed the last years of his life at East Cambridge. It is said that both wives will probably acquiesce in this disposition of the property.

REPORTED CASUALTY AT HARDIN.—A story is going the rounds about the drowning of forty-nine children at Hardin, Calhoun County, in Illinois. There is not a word of truth in the whole story. There is no University at Hardin, and it is doubtful whether that number of children could be got together from a circuit of miles.—Alton (Ill.) Courier, Feb. 21.

☞ It may be interesting to the ladies to know that Senator Seward's daughter appears on the street in Washington, without the least shadow of a crinoline, to the great scandal of the walking balloons. A spiteful democrat, as she passed, suggested that as her father had blown his last blast, and collapsed, she in a spirit of filial duty had followed suit.

During the conflagration of Canton, caused by the bombardment of the British, the extensive medical warehouse of our countryman Dr. J. C. Ayer, of Lowell (the depot of his Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills, for China) was totally destroyed. He now makes demand upon our government for idemnity from the loss of his property, and hence will grow another nut to crack with our elder brother Johnny. Stick to it Doctor; and if our Government maintains our rights wherever, your Pills are sold, we shall only be unprotected on tracts that are very barren.—Reformer, Trenton.

☞ Undoubtedly the oldest living man in the world, says the New Orleans Crescent, is Capt. Viroux, of Belgium. He was born on the ninth of November, 1709, and is consequently 150 years old. He entered the army in 1830, at the advanced age of 121 years, and remained in the service until recently, when he was put upon the pension list.

BILLIARD MATCH.—A game of billiards was played at Haverhill, Mass., last Friday afternoon, by two adepts at the game—Wm. Patch of Haverhill, and James Crosson of Exeter. The game was 1000 points, for one hundred dollars a side—Jimmy, the Exeter boy, beating Patch 72 points.—Ballot.

☞ The Rev. Elihu Grant, formerly of the firm of Flint, Grant & Co., of Fall River, has been arrested and committed to jail, to answer the charge of embezzling the funds of the exploded Tiverton Bank, to the extent of $4000. Mr. Grant is a minister of the Methodist persuasion.

The people are anxious for that Peck defalcation report. Is it kept back through fear of influencing the town elections? It is now nearly two months since the committee was appointed, and still the people have received officially only a few moonbeams—a few rays of darkness.—Bath Times.

☞ Judge Eckels, who has been going through with the vain show of holding court in Utah, has concluded to come home. He has become weary of the empty honors of the bench in a territory where his authority is utterly disregarded and his decisions are ridiculed.

LEAP YEAR.—"Why don't you get married?" said a young lady, the other day, to a bachelor friend. "I have been trying for the last ten years to find some one who would be silly enough to have me," was the reply. "I guess you hav'n't been up our way," was the insinuating rejoinder.

MOTTO FOR CORDWAINERS.—The last shall be first."

A TRIP TO KENTUCKY.

MERIDIAN, PENDLETON CO., KY., March 2, 1860.

By way of the Worcester road from Boston, Tuesday afternoon, we passed through Albany, Buffalo, Erie, Cleveland, and many other smaller cities; and arrived at Cincinnati—the "Queen City of the West," and grand "Porkopolis" of the United States—at 6 o'clock Thursday morning.

Shortly after starting from Boston, we came across a live Yankee from New London, N. H., bound to Kansas. When we arrived at Springfield, our Yankee friend opened his valise, which served as a knapsack, and produced a whole chicken, to which he became very much attached until a good half had disappeared from mortal eyes. Making the remark that he was now "going to have a bite off the end that went over the fence last," he stowed away the remains in his valise, which resembled a miniature restaurant.

At Springfield a gentleman came on board and soon made himself quite at home. He was emphatically a "gassy man," and kept us roaring until sleep overcame us.—We awoke in about an hour, and still the "gassy man" was blowing. Just then an Irish girl, who had been hunting for a seat in vain, passed him, when the following colloquy ensued—"Well, miss, don't you find a seat to suit you?" "No, sir, I can't find any; if you've got one to suit you, keep it." A roar of laughter from the passengers greeted this repartee, and the "gassy man" subsided, and we took another "snooze."—At Cleveland, our Yankee chicken-eating friend left us, having finished everything in his valise but crackers.

On arriving at Cincinnati, we took a stroll over the city, and hearing of the fall of the Catholic Church, made for Seventh street, where was a large crowd. It seems that about fourteen Irishmen were at work undermining the back wall, preparatory to tearing it down; and, as the wall had no support, it fell in on them, burying them five to six feet deep in the ruins. We saw ten dead bodies, all but one of which were mangled in a horrible manner. Groans could be heard from the others still under the ruins. We learned when we left the city that thirteen dead bodies and one alive had been taken out. The wives and sisters of the persons killed were howling and clapping their hands over their dead husbands and brothers.

Crossing the Ohio to Covington, we first put foot on slave soil. On the way, a slaveholder and overseer entered the car with five slaves, two women and three children. On stopping at Mossville, the overseer made the remark that that was the hottest place on the route, it being filled with abolitionists.

We soon arrived at Meridian, our stopping place. It is pleasantly situated on the Licking river, on the line of the Kentucky Central R. R., about thirty miles south of Cincinnati. The place boasts of a church and school. Messrs. Geo. W. and Albert A. Fernald, formerly of Portsmouth, have here erected a saw and grist mill,—and as there are nine of us here from old Portsmouth, it seems like home, and we rather think we shall not suffer much from homesickness.

G. W. M.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—The Committee of Election decided to-day, by a vote of 6 against 3 to report in favor of allowing testimony to be taken in the case of Williamson vs. Sickles. The affirmative vote is understood to have been McKnight and Campbell of Pa., Dawes of Mass., Marston, of N. H., Stratton of N. J., and Boyce of S. C. In the negative were Gilmer of N. C., Stevenson of Ky., and Gartrell of Ga. Mr. Dawes was directed to make a report, which is to direct Mr. Williamson to send a notice to Mr. Sickles within ten days specifying the particulars he intends to prove, to which Mr. Sickles may reply. The parties are to have sixty days to take testimony. The report will probably be made to-morrow.

Comparatively few members of Congress availed themselves of the invitation of the ladies of the Mount Vernon Association to visit the Tomb of Washington. The latter went to take formal possession.

THE HUNGARIAN.—A dispatch from Barrington, says that a body of a man had been found at Cape Sable, with the head cut off. No identification could be made. A trunk was also found containing letters.

PORTLAND, March 6.—The goods saved from the steamship Hungarian, and the wreck itself are to be sold at Barrington, Nova Scotia, March 14th.

☞ It is said that the term "going to pot," originated in the custom existing among the Florentines of holding a little pot of hot ashes in cold weather. Whenever a Florentine complains of cold fingers, he is told to go to pot.

THE ELECTION.—Chicago, Mar. 7.—Wentworth's Majority for Mayor of Chicago is upwards of 1200, the remainder of the Republican ticket is elected by about the same majority. Total vote nearly 19,000.

☞ The Bangor Times says a man in that city celebrated his thirteenth birthday on Wednesday of last week, being fifty-two years of age. He was born the 29th of February.

A letter from San Francisco says Biaccianti and her husband have separated. The cause is jealousy.—Trav.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY,

Which is embodied in the exquisite proportions and luminous coloring of

TITIAN'S RECLINING VENUS,

Has for two centuries been the admiration of all beholders. Artists, connoisseurs, and the public will therefore by glad to learn that a magnificent Engraving, colored in oil, of the

PICTURE THAT ENCHANTS THE WORLD,

Has been issued by the undersigned, at a price which places it

WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.

Our Engraving is the only authentic copy ever published in America, of the

GEM OF THE DRESDEN GALLERY,

For which the government of Hanover paid

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

It represents the Goddess reclining on a couch and radiant with celestial loveliness. The warm lights and soft shadows which lend such a strange fascination to all the undraped divinities of Titian, are admirably reproduced in this picture, and the accessories, both in the foreground and background, enhance the general effect.

This picture is splendid without guadiness, warm without prurience, and brimful of the very soul of art. [New York Express.

It is the best piece of flesh coloring ever executed in this country. [New York Leader.

Engraver and colorist have produced a work of art that has the Titian tone, as well as the faultless outline of the bewitching original. [N. Y. Mercury.

The drawing, coloring and finish are beyond praise. [N. Y. Atlas.

It deserves a place in the "porte-feuille" of every admirer of the fine arts. [N. Y. Sat. Press.

READER—Inclose $2, and 15 cents in stamps, and you will receive by return mail, a gem of art, with an elegant gift.

A LIBERAL DISCOUNT TO AGENTS AND THE TRADE.

A really valuable GIFT OF JEWELRY is presented with the Engraving. Address,

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Estes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

MESSRS. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost sure to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute suffering, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters. There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these life are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, cordials, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters." Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug. 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

Yours, &c., JAMES LEWIS, M. D.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. 4wd&w

CITY COUNCIL, THURSDAY EVENING.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—Ald. Kimball in Chair.—Petition of Engine Co. No. 6, that John E. Rider be re-appointed Asst. Engineer, was laid on table.

Bartholemew Downing's resignation as Constable and Police Officer was accepted.

No action as to appointments.

IN COMMON COUNCIL.—No action as to the resignation of members last week, or whether any vacancies exist. Mr. Rider being in the lobby, it was voted that all members be requested to take seats within the bar, upon which that gentleman vacated his seat in the "third house" also.

A resolution was passed in Common Council, and concurred in by the Aldermen—to appoint a joint committee to inquire into the expediency of providing for the erection of a City Hall, &c.; and to report whether it is legal and advisable to occupy the site of Jefferson Market for that purpose; also the probable cost of a suitable building, of wood or brick. Aldermen Upham and Moses, Com. Coun. Miller, Annable and Tucker, the committee.

A joint resolution was passed in Common Council, to authorize the Com. on Elections to obtain legal advice as to the extent of the power of the Common Council to judge of the qualifications of its members, in reference to that section of the City Charter which forbids the Board of Aldermen from appointing members of the City Council to office.

The Aldermen non-concurred in the Common Council resolution, to refer to a special committee the matter of putting water in the Engine Houses—and voted to authorize the Com. on Fire Department to perform that duty, and to appropriate $100 therefor. The Common Council refused to concur in the Aldermen's resolution, and adhered to the special com.

☞ The barn which was burnt near the Woodbury house, on Wednesday night, belonged to Mr. Aaron Akerman, and was insured for $150; worth double that money. The contents of the barn were somewhere from five to eight tons of hay, and a valuable lot of farming tools, belonging to Mr. Frederic W. Rogers, who had $350 insurance, covering the loss of hay, and perhaps two-thirds the value of the tools.

The fire was no doubt incendiary. The Mayor and Aldermen offer $100 for his detection, or that of any other incendiary.

☞ A man named Moses Dustin, living near the Steam Factory, in this city, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat, on Thursday; but his wound, though severe, will probably not prove fatal. We are told he is a shoemaker, and has a family; is of unsteady habits, and threatens to repeat the attempt.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Wednesday, March 7, Mr. Seward presented a petition in favor of the Homestead bill, also asking protection for coal and iron.

Mr. Sumner presented a resolution to inquire into the expediency of revising and arranging the statutes of the United States; adopted. Also a bill making appropriations necessary to carry out a treaty with the Indians of Oregon and Washington Territories; passed.

Mr. Davis reported a bill of appropriation for equipping the Texas mounted volunteers, and moved for immediate consideration. Objected to.

Mr. Brown's resolutions were taken up, and debated by Senator Wade, anti-slavery, with interludes by Senators Fitch and Toombs.

Mr. Fessenden moved to postpone the bill for equipping Texas volunteers till papers received from the War Department were printed. Mr. Wigfall urged immediate action. Mr. Fessenden's motion was agreed to. Adjourned.

In the House, the Committee on Public Lands reported against Mr. Morrill's agricultural college bill. The bill was postponed till the third Tuesday in April, the motion by Crawford of Georgia, to table it, having been repudiated—72 against 106.

The bill making appropriations to carry into effect the treaty with the Indians of Oregon and Washington Territories, was passed. Also several other bills of minor consequence.

The House went into Committee of the Whole, and Mr. Van Wyck of New York made a Republican party speech, denying that there had been aggressions on the South, which part of the country had indeed held the power in the Union a larger part of the time since the formation of the government.

An exciting debate ensued between Davis of Miss., Gartrell and others.

Mr. Burnham made a Republican speech.

Mr. Perry made an anti-slavery speech, maintaining that the free States have kept good faith with the South, while the latter has not with the North. If the Union cannot stand the election of a Republican President, let it slide.

Mr. Moorhead said the Republican party will certainly instal their candidate, if elected, and did not believe the Union would be dissolved whoever was elected President.—He then proceeded to advocate a protective tariff. Adjourned.

GRACE GREENWOOD will probably deliver her celebrated Lecture, on "The Men and Women of Twenty Years Hence—the Children of To-Day," at the Temple in this city, about the middle of March. Particulars in a few days.

EASTON, PA., March 6.—The boiler of a new steamer, built here, exploded this noon, just as she was starting on her trial trip. The steamer is a complete wreck, and many persons were killed.

BATAVIA, March 8.—The express train of last night struck three boys, near Buffalo, killing one and fatally injuring another.

☞ At Haverhill, Mass., on Wednesday evening, as we learn from the Boston Journal, an informal meeting of shoe manufacturers, embracing a large majority of those doing business in town, was held at the office of the Haverhill Insurance Company. The determination not to sign any of the strikers' bill of wages seemed to be general. A Committee was appointed to draw up a series of resolutions for the protection of manufacturers, and report at a future meeting.

SEWING MACHINES.

—THE—

WHEELER & WILSON M'FG CO.

Invite the attention of Seamstresses, Housekeepers, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, &c., to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, fitted to adorn the parlor, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer. Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses. Substituting, as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body-destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The change made in the tension during the past year, so that the upper thread is used from the original spool, and the addition of the hemmer, by which hems of any width are turned and stitched without any previous basting, evince the care of the Company in incorporating with the machines every device that can tend to perfecting them. They now combine every improvement that has been invented for sewing, and the Company feels confident that, in their present form, they are by far the best ever offered to the public; and refers, for confirmation of this opinion, to the thousands of families and manufacturers who use them.

The Lock Stitch made by this machine is the only stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

Economy of Sewing Machines.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company has prepared tables showing by actual experiment of four different workers, the time required to stitch each part of a garment by hand, and with their Sewing Macfine. The superiority of the work done by the Machine, and the healthfulness of the employment are advantages quite as great as the saving of time. Subjoined, is a summary of several of the tables—

	BY MACHINE. Hours	Min.	BY HAND. Hours	Min.
Gentlemen's Shirts,	1	16	14	25
Frock Coats,	2	36	16	35
Satin Vests,	1	14	7	19

Seams of any considerable length are stitched, ordinarily, at the rate of a yard a minute.

By the sworn statements made by the several Sewing Machine Manufacturing Companies, it is shown that the

WHEELER & WILSON MANUF'G CO.

during the past year,

made more than double the number of Machines of any other establishment, and were still unable to supply orders!

They have won the highest premiums at the Fair of the United States Agricultural Society;—at the State Fairs of Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, California, and at the Fairs of the American Institute, New York; Mechanics' Association, Boston; Franklin Institute, Philadelphia; Mechanics' Institute, Baltimore; Metropolitan Mechanics' Institute, Washington; Mechanics' Association, Cincinnati; Kentucky Institute, Louisville; Mechanical Association, St. Louis; Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco; and at hundreds of County Fairs.

These machines have been used by many families in this city for several years, all of whom pronounce them to be the perfection of a Sewing Machine. Full instruction in the working of the Machine, given to purchasers.

E. A. STEVENS'

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

OLD DOMINION COFFEE-POTS!!

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and favor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times.—Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of wasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

THE ONLY PREPARATION WORTHY OF

Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in his praise. A few testimonials only can be here given, see carefully, look for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I avow I have no objection to give it because I think it is due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the hair on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head. I was much the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

In this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stanaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Inclosed find "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever at least, this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you please. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now as thick as ever, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FRILEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twice as much more, and in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians and clergymen. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion. Spikenard and Boneset.—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Head Complaints, Costiveness, Pain or sickness in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound has been found to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 30 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Comerve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 32 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from a severe cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. PASTOR RICKER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, and that they give the medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors; I have found nothing so good as these, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives so relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 20, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most efficacious remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, RESIGNED OCT. 1st 1857.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, Canada, England, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New-England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that MORE SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, which, together with the extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, rendered him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable, and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. ELIJAH HODGES,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in the form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such uninterrupted success is great testimony to his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, and 9 of which were finally decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

It is the original preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, for a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show the very roots from which it is distilled being derived from the hand of the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, while a certain cure will be found in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels, it is unequaled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, I can be relied on with perfect confidence;—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their sive for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—at last succeeded in conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of phisiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any doubt, read the testimonials of Rev. Andrew Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your memory is failing, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A bonest is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The Chronicle Office is open from 4 o'clock in the morning till 8 in the evening; and advertisements, notices, &c., duly authenticated and authorized by responsible parties, will be left in the drop-box in the street-door, after the office is closed—and will be inserted next morning if necessary or desired.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the door-house, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door, or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

WESTERN ENTERPRISE.—In Cincinnati, says the New Orleans Delta, they have large manufactories of old barrels to contain good old Maderia wine and brandies that have made the circuit of the globe, or lain for many years among dust and cobweb, in some ancient cellar. A new barrel, just from the cooper's hands, is hoisted to the upper story; in a short time it is returned to the lower floor, with the unmistakable evidence of great age—all stained, nasty, the veritable marks of the French and Spanish custom-houses, and the imperial arms nearly worn off, and even cobwebs drawn across the bung.

☞ The Newburyport Herald states that after the decease of Capt. Samuel Walton and wife at Antwerp, the bodies were prepared to be brought to this country in the ship Josephus, aboard which vessel they died. The vessel was driven into Fayal; but a week before reaching that port, on the 19th of October, the bodies were consigned to the deep in lat. 31 36, lon. 38 38, to sleep till the ocean shall give up its dead.

EPITAPH FOR A DEFUNCT MILLIONAIRE.—His men was mean; he was liberal to the poor, and those who came first got nothing; generous to a fault—that half himself; he believed every dollar raised him the eighth of an inch nearer heaven; during life he bountiously supplied his children with—advice; and dying he made his last investment in real estate, leaving to the world the only part of him men respected—his money.

☞ According to the Texan papers, the people of that State are having a good deal of trouble with the Indians. Numerous murders by them are reported, but it is likely that quite as many Indians as whites lose their lives. White men are said to be in league with the Indians.

☞ Last Saturday the atmosphere at Newport was such that people within the city saw distinctly with the naked eye, Block Island, 30 miles distant. So clearly could this be done, that the slope of the hills and color of the sand was traced. By the aid of a glass, the people moving about were seen.

☞ A gentleman going from Philadelphia to Washington, a few days since, took from his pocket what he supposed was a paper of tobacco, but which was a roll of bank-bills, $250, which his wife snatched from his hand and threw out of the car window. It was not recovered. An expensive "cud," that.

THE CHARLESTON CONVENTION.—The Albany Journal says it is understood that the Charleston hotel-keepers have resolved to charge seven dollars a day for board during the session of the Charleston Convention! They intend to make hah while the sun shall shine.

By an arrival from Barbadoes we learn that a terrible conflagration had occurred on the 13th ult., at Bridgetown. A large part of the business portion of the town was destroyed, and an immense amount of merchandise was lost: estimated at two and a half million dollars.

☞ The Liverpool Journal says it is contemplated by the directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company to attempt, in the course of the ensuing summer, to raise the injured portion of the Atlantic cable, and to bring it into working order.

TO BEARDLESS BEAUX.—Do not fall in love with a young lady who doats upon moustaches. Your affection will be thrown away. Is it not plain that you must be Hirsute in order to be Her Suitor?—Gloucester Tel.

AID FROM HAYTI FOR JOHN BROWN'S FAMILY.—Letters received from Hayti state that fourteen hundred dollars have been collected in Port au Prince for the benefit of the family of John Brown.

The individual who desires to sell his goods must of course make the fact known. The varieties of people who constitute a community, can be reached only through the agency of the press.

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.—The citizens of Dedham have subscribed $850 for the purpose of building or sinking six reservoirs for the use of the fire department.—$1000 is wanted.

☞ Advices from Northern Mexico report that Caravajal was seeking American aid for Juaroz, and that Miramon has ordered Cortinas to hold out till March, when he would receive reinforcements.

HAT FACTORY.—An effort is making to change the large building in the shipyard, formerly occupied by Currier & Townsend, in Newburyport, into a Hat Factory.

☞ A mass meeting to sympathize with the Pope was held at Toronto, C. W., on Tuesday. There were 4000 present.

☞ The great strike of the workmen of London has ceased. Both sides, journeymen and employers, claim the victory.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.
If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MARCH 10, 1860.

SEWARD'S SPEECH.

The Boston Post says that "Mr. Douglas in the Senate answered the whole of Mr. Seward's prosing upon the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, in a single pithy sentence. 'What,' said he, 'led to the repeal of that act, but the majority in the Northern States refusing to carry it out in good faith. I, sir, stood ready to extend it to the Pacific Ocean, to abide by it forever, and the entire South, without one exception in this body, was willing to abide by it. But the free soil element of the Northern States was so strong as to defeat that measure, and thus open the slavery question anew. These men who now complain of the abrogation of that act, were the very men who denounced it.'"

The New York Herald says:—

"Mr. Seward does not renounce the doctrine of his Rochester manifesto. If he did so, his fall would be speedy and complete. He does not endorse the act of John Brown at Harper's Ferry, because he regards the raid into Virginia as precipitate, premature and not well timed. It was a failure, and not only involving a useless loss of life, but is the most embarrassing difficulty Mr. Seward will have to contend with before the country. Brown only carried out the irrepressible doctrine of Seward's Rochester manifesto and Helper's book, which Mr. Seward endorsed. Had Brown succeeded, and had the millions of Northern Republicans marched on the South, as Hickman in the House of Representatives threatened they will do hereafter, then Mr. Seward would applaud the traitor's act as prompted by the highest wisdom. Brown led the forlorn hope in the van of Seward's army, and that army will follow in his track as sure as day follows night, unless it is utterly routed by a revolution at the ballot box."

Pshaw!

☞ A young lady of "extraordinary beauty and superior attainments," the daughter of wealthy and respectable parents of Sampson county, N.C. attempted to elope with a negro slave, the property of her cousin. With a horse and buggy stolen from a neighbor, they reached the railroad depot, when they were suspected, and on being questioned, the lady confessed the whole affair, declaring that her intention was to marry the negro when they got to the North.

An adult mummy weighs from five to ten pounds. A human body, weighing 150 pounds, dried in an oven, will weigh only 12 pounds, and the residuum of bone, &c., when calcined, from 8 to 10oz. 100 pounds of flesh contains 75 pounds of water. A square of beef an inch thick, gradually dried in an oven will be as light as a cork and thin as a wafer.

☞ The death of Ex-Gov. Samuel E. Smith, of Wiscasset, Me., was very sudden and unexpected. He retired in his usual health, having just completed the solution of a difficult mathematical problem; an hour after he breathed his last.

☞ Recent letters from England say that the fugitive, Mrs. Gurney, who went off to France with her captivating coachman, has already repented of her bargain, and wants to get back to her former home. But the husband does not care to take up with cast-off wares of this kind, and is applying for a divorce.

☞ A gang of rowdies tarred and feathered three women in Canada West for a lack of virtue. Probably they had better tarred and feathered each other for the same reason.

An amusing occurence took place in the New Jersey State Senate last week. A rumor having obtained currency that the wife of the Senator from Burlington had recently presented him with triplets, a resolution was presented, tendering him the congratulations of his peers, and recommending that his example be followed by the entire body of grave and reverend Senators. The resolution was laid on the table amid a terrific explosion of laughter.

☞ The storehouses of H. J. Galbraith and Mason & Atterbury, at Waverley, Mo, were burned on the 1st inst. Loss not stated. Insurance $10,000. Mr. Galbraith's safe was robbed of $5000.

☞ The smack Princess sailed from Norfolk, Va., on Saturday, with a cargo of oysters in the shell, packed in ice, for Havana. This is the smallest vessel, and the first venture of oysters, that has ever left Norfolk for Havana.

LIFE IN LARGE CITIES.—People given to discontent with their condition, should seek a corrective in a view of the cells of the nearest station house, on any cold night.—During the month of February, 1498 homeless creatures were furnished with lodgings at the Fifth Ward Station House alone. Of these 1348, were males and 150 were females. There were 1140 whites and 358 blacks.—Philadelphia U. S. Gazette.

☞ There was a treaty of peace between the Buchanan and the anti-administration leaders at the late Pennsylvania Democratic Convention, but it did not include such men as Forney, Hickman and Schwartz.

☞ The Homestead bill is reported to be sure of a passage through the House.

☞ The Kentucky Senate rejected the bill prohibiting the marriage of cousins.

LETTER FROM CUBA.

HABANA, Feb. 25, 1860.

We are now in the height of the Carnival, and all the world of Habana are trying to see how big fools they can make of themselves; and seeing that they are naturally tolerably great ones, they succeed pretty well. The streets are filled with people, both on foot and in carriages, with masks representing every nation under the sun. I remember, many, many years since, seeing what used to be called "fantasticals" parading the streets on the morning of the Fourth of July; but they beat these Cubans entirely out of sight. However they seem to enjoy themselves hugely.

The Carnival in other countries, I think, is over when Lent commences, and all the Catholic world is supposed to be plunged into the deepest sorrow, and living on leeks and fish; but those jolly Cubans have improved on that wonderfully, and every Sunday during Lent have their mask balls and extra ball and cock-fights. This last very refined amusement is the grand passion of a Cuban's life. They have their celebrated cocks; and if one is travelling in a railroad car or an omnibus, you will hear them debating on the merits of this or that one with as much eagerness as a party of down east ladies would over their favorite ministers at a tea-drinking.

Every Sunday, immediately after mass, they rush to the pit to view their favorite amusement; and never (not even at a town meeting, among you Yankees, just before election,) have I seen so much excitement and enthusiasm. With you Yankees, when you found (I believe that is the word) a town, you start with a blacksmith shop, a tavern and a meeting-house; but here it is a cock-pit, a posada and a theatre. The town of Marianao, a beautiful place about three leagues from Habana, has the largest theatre (after the Tacon at Habana, which is said to be the finest in the world,) and cock-pit in the island, but nary a church;—but then the next town has a church and no theatre.

We have had here this winter an amusement, which to the Cubans is an entirely new one. That is Campbell's negro minstrels. They created an immense excitement, and it was real fun to see how the Spaniards enjoyed it—though, as they sung and got off their jokes in English, they could not enter into the spirit of it as well as we Americans, but the dancing did beat all. As a general thing, the Cubans are not so much addicted to the theatre as to the bull and cock-fights, from the fact, I suppose, that these latter are out-door amusements. I have been told that there are no less than eighty-two feast days (alias de mos cruzes) in the year, on which no business is transacted and no one is expected to work. I have never counted them, but I have no doubt of the fact; so you see we have plenty of time to play. First-rate, isn't it, for school boys?

By the way, I meant to have told you something at the time about the grand holiday of your friends the niggers. This occurs on the sixth of January, which, among the Catholics, is called the day of the "three kings," meaning the three wise men (not of Gotham, but) from the East, who came and worshipped our Saviour in the manger.—On this day, here, the negroes have the most unbounded license to act as they please; and on this day, white folks have to shift for themselves, and amazing few dinners are cooked on that day. The negroes assemble in gangs, men and women, from six to twenty, and with the most horrible musical instruments, making the most unearthly noises, they parade through the streets—increasing their natural beauty by the most hideous disguises. In this manner they penetrate into any and every house,—not excepting that of the Captain General,—singing and shouting; and every one is expected to give them money, and every one gives it from fear of being insulted.—With this money they treat themselves to a grand ball in the evening. It is a day of terror to the people, and glad are they when night comes. Some years since a Captain General extended the time to three days. It was on an occasion when there was much dissatisfaction among the people, and the Capt. General said if they dared to resist he would let the whole black population loose upon them. W.

☞ A large manufactory of counterfeit coin has been discovered in Alleghany, Pa. The coin counterfeited is a Mexican piece, somewhat less than an American quarter-dollar, and of the value of four cents in Mexico. They are packed in iron columns, cast hollow, and closed at the ends so as to appear solid. The weight of the coin in the column completes the deception, and they are smuggled into Mexico without detection, and passed off upon the unsuspecting and ignorat natives.

☞ A bachelor passenger, down from Albany, suffered terrible at the Pittsfield and Westfield stations, because of the frightful waste of kissing on the platforms among the young lady pupils of the Maplewood Institute and the Normal School, separating to go home for their vacations—all of which he saw, but none of which he shared.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, March 8.

SENATE.—Mr. Grimes gave notice of a bill for the retro-cession of the District of Columbia to Maryland, and the removal of the Capitol of the United States.

The joint resolution for the enlargement of the Louisville and Portland Canal was made the special order for Tuesday next.

The Homestead Bill was also made a special order for next Tuesday.

Mr. Brown's resolution was taken up.

Mr. Collamer said the idea of the founders of the Republic was to do away with the privileged classes; that every man should own his land, and cultivate himself what land he owned. This was, generdlly speaking, the condition of society in the free States. In the Southern States, a totally different condition existed, and he quoted from Calhoun to show that in the Southern States there was an aggregation of communities, and not of individuals. The master or owner of slaves was the head of these communities, and represented himself, capital and labor. It was obvious this was an inconsistency. The great mass of the community, he spoke of the white men only, were virtually ignored, and masters, as the heads of communities, regulated and governed the policy of States. The question was, What was the duty of Congress as representatives of both sections, to each?—He thought it should promote the interest of both. This might sometimes be a difficult task, as sometimes their interest would conflict, but still he thought it could be done.

Messrs. Benjamin and Mason replied, in an able defence of slavery, fugitive law, etc.

Mr. Benjamin closed by saying:—

It was enough for us to know that slavery was recognized by the Constitution of the United States. If that Constitution was changed this Union would be subverted, and the South would rather give up the Union than the Constitution.

By constitution he means Slavery and its protection.

Mr. Fessenden said it was too late now, but some other day he should notice what is called the legal argument of the Senator.

The Military Academy bill was then taken up, and after a debate, the amendment appropriating $1,300,000 for a regiment of Texas Volunteers was carried.

Mr. Hale offered an amendment that the regular army be diminished by an equivalent amount. Rejected. Adjourned

HOUSE.—Mr. Kellogg introduced a bill granting land to actual settlers in Territories. Referred to the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Cochrane introduced a bill amending the act respecting the liabilities of ship owners.

Mr. Sherman reported the army appropriation bill, and a debate followed as to whether it should be referred to the Military Committee, Messrs. Stanton and Curtis urging such action, and Sherman, Phelps and Washburn opposing. Finally it was referred to the Committee of the Whole, by two majority.

The House took up the bill requiring Executive documents to be printed previous to the commencement of sessions, and fixing the compensation therefor. The bill was amended and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ST. JOHNS, March 8.—The Canadian screw steamship Nova Scotian, which left Liverpool on Wednesday the 22d ult., and Queenstown the following day, put in here this afternoon, short of coal. She has 20 passengers.

Steamship North American, from Portland, arrived at Queenstown on the 20th.

Ship Luna, from Havre, bound to New Orleans, was wrecked on the French coast, near Cherbourg. She had on board 88 passengers, and a crew of 22 persons, of whom only two men were saved, names unknown.

Ministerial circulars have been promulgated by the government of France, demanding obedience to the laws of the Empire from the clergy, on the Roman question.

It is reported that Russia and Prussia have joined in a proposal for a Conference of the five Great Powers.

A letter from Hong Kong says that the claims of American citizens against the Chinese government for losses at Canton in 1856, are in a fair way of liquidation.

THE HUNGARIAN.—Halifax, March 8—8 P. M.—The salvage of the Hungarian is advertised to be sold at Barrington, on the 23d.

A dispatch from Barrington states that the body of another man, supposed a passenger, has been found. He has two teeth filled, one of them with silver, and one with gold. The body has been buried.

The books and letters of Rev. Clement B. Barrett of New York, with a portrait of his daughter Ada, have been found; also letters of G. Banson, Brighton, Eng., and Martin Downs, Dublin.

John Hunter, Agent of the Associated Press, at Halifax, will attend to the enquiries of friends of passengers respecting the wreck of the Hungarian.

☞ The Baltimore Patriot affirms that the Congressional leaders of the Democratic party, in council, assembled last Thursday evening, decided that Breckinridge and Seymour must be the Presidential ticket of the Democracy. In partial corroboration of this the Boston Journal states that a letter has been received in Boston from a prominent Southern Democrat, which states that Douglas will in no contingency be nominated at Charleston. The candidate will be either Stephens, Breckinridge, or Hunter.

☞ The Menard (Ill.) Index tells a story of two swains of that place, who recently made application to the proper official for a license to marry the same woman, both applications being made within five minutes of each other. No. 1 was to be married on Tuesday, and No. 2 on Thursday.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY,

Which is embodied in the exquisite proportions and luxurious coloring of

TITIAN'S RECLINING VENUS.

Has for two centuries been the admiration of all beholders. Artists, connoisseurs, and the public will therefore by glad to learn that a magnificent Engraving, colored in oil, of the

PICTURE THAT ENCHANTS THE WORLD,

Has been issued by the undersigned, at a price which places it

WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.

Our Engraving is the only authentic copy ever published in America, of the

GEM OF THE DRESDEN GALLERY,

For which the government of Hanover paid

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

It represents the Goddess reclining on a couch and radiant with celestial loveliness. The warm lights and soft shadows which lend such a strange fascination to all the undraped divinities of Titian, are admirably reproduced in this picture, and the accessories, both in the foreground and background, enhance the general effect.

This picture is splendid without guadiness, warm without pruriency, and brimful of the very soul of art. [New York Express.

It is the best piece of flesh coloring ever executed in this country. [New York Leader.

Engraver and colorist have produced a work of art that has the Titian tone, as well as the faultless outline of the bewitching original. [N. Y. Mercury.

The drawing, coloring and finish are beyond praise. [N. Y. Atlas.

It deserves a place in the "porte-feuille" of every admirer of the fine arts. [N. Y. Sat. Press.

READER.—Inclose $2, and 15 cents in stamps, and you will receive by return mail, a gem of art, with an elegant gift.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Estes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a repetition of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute suffering, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work well, a thorough work worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters.

There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, cordials, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters"—Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug. 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

Yours, &c., JAMES LEWIS, M. D.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w

Gov. Goodwin's majority last Spring was about 3500.

☞ The Committee on the Peck defalcation in Maine have at last got through with their investigation, and made their report, including Peck's own statement.

His defalcation to the State amounts to $97,023.99. His entire deficiency is $130,000.

His Canada speculation was very costly, and never brought back a red cent.

He lent money to his bondsmen, all of whom appear to have paid up, except one, viz., Mr. Somes of Biddeford, M. C., who owes $10,700, and is utterly insolvent.

Neal Dow has been on Peck's bonds all the time; the others have been changed.—The Committee think the bondsmen are good for the deficiency. We make one extract from the report:

Was Money Used for Political Purposes? The Committee asked this question of every witness, and received but one answer from those of all parties. Peck denies that he ever gave a dollar, in any manner, to assist the election of Somes, Foster, or French.—On this point the Committee say they have been "unable to find that a single dollar has been used by Mr. Peck, directly or indirectly, for election purposes."

Though Peck loaned to several of his bondsmen—it is only with Somes and Dow that there is any difficulty whatever, and Mr. Dow will pay all that he is legally holden for.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.—Syracuse, Mar. 8.—A man named Tinker died this morning from the effects of poison, having previously killed his two young children the same way. The cause of the murder and suicide was the estrangement of his wife and her intimacy with Dr. Searle, under the influence of "free love" principles.—There is much excitement here, and Searle has been locked up in the Penitentiary to protect him from the fury of the citizens.

Two of the boys run over by the express train near Buffalo were from Boston, named Clements. James was killed, William had his arm torn from his body, and it is feared he will not live.

TRENTON, N. J., March 8.—The Opposition State Convention was well attended. Resolutions strongly Republican, against the administration of President Buchanan, against a slave code, in favor of a tariff, and in favor of a homestead bill, were adopted. Twenty-eight delegates were elected to attend the Chicago Convention.

To a Committee of Germans from a Newark, the Committee of the Convention answered that they were not in favor of the Massachusetts two-years amendment.

FREE NEGROES EXCLUDED FROM MISSOURI.—St. Louis, Feb. 8.—The bill excluding free negroes from the State, under the penalty of becoming slaves, passed the Senate yesterday. It had previously passed the House. The same bill passed both Houses last session, but failed to receive the signature of the Governor.

BIDDY O'FLAHERTY'S OPINION OF THE SOUTH.—The following is from the New York Post, and we must confess that we are a little inclined to think as Biddy does—we would rather go to "ould Ireland"—or to Purgatory, than be deprived of the freedom of speech:—

Arrah, Paddy, me jewel, don't go to the South,
For an Irishman there dare not open his mouth,
If a word about nagars he'd happen to say,
They'd lynch him at once without any delay.

If he lacked for a coat they'd not let him go far,
Without giving him one made of feathers and tar,
And they'd give him still more without thinking
it wrong,
Such as thirty-nine lashes to help him along.

You may talk of this country,the land of the free,
But such freedom as that don't exactly suit me;
And sooner than longer this way to remain,
I would rather go back to ould Ireland again.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE
GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple,and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others.

Wheeler & Wilson's

SEWING MACHINES.

—THE—

WHEELER & WILSON M'FG CO.

Invite the attention of Seamstresses, Housekeepers, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, &c., to the perfect adaptation and unrivaled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, fitted to adorn the parlor, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer. Their speed is from 1200 to 2900 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses. Substituting, as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body-destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The change made in the tension during the past year, so that the upper thread is used from the original spool, and the addition of the hemmer, by which hems of any width are turned and stitched without any previous basting, evince the care of the Company in incorporating with the machines every device that can tend to perfecting them. They now combine every improvement that has been invented for sewing, and the Company feels confident that, in their present form, they are by far the best ever offered to the public; and refers, for confirmation of this opinion, to the thousands of families and manufacturers who use them.

The Lock Stitch made by this machine is the only stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

Economy of Sewing Machines.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company has prepared tables showing by actual experiment of four different workers, the time required to stitch each part of a garment by hand, and with their Sewing Machine. The superiority of the work done by the Machine, and the healthfulness of the employment are advantages quite as great as the saving of time. Subjoined, is a summary of several of the tables—

By the sworn statements made by the several Sewing Machine Manufacturing Companies, it is shown that the

during the past year,

made more than double the number of Machines of any other establishment, and were still unable to supply orders!

They have won the highest premiums at the Fair of the United States Agricultural Society;—at the State Fairs of Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, California, and at the Fairs of the American Institute, New York; Mechanics' Association, Boston; Franklin Institute, Philadelphia; Mechanics' Institute, Baltimore; Metropolitan Mechanics' Institute, Washington; Mechanics' Association, Cincinnati; Kentucky Institute, Louisville; Mechanical Association, St. Louis; Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco; and at hundreds of County Fairs.

These machines have been used by many families in this city for several years, all of whom pronounce them to be the perfection of a Sewing Machine. Full instruction in the working of the Machine, given to purchasers.

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

OLD DOMINION COFFEE-POTS!!

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cup, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times. Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S
PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of roasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.
FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeables increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands to value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Simmaton, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair a world of good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FELIX JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium contains a pint, and retails at $1, more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I recommend to all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

"I have the above testimony of my wife, in regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the asthmatic for a number of years and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have found the above testimony of my wife, respecting Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 2, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found great relief given to me very quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, HEAD PRINCIPAL OFFICE

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, Reversals, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice in relation to all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the United States are charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of scientific and mechanical works, and the accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such uninterrupted proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at a reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made ON TWICK rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every medicine that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well versed from many years experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, in comparison to it with any other article for infantile complaints will show the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which it has proved merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING, such as SPASMODIC COLIC, &c.; also, for soothing the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and because you have suffered severely from fits of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other paregoric or opiates of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for ten years, and can say, in all honesty and truth, of any other medicine, FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE to EFFECT a CURE, nor did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who bought it, but all seem to speak in terms of highest praise of its medicinal effects and medical virtues. We speak, in every instance, from experience, and pledge our reputation of what we have stated, in regard to this medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by Consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of philology to the human mechanism connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the whole vital system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the BLOOD FOOD. If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your spirits are depressed or your constitution is worn out, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with two drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the limbs, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle: and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, will be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, to be left in the house door; or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

All subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from this regular rule, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results to the subscriber, it is a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their powers are wrecked by the poison of infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our time can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIVE AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "Impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is the degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing statutes of no know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

Its wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior compounds throw upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1860.

FREE SLAVES.

The Tecumseh yesterday took down a family of six persons—mulattoes—on their way to Helena, Arkansas, to enter again the service of their old master. There was something remarkable and unusually attractive in the appearance of this group, who, despite the obvious tinge of African in their complexion, were fine-looking men and women, with graceful, well rounded forms, and eyes sparkling with intelligence. They were manumitted about six years ago, since which time they have been living in New York, and now, strange as it may seem, having tasted of the sweets of liberty, voluntarily return to bondage. — Cincinnati Commercial.

Our Republican friends give their sable and mulatto brethren credit for a good share of intelligence. Here were six persons, apparently quite superior to the average, who, having been reared in slavery and then set free, after a trial of freedom for six years, express their preference for slavery and voluntarily return again to their masters, to become slaves for life!

How will Black Republicans account for this? Which knows best about slavery, the quondam slaves or the Northern abolitionists, most of whom have [never?] been in a slave State, and perhaps have never seen a slave? Don't these slaves know anything, or is slavery a very different thing from what abolitionists represent?—Portland Argus.

This case is exactly in Uncle Toby's line of argument. These six persons in one family, being mulattoes, must have been the children of one parent who was white, and of another who was a negro. As they were slaves, the mother must have been a negro and a slave, because in the slave States the child follows the condition of the mother.

Their father, then, must have been a white man; and he was probably their "old master," the man who set them free! Now the man, whether he were their father, grandfather, or uncle, who could do so generous a thing as to give away six slaves, worth at least $6000, could not be a very hard master while he held them as slaves.

They had been partakers of his abundance while they lived at home, where they were born. Coming North to a colder climate, where the strife for gain is sharp, like the climate, and the prejudice against their color not small,—they sigh for their father land; they say, in their father's house is bread enough and to spare—and so, having tasted not only liberty but poverty, they turn back into Arkansas, exactly as some Israelites of old wished to turn back into Egypt, and partly for the same reasons, viz., that they might sit by the flesh pots, and eat bread to the full.

These mulattoes, however, have some ties in Arkansas, that the Israelites had not in Egypt, viz., their relatives and friends were there; and he who knows anything of the negro character, understands that their personal attachments are very strong.

There may be circumstances connected with slavery, of which some abolitionists are ignorant; but the return of these mulattoes is just as good an argument for the goodness of slavery, as the proposed return of a few Israelites was for the goodness of Egyptian bondage, and not one whit better. But if any man deems slavery a good thing, by all means let him be a slave.

THE HUNGARIAN.—Halifax papers of March 2 state that a numerous corps of divers have reached the Hungarian, whose investigations may lead to some important discoveries in regard to the loss of that vessel, and the bodies of her passengers and crew. The Halifax Journal says:

From what we can learn in regard to the position of the wrecked vessel when last seen, she must have struck about midnight, when all but the watch on deck were in their beds, and thus probably they perished.

☞ Perley says, writing from Washington,—"the Union-savers," who had hoped to nominate Mr. Bates at a one-horse convention at Baltimore, and then force him on the Republicans at Chicago, are in great trouble. It is reported that Mr. Bates intends to write a letter to the Missouri Republican Convention, which is to assemble on the 10th of this month, taking decided Republican ground. What are the "constitutional" corporal's-guard to do, unless they adjourn to meet at Chicago?

☞ Hans Dorsheimer, a German flute-player, while serenading a young country-woman, a short time since, in Brooklyn, was assailed by a jealous rival, who struck him on the head with a club so violently as to fracture his skull and endanger his life—whereupon the serenaded girl had him taken into the house, nursed him tenderly, and married him as soon as he was restored to consciousness, to the unspeakable chagrin of his brutal assailant.

☞ The Young Housekeeper's Friend, by Mrs. Cornelius,—was a highly approved and useful book, fourteen years ago, for young housekeepers then.

A new edition, revised and enlarged, has been published in good style by Brown, Taggard & Chase, Boston. Sold by Messrs. Foster and Shores in this city.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Friday, March 9, Mr. Fitch introduced a bill to provide for the public printing and binding.

Mr. Cameron presented a petition in favor of an increased tariff.

Thaddeus Hyatt was brought in, and replied in writing, to the questions propounded to him. He denies the authority and jurisdiction of the Harper's Ferry Investigating Committee.

After a portion of Hyatt's written reasons had been read, a debate sprung up as to the reference of the whole to a committee, to report a synopsis, the document occupy several quires of paper.

After further debate the reading was ordered—yeas 40, nays 12. The reading lasted two hours, in presence of only ten Senators, and the galleries nearly deserted.

Mr. Mason offered a resolution that Mr. Hyatt be committed to jail until willing to appear before the committee and answer all the questions propounded. Some of the Senators intimated a desire to discuss it, and Mason accordingly offered a resolution remanding him to the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms till further orders of the Senate, which was adopted.

The Harper's Ferry Committee have not yet decided whether Gov. Wise shall be summoned or not. He stated publicly that no consideration could induce him to reveal all he knew concerning Brown's raid, which may be the reason why his friends hesitate to call him, because if he refused to testify they would be constrained to treat him like other contumacious witnesses. It is not improbable the question will be finally submitted to the Senate, when it will be seen whether the Democratic side will vote as they did in Mr. Hyatt's case.

They would like, probably, to make fish of the one and flesh of the other: but it might damage them before the people.

There is more call for Gov. Wise's testimony than for Hyatt's; but he will not be called, we think.

In the House, the Special Committee on Mr. Covode's corruption resolution was announced as follows: Covode, Winslow, Train and Robinson, Ill.

Mr. Gurley, from Committee on Printing, reported a joint resolution to give the House control of its own printing. The subject was tabled—98 to 65. Adjourned till Monday.

NOVEL ICEBERG.—Mr. Goodwin, of New Hartford, Conn., fills his ice-house thus:—He is supplied with water from a spring at a considerable elevation above his house. Connected with the pipe which supplies the latter is a branch pipe leading to the ice-house, across which it is extended. Within the ice-house this pipe is pierced by twenty or thirty small holes, from which as many fine jets of water rise to the roof, falling back in drops over the whole bottom surface of the house. These jets are only let on when the weather is cold, and the doors and ventilators being opened, the water freezes as it falls, and in a few days or weeks at farthest, the house is filled with a single block of perfectly pure, transparent ice. Mr. Goodwin's ice keeps through the entire season, with much less waste than that packed in the ordinary way. It costs him nearly nothing.

CRINOLINE AND POLITICS.—At last a way has been found to lead ladies to lay aside crinoline. The Austrian commander of Mantua lately published a proclamation in which he took occasion to recommend the use of crinoline. The next Sunday nearly all the Italian ladies went to church without crinoline, to show their dislike of the Austrian rule.

☞ At the funeral of a young lady in Baltimore, the hackmen became intoxicated and engaged in a row, in which several parties were severely beaten. As the funeral train moved on, a man jumped upon the box of one of the hacks, and knocked the driver into the street. This was the signal for another fight, and the carriages were stopped for another set-to.

☞ Rev. Dr. Huntington will not preach again for six months, as he has taken the initiatory steps for orders in the Episcopal Church, the canons of which do not allow public preaching on the part of candidates for Deacon's orders. The public services at the College Chapel at Cambridge, on Sundays, will be conducted by the Rev. Drs. Walker, Noyes and Francis, for the present.

☞ The Harper's Ferry Investigation Committee, after a long deliberation, have formally decided not to call Governor Wise before them. The minority wanted the Governor called, in order that the contents of John Brown's papers, captured by him, might be brought to light; but the majority refuse. Harper's Ferry does not prove the placer they expected.

THE SHOEMAKERS STRIKE in Massachusetts, or last war, as it has been called, still continues. It is an ext-end-ed contest, and seems to wax more intense, and to bristle with owl sorts of peaceful weapons, though if the strikers continue to peg away much longer, many a woman will barter her sole for bread, and throw in her husband to boot.—Bath Times.

The publisher of a newspaper is necessarily placed at great expense of time, labor and money in catering for the amusement and information of the public. His toil is as the toil of no other man, involving an amount of mental toil and perplexity which every other profession escapes.—Bath Times.

SHOE AND LEATHER TRADE.

The Boston Advertiser of Saturday says, the Boot and Shoe market has been very active this week, although the bad weather has had an unfavorable effect. Light goods are selling freely, and the demand for some kinds exceeds the supply. Manufacturers do not appear to have much confidence in prices being higher, and are disposed to run down their stocks very low; should the present active demand continue, with the small receipts, they will probably succeed in closing out their Spring stock. Heavy goods move slowly, buyers showing no disposition to purchase now, goods that are not wanted until next season.

The leather market has been quiet during the week, light sole leather bringing full prices and selling readily: middle and overweights very dull.

If good advice and newspaper discussion can help any trade, the boot, shoe and leather trade is in a fair way to be soon in its former good way. The tanners have issued a circular, calling a meeting of the fraternity in New York to consider what is to be done in the present aspect of affairs. The committee issuing the circular think all the trouble is "owing to an over importation of hides and manufactures of leather," and say that all that can save them is to diminish both. The New York Herald and some of the democratic press, on the other hand, discover the whole cause of the difficulty in the great falling off of Southern trade. We think, however, that the Boston dealers would add to these causes the almost entire cessation of Western trade. The general feeling in the trade is, that Southern business has increased this season, and is fully up to that of former years; but the Western houses have bought very sparingly, and are not all of them paying for those they bought last year.

Whatever may be the causes of the depression, it is evident that the only cure or relief is for all interested to curtail, tan less, and make fewer shoes, and in the course of time, the general demand, which cannot vary much—except that of course with the increase of population there must be a corresponding increase of demand,—will consume the surplus stock on hand. Then we shall have a good, healthy business, and the more prudence is shown now, the sooner the good time will come. The strike which is spreading is doing much to bring things out right, by compelling manufacturers to a course of curtailment which they are always unwilling to adopt of their own free will.

☞ A Washington letter-writer gives the following incident of the long Speaker contest:—

As Barksdale was urging all the opposition elements to unite on McClernand, a lady in one of the front seats in the gallery was observed to become very much excited. She coughed, made signs, and by other means attempted to attract the attention of a member below. Not succeeding, she leaned far over the balcony, and in an audible whisper exclaimed, "David! David! change your vote, you booby!" The honorable member looked up, recognized his better half, colored, hesitated, stammered, and then instantly changed his—seat. A small delicate fist was shaken at him from the gallery, amid the suppressed mirth of the spectators.

ITALY.—Rumors were current of a forthcoming address, the authorship of which is attributed to Victor Emmanuel himself, calling Naples and Sicily to insurrection.

The construction of armaments in Piedmont were being accelerated.

A convocation had been held at the Vatican, at which it was decided that the King of Sardinia should not be excommunicated, whatever political event might transpire.

It was Chaderton who once remarked, "that the choice of a wife is full of hazard; not unlike as if one, in a barrel full of serpents should grope for one fish. If he escape harm of the snakes and light on the fish, he may be thought fortunate." Every married reader will probably congratulate himself upon having secured the fish, and therefore we continue the Doctor's remark: "Yet let him not boast, for perhaps it may prove but an eel." Brute!

☞ The Governor of Virginia has made a requisition on the Governor of Ohio for the arrest of Owen Brown and Francis Merriam, alleged Harper's Ferry insurgents, who are supposed now to be in Ashtabula county. Gov. Dennison declines issuing warrants for them, and has communicated his reasons to Gov. Letcher.

"Iox," of the Baltimore Sun, says that the National Union Whig and American Executive Committee, in reply to suggestions in favor of deferring their convention till after the Chicago Convention, declared that the Union party would not touch any candidate who might be the nominee of the Republicans.

☞ A Douglas delegation to Charleston has been elected in Assumption, La., the largest sugar and slave parish in that State.

Angels will not question thee as to the amount of wealth thou hast left behind thee, but what good deeds thou hast done in the world, to entitle thee to a seat among the blest.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to such sufferings, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of infinitely more power, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thor oughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters.

There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether those ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, emetics, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome medicine demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters."—Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug. 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

Yours, &c., JAMES LEWIS, M. D.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w

THE DANCERS seem to "have it," in the majority of entertainments, this winter—for winter it surely is, at this time of writing. Mr. Elliott's Complimentary Levee takes place this evening; and Laconia Engine Company, No. 2, announce a Ball for next week. Both come off at Rechab Hall; and the music for both is by the full Quadrille Band. We can't see anything to prevent their having a good time on either occasion.

LECTURES.—It has already been announced that it is in contemplation for "Grace Greenwood" to deliver another of her popular lectures here in a few days; and we will add, that should she conclude to do so, it is also probable that one or two other lectures may be combined with this—so as to form a short Course, to close the season. The matter will be decided in a few days, and due announcement made.

CITY COUNCIL.—The City Council has chosen a committee to inquire into the expediency of having a City Building. All want it—the questions are, how to get it, and where to put it.

☞ The New England Business Directory is a very large octavo volume, of 912 pages, besides over 200 of advertisements. Adams, Sampson & Co., of Boston, are the publishers. Mr. Dudley of the same city, the pleasant, well-informed gentleman who came round this way, and got the information and statistics, is now delivering the book in New Hampshire.

It is a work of great labor in preparation, and very useful for reference, in a thousand cases, as it contains lists of expresses, telegraph stations, banks, insurance offices, and many more things.

ANOTHER CANVAS.—The Concord Democratic Standard of Saturday says:—

Our State Election takes place next Tuesday, and we regret to say to our readers that no interest is felt by the Democracy to try and redeem the State from the hands of the Black Republicans. The Pierce-Douglas clique, in this city, have canvassed the entire State and they report that 5000 Democrats who voted last March, will not go to the Polls on Tuesday. This fact will be demonstrated the 13th of March, without doubt. We sincerely regret to see our once strong party so much divided, and growing more so every year. But it is not to be wondered at. It is all to be attributed to the milk-and-water doctrine, in regard to slavery, which has been advocated for years by the N. H. Patriot, the recognized organ of the last and present administration.

The Standard charges that the design of the Pierce and Butterfield men is to nominate Pierce, and that the State ticket is made up of Douglas men, and therefore national men have no desire to rally.

The Standard closes thus:—

We are expecting an overwhelming defeat on Tuesday, as our party is completely paralized. So friends and patrons, keep up good courage, we can rally the forces in November, if we have a good candidate nominated at Charleston for the Presidency.

NEW YORK, March 10.—(Washington corr.—At a conference of opposition Pennsylvania members, regarding the tariff, they agreed to recommend to the Com. on Ways and Means to fix specific duties on iron.—Pig iron $7, railroad iron $12, common bar iron $15; fine bar iron, one cent per pound; boiler iron one and a quarter cents.

S. C. Boyington, recently appointed clerk in stationery room in the House has absconded. He had obtained $200,000 in transferrable Post Office certificates made payable to him, on which he raised in New York eighty cents on the dollar.

VENOMOUS SNAKES.—A western hunter says pigs and deer are reputed to destroy snakes with their fore-feet, and it is said the poison takes no effect on swine, neither is a bite nor when swallowed, for the hogs are said to eat snakes. Horses and mules die from the bites of rattle-snakes; but kine, though they have swelled faces and swelled legs, suspected from the bite of a snake, are never known to die. The question then arises whether or not the vaccine matter from the cow may not contain a specific against this poison of the snake, to the extent to which it certainly annuls the virulence of the small-pox, and probably thwarts the fatal nature in the distemper of the dog.

☞ The steamer Odione, from Dublin for London, was in collision with the schooner Heroine, on the 19th. The steamer sunk in 20 minutes, and between 40 and 50 persons were drowned.

☞ Mr. Truman Bill of Gilsum, N. H., was driving home from Keene, last Monday evening, with another man named Gassett, and had reached Beaver Brook Falls, when the horse, a blind one, ran off the bank some twelve or fifteen feet. Mr. Bill was found dead in the water, and the horse on top of him. The wagon was over the other man, who was not seriously injured.

GAS LIGHT.—The Committee of the Junior United Service Club, London, are considering how far it may be preferable to substitute oil and wax candles for the present gas lighting of the establishment, against which a strong protest has been signed by above a hundred members, who state their belief that gas used inside a house is injurious to the eyesight and health.

CHANGE IN TWELVE YEARS.—Messrs. Editors:—Please copy the following extract from the New Hampshire Patriot of December of 1848, that your readers may see how the times have changed in a dozen years. HOMO.

"The Southern people have no right—natural, moral, or political—to force slavery upon the new territories. They have no more right to go there and hold slaves, than they have to do so in New Hampshire. We object and the people of the North object to any compromise by which slavery will be allowed to pollute one foot of territory that is now free. The slaveholders have no more right to plant slavery upon free territory than we have to abolish slavery in South Carolina—and we do believe that no member of Congress who fails to resist any and every attempt to allow slavery in any of our new territories, will escape the severest condemnation and total political death, at the hands of the people of the North."

A man by the name of Timothy Hay was devoured by a horse, a few days ago, somewhere in Pennsylvania—Noman's Land, we suppose. The victim was the offsping of Timothy Seed, Esquire, and otherwise most respectably connected, among his relations being the Oats and Clover families. —Traveller.

Weak doses of wash-board are now recommended by physicians for ladies who complain of dyspepsia. Young men troubled in the same way may be cured by a preparation of saw-horse.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says some of the leading Republicans will attempt to prevent an adjournment of Congress to attend either of the National Presidential Conventions, but it is thought they will meet with but little success.

Wheeler & Wilson's

SEWING MACHINES.

—THE—

WHEELER & WILSON M'F'G CO.

Invite the attention of Seamstresses, Housekeepers, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, &c., to their perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, fitted to adorn the parlor, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer. Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses. Substituting, as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body-destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The change made in the tension during the past year, so that the upper thread is used from the original spool, and the addition of the hemmer, by which hems of any width are turned and stitched without any previous basting, evince the care of the Company in incorporating with the machines every device that can tend to perfecting them. They now combine every improvement that has been invented for sewing, and the Company feels confident that, in their present form, they are by far the best ever offered to the public; and refers, for confirmation of this opinion, to the thousands of families and manufacturers who use them.

The Lock Stitch made by this machine is the only stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

Economy of Sewing Machines.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company has prepared tables showing by actual experiment of four different workers, the time required to stitch each part of a garment by hand, and with their Sewing Machine. The superiority of the work done by the Machine, and the healthfulness of the employment are advantages quite as great as the saving of time. Subjoined, is a summary of several of the tables—

By the sworn statements made by the several Sewing Machine Manufacturing Companies, it is shown that the

during the past year,

made more than double the number of Machines of any other establishment, and were still unable to supply orders!

They have won the highest premiums at the Fair of the United States Agricultural Society;—at the State Fairs of Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, California, and at the Fairs of the American Institute, New York; Mechanics' Association, Boston; Franklin Institute, Philadelphia; Mechanics' Institute, Baltimore; Metropolitan Mechanics' Institute, Washington; Mechanics' Association, Cincinnati; Kentucky Institute, Louisville; Mechanical Association, St. Louis; Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco; and at hundreds of County Fairs.

These machines have been used by many families in this city for several years, all of whom pronounce them to be the perfection of a Sewing Machine. Full instruction in the working of the Machine, given to purchasers.

E. A. STEVENS'

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

OLD DOMINION COFFEE-POTS!!

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times. Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of wasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

From the Journal.

THE GOVERNOR'S WOOING.

BY ALBERT LAIGHTON.

I.

"Molly, will you marry me?
Though a maid of low degree
You shall lead a life as grand
As the proudest in the land.

"You would be the Governor's bride!
In a gilded chariot ride!
You would change for cottage walls
My broad lands and stately halls;
Gems for roses in your hair,
Silks for russet robes you wear."

Blushes mantled Molly's face
As she said with artless grace:
"Love is more than lands or gold;
Rank is vain and wealth is cold;
Though you were all, instead,
Whom I love, alone, I wed!"

II.

Summer revelled in her prime;
Never dawned a fairer time.
Earth was flushed with rosy light;
And the rain that fell at night
Bathed in beauty every spot.
From the sweet forget-me-not,
From the morning-glory's vase
Purpling in the garden-place,
From the violet's modest face,
Wild bees sipped the nectar up—
And whenever the leaves on the trees were stirred
By passing breeze, or winging bird,
Mimic showers, with rippling sound,
Like fairy-laughter, broke around.

This was Molly's marriage hour.
O Love's witchery and power!
How her young heart thrilled with pride
As she stood at Richard's side—
As "I will," her lips replied.
What bright gleams of future years
Trembled through her happy tears.

Softer smile, O skies of June!
Wilderness sing your sweetest tune!
While the bridegroom leads the bride
Homeward by the river's side.

"Who are they upon the strand?"
Molly closer clasps his hand:—
"Who are they that shout your name?"
—Nearer still the Press-gang came.
Spoke the foremost of the band:—
"Pretty maid, when Kings command
We have only to obey:—
Quick, lads! bear the man away."

Day was dying: Sunset's fire
Turned to gold the village spire.
The distant beacon blazed and shone
With a dashing glory not its own;
Flashed a moment above the tide,
Then suddenly into the twilight died;
When the English ship that lay
In the Piscataqua,
Spreading its pinions, flitted away!
And evermore in its lonely wake
Followed a heart that was like to break!

III.

Seasons come and seasons go:
Once again the roses blow.
And the birds round Molly's door
Sing their love-songs o'er and o'er
As they sang when she was wed,
All her dreams of bliss have fled;
She has prayed her prayers in vain,
Still no answer soothes her pain!

IV.

"Molly, will you marry me?
Richard sleeps beneath the sea.
I will make your life as grand
As the proudest in the land."

"Nay," she said with tearful eyes:
"If beneath the sea he lies
All the wealth you could bestow
Would not check the tears that flow.
Woo me not; for till we meet
Heaven itself were incomplete!
And it yet my lover lives—
Hark! who speaks?—O Heaven!" she gives
One long cry of wild delight—
Richard stands before her sight!

Softer smile, O skies of June!
Wild-bird, sing your sweetest tune!
As the bridegroom clasps his bride:
Love is crowned and sanctified.

* Gov. Benning Wentworth in his loneliness (after the death of his wife in 1759,) saw a young lady to whom he took a fancy. He proposed marriage—but Molly Pitman had given her heart to another, who, although of humble life, she esteemed more essential to her happiness than the honor and riches of the Governor,—and so she married Richard Shortridge, a mechanic, in preference. The Governor, however, did not forget his indignity of her refusal, and yet hoped by adopting David's whole example, to conquer. An English frigate was in the harbor, and not long after the marriage a press gang was sent to the house of Shortridge, which forcibly took him on board, and from the endearments of home. For seven long years did his faithful wife mourn his absence. He was removed from ship to ship, until one day he related to the chief officer the circumstances under which he was impressed. "Run off, and we won't pursue you," was the reply; and he soon availed himself of the privilege. His return brought happiness to his faithful partner, whose virtue was not to be invaded by the most tempting allurements of wealth.—Sketches about Portsmouth.

GOV. GOODWIN.

Messrs. Editors: — Old Portsmouth has this year an opportunity to pay itself the compliment of voting for one of its own citizens to fill the office of Governor of the State. Of course, every Republican will vote for Gov. Goodwin; and why should not Democrats? They well know that their votes will not elect Mr. Cate, while a large vote to our worthy townsman would at once be a deserved compliment to him and creditable to the old city of Portsmouth. Why cannot our honest Democrats for once let patriotism triumph over party? It will not be considered that they leave their party at this time, because they vote for their townsman, but will be regarded as commendable pride in thus complimenting their own fellow-citizen. Let Portsmouth, then, give a rousing vote on Tuesday next for GOODWIN.

One of the Sons.

A GOOD PRICE FOR A WARMING PAN.—One of the witnesses before the English Parliamentary Commission appointed to investigate the corruptions of the Wakefield Borough, testified that she had been offered five hundred dollars for a warming pan, if she induced her husband to vote the right ticket.

WASHINGTON WILLIAMS, Esq. formerly of the firm of Nathaniel Whiting & Co. and of the house of Hovey, Williams & Co. of Boston, recently died at Portsmouth, N. H. at the age of 62, after a long and distressing illness. The deceased was one of the most active, enterprising and intelligent merchants in Boston from 1835 to 1851. He was engaged in business operations upon a large scale, and both firms of which he was a member, were very successful. In the year last named he moved to Portsmouth, and he has since been engaged in trade as a ship owner. Mr. Williams was a gentleman of rare sagacity and judgment, and was universally respected for the sterling excellencies of his character.—Boston Transcript.

ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.
FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen in the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—I want note of the fact, has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them by hair falling on the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try the article.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the affection of their wives to profit by my example, and see if it growing gray or getting bald.

Very Respectfully,
BENJ. F. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Alamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will come back more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all.

Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage than you can keep up. Send us your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir.—Having had the misfortune to lose the best part of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the best of my trial thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for $1 per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large bottle is forty per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Cancer in the Stomach, Ulcers, Sores, Swelling of the eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has prepared for the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or know of during the whole 19 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual purge. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 21, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Solomon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a cough to procure a remedy for the complaint, of the kind mentioned.

MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the efficacy of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1851. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than all other medicines I have taken, though I have tried many.

FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would strongly recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently recommend to me weak lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected with these complaints, that Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering person take a pillsd try for himself. ELD. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the lungs, of any medicine with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of DR SIMEON SWETT'S MEDICINES are constantly for sale at his residence in

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under date of 1836.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, procures the secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and if SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full models of every patent granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, more capable of putting their application in a form to secure to them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted. His success is now probably the best unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors, to apply to him for secuing their patents, in the may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS to the Commissioner of Patents, and TWELVE DECISIONS of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of stupefying it with drugs. Thirdly—it is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show, the very reverse of which it distinctly differs, and from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton; many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit and recommendation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also for the most violent cases of griping pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trifling of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or spasms, it cannot fail to cure, to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs no much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long credits; for as much more than other whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, nor did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tried it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of the highest commendation of its medicinal virtues. We speak this as we know, after long years experience, and pledge our reputation for its fulfilment in what we have advanced. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, by griping in the bowels, a single dose will be found to relieve the child from pain, but and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not in death. We believe it to be the BEST REMEDY IN DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA, IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from any other cause. We speak this advisedly. If any mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints, prejudiced, or the prejudiced between your unbelieving will be SURE—yes, to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. 13 Cedar st. BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty-years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physiology to the present immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the "BLOOD FOOD" in him. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health, within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any cough, or any symptom of Consumption, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed, your nerves unstrung, and mind in a state of unfitness, be cured by commencing with two drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Syphilis, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door; or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any lost from our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

☞In a late address by Rev. F. D. Huntington, upon "The Education and Habits in the Home as affecting the subsequent life in College,"—the orator aimed to show that the characteristics of the life of each college student were largely formed by home habits and education. Childish and improper indulgence in eating and drinking, bred gluttony, dissipation and unchastity in the student. The patient, steady nurture of parental discipline was needed to give the student an idea of order, and to learn him to recognize the interest and honor of the government of the college as identical with the interest of the government. Learn a child his proper place, and when he became a student he would not criticise the college before he had learned its lessons. The inordinate passion for popularity, which led to ruinous emulation, and the want of religious reverence and Christian faith, were too often traceable to home influences. The characteristics of a student were chiefly decided before he took the first classmate by the hand.

DAVIS REPUTED BY DAVIS.—Messrs. Editors:—I have read Senator Davis' reply to Mr. Seward's speech. Mr. D. says:

Did he not know that the negroes formed but a small part of the people of the Southern States? Did he suppose nobody labored but a negro, there? If so, he was less informed than I had previously believed him to be.

Having said this, I thought he was going to tell us how the 'poor white trash' worked as hard as the negro,—but no, he goes right on, and says:—

Negro slavery exists in the South, and by the existence of negro slavery, the white man is raised to the dignity of a freeman and an equal. Nowhere else will you find every man superior to menial service.

That is, the white man is superior to work where negro slaves do it. Senator Davis says:—

Nowhere else will you find every white man recognized so far as an equal as never to be excluded from any man's house or any man's table. Your own menial who blacks your boots, drives your carriage, who wears your livery, and is your own in every sense of the word, is not your equal; and such is society wherever negro slavery is not the substratum on which the white race is elevated to its true dignity.

Senator Davis makes a little mistake in sending his speech to the North! Do the carriage drivers in this city consider themselves menials? Do the men here who drive their own horses ever suppose that is a menial act? Do the men here who black their own boots, (for that is the fashion,) suppose they are menials? And will all the hired men here,—of whom Senator Davis says they are somebody's own menial,—will they all acknowledge themselves to be slaves?

I think not, Messrs. Editors;—nor should they thank the Senator for classing them as such. HOMO.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY.

"I saw a glorious beauty in her face,
And with her breath she did perfume the air,
Sacred and sweet was all I saw in her."
—Shakspeare.
"The fire of her eyes dazzles the two worlds."
—London Journal.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY,
Which is embodied in the exquisite proportions and luminous coloring of
TITIAN'S RECLINING VENUS,
Has for two centuries been the admiration of all beholders. Artists, connoisseurs, and the public will therefore by glad to learn that a magnificent Engraving, colored in oil, of the
PICTURE THAT ENCHANTS THE WORLD,
Has been issued by the undersigned, at a price which places it
WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.
Our Engraving is the only authentic copy ever published in America, of the
GEM OF THE DRESDEN GALLERY,
For which the government of Hanover paid
FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.
It represents the Goddess reclining on a couch and radiant with celestial loveliness. The warm lights and soft shadows which lend such a strange fascination to all the undraped divinities of Titian, are admirably reproduced in this picture, and the accessories, both in the foreground and background, enhance the general effect.

This picture is splendid without gaudiness, warm without propriety, and brimful of the very soul of art. [New York Express.

It is the best piece of flesh coloring ever executed in this country. [New York Leader.

Engraver and colorist have produced a work of art that has the Titian tone, as well as the faultless outline of the bewitching original. [N. Y. Mercury.

The drawing, coloring and finish are beyond praise. [N. Y. Atlas.

It deserves a place in the "porte-feuille" of every admirer of the fine arts. [N. Y. Sat. Press.

READER—Inclose $2, and 15 cents in stamps, and you will receive by return mail, a gem of art, with an elegant gift.
A LIBERAL DISCOUNT TO AGENTS AND THE TRADE.
A really valuable GIFT OF JEWELRY is presented with the Engraving. Address,

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.
In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.
If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Beware of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, MARCH 13, 1860.

☞ We always like good humor in all men, especially in politicians—while a crusty, peppery or sour politician is an abomination. One of the good-humored sort lives at Chicago, and edits the Times, Mr. Douglas's home organ. The late city election there was earnestly contested, and bets were made of large sums, and small, that the Douglas Democracy would prevail over Long John Wentworth and the Republicans, especially as John was not universally popular with his own party. The result is, that the whole vote of the city was 18,766. Wentworth's majority 1246. This is the largest vote and the largest Republican majority ever cast at a charter election in that city.

The Times of the morning after election has the following ruefully comic notice:

Notice to Betters.—All persons who have claims against persons in this office for hats, caps, coats, boots, and various other things in the way of wearing apparel, lost by us and won by them, on the late election, are notified to apply on Monday next, between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock. To prevent confusion, our friends will approach the office from Washington street, and return by Madison street.

SALE OF A VOTE.—A novel case of bribery has recently been decided by the Supreme Court of Vermont. The facts are as follows: A man went to one of his neighbors, belonging to the opposite party in politics, who was swing him, and offered to discharge a debt of $165, if he would use his influence to have him elected town representative, and he should be so elected. The bargain was carried out, the vote was thrown, and decided the election. The court held that the contract was illegal, and the agreement to discharge the debt invalid.

All right for the Judge to rule thus—but that Rep. was a little the meanest man we have read of lately.

☞ Mr. Stephen Healey, who lived near the Island Pond tavern, adjacent to Manchester, N. H., died suddenly on Tuesday. He is suspected of having been poisoned. Healey was 48 years old, married a Miss Tuttle, of Newmarket, a year ago, and bought and moved to his farm in Auburn. A month ago, a man named Richardson, living the nearest neighbor, lost his wife, and soon after began to board with Healey. On Monday, Healey threshed grain all day, ate a hearty supper, was taken sick in the evening, and died the next morning. Neither physician or neighbor was consulted. The first that was known of his sickness was when Richardson called on the nearest neighbor to help lay him out. On being asked if Healey was dead, he said he was not—but he would be by the time they could get there. This proved true. The burial took place yesterday. There have been reports of a discreditable intimacy between the suspected parties for several months. Mrs. Healey reports that her husband died of delirium tremens.

☞ In and near Newburyport, says the Herald, in all fourteen vessels of different sizes are being built, which will give a total of between six and seven thousand tons, and employment to two or three hundred men. Carpenter's wages there have been about $1 the last winter. Now they are $1.25 for carpenters.

Quite a large business is carried on at Salisbury Point in the manufacture of small boats for the fishing business. There are five persons or firms, whose shops are within a short distance of each other, employing about twenty men, and turning out 1000 dories during the winter and summer, valued at $13,000.

☞ A few days since, as a leading manufacturer of Woonsocket, R. I., was riding in the cars, he was accosted by two acquaintances, who badgered him about a certain one hundred dollars which he lent to John Brown. One of them told him he should be pleased to receive a similar amount any time whenever he had it to spare. The reply was that when he would do an act to render himself worthy to be hung by the side of John Brown, he would promise him his check at once.

THE STRIKER'S BRIGADE OF WOOD CHOPPERS.—At Lynn, Saturday, the Shoe Strikers Brigade of Wood Choppers met at the Depot, some three hundred strong, all armed with axes that had been well ground, and preceded by a drum and fife, marched to the battle ground, the wood lot of Mr. James Buffum, near the Danvers line, to cut wood, Mr. B. having given them the wood, and the owners of a number of teams having volunteered to cart it home for them.

☞ It is stated that the gentlemen sent out from Washington to organize a third party, have become discouraged. They report New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey as not open to conviction, and despair of any movements which will attract support in those States.

☞ Last week, at Syracuse, N. Y., the city was thrown into great excitement in consequence of a valuable horse belonging to Dr. Searles being killed by poison—two little girls, children of Peter Tinker, dead—and Tinker himself a corpse.

Tinker was seen coming out of the stable a short time before the horse died, and it is supposed that he gave him strychnine, because he was jealous of Dr. Searles, the owner of the animal. Last fall Mr. Tinker, who is reported to be a man of goood habits, employed Dr. Searles to prescribe for his wife, who was then ailing. The Doctor attended Mrs. Tinker; she abandoned her two children, and is now living under the same roof with Dr. Searles and his wife.

Tinker administered laudanum to his children in some oysters—stayed by them until they died—left them and took poison himself.

The indignation of the populace was aroused against Searles to such an extent that it was deemed expedient by the officers, for the personal safety of the Doctor to put him in the Penitentiary.

☞ In the naval court martial on board the U. S. sloop-of-war Cyane, at Panama, Lieut. A. N. Baker, of the marines, for leaving unpaid bills, was sentenced to be "privately admonished." Master Geo. E. Law, for drunkenness, dismissed from the squadron and suspended for two years on half pay.

☞ Mr. George H. Carter has opened a confectionery establishment in Charlestown, Mass. One morning he left his store unlocked, while absent, and quite a number of boys helped themselves, without so much as saying "by your leave." On the evening of the same day, a boy became fascinated by the heaps of candy, and fell through one of the large panes of glass.

☞ Robert Ferguson, an elderly farmer living near Utica, N. Y., died a few days ago.—When he became convinced that death was approaching, he gave the utmost particular directions as to the disposal of his property, and almost with his last breath enjoined it upon his wife and daughter to have the funeral procession leave the house at an early hour, in order that they might get home in season to milk the cows before dark!

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune says that several of Mr. Douglas's principal supporters at the South, who have heretofore believed in the practicability of dividing the South, now regard that prospect as nearly hopeless, from certain indications that its vote will be cast solid against him, thus excluding any chance of his nomination.

MARRIAGE EXTRAORDINARY.—At Billerica, Mr. David Fitch of Bedford and Mrs. Susan Adams of Billerica. Mr. Fitch is 87 years old, and his lady 55. The event created considerable stir in the quiet village, and was celebrated by the ringing of bells, firing of cannon, and a social gathering of the citizens, enlivened by music prepared for the occasion and performed by the band.

THE SPIRIT RATION.—"The Sea" news paper says it is matter of congratulation to the hard workers in the cause of reform on the sea, that the efforts now being made to secure the abolition of the spirit ration from the Navy of the United States, and pay Jack the cash instead, are full of promise of success.

☞ Petitions have been addressed to the Legislature of Ohio, asking them to appoint a day of fasting and prayer to atone for the sin they committed by appropriating five thousand dollars for drunkenness and debauchery, in that treat given to the Legislatures of Kentucky and Tennessee.

SNEAKED OFF.—Col. Forbes, of the Harper's Ferry disclosures notoriety, sneaked away from New York in the early part of November last. He left in the ship John Bright, under an assumed name, wearing a false beard and moustache, and otherwise disguised, and gave out that he was going to Canada.

THE CAMBRIDGE COLLEGE CASE.—The case of Wm. H. Forbes, the Harvard College student, indicted for assault with a billy on a policeman, in the Chapel of the College, was assigned for trial Friday, but was again postponed till Wednesday. It is understood Forbes has "settled" with all the parties interested, and that he will plead guilty, so that the case will not go to a jury.

☞ A confidence man, claiming to be a negro trader, last week succeeded in procuring the discount of $21,000 in forged drafts, at the State Bank, Savannah, Ga. He was fortified with forged letters of introduction, purporting to be from Hon. Wm. L. Yancey of Alabama.

GORGEOUS CAR.—Messrs. Wason & Co., of Springfield, Mass., have just completed a railway car for the Viceroy of Egypt, which is said to be "perfectly splendid." It cost upwards of $10,000.

MESSRS. HALLET, DAVIS & Co., Boston, have attained a celebrity as piano-forte makers second to none in the world. By improvements peculiar to themselves, they have produced pianos unsurpassed in combining sweetness of tone with power. One of these improvements is the suspension bridge, and they are just bringing forward a new scale seven octave square piano, which possesses great durability and power of standing in tune through every change of place and climate, and nearly equals the full grand—a piano destined to have an immense sale. The first premiums obtained by this firm at State fairs and national institutes are numerous, and are referred to in their advertisement, where it will be seen that in this way they argue the entire superiority of their instruments to those of any other maker. The letters they have published speak volumes, and one of the French professor of music at Parkersburg, Va., is a frank confession of the inferiority of the best French and English makers to Hallett, Davis & Co.

None but the best workmen are employed in the factories of Hallett, Davis & Co., and their facilities in the possession of the best stock of all varieties, and the means of making it up in the best manner, cannot be excelled; as a proof of which, the demand for their pianos is far larger than that for those of any other manufacturers, with one exception, and they send out from five to ten times as many as some of the firms in good standing.

To those unacquainted with the character and responsibility of this house, we are able to give the utmost assurance as to their honorable dealing and ability to make good any contract upon which they may enter, or any guarantee that they may give to purchasers, thereby rendering transactions with them perfectly safe for patrons at a distance who send their orders by letter.—Boston Traveller.

☞ At the town election in West Brookfield, one of the candidates promised, if elected, to "pay the oysters" to every man that voted for him. The result was that while the other candidates on that ticket were barely elected, the oyster man was chosen by two to one over his opponents.

Our Concord, N. H. correspondent says that ex-President Pierce's friends still feel very confident that he will secure the nomination at Charleston after all the prominent candidates shall have been used up, as in 1852. IS THIS SO?—Gas is said to be a powerful disenfectant, and that small pox cannot be taken by those living in houses where gas is burned. Experiments in St. Johns, N. B., go to confirm this. People may take the disease abroad, and carry it home, but those at home will not take it.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better it is to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOSTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN.—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Fearful of the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. On continuing taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute sufferings, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters.

There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, cmetics, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or taken a cmetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters."—Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., Pa., Aug. 28, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen.—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1851.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

Yours, &c., JAMES LEWIS, M. D.

Local.

☞ The election to-day is for Governor, State and County officers, and Senators and Representatives to General Court. The legislature this year may choose a Senator to Congress for six years. Of the general result of the election no doubt is entertained. But the effort of the Republicans will be, to increase their majority—of the Democrats, to diminish it.

In this city, we are happily rid of the additional confusion of a vote for city officers, to increase the chances of blunders.

Voters would do well to deposit their votes early in the day; and thus to do the business while the day lasts; as evening voting is not so likely to be done understandingly, or counted accurately.

☞ We regret to hear that a young blacksmith of this city (the dissolution of whose firm we advertise this morning) has been missing from home since last Tuesday, under circumstances which render it probable that he does not intend to return. He is said to be pecuniarly involved to an amount that would consume all the joint and private property of the firm, and more. He leaves an invalid wife, with five small children.

☞ Town Clerks, Postmasters, and other friends, are respectfully requested to send us returns of votes for Governor, names and party of representatives, and a full list of town officers elected. Where they can do it conveniently, a full return of votes for all officers, is best.

The Vermonter who attempted to snuff out the gas-light with his fingers, screamed —"Bloody murder, your pesky candlestick's a-fire!"—Ez.

This reminds us of an incident which occurred in this city a few years ago, which caused considerable trouble, and no little amusement after it was over—but which, to the uninitiated, seemed rather dangerous at the time. The City Marshal was roused from his bed one night, with the singular information that a gas-post in Austin street was on fire! Hastening to the spot, he found it pretty much as Pat had said—the flame had, by some leak, communicated to the gas in the post, which was so fearfully hot as to melt off the lantern, and an immense jet was streaming direct from the post. The "post" was not put out till the Superintendent of the Gas Co. had been roused, and with a gang of diggers cut off the supply in the pipe.

Speaking of the Gas Co.—at the recent fire on and near their premises, considerable fear was entertained and expressed, of danger from the explosion of the gasometer; but the Superintendent stated that, from its construction, any serious accident of the sort was, under any circumstances, almost impossible, and not at all to be feared.

Editors Chronicle:—We understand that some three weeks since the City Physician was called to visit a child near Portsmouth Bridge; which, with one visit he pronounced to have chicken pox. It has since been found to be small pox. The first case has recovered; another, a boy of twelve years, is now very sick, and on Sunday afternoon, a flag was put out by the Health Committee. Subsequently to the first case, three of the children were prepared by kind friends, and by the City Missionary, and on Friday last were sent to Boston to become inmates of the Orphan's Asylum! The family alluded to have been fed, clothed and taken care of by public officers and kind friends. Many families have, by such gross neglect, been exposed to this contagion. Is such official business agreeable to our expectation of such functionaries? R.

☞ We advertise this morning the third formation of copartnership between Messrs. Dennett & Perkins, to carry on the Hacking business. Their quarters are at Hadley & Co.'s stable, near the City Hotel.

☞ The alarm of fire on Monday evening, was false, and was doubtless given for the purpose of breaking up the meeting at the Temple.

☞ Sufferers from humors are invited to read Dr. Swett's notices in another column.

DEFECT IN THE NEW JAIL AT LAWRENCE.—The dome of the new jail built at Lawrence at a cost of about $140,000, has settled three inches, and it has become necessary to shore it up to prevent it from falling. The chapel has not been occupied for some time, for fear of an accident.

The bachelor editor of the Fredericksburg News lately received from a brother bachelor an invitation to his wedding—The editor consented to attend as a "mourner," but not as "pall bearer."

SUICIDE OF A SAILOR.—James Daily, one of the sailors examined in the case of homicide on board the U. S. ship Brooklyn, not being an important witness, was remanded back to the ship. On being informed of the fact, he stated that he would rather die than sail on board that ship again. He then bid the persons on shore farewell, saying that in less than two days he should cease to live. To this he added that he had between one and two hundred dollars coming to him, and requested that it would in case of his death, be given to some charitable society. After arriving at the ship, Daily ran forward, jumped through a port hole, and accomplished his object by throwing himself overboard. Such is the statement as we have received it. If it be true, those who command this floating pandemonium should be held to a rigid account by the Navy Department. Let us have a thorough investigation of all the facts.—N. Y. Tribune.

CONSCIENTIOUS WICKEDNESS.—The Dublin Freeman's Journal gives the following instance of singular conscientiousness in an English nobleman:—

"The Earl of Oxford, in reply to an application made to him by the Secretary of the Norwhich (Eng.) Bible Society, to take the chair at the meeting, writes as follows:

'Sir, I am surprised and annoyed at the contents of your letter—surprised, because my well-known character should have exempted me from such an application, and annoyed because it obliges me to have this communication with you. I have been addicted to the gaming table—I have lately taken to the turf—I fear that I frequently blaspheme—have never distributed religious tracts. All this was well known to you and your Society; notwithstanding which, you think me a fit person for your President. Heaven forgive your hypocrisy! I would rather live in the land of sinners than with such saints.

'I am, sir, etc., OXFORD.'"

Wheeler & Wilson's

SEWING MACHINES.

—THE—

WHEELER & WILSON M'FG CO.

Invite the attention of Seamstresses, Housekeepers, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, &c., to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, fitted to adorn the parlor, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer. Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses. Substituting, as they do, healthful exercise and rational employment for the soul-and-body-destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The change made in the tension during the past year, so that the upper thread is used from the original spool, and the addition of the hemmer, by which hems of any width are turned and stitched without any previous basting, evince the care of the Company in incorporating with the machines every device that can tend to perfecting them. They now combine every improvement that has been invented for sewing, and the Company feels confident that, in their present form, they are by far the best ever offered to the public; and refers, for confirmation of this opinion, to the thousands of families and manufacturers who use them.

The Lock Stitch made by this machine is the only stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

Economy of Sewing Machines.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company has prepared tables showing by actual experiment of four different workers, the time required to stitch each part of a garment by hand, and with their Sewing Machine. The superiority of the work done by the Machine, and the healthfulness of the employment are advantages quite as great as the saving of time. Subjoined, is a summary of several of the tables—

	BY MACHINE. Hours	Min.	BY HAND. Hours	Min.

Seams of any considerable length are stitched, ordinarily, at the rate of a yard a minute.

By the sworn statements made by the several Sewing Machine Manufacturing Companies, it is shown that the

WHEELER & WILSON MANUF'G CO.

during the past year,

made more than double the number of Machines of any other establishment, and were still unable to supply orders!

They have won the highest premiums at the Fair of the United States Agricultural Society;—at the State Fairs of Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, California, and at the Fairs of the American Institute, New York; Mechanics' Association, Boston; Franklin Institute, Philadelphia; Mechanics' Institute, Baltimore; Metropolitan Mechanics' Institute, Washington; Mechanics' Association, Cincinnati; Kentucky Institute, Louisville; Mechanical Association, St. Louis; Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco; and at hundreds of County Fairs.

These machines have been used by many families in this city for several years, all of whom pronounce them to be the perfection of a Sewing Machine. Full instruction in the working of the Machine, given to purchasers.

E. A. STEVENS'

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

OLD DOMINION COFFEE-POTS!!

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times.
Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S
PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of roasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

Morning Chronicle.

As the Sow, &c.—Dr. Harriet N. Austin, in Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, thus closes an article on the prevalence of debility, sickness, premature decay and early death:

And yet to avoid all this, persons cannot afford to forego their tobacco, and their lager beer, and their coffee, and their tea, and their fat pork, and their highly-seasoned sausages, and their rich mince pies, and their hot biscuits, and their late suppers, and their midnight revels, and their tight dresses, and their feather-beds, and their ill-ventilated rooms, and their absorption in business.

They are stout-hearted, daring and reckless till the penalty comes, and then they murmur and complain as if they were hardly dealt with. But disastrous and disgusting as sickness is, it is the just and appropriate portion of those who will violate the wise and beautiful laws written on the human constitution; and it is good that they should suffer not only in their own persons, but in their offspring.

Importations of African Apprentices.—The Havana correspondent of the New Orleans Delta writes:—

I learn that it has been arranged to import into Cuba, in the least time practicable, from 25,000 to 75,000 free Africans, under contracts for twelve years' service.—This comes from a reliable source, apparently, and is predicated upon the principle that we have as much right to introduce free laborers, for given terms of servitude, from Africa as from India, China, Spain, Mexico, or Yucatan—all of which countries have given of their population, under contracts for months or years, as might be agreed upon, to aid in meeting the wants of Cuban industry. If this business is once commenced by introductions under contracts which, it is said, have been authorized by competent authority, it will be continued as long as the sugar cane is one of the staples of Cuba.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may appear in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously called by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions are only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by the taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One-quarter of all our population are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system, the most remedy the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this, everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Let it be should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Syphilis and Syphilitic Affections, Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia or The Doulourex, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Disease on St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood. The popular treatment "purifying of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

For all the purposes of a family physic, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the system, gentlemen, correcting its disordered action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is furnished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once to simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish, gratis, Ayer's American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Inflammation, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For the cure of

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thru t upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

THE ONLY PREPARATION WORTHY OF

Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

Gentlemen:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn quite gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeables increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling of arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form; so much so in fact, that my gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use Wood's Hair Restorative.

Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Gunnaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: "Your Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to you the fact that its effect on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever, at least this is my experience. Believe it all.

Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of fever, while living in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair grew thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

Yours, respectfully, F. FENLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion than the medium, $5 a bottle.

Lawrence, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaint, for I believe it is the best medicine in my knowledge. Elizabeth Currier.

Exeter, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors; I have found by hard experience, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. Edwin Burnham.

Exeter, July 20, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most valuable remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicine with which I am acquainted.

Canaan, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found great relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (Discontinued 1857.)

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States and all foreign countries, Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters connecting the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given speak for itself. It is a GOOD SIGN that AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, enable him, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." Mason Brown,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their claims in a form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, February 1, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable evidence of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made in TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS to the Hon. COMMISSIONER of PATENTS IN HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

Well-educated experience, of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly, it is entirely free from narcotic or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—it is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate child, if a proper dose be given. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it is the only remedy on which dependence can be placed. For Cholera Infantum, and all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to give us one trial, feeling that you will find it much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as those whose whole expenses go into the printing; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and have never been able to say of any other medicine, as we can of this, we speak, in the strong language of truth, "NEVER HAS IT BEEN KNOWN TO FAIL IN EFFECTING A CURE." when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tried it. On the contrary, all are delighted to speak in terms of highest praise of its effects, and recommendation of its merits. We speak, in this matter, what we do know, after many years our reputation for the sale of a article of the kind, is staked on the truth of what we say. In almost every instance where relief was sought from pain and exhaustion in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup was administered, relief will be found to follow the use of this medicine by any mother who has a child suffering from any other complaint—prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand in the way of its being universally used, to follow the use of this medicine, if timely for using will accompany each vial, the signature of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is to be found on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, find also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physiology to the more intimate nature, and effect of food, the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the blood of the sick. Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the side, do not fail to procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed by your own cares, depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or has ceased to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthy action, take the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient even here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all other blood complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools will bear testimony to its wonderful success.

As Advertisements appear in both Daily and Weekly Chronicle—they receive thorough circulation in the city and vicinity, and throughout the State.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The Chronicle Office is open from 4 o'clock in the morning till 6 in the evening, for ads and advertisements, notices, &c., duly authenticated and authorized by responsible parties, may be left in the drop-box in the street-door, after the office is closed—and will be inserted next morning if necessary or desired.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, in the entry of the house door, or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation, which we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the paper, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss due after that.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ A Republican convention has been held in Missouri,—small in number, only two hundred delegates. They chose eighteen delegates to Chicago, twelve for Bates, six against.

They reported resolutions endorsing the principles set forth in call of the National Convention, pledging their support to the nominee of that Convention, favoring the colonization of free blacks, recommending Edward Bates for the Presidency, regarding the threats of dissolution with scorn and contempt, pledging their lives, fortunes and sacred honor to the preservation of the Union, recognizing the irrepressible conflict between free and slave labor in Missouri, holding it the duty of government to protect the rights of free intercourse between the citizens of different States, opposing any change in the naturalization laws, and favoring a Homestead and Pacific Railroad bills.

The resolutions recommending Edward Bates for the Presidency, met a resolute opposition from the German element, who refused to support any candidate not squarely upon the Philadelphia platform of 1856.

☞ A man who is writing an interesting series of papers about "Boarding-house Life" says:—

"If the attics of New York would disgorge their inhabitants to-day, a greater variety of remarkable people would be seen, than all the soirees, receptions, and asthetic clubs of a season can produce.—To the attic comes fallen greatness, disappointed hope, aspiring genius, the refugee from other lands, the seedy philosopher, the penniless poet. Too light of gold to gravitate to a lower level, they ascend to the attic by the force of natural law. Here life is lived, seldom in comedy, but often in direful tragedy. How often I have lifted my eyes to the top of a stately mansion, to the narrow, prison-like windows, which crown its summit and said, "I wonder who rooms in the attic?"

The confession of Elder Peck is published. It amounts to just this, that the money is gone. The Elder appears to have been a perfect babe, and therefore a sucker, though not a suckling; and he loaned the public money after the fashion that one of those fleeting institutions, "democratic banks," used to loan its funds—by the hatful. At last he went into the business on his own account, which the State did not find its account in. If it were not true the money is missing, and very much missed, the whole affair would be as rich as a farce. The Elder was as much at home in the Treasury as the pig was in his silver trough. The blame should be laid where it belongs, upon those men who appointed so incompetent a person to an office requiring in its holder character, intelligence, and integrity.—Traveller.

If brevity is the soul of wit," what is the upper leather?

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will pull particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.
In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.
If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 14, 1860.

STATE ELECTION.

The New Hampshire election for Governor, members of the Legislature, and through them a United States Senator for six years in the place of Senator Clark, took place on Tuesday. Out of the State great importance has been attached to it; and in one Boston paper of Tuesday, great financial importance is suggested; but this sugestion, affecting our southern interest, was laughed at here.

The Newburyport Herald, Tuesday said: —"The majority may now be larger or smaller for the Republicans than it was last year; but New Hampshire is Republican all over, and is as sure for the Chicago nominee as is Vermont. Apparently the democrats have not made half as much effort there as in Connecticut, and it would be labor in vain if they did."

The democratic newspapers were divided, in regard to national policy and slavery, into three sorts—one sort for Douglas, one for Buchanan and Judge Taney, and one for all together, or non-committal.

On State issues they had nothing new, and made only a few feeble echoes of their arguments last year and year before.

The Result appears to be—that the Republicans have swept the State, by a larger majority than ever before—some set it upwards of 4,000. Their entire County ticket is without doubt chosen; and also their Senator in this District—which is a Rep. gain.

We give below, all the returns we could procure, up to midnight, by telegraph and otherwise.

VOTES FOR GOVERNOR.

	Goodwin.	Cate.
Somersworth	411	318
Greenland	102	65
Newcastle	76	91
Hampton Falls	89	49
South Newmarket	113	67
Seabrook	170	120
Newington	48	71

Gov. Goodwin's majority will probably be from 3,500 to 4,500.

Returns from 74 towns give Goodwin 17,572, Cate 13,700. 109 Repub. to 30 Dem. Representatives.

Later.—129 towns, Goodwin 24,566, Cate 21,132. The republicans have elected four and probably all five of the Councillors, nine of the twelve Senators, and probably one hundred majority to the legislature.

FOR SENATOR.

	March.	Frink.
Greenland	107	57
Newington	46	84
Seabrook	171	119
Hampton Falls	89	49
South Newmarket	114	61

Mr. March is no doubt elected Senator.

REPRESENTATIVES ELECTED.

Somersworth, Albert A Perkins, John L Haynes, Joshua Littlefield, rep.

Greenland, Rufus W. Weeks, rep.

Newcastle, Geo. B. French, dem.

Newington, Enoch Coleman, dem.

☞ A Democratic paper says "the eyes of the Democracy of the whole country are on New Hampshire, Tuesday." To which that unconscionable punster, the Reviewer in the Traveller, says, "The Democracy will be cross-eyed, then, on Wednesday morning."

FRENCH SPOLIATIONS.—It is reported from Washington that the Committee on Foreign Affairs has decided to report in favor of the payment of the French spoliations. This is said to be the thirty-sixth time that their payment has been recommended in one or the other of the houses of Congress. There is no class of claims which gain the attention and action of Congress with such difficulty as these. It has already become impossible for the government to do exact justice in the matter, for many of the original claimants are dead, and may have suffered from the delay in a manner for which there can be no compensation;—but we trust that no further postponement of these claims will be allowed.—Boston Advertiser.

The claimants and their heirs and assigns have been unjustly kept out of these claims for many years, under various false pretexts.

A GOOD BROGAN SHOE.—Mr. Bachelder, the old Holliston shoe manufacturer, stated at the Natick meeting, on Wednesday evening, that he was at the Wilmot recruiting station in New Hampshire, during the last war with England, and there purchased the first pair of pegged brogan shoes which were made in New Hampshire, by the men on that station.—After wearing them for many months, he wanted to make a change, and there being no wearing-out to the shoes, he laid them away, and now has them in his possession, as good as new. They were made out of well seasoned and well tanned leather, and not pasted together with chips and paper—but of pegs, which, when struck, would stick without gluten.

THE LAWRENCE CALAMITY—Another Body Found in the Ruins.—The workmen engaged in removing the ruins of the Pemberton Mills, at Lawrence, in the vicinity of the tall chimney, come upon the body of one Bailey, an Englishman, whose body has been missing since the disaster. He was employed in the lower room, and it was supposed by his friends that his body had been consumed. It was found in a good state of preservation, and as it bore no marks of violence, it is supposed that he suffocated. The ravages of the fire did not extend to the locality where he was buried, and it is thought that he might have lived for some time after the accident. He was alone at such a depth, however, that it was not all singular that his body should not have been sooner discovered. He leaves a wife and one or two children. His wife is about to be confined, and the fact of the discovery of the body has been kept from her.

Quite a number of those who were most severely wounded are still confined to their beds, and are supported from the funds in the hands of the Relief Committee.

The site of the mills is to be cleared before the first of April, when the laying of the foundation of the new structure will be commenced.

FROM TEXAS.—The Austin (Texas) Intelligencer publishes official dispatches between Gov. Houston and Secretary Floyd. Gov. Houston writes, Feb. 13:

"I have used all necessary caution and prudence, and may now act on the facts before me. Unless prompt measures are adopted by the Government, circumstances will impel Texas to adopt the course she desires to avoid. Texas cannot invade with impunity, but, if thrown upon her resources, she may not only resist, but adopt measures to prevent a recurrence of outrages."

Secretary Floyd replies, on the 28th, that immediate action will be taken by the government, and able officers dispatched to take command of the department of Texas. A strong reinforcement will be sent as soon as the season allows.

Gen. Houston has sent a dispatch to Col. McCulloch, saying there will be stirring times on the Rio Grande ere long.

At Houston, on the 10th, two squares of thirty houses were destroyed by fire. Loss $275,000.

MURDERS.—The Cincinnati papers record the horrible murder on the 6th inst. of a woman by her husband, an Irishman, named Patrick McHugh. The ruffian had just served out seven years' imprisonment for nearly killing his wife in 1852; and had only been out of prison six weeks, during which time he had conducted himself so that no suspicion of his deadly purpose was anticipated. McHugh has been a desperate character, and is 50 years of age. His wife is not forty. They have three children, the youngest a girl 11 years of age.

On the same evening, an affray occurred between two Irishmen, named John Miller and Charles Brill, in which the latter was mortally wounded.

☞ In relation to the Syracuse poisoning tragedy, Mrs. Tinker's statement is, that last year the family became very much embarrassed, in consequence of sickness, and they frequently suffered for the necessaries of life. Under these circumstances, it was determined to break up the family until better times should come. By invitation of Mrs. Searles, Mrs. Tinker went to live in Dr. Searles's family, and Mr. Tinker and the two children went to board at the Westcott House, both parties in the meantime endeavoring to find places for the children. This arrangement was satisfactory to all parties, the husband and children visiting Mrs. Tinker frequently. This statement is corroborated by Mrs. Searles. It appears that Mrs. Tinker, although it is strongly denied that she is a Spiritualist, had been expelled from a church on the charge that she did not live with her husband, and had attended lectures on Spiritualism.

☞ The lady strikers at Newburyport have been addressed by a Mr. Oliver of Lynn. Mr. Oliver, in his remarks, declared that the death of the young lady in Lynn, from croup, after having participated in the parade of the female strikers, on Wednesday, rests on the manufacturers, who did not allow her pay enough to secure warm and sufficient clothing! He also advised the strikers to withdraw their patronage from any dry goods dealer or grocer who refuses to contribute in aid of the strike.

DEATH OF MR. LANERGAN.—The serious accident which befell Mr. Andrew Lanergan on the 22d ult., at his laboratory in East Cambridge, has at length resulted fatally, Mr. Lanergan having breathed his last at 3 o'clock on Monday morning. He was thirty-nine years of age, and leaves a widow and one child.

☞ The Democratic Convention of North Carolina has chosen delegates to Charleston for Mr. Hunter of Va., and the indications are that Georgia will follow the example.—His chances for the nomination have increased decidedly in the last few weeks, as offering the best point of concentration for the South, and as least objectionable to the Northern wing.

DISPUTE ON ESCHATOLOGY.

Some months ago, we noticed the publication of a new book called "Eschatology,"—or talk of the last things, written by Rev. Samuel Lee, of New Ipswich, a well known Congregational clergyman, who is highly esteemed by his brethren of that church and ministry.

Mr. Lee, as the reader may remember, treats in this book, on "The Scriptural Doctrine of the Coming of the Lord, the Judgment and the Resurrection," in which he differs very decidedly from the usual Orthodox interpretation on these subjects.

Rev. Dr. Bouton of Concord has recently written a condemnatory Review of Mr. Lee's book, which he read to the Hopkinton Association of Ministers, and by their request and vote, it is published in the Congregational Journal of March 8.

Among Dr. B.'s reasons for rejecting Mr. Lee's book, he says its "views are at variance with the received opinions of the church, and is it not less probable that the many should be in error, than that the Rev. Samuel Lee of New Ipswich has made a mistake?" To this, Mr. Lee replies:

The argument of this remark is not as "obvious" to my mind as other implications. And among these, and least exceptionable, is the fact that the Review is governed by Authority. I cannot argue on this ground. Proof is proof. When Harvey discovered and taught the circulation of the blood in the human body, it is said that not a man of his own profession, over forty years of age, accepted it. Now everybody believes it. Until the present generation it was the universal belief that Job 19: 25—27 referred to the resurrection of the body. Now no scholar believes it. So of Psalms 17: 15. This argument of the Review would have disproved Luther and the Reformation, and would put a stop to all progress in the church and world.

When we read Dr. B.'s argument of numbers, and the received opinions of the church,—our eye rested almost at the same time on the following classification of religions on the earth.

Taking the number 1,400,000,000 as the total population of the earth, we may say there are—Christians 335,000,000; Jews 5,000,000; Asiatic religion 600,000,000; Mohammedan, 160,000,000; Pagans 300,000,000.

The 335,000,000 of Christians are again divided into—170,000,000 Roman Catholics; 89,000,000 Protestants; 76,000,000 Greek Church.

The argument of numbers gives three quarters to the heathen, and one-quarter to christians. And when we come into Christendom, the Roman Church takes about half, and the Greek Church almost half the other half.

This argument of numbers is a favorite one with Dr. B.,—as he says:—

We the more distrust the author's views, because, in fact, they are totally at variance with the long established and generally received opinions of the Christian world.

He says in another place:—

The author thinks that the view he has taken of these sublime themes of Revelation, has greater moral power to impress the minds of the living than the common view. We differ from him: for we believe as firmly as he, that death, being the end of each individual's probation, is also his personal introduction to a state of happiness or misery, according to character; which is the intermediate state—to continue until the consummation, the Anastasis of the dead, and the revelation of the righteous judgment of God. We can see many reasons—reasons of state they may be called—why there should be a General Judgment, at the close of the probationary period of this world. Until such a consummation the history of the race is incomplete, and the grand designs of the Almighty unaccomplished.

Mr. Lee has published a sharp reply to the Review, in which he says:

The Review dodges the real points of importance, and says nothing about them. * * My book is in the hands of God. I am happy to know that it is read and studied by not a few. * * * There are in the community two classes of minds; the one stereotyped, the other progressive. These last in the Church of God are trying to eliminate errors in both exegesis and theology. They do not assume that either themselves or any others are certainly right in all things. They think it would be absurd, while scores of different interpretations are given of the same text by different men, to take the opinion of any one as authority.—The younger portion, now on the stage, and those soon to enter, are educated as was never a generation. They will think for themselves. And they will not receive contradictions and absurdities such as have been formerly taught on the subjects discussed in Eschatology. These subjects have got to be thoroughly examined. They never have been.

And then, to show that his book has readers and advocates among his brethren in New Hampshire, Mr. Lee informs the public, that there has been read before the Hollis Association, by one of its most talented members, a favorable Review of Eschatology—from which he makes the following extracts:

"The author has evinced a Christian heart, a reverence for the inspired Word, and a carefulness of appeal to the Law and the Testimony worthy of all commendation." "On the fifth page of Eschatology, we read the very truthful statement that it was no part of the design of the Old Testament to teach a future state." "The argument which the author presents for not confounding The Coming of the Son of Man with The Coming of the Lord, is a strong one. We feel quite willing to admit that he has made out his case. Keeping the proposed distinction between these in mind, some ugly passages in the Gospels, and the Epistles also, do slide into a beautiful harmony with each other, and with the general teachings of the New Testament." "In this chapter on the Judgment * * the most that can be claimed for him is, that the many passages which he has commented upon, may give permission for the doctrine of a judgment for each Christian at death."

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute sufferings, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters. There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, emetics, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic discovered by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters."—Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz.—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug. 20, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in cases of general Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am happy to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

ELECTION IN PORTSMOUTH.

The weather in this city, on Tuesday, the day of the State Election, was very favorable for the business, being mild and not windy; cloudy, but not stormy. The mud which abounded, did not prevent travel, but only soiled the traveller.

There was not any great drumming, patriotic howling, or drunken yells, on the night previous, as there was last year. The only thing of that kind this year, was a yell on a small scale at nine o'clock on Monday night, which was used as a fire alarm.

The day itself, Tuesday, was, so far as we saw, remarkably quiet,—and what drunken patriots were about, were generally peaceable.

In Wards 1 and 2, as will be seen by the following returns, the Republicans had a majority, and elected their Representatives.

In Ward 3, the Democrats elected one of their Reps, (Mr. Greenleaf) but a division occurred in the party, which we do not pretend to explain; and A. Q. Wendell was run on a split ticket, against Chas. W. Marden the regular Dem. nominee; the result being no choice. The meeting was dissolved, (not adjourned) amidst much "noise and confusion."

REPRESENTATIVES ELECTED.

Ward 1.—Wm. H. Y. Hackett, John S. Harvey, Charles Annable—all Rep.

Ward 2.—Lyman D. Spalding, Alfred T. Joy, Marcellus Bufford—all Rep.

Ward 3.—Abner Greenleaf, dem. One vacancy.

The whole vote of Portsmouth for Gov. last year was 1694—this year 1490; a diminution of 204. Gov. Goodwin's vote has fallen off 16 only; the Democrats have lost the rest—a great part being in the foreign vote, which was naturalized in the fall of 1858, and cannot now be found.

Last year Gov. Goodwin was 17 in the minority in this city; now he has a majority of 152—a gain for him of 169.

☞ Gov. Goodwin and Mr. March, Senator elect from 1st Dist., were visited on Tuesday evening by a large number of Republican citizens, and mutual congratulations extended on the result of the election.

THE YOUNGEST GRADUATE OF HARVARD.—The Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody, just nominated as Plummer Professor of Harvard College, graduated at that institution at an earlier age than any other of its alumni. He was of the class of 1826, and at the time had just reached his 19th year.—Hon. Edward Everett was also a youthful graduate—being only seventeen years old.

☞ The Exeter News Letter of Monday states that on Saturday evening last, about half-past 5 o'clock, John Hanson, a native of Portsmouth, attempted to commit suicide, by cutting his throat. He now lies in a critical state.

☞ Rather a stunner—Ward One giving 100 Republican majority. Can't somebody start the cry of "fraud?"

For the Chronicle.

CAPT. NATHAN JONES, the proprietor of the Tri Mountain Stable in Vaughan street, was very agreeably surprised on Saturday afternoon last, by being formally presented with an ancient Arm Chair, used by the Emperor Nicholas of Russia, during the ceremony of coronation; afterwards presented to the ex-President of the United States; and at the sale of his effects, on breaking up house-keeping, purchased by the numerous friends and patrons of Capt. Nathan, and presented by the Hon. Nicodemus Tiffany, in behalf of the donors, in a very concise and pertinent speech; responded to by the Captain in his usual happy manner. After the ceremony, the party were ushered into the Dining Hall, where they found a Collation of Fish and Crackers, which they speedily demolished, and went on their way rejoicing. The Captain, by his gentlemanly deportment, has endeared himself to a large class of friends, who feel rejoiced at an occasion to show their esteem and gratitude to the public caterer of stylish and fast teams, for his close attention to their wants and accommodations. Long may he float. We understand the Old Man has purchased several Foxy, Peacock animals, which he guarantees to trot their mile in the vicinity of 2 min 59 sec., to add to his already large stock;—being determined not to be outdone by any one in his attempts to furnish the public with the safest, fastest and most stylish teams. The report that Wool Puller, the trotter, won the purse of $5000, on the Long Island Course, was confirmed on Saturday last.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Monday, March 12, Mr. King introduced a joint resolution suspending the operation of so much of the recent Post Office appropriation bill as relates to the printing of Post Office blanks, until the further action of Congress. He said that it had received the unanimous consent of the Committee. It was read three times and passed.

Mr. Bright gave notice of a bill appropriing half a million dollars for completion of the capitol extension.

Mr. Mason moved that Mr. Hyatt be brought in. Agreed to.

The resolutions offered on Friday were read, proposing to commit Mr. Hyatt to jail until he consents to testify.

Mr. Sumner spoke against it as a bad precedent, hostile to liberty. Mr. Fessenden replied on the other side.

Mr. Hale contended that it was proposed to sentence a citizen of the United States to perpetual imprisonment on a mere point of etiquette. No despotism on earth exercised more power than here claimed.

Mr. Simmons thought the integrity of the Senate would be best promoted by respecting conscientiousness of citizens. He submitted a substitute, that Hyatt be discharged and placed on the same footing as other witnesses, but after a debate withdrew it.

Mr. Mason's resolution was adopted, by yeas 44, nays 10.

The Senate went into executive session, and afterwards adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Washburn of Wisconsin offered a resolution touching the shameful frauds perpetrated on the Nenominee Indians, and asking a select committee of investigation.

After discussion, the House refused to suspend the rules for the resolution—yeas 113, nays 60.

The Homestead Bill was taken up and passed—115 against 62.

The Homestead Bill provides that any person who is at the head of a family, or who has arrived at the age of 21 years, and is a citizen of the United States, or who shall have filed his intention to become such a citizen, shall be entitled to enter, free of cost, 160 acres of public land, upon which such person may have filed a pre-emption claim, or which may, at the time such application is made, be subject to pre-emption at one dollar and a quarter, or less per acre; or 80 acres at $2.50 per acre. No certificate of patent is to be issued until the expiration of five years from the date of entry, and on payment of $10, rights are secured to the actual settler to issue to heirs and devisers the lands acquired, which are in no event to become liable for the satisfaction of any debts contracted prior to the issue of the same.

☞ Mr. C. B. Welch of Parsonsfield, Me., while on his way to New York to purchase a cargo of flour, was robbed Saturday, between Springfield and Hartford, of a package containining $14,000. $8000 was in bills of the Somersworth Bank, and the remainder in bills of the Portland, Bildeford and Saco banks.

☞ News from Liverpool to Feb. 25 shows that the Italian question is not yet settled; that the Spanish war with Morocco draws towards a close, and that there is a better prospect for freights.

☞ Wm. H. Forbes, the Cambridge student who assaulted Police Officer Hilton, in the chapel, has been fined $50 and costs. He plead guilty, and settled with the officer by paying him $—. The blank was filled privately.

☞ An incendiary fire at Lynn, Mass., Monday evening, destroyed the Mechanics' Steam Flouring Mill, shoe box factory, hat factory, etc. Loss $20,000.

☞ An Ohio paper calls Senator Pugh a "type of Democracy;" whereupon Geo. D. Prentice continues the metaphor, observing that the type is considerably battered, and does not make a fair impression.

☞ The Portland Advertiser learns that Mr. Peck was arrested Friday on an indictment found against him by the Grand Jury of Kennebec county, for embezzling the public funds.

It is not so very fortunate, after all, to be born with a silver spoon in the mouth. A good many have been sooner or later choked with the spoon, especially if a very large one.

Wheeler & Wilson's

SEWING MACHINES.

—THE—

WHEELER & WILSON M'FG CO.

Invite the attention of Seamstresses, Housekeepers, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, &c., to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, fitted to adorn the parlor, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer. Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses. Substituting, as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body-destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The change made in the tension during the past year, so that the upper thread is used from the original spool, and the addition of the hemmer, by which hems of any width are turned and stitched without any previous basting, evince the care of the Company in incorporating with the machines every device that can tend to perfecting them. They now combine every improvement that has been invented for sewing, and the Company feels confident that, in their present form, they are by far the best ever offered to the public; and refers, for confirmation of this opinion, to the thousands of families and manufacturers who use them.

The Lock Stitch made by this machine is the only stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

Economy of Sewing Machines.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company has prepared tables showing by actual experiment of four different workers, the time required to stitch each part of a garment by hand, and with their Sewing Machine. The superiority of the work done by the Machine, and the healthfulness of the employment are advantages quite as great as the saving of time. Subjoined, is a summary of several of the tables—

	BY MACHINE. Hours	Min.	BY HAND. Hours	Min.

Seams of any considerable length are stitched, ordinarily, at the rate of a yard a minute.

By the sworn statements made by the several Sewing Machine Manufacturing Companies, it is shown that the

WHEELER & WILSON MANUF'G CO.

during the past year,

made more than double the number of Machines of any other establishment, and were still unable to supply orders!

They have won the highest premiums at the Fair of the United States Agricultural Society; at the State Fairs of Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, California, and at the Fairs of the American Institute, New York; Mechanics' Association, Boston; Franklin Institute, Philadelphia; Mechanics' Institute, Baltimore; Metropolitan Mechanics' Institute, Washington; Mechanics' Association, Cincinnati; Kentucky Institute, Louisville; Mechanical Association, St. Louis; Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco; and at hundreds of County Fairs.

These machines have been used by many families in this city for several years, all of whom pronounce them to be the perfection of a Sewing Machine. Full instruction in the working of the Machine, given to purchasers.

E. A. STEVENS'

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

OLD DOMINION COFFEE-POTS!!

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times.—Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S

PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of roasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family who uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

GAITER BOOTS.

O, dainty foot!
O, gaiter boot!
To piety you're shocking.
I only know
Of one thing worse,
And that's a snow-white stocking.

So neat and clean,
Together seen,
E'en stoics must agree
To you to vote
What Gray once wrote,
A handsome L E G.

The lasting theme
Of midnight dream,
The very soul of song,
Man wants you little Here below,
But ever wants you long.

By Plato ne'er
Sent tripping here;
By Pluto rather given,
To lead poor man
(An easy plan)
To any place but heaven.

Yet still I vow
There's magic now
About a woman's foot,
And cunning was
The wizard hand
That made a gaiter boot.

For while the knave
The gaiters gave
To mortals, to ensnare them,
Mankind he hoaxed,
And even coaxed
The angels down to wear them.

A SCIENTIFIC VIEW OF A GAMBLER.—Prof. B. A. Gould, in a recent lecture at the Smithsonian Institution on the Science of probabilities, stated as the result of a broad scientific investigation of the subject of playing on chance, or gambling, that "every gambler loses more, the more he plays, unless he cheats." So, the gambler's defense of himself, that he plays upon chance, as merchants play upon probabilities in buying or selling, falls to the ground; for, if successful, science proves him a cheat, and if unsuccessful, he would not follow the profession.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor where one is diseased, is may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination, and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous:—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this, or any other prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIVE AND EXCEPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from a TAINTED OR VITIATED BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate the vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their medicine can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting disorders which lead to ruining its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical suffering is assisted to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of the cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a direct Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons and public figures, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thru t upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst. has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 60 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the adornment of their wives to unite with my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Siamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return soon and beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Very truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P.S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood: Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to do the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, or forty cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the Mouth or Throat, Ulcers on any part of the system, Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia or Tic Douloureux, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from a Impurity or Vitiated Blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate the vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

His Pills are warranted paramount to any in the union as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 32 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1844. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a severe cough to use them, believing they will answer the purpose, although I have tried many. FANNY MINKER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 2, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of weak lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 20, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the lungs, of any medicines with which I have been acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1840. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are published on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions.—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered from any agency. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS BY THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full specifications of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved the inventor.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, or more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. I can unhesitatingly proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made no rejections, but obtained EIGHTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the seating of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other syrup for infantile complaints will show the very roots from which it is distilled being taken from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit—viz: Wind Colic, Diarrhœa,

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for children of a larger growth, suffering pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and terrible of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions, we earnestly recommend parents to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, and also differs from each other in other respects, as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most economical. Directions for use, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have never been able to say of any other MEDICINE HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, to EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Nor did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tried it, but all are delighted to speak in the highest terms of its beneficial effects and medical virtues. We speak this matter, "what we know," after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the truth of what we say. In no instance is the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, for a period of twenty or thirty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, and gives tone to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it to be the best remedy in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every suffering from any other cause, try it! we know whereof we affirm.

Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort; conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result was the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Coughs, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops, twice daily, and gradually increasing to any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and all Skin Diseases. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS,

The Chronicle Office is open from 4 o'clock in the morning till 8 in the evening; and all advertisements, notices, &c., duly authenticated and authorized by responsible parties, may be left in the drop-box in the street-door, after the office is closed—and will be inserted next morning if necessary or desired.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences are to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, in the sun-house or house-door; or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

HOW DUCHESSES AND COUNTESSES EMPLOY THEIR TIME.—This extract from a letter of an English traveller, who has hail the best opportunity of observation, may surprise some:—

No English woman of rank (with the exception of a few parvenues) from the Queen downwards, would remain for half an hour unemployed, or sit in a rocking chair, unless seriously ill. They almost all (with hardly an exception) copy the letters of business of their husbands, fathers, or Brothers; attend minutely to wants of those around them, and even take part in their sorrows; visit and superintend the schools; work in their own gardens; see to their household concerns; think about their visitors; look over their weekly accounts not only of domestic expenses, but often those of the farm and the estate; manage penny clubs in conjunction with the working classes, to help them teach themselves; and with all these occupations, by early hours, they keep up their acquaintance with the literature and politics of the day, and cultivate the accomplishments of music and drawing, and often acquire besides some knowledge of other pursuits.

The late Marchioness of Landsdowne was so well acquainted with the cottagers in her neighborhood, that she used to visit and look at the corpses of the dead, because she found that her doing so soothed and comforted the bereaved. I have known her to shut herself up with a mad woman in her poor dwelling, who used to lock the door, and could not be induced to admit any one else.

The late Duchess of Bedford, I accidentally discovered when on a visit to Woburn, had for thirty years of her married life risen at six o'clock, summer and winter, lit her own fire, made some tea for the Duke and herself, and then, as he wrote his own letters of business, she copied them, and they came down to a large party of guests at 10 o'clock, to dispense breakfast, without saying a word of their matutinary avocations; so that you might have been a visitor of the house without finding out that the Duke and Duchess had transacted the necessary business of the day, before, perhaps, you had risen.

I rather mention those who have gone to their reward, than write of women still among us; but you may believe me when I say that I am constantly among those who live such lives of usefulness and energy—but they so employ themselves without ostentation, or an idea that they are doing more than their simple duty.

☞ Twenty-four shoe manufacturers and firms in Natick, Mass., have signed and published resolutions declining to sign any bill of prices or trade regulations of the strikers, as to whom they shall employ; they

Resolved, That we concede the right of every man to set his own price upon his labor, and to refuse to work unless that price is paid.

And also Resolved, That it is equally the right of every manufacturer, farmer or mechanic, to employ such men as they may please, and at such prices as may be mutually agreed upon by the contracting parties.

☞ At the recent Ulster county (N. Y.) Court, the following trial came off:—John Smith against Hiram Hasbrouck, administrator of Wiesner, deceased. Hasbrouck is administrator of Wiesner by virtue of his office of County Treasurer. Plaintiff held that the carlessness of Wiesner caused an explosion of his powder mill at Esopus, by which he lost $1000. Wiesner was killed by the explosion and left no relatives. The jury gave a verdict for plaintiff for $1088.

Here's Health for the Million!!
CLARKE'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS
Warranted Palatable and Healthy.

Composed of Dock Root, Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Rhubarb, Thoroughwort, Mandrake, &c. For General Weakness, Loss of Appetite, and an unhealthy state of the system.

Man should be thankful, that our all-wise Creator has so amply supplied us with the effectual means of preserving and regaining our health. This compound is a mild, effectual and regular Tonic, very pleasant to the palate, and exceedingly healthy for the system.

Weakness.

The patient, trembling with lassitude and weakness after a slight exertion, by the use of a bottle or two of this very popular health-maker, becomes imbued with new strength and increased energy. As it gives new life and action to the blood, and increases the appetite, on which strength receives its origin and depends.

Nervousness.

Weakness, with over-exertion, is generally the origin of this horror-depicting disease. Use DR. CLARK'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS, and you will be rendered perfectly self-possessed, calm and cheerful.

Broken Down Constitution.

Dr. Clarke's Sherry Wine Bitters are the very thing to give new life to the shackled frame, and energy to the enfeebled mind. For Mechanics, Farmers, Clergymen, and Public Men in general, no medicine can be better adapted for their purpose.

Try them!

All ye lovers of good Bitters and good health, and you will find them a cheap, effectual and pleasant remedy; and sold for the low price of 25 cents for a pint bottle.

25 cts. for a Pint Bottle. 42 cts. 1 qt; 75 cents 2 qts; and only $1,25 for 4 qts.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all other in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Bickford's Spring Balance,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1860.

THE ELECTION.—The Concord Statesman Extra, of Wednesday morning, (which contained very full returns—and to which we are indebted for liberal extracts) sums up the New Hampshire election in these headings:—

An 'irrepressible' victory. Don't you see a Republican President coming? Make way for New Hampshire. Republican majority, 4500. Seven of the ten counties, all the five councillors, and nine of the twelve Senators Republican.

The following are the footings of the vote for Governor in 162 towns:—Goodwin, (Repub.) 30,523. Cate, (Dem.) 25,627.

The Republicans have elected 171 members of the Legislature, and the Democrats 80.

The Democrats made extraordinary efforts to carry Merrimac county, but failed.

THE VOTE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE SINCE 1793.—In 1793 only 9854 votes were cast in New Hampshire; in 1814 the number had increased to 38,542; in 1822 the vote fell off again to 23,980, a difference of 15,000; in 1831 the total was 42,000; in 1834 it fell to 30,000; and in 1837 to 24,000;—but in 1838 there was a remarkable increase to 54,000; and then a gradual decline to 44,000 in 1843; in 1847 the total vote reached 60,000, and the next year 61,000, which was not exceeded until the fierce struggle between the Democrats and Republicans under the administration of Franklin Pierce, which ended in the permanent triumph of the Republicans.

Since 1855 the vote has increased gradually to 69,193 in 1859, which is the largest ever cast in the State. The table from which we have quoted shows the extreme difficulty, even with the modern appliances of mass conventions, processions, music, banners, popular party cries, &c., of inducing the voters to exercise their privilege. For quite a number of years nearly one-third of the voters of the State did not make their appearance at the polls. This neglect inures to the benefit of "wire pulling" and party managers generally.

☞ It may interest our readers to look over a few figures, showing the state of parties in New Hampshire for the last 8 years.

In March, 1852, Gov. Martin had 860 majority.

In November, 1852, for President, Pierce had about 30,000 votes, being 7000 majority over Scott and Hale, and 12,000 majority over Scott.

March, 1853, Gov. Martin, Dem., had 5500 majority; 3 Democrats went to Congress; the Whigs elected one State Senator.

March, 1854, Gov. Baker, Dem., had 1645 majority over Bell and Perkins. The House was almost equally divided; the Nebraska bill had been passed in Congress, and approved by Pres. Pierce.

March, 1855, Gov. Metcalf (American) had about 2000 majority, over Baker, Bell and Fowler.

March, 1856, there was no choice by the people; Metcalf and Wells had about 32,000 each; Goodwin and others 2400. [Mr. Wells stumped the State on the liquor plank.] The legislature chose Gov. Metcalf.

November, 1855, Fremont electors had 5444 plurality over Buchanan, and Fillmore had 418. So Fremont had about 5000 majority.

March, 1857, Haile, Republican, had 4000 majority over Wells, but there were 450 scattering; so that his majority was about 3500.

March, 1858, Gov. Haile had 4664 majority over Cate and scattering.

March, 1859, Gov. Goodwin had 3500 majority.

March, 1860, gives him somewhere from 4000 to 5000.

From this it is clear that the Republican party did not die out in six months after Fremont was defeated, as some papers then predicted; but that it still lives, and is sufficiently vigorous to take an active part in the Presidential election next November.

☞ Mr. Garrison, in the Liberator, says that in Seward's speech he finds no heart, no courage, no life,—nothing but an adroit and heartless attempt to show that there need be no unfriendly collision on the subject of slavery. In fact that journal thinks Mr. Seward's speech "little if any better" than Mr. Webster's seventh of March speech; thinks it will be highly detrimental to the moral sentiment of the North on the subject of slavery; and says that Mr. Seward has "gone backward, and gone down, and will, drag many along with him,—and self-recovery, under such circumstances, is scarcely ever possible."

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The preparations are making for the new census.

The next number of the National Era will contain a notice of its suspension, after two more numbers are issued.

There is a fair prospect that Kansas will be admitted this session under the Wyandotte constitution.

[It ought to be: but we don't believe it will be.]

☞ In the U. S. Senate Tuesday, March 13, on motion of Mr. Sumner, a resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on the District of Columbia to consider the expediency of doing something to improve the condition of the common jail in Washington city. He said he had visited that jail and found it nothing more nor less than a human stye, and since the Senate had undertaken to send a citizen there, it was its duty to make it fit for human beings to live in.

After a slight debate the Homestead bill was made the special order for Thursday, by yeas 31, nays 23.

The bill amending the act for the establishment of the Court of Claims was taken up.

An amendment was adopted that in all cases adjudged by the Court for a claimant, the same shall be paid in conformity with the provisions of the fifth section of this act, unless in cases involving a larger sum than $3000; and the Solicitor of the United States shall carry the same by appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States within six months from the passage of this act.

The bill was passed by yeas 34, nays 16.

The Military Academy bill was taken up. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Sherman, from the Committee of Ways and Means, asked leave to introduce a bill providing for the redemption of outstanding treasury notes and authorizing a loan and regulating the duties on imports.

Objection was made by Messrs. Cobb and McQueen.

Mr. Adams, from the Post Office Committee, made an adverse report on the bill for the selection of deputy postmasters by the people. Laid on the table.

Mr. Colfax, from the Post Office Committee, reported a bill for the suppression of the unlawful collection and delivery of letters. It was drawn up by the Post Office department, and provides that it shall not be lawful for any persons, except those appointed for the purpose under the existing law, to establish or keep a post office or letter office for the reception of letters or the conveyance to a Post Office. The offence is punishable by a fine of $300 to a principal, and $100 to assistants, for each offence. This is not to affect hotel keepers or storekeepers nearest the Post Office, or the legitimate business of express companies. Referred to the Committee of the Whole.

[This is a contemptible, unconstitutional bill, and ought not to pass. It is an attempt at petty tyranny.]

Mr. Kellogg of Illinois remarked that at an early period of the session he referred to the vile and villainous attack upon him by the New York Tribune. He then said Mr. Greeley was again and again with other Republicans in consultation in the parlor of Judge Douglas, planning and scheming for the re-election of Mr. Douglas to the Senate. He now sought the floor for the purpose of making good the statement by the production of proofs and arguments.

Mr. McClernand replied, exhorting his colleague to forbear his crusade on Mr. Douglas, who was beyond his malice. The charges now repeated were formerly promptly met both by Mr. Douglas and Mr. Greeley.

The Committee rose and the House adjourned.

DOMESTIC TROUBLE ON ACCOUNT OF RELIGIOUS FAITH.—There was considerable trouble at Albany, the latter part of last week, in consequence of the renunciation of the Catholic faith by a young lady about eighteen years of age, named Mary E. Scott. She had been employed for some time at the Orphan Asylum, and having been a constant attendant at Washington Avenue Mission, she became a convert. On learning this fact, her family became highly incensed, and her father, an aged man, was so enraged that he procured a pistol and went to the Mission on Friday, and threatened to take her life. Fortunately the pistol was not loaded, and Mr. Scott was arrested and put under bonds to keep the peace. But the affair did not stop here, for twenty to thirty men, and from fifteen to twenty women, attended the church where Mary was present, on Friday evening, and, at the close of the services, attempted a personal assault upon her as she was leaving the church. She was protected by her friends, however, until a posse of police arrived, who had a hard fight with the mob before the young lady could be taken to her residence in safety.

☞ Mr. Lanergan, the fire-works maker, who lately died of a wound at Cambridge, was a freemason, and also a Roman Catholic. The Boston Journal says of him—

"Mr. Lanergan, although a prominent member of the masonic order, was still a devoted follower of the Church of Rome, and on the day of the accident, sent for the priest, who administered to him the sacrament. Before the performance of this ceremony, however, Mr. Lanergan renouced the oaths which bound him to the masonic order, as under no other circumstances would the priest receive his confession."

A PUZZLE.—The following is a little ancient, but it is very good:

SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.—One of the papers suggests that the brothers Blackwell married Antoinette Brown and Lucy Stone, for the purpose of taming those strong-minded women. It is much more probable, as neither of the parties believe in marriage, that they made the experiment to see what it was worth. From the present position of affairs, it appears to have succeeded; and the ladies are doing "as well as could be expected."

☞ Joseph D. Kelley, of Bow, N. H., a single man, aged 35, was found dead about 150 rods from his father's house, in Bow, under a small pine, with a gallon jug near his side partly filled with rum, and a pint bottle in his pocket filled with rum. An empty phial was also found in his pocket.—It is supposed that he carried in this phial poison, which he had taken together with the rum.

☞ In Newburyport Benj. Robertson, for selling liquor to two boys, on Sunday, was sentenced on Monday to pay a fine of $10 and costs, to be confined in the House of Correction at Ipswich for 20 days, and the term to be extended 30 days if fine and costs are not paid.

☞ Mr. Burlingame's mother died six weeks since in Salem, Lynn county, Oregon, where her husband has resided for many years.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The government has been informed that the steamer Brooklyn, at New York, is now ready for sea.

Minister McLane will probably leave here on Thursday to embark for Vera Cruz. It is considered important that he should reach there as soon as possible, in view of the reported intention of the Miramon party to blockade that port, which will certainly be resisted on the part of the United States.

Col. Forney says the rumor that Mr. Boynton has absconded, with a portion of the funds of the House of Representatives, is not true. Not a dollar of the money entrusted to the Clerk, ever reached his hands.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The steam boiler of the Atlantic foundry, exploded yesterday, killing the engineer, John Haselton, and seriously injuring four others, two of whom it is feared, fatally.

Storeship Supply, Commander Henry Walker, 46 days from St. Paul de Loando, arrived here this afternoon, with passengers, invalids, &c., from the African squadron.

Jemmy Massey, one of the pugilists who took part, last summer, in the fight between Price and Kelley, was arrested last night. He showed fight to the officers, but was quieted at the sight of a revolver. City Judge Russel has issued a habeas corpus in his case.

☞ The eccentric Parson Brownlow of Tennessee thus defines his position with respect to Presidential candidates:

We cannot tell, in advance, who will be nominated by the Republicans at Chicago, or by the Democrats at Charleston. The presumption is, however, that Seward and Douglas will be the nominees. We cannot countenance Seward, because he is a scoundrel, and avows it. We cannot countenance Douglas, because he is a scoundrel, and denies it.

FINANCES OF VIRGINIA.—Richmond, Mar. 12.—The Governor's message, showing that the financial emergencies of the Commonwealth require further extension of the session, the Legislature accordingly have resolved to extend it to the 2d of April. The appropriations of the present session are estimated at an excess of $5,000,000.

All censure of others is oblique praise of self. It is uttered in order to show how much the speaker can bear. It has all the invidiousness of self-praise and the reproach of falsehood.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 11 1859.

MESSRS. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and painful recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skillful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was followed by a painful boil, and sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute suffering, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters. There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, emetics, tonics, etc. Now everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none has been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters"—Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., Pa., Aug. 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and nervous prostration, &c. and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. M. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such satisfaction as your cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

R. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen.—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

Yours, &c., JAMES LEWIS, M. D.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w

Local.

☞ Our report of the Election stated this city, generally, as unusually quiet during the day. We are told, however, that down in Ward Three there was considerable drunkenness, and some consequent noise and fighting.

And in the evening, though the party which "won the day" decided not to take any music with them on their visit to the successful candidates, and made no other noise than cheers—yet a gang of fellows belong to some other party, got out a drum and fife, and evinced their patriotism by hooting and bawling about town for some time. An alarm of fire was also given just before 9 o'clock; which did not become general, however.

And about midnight, another attempt was made to get up an alarm—and a lot of outrageously noisy chaps, (said to be the same above mentioned with the drum and fife accompaniment,) dragged out Atlantic Engine, No. 6, and brought it down State street to Market Square, where being met and remonstrated with by the Watchmen, they returned by way of Congress and Chesnut streets,—making noise enough to carry on two good fires. Judging from appearances, there was more to be feared from their own internal fires, than from any other conflagration which threatened; and such men would seem poorly fitted to protect a city or have charge of a valuable tub.

☞ The Boston Journal learns by a gentleman from Lawrence, that the statement that another body had been found in the ruins of the Pemberton Mills, is entirely without foundation. The rumor arose from a mass of sizing being found, which some imaginative individuals transformed into the remains of a human body.

STEAMER BURNT.—New Orleans, Mch. 13.—The steamer Judge Porter, from Montgomery for New Orleans, was burnt this morning on Lake Ponchartrain, a mile from her wharf. Her crew were saved, but ten passengers were drowned or are missing. Her cargo, consisting of 800 bales of cotton, together with the boat, is a total loss. There is a partial insurance.

☞ A correspondent from Boston, writing to one of the Baptist papers in New York, asserts that the labors of Rev. Mr. Knapp in the Baldwin Place Church for the past few months has resulted disastrously to that church; and it is said that Rev. Mr. Belcher, the pastor, will resign his charge.

Mrs. Dr. Lydia Sayer Hasbrouck's "Sibyl" for the last fortnight is out, and contains only two advertisements. Here is one of them:

Conjugal Partner Wanted.—Reform Lady, under thirty, with dark eyes and plump forms—please address B. R., Coventry, R. I. N. B.—Correspondence strictly confidential. Good references given.

If there are any "reform ladies," with dark eyes and plump forms" in this vicinity, they will please take notice.—Post.

☞ It is somewhat remarkable that every representative who voted against the Homestead bill, represents constituencies south of Mason and Dixon's line, except Mr. Montgomery of Pennsylvania: and the only man who voted for it south of that line was Mr. Craig of Missouri.

CLEVELAND, March 13.—The dwelling of Humphrey Owens, a few miles south of Salem, Ohio, was destroyed by fire this morning. Five children perished in the flames.

☞ A gentleman in Exeter, advertised over his own signature, in the newspapers, "soliciting the votes of the inhabitants for the office of collector for the coming year." This is the Southern and Western fashion—and has much to recommend it.

THE MAN "WITHOUT AN ENEMY."—Heaven help the man who thinks he can dodge "enemies" by trying to please everybody! If such an individual ever succeeded, we should be glad to know it.

☞ There will be 4000 troops on the Mexican frontier before June. Only one regiment remains in Utah. Disturbances are feared as soon as the army leaves there.

WHO HAS LOST A BABY?—On Friday last, a female child, about 6 weeks old, was left at a gentleman's house on Water street in Exeter. As the holder of the child has no wife and is not used to nursing, it is to be hoped, that the town of Exeter will see that it is well cared for.—News Letter.

☞ At Lawrence, on Thursday, a young man named Kimball, but who has gone by the name of B. Frank Allen, belonging in Salem, N. H., was run over by a train of empty cars and instantly killed. Kimball was non compos, and heedlessly got in the way of the cars.

The Bangor Times of Saturday contained twelve columns from the recently issued novel entitled "The Bottomless Peck," alias the Peck Report. Its second installment is headed "Opening of the Second Seal!"—Bath Times.

☞ The Dover Gazette has been enlarged, furnished with new type, and improved generally.

The eccentric but brilliant John Randolph once rose up suddenly in his seat in the House of Representatives, and screamed out at the top of his voice: "Mr. Speaker! Mr. Speaker! I have discovered the philosopher's stone. It is—pay as you go!"

☞ Gross injustice is sometimes done under the forms of law. A very gross case of this kind is recorded in the New York Evening Post. Eight months ago an Irish lad, upon arriving in New York, was set upon by two bar-room politicians, beaten and robbed. The police, unfortunately for him, arrested his assailants, who were indicted, but set at liberty on bail, took an active part in the fall elections, (everybody knows what their activity implies,) and were only brought to trial on Tuesday of last week, when they were sentenced to the penitentiary for sixty and ninety days respectively.

The unfortunate lad who was robbed, however, being detained as a witness against them, and unable to obtain bonds for his appearance, has actually been in prison during the whole eight months—a severe penalty for being robbed, and one which will teach him to beware another time how he calls for the police, if any political ruffian attempts to take his life or property.

As a sort of offset to this, it may be mentioned that a well known pugilist having gotten into trouble last week by half murdering a man, the highest criminal judge in the city hastened to the station house where the suffering prize-fighter was detained, and had him set loose at once.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

Containing the news of the week, at home and abroad, as published in the six previous issues of the Daily Chronicle,—is printed on Friday morning, and immediately delivered by our carriers to subscribers in the city, or sent by mail to any part of the State or the world.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY,

Which is embodied in the exquisite proportions and luminous coloring of

TITIAN'S RECLINING VENUS.

Has for two centuries been the admiration of all beholders. Artists, connoisseurs, and the public will therefore by glad to learn that a magnificent Engraving, colored in oil, of the

PICTURE THAT ENCHANTS THE WORLD,

Has been issued by the undersigned, at a price which places it

WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.

Our Engraving is the only authentic copy ever published in America, of the

GEM OF THE DRESDEN GALLERY,

For which the government of Hanover paid

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

It represents the Goddess reclining on a couch and radiant with celestial loveliness. The warm lights and soft shadows which lend such a strange fascination to all the undraped divinities of Titian, are admirably reproduced in this picture, and the accessories, both in the foreground and background, enhance the general effect.

This picture is splendid without guadiness, warm without prudery, and brimful of the very soul of art. [New York Express.

It is the best piece of flesh coloring ever executed in this country. [New York Leader.

Engraver and colorist have produced a work of art that has the Titian tone, as well as the faultless outline of the bewitching original. [N. Y. Mercury.

The drawing, coloring and finish are beyond praise. [N. Y. Atlas.

It deserves a place in the "porte-feuille" of every admirer of the fine arts. [N. Y. Sat. Press.

READER—Inclose $2, and 15 cents in stamps, and you will receive by return mail, a gem of art, with an elegant gift.

E. A. STEVENS'

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

OLD DOMINION COFFEE-POTS!!

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and savor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the favor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times.—Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S
PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of wasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES! — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

THE JEWS.—The Jews in the city of New York, amount to about forty thousand. They have twenty-one synagogues; and during the periods of their principal attendance on religious meetings, they have thirty or forty additional halls, which are resorted to in a greater or less degree. In the United States there are believed to be about two hundred thousand Jews; while according to a recent statement in an English publication, there are in all England only thirty-five thousand.

The Jews have always been friendly to learning, and, wherever and whenever they were able, have had schools for their children and youth, and seminaries for the prosecution of advanced studies. Their first object has always been to teach the Hebrew language, and then the Old Testament with the commentaries on it in their Rabbinical books. Learning is in high repute among the entire Hebrew people, although in certain countries the mass of them possess very little of it in consequence of disabilities and persecutions in various forms. Whoever considers the suffering they have endured, must wonder at the perseverance shown by them in the cultivation of learning. While protestants deserve the credit of establishing the system of common schools at the time of the Reformation, Jews and Mahommedans have always maintained them, in some degree at least—the former in almost all countries where they lived, and the latter even in the interior of Africa, among the negro nations, whom they had converted.

Jews have been attracted to the United States by the privileges they enjoy; and they sometimes call our country the "Promised Land," as here they do not cast under his own vine and his own fig tree, "with none to molest or make them afraid."—The Century.

The Senate investigating committee, we are told, are afraid to summon Gov. Wise to testify concerning the John Brown raid. We should think that they would be. If they expect to get through before August, they had better not get him started either upon a letter or a speech.—Atlas.

The more enemies a man has, the more careful he is of his character. "I haven't an enemy in the world," is the boast of the driveller and sluggard.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body; and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercle; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must purify the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is compounded from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND EFFUSIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC ERUPTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, EXTERNAL ULCERS OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "purifying the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that almost within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human mass, purifying its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the long lingering complaints with pain, or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be found they are all genuine.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst. has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hale falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the preservation of their wives by profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald.

Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. ALEXANDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I feel it to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all!

Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1831, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a remedy.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; and the large holds about 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during more than 40 years of his early and practice of medicine. Price $1,00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Costive cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Stephen Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely." MARY A. BUTTERICK.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. BUTTERICK.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines together, though I have used many articles." FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 8, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed breathing in consequence of their public labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, are a valuable remedy for them, I found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. LUCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign Patents to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of claims of any Patent furnished by return mail, for one Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it Inventors will find the best facilities for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, with the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they can employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 5, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, and I am satisfied I am not alone have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made no fewer rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them. Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the cause of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infants' complaints will show, the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as INFLAMMATORY COLIC, Inflamed and Swollen gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure remedy. For Cold in the Head, it is a sure remedy. For Cough, Croup, and all other fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we cannot too strongly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we can afford to pay for the high all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, on behalf of it, what we have never been able to say of any other article, NEVER IN ONE INSTANCE HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE CASE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tried it. On the contrary, all are delighted, and speak in terms of the highest commendation of its magic effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we know, after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the truth of what we here declare. In almost every instance where pain and exhaustion have suffered for hours and minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES and EXPERIENCED and has been used with in New England and MANY THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but it also invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives health to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in the death of the child. We believe there is no medicine in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN EQUAL TO IT, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your child suffer, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, we pledge our reputation, that if you will follow the use of this medicine, if directed for using will accompany it, you will be SATISFIED. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

LOTTERIES.

THE LOTTERIES OF

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of are authorized by the Legislature of either State.

A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and at Augusta, Ga. All orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $50 to $50,000.

Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A circular showing the plan of receiving it. All communications strictly confidential.

Write your address plainly and direct to

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Wilmington, Delaware.

Or to WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Augusta, Georgia.

☞ All letters to our address will be promptly acknowledged—and prizes cashed without delay.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Those who prefer not sending money by mail, can use the "ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY," whereby money for tickets, in sums of ten dollars, and upwards, can be sent us from any city or town where they have an office. The money and order must be enclosed in a "GOVERNMENT POST OFFICE STAMPED ENVELOPE," or the Express Company cannot receive them.

AT OUR RISK AND EXPENSE,

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of phiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a pulmonary tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will fix your health in a manner satisfactory and lasting and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and speedy relief. A benefit is already experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may be cured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the limbs and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS,

The Chronicle Office is open from 4 o'clock in the morning till 8 in the evening; and advertisements, notices, &c., duly authenticated and authorized by responsible parties, may be left in the drop-box in the street-door, after the office is closed—and will be inserted next morning if necessary or desired.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-houses, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door; or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ Some women can talk: and a few of them seem very fond of talking. A lively down easter in Washington, who sometimes writes letters to the Newburyport Herald, has been to the President's reception, where he saw sights. He says:

It was painful to observe that the ladies had injudiciously expended all their money for jewelry, so that they were obliged to curtail their dress paterns to an alarming extent, nearly all of them being naked above their arm-pits. When the band began to tune up, preparatory to the grand promenade in the "East Room," a malicious friend of ours asked us if we would like a partner, saying he would introduce us to some of the most intelligent ladies in the district. As we were trotted up to her, our first thought was that she was old enough to know something—and she did know everything, and insisted on telling us all she knew.

She was a perfect walking encyclopedia; and as we revolved in our orbit, round and round the central sun of the big chandelier, she began at A, and talked right on about algebra, botany, conchology, demonology, ethnology, fortifications, gasworks, history, Indian affairs, jugglery, Kansas, love, medicine, naturalization, optics, pugilism, Quakers, rum drinking, statuary, tadpoles, "Uncle Tom," Van Buren, Washington, Texas, Yucatacan and Zanzibar.

Ye gods, how that woman did talk!—But we made her the instrument of our private revenge, for we introduced her to Judge H., who is our opponent here in some matters before the departments; and as he didn't come down to breakfast this morning, we are consoling ourselves with the hope that she talked him to death.

In default of more excitable topics, the quid nunes are having a deal of sport in watching a line of telegraph which has been established in the House between an 'honorable' member and a wealthy lady, as frail as fair, who is a daily visitor in the gallery. They keep up a correspondence with their fingers, in the deaf and dumb alphabet, not thinking that perhaps a hundred people in the Hall can understand it, as well as themselves. When the stupid speeches before the House have not been worth taking down, some of the reporters have turned their attention to our pseudo deaf and dumb friends, and oh, what domestic music, and in what a high key, would be made in two families here, should they publish their notes in full.

FALLING OF A CHANDELIER IN A CHURCH.—Shortly after the congregation which had been attending services at the Universalist church, at Melrose, had left the building on Sunday evening, a large chandelier, which had been recently hung, fell, from some imperfection in the fastening, and was completely demolished. The lamps were filled with spirit gas, which set fire to the carpet and wood work adjoining, but the flames were speedily extinguished.

When Hon. Salmon P. Chase, of Ohio, becomes a member of the United States Senate, on the fourth of March 1861, seven of the members of that body will be natives of this State: Messrs. Chase, Grimes, Chandler, Hale, Clark, Fessenden and Wilson. All of these are Republicans. A pretty good exhibition of sons of New Hampshire, when one considers that the population is not much above 300,000.—N. H. Statesman.

☞ Mr. Francis Dunbar, a young man of 26 years, was burned to death at the destruction of Page & Richardson's Chemical Works, in East Boston, on Friday morning. Some casks of oil burst, and the burning liquid, running down hill, set fire to a house, in which Dunbar was saving furniture, and from which he had not time to escape. He leaves a wife and child.

☞ The will of John G. Boker, the father-in-law of John Dean, the coachman who eloped with "his own Mary Ann," about three years ago, has been offered for probate in the New York Court. One clause cuts "Mary Ann" off from all share in the large property.

☞ A boy 13 years old has been arrested in New York for setting fire to his father's house four times, in order to see the fire-engines play!

Health is the fountain of every blessing; for, without this, we could not relish the most exquisite pleasure or enjoy the most desirable objects.

☞ The citizens of Salem are agitating the subject of a Public Gymnasium for that city.

Thirst may be quenched by dipping the clothing in salt water, and putting it on without wringing.

He who calls a man ungrateful, sums up all the evil that a man can be guilty of.

Life is a farce to the rich, a comedy to the wise, and a tragedy to the poor.

Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.
In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated
If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business the past years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1860.

SENT BACK.—The return from Virginia, of Mr. Memminger of South Carolina, the ambassador, is duly commented upon by the papers of his beloved but dissatisfied State. The Charleston Mercury thinks, on the whole, that the decision of Virginia is just what ought to have been expected. "What right," it says, "have we to expect Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, Missouri, to bear the brunt of the struggle in which we are much more vitally interested. They may live and thrive without slavery." The abolition of the institution there, is declared to be merely "a question of expediency—a choice of different instrumentalities of prosperity." But with the cotton States, says this journal, it is wholly a different question, inasmuch as slavery is to them absolutely indispensable. These States must, therefore, in the great work of disunion, rely neither upon Northern parties nor upon the Southern frontier States, but must lead off boldly, trusting the latter will follow.

Still, our Southern contemporary deprecates this decision of Virginia. It says: "In our opinion it insures the election of a Black Republican to the Presidency."

N. H. ELECTION.—The Wednesday night dispatch from Concord gives Goodwin 34,557, Cate 29,614. The majority for Goodwin in 186 towns is 4943. There are still 40 towns to be heard from, which will probably carry the majority to about 5000.

Gov. Goodwin's vote bids fair to be a little larger than any former Governor has received. Fremont, for President, received 37,591.

THE PURITANS.—By Samuel Hopkins. Vol. II. Messrs. Gould & Lincoln.

This is the second volume of Mr. Hopkins' book, the first of which has attracted much attention, and received much well deserved praise. He calls it a history of the Church, Court and Parliament of England during the reign of Edward VI. and Queen Elizabeth. The style of it is peculiar, the history being developed in a series of scenes and conversations such as might be supposed to have taken place at the time, and drawn from the old histories and chronicles, to which the author makes such constant reference, that the reader can judge for himself of their truth and probability. This form of writing is of course, liable to some objections, but it gives a spirit and reality to the narrative, which is very attractive. The history of the Puritans is the main thread running through the whole, and which all the rest is designed to make plain. This volume brings the history down to 1584-5. The first volume was read with great avidity, and doubtless many readers are all ready for this new one. It is beautifully printed and finished in every respect.

Having examined and enjoyed the first volume, we welcome the second, as a valuable book for every man who wishes to understand the real origin of free thought, speech and action, in Old England, and in the New.

☞ Senator Seward subscribes $50 towards the Statue of Horace Mann. Charles Sumner subscribes $100, and says in his letter to Dr. Howe:—

Were I able, it should be ten times as large. If each person in Massachusetts who has been benefited by the vast and generous labors of Mr. Mann—each person who hates intemperance, and also hates slavery—each person who loves education, and also loves humane efforts for the prisoner, the poor, and the insane—should contribute a mite only, then his statute would be of gold. Why not at once appeal to good men, and insist upon organization throughout the Commonwealth, reaching into every school district, so that all may have an opportunity to contribute. Pray do this, and if I can serve you in any way about it, command me.

☞ The Chicago Press states that a citizen of Napierville, Ill., recently bought some poison at a drug store to kill some dogs, and at the same time procured some chewing gum for his children. By mistake he gave the poison to his children and the gum to his dogs, in consequence of which, not only his children, but his wife were killed by partaking of the poison, and he is himself dangerously ill from the same cause.

☞ The shoe manufacturers of Marblehead have published a manifesto, stating that they will not accede to the demands of the strikers; and the latter have issued a card, in which they say they will not work until the bill of prices is signed.

THE APRIL GODEY, is indeed a sample American magazine,—in beauty and variety rarely if ever equalled. "Spring," a steel engraving, is beautiful. "Tea," an illustrated article, and many others. Seventy-five engravings in all.

☞ Rev. J. I. T. Coolidge, late of Boston, was admitted to the Holy Order of the priesthood, according to the usual forms of the Episcopal Church, at Providence, R. I., on Wednesday.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Wednesday, March 14, on motion of Mr. Fessenden, the bill to increase and regulate the pay of the Navy, and the bill to modify the sea service and pay of pursers in the Navy, were recommitted to the Committee on Naval Affairs, with instructions to inquire into the expediency of reporting a bill establishing the pay of each grade of officers per annum in dollars and cents, with an increase at stated periods up to 20 years of service.

The Military Academy bill was taken up. The pending amendment of Mr. Hale, to reduce the regular army by one regiment of mounted troops when the proposed regiment of volunteers for Texas shall have been raised, was defeated.

Mr. Wigfall's amendment, making appropriation for a regiment of mounted volunteers for the defence of the frontier of Texas, was adopted.

Mr. Fessenden moved an amendment, fixing the term of study at West Point at four years, but afterwards withdrew it.

Mr. Lane renewed Mr. Fessenden's motion fixing the term of study at four years, and argued in its favor. The amendment was rejected.

On motion of Mr. Fessenden, Mr. Wigfall's amendment was reconsidered for the purpose of taking the yeas and nays. It was then adopted—yeas 37, nays 19.

The bill was then passed—41 to 11.

On motion of Mr. Bayard the bill for the protection of female passengers was taken up and passed. Adj.

In the House, Mr. Hickman reported a resolution, instructing the Committee on the Judiciary to inquire what legislation is necessary to protect citizens of one State going into another.

Mr. McQueen desired to offer an amendment, and the subject was passed over.

Mr. Hickman reported resolutions, which were passed, directing inquiry by the Committee on the Judiciary as to by what authority army force is employed as posse comitatus; also, to report on the legality of slavery in the Territories; on the propriety of paying the claimants in the Amistad case; also what legislation is necessary to insure the faithful execution of the provisions of the Constitution in reference to the rendition of fugitives from justice; also, to report a bill providing that no claimant of a seat in Congress shall be allowed a salary unless his claim is allowed; also, calling on the Secretary of the Interior for a statement of the accounts of a Mr. Pine, late U. S. Marshal for Illinois, and whether he has been a defaulter.

Mr. Nelson reported a bill making polygamy a penal offence, and declaring the Mormon law null and void. After debate, the bill and report were ordered to be printed.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, and took up the Consular and Diplomatic bill, a provision of which, appropriating $50,000 for the suppression of the African slave trade, elicited some debate.

An amendment making the latter applicable to the rendition of fugitive slaves, and not to apply at all to the education of the Africans reclaimed from the brig Echo, was rejected.

The bill was then laid aside and the Indian appropriation bill taken up.

Mr. Curry made a speech contending that slavery was a great social, political and humanitarian fact.

Mr. Vance made a speech justifying slavery.

Mr. Leach of Michigan argued that the administration Democrats from the free States are pro-slavery in sentiment. Outside of the Democratic party, nobody could be found so low and destitute of the feeling of humanity as to engage in the detestable business of hunting the panting fugitive.—The President and the Democrats in Congress sanction disunion as well as slavery.

☞ Dr. John Doy, who was liberated by force from jail in St. Joseph, Missouri, and who has seen much of life in Kansas, recounted his adventures, sufferings and trials at Boston, Wednesday evening. Joseph Gardner, the fighting Quaker, and Wendell Phillips, also spoke.

The much-talked of "Hearthstone Club," in New York, is supposed to be the stick that the cook keeps near the fire-place, to "crack over" any small boys who may venture to invade her kitchen kingdom.

☞ Two old pictures which a New York gentleman took for a debt of $5 a number of years ago, have been discovered to be two of Rembrandt's series of the Apostles, and they are to be sent, to France for sale. Two thousand dollars have been offered for them in New York.

A stick of pine timber was cut off the Megalloway River, last week, measuring one hundred and sixteen feet in length, and scaling nearly six thousand feet of lumber. Such trees are not common.—Bangor Whig.

The Legislature of Wisconsin has under consideration a bill which virtually abolishes all laws for the collection of debts. It was ordered to a third reading in the Assembly, and then sent to a special committee to be perfected.

Next to "twenty-four grains," there is nothing like a mean man's pocket to make a penny-wait.

☞ Rev. Dr. Bushnell will return to Hartford to reside as soon as the weather permits. His health has been improved by his winter in the clear, dry, highly electrified atmosphere of St. Paul.

☞ The Russian government has ordered a steam fire engine from this country for use at St. Petersburg.

☞ On Saturday, George Wakefield of Webster, Mass., was found dead near his own house. He had been missing for several days, and died from the effects of intemperance.

TOWN OFFICERS IN HAMPTON.—

Moderator, Meshach S. Akerman.
Town Clerk, John J. Leavitt.
Selectmen, Meshach S. Akerman, Oliver Towle, Jeremiah Lamprey.
Collector, Daniel Hobbs.

BEQUEST.—The Portland Republican understands that George W. Boyd, Esq., who died there a few days since, bequeathed all his property, even to the most minute article, to Bowdoin College, amounting to some $10,000.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE METHODIST ANNUAL CONFERENCE, embracing all New Hampshire and so much of Massachusetts as lies north of the Merrimack river, will hold its annual session in Manchester, commencing Wednesday, April 4, and continuing a week or more. Bishop Simpson, from the West, will preside. Connected with this conference are 113 clergymen, 90 in regular work, and the rest supernumary. Of the ninety, about two-thirds will be removed from their positions. The appointments are made at this Conference, and the great religious and moral questions of the day are freely discussed, and the general plan of the year's work mapped out.

THE STEAMER MOHICAN.—A letter to the Boston Herald, from a correspondent on board the U. S. steam sloop Mohican, at sea, Jan. 30, in lat. 33.38, lon. 38,18, says:

We left New York on the 18th inst., and have made a fine run, being now within five days of the Cape Verde Islands, our first stopping place. The Mohican proves herself an excellent sailer. Her engines are also perfectly satisfactory. The weather is beautiful, and has been ever since we crossed the Gulf Stream. We only steamed two days, and have had favorable winds ever since.

The above paragraph, Mr. Chronicle, from a Boston paper, (all which are supposed not to be particularly favorable to Portsmouth Navy Yard,) in relation to the fine steam sloop Mohican, recently built at this Yard, confirms the expectations of those engaged in the construction, as well as those who predicted that she would prove herself equal and perhaps superior to either vessel of the same class built at other Yards throughout the country. That some of these have proved failures, our readers well know; one recently launched at Mare Island, Cal., at a cost of $200,000, is pronounced unfit for sea-service. We think Uncle Sam, as he looks over the list and reads the names of the Congress, Portsmouth, Mohican, and many other crack ships of his little fleet, will one of these days realize the fact that Piscataqua mechanics can and do build, at a less cost, better government ships than those patched up at any other naval station. *

☞ We suppose editors of newspapers must allow all subscribers to criticize their paper; but those who borrow, beg or steal their reading, might as well keep their fault-finding to themselves. It is about equal to paupers complaining of taxes; or pot house politicians, who, if they own a pew, never enter it, censuring ministers for going "out of their sphere."

☞ Kittery town meeting was held on Monday. The general run of the Democratic votes was 268; of the Republicans 176. This of course elected the whole Democratic ticket, as follows:

Moderator, Moses A. Safford.
Town Clerk—Jefferson T. Lewis.
Selectmen—Daniel Pierce, Isaac D. Phillips, George B. Preble.
Town Treasurer—Thomas O. Hoyt.
Town Agent—Moses A. Safford.
Sup. School Committee—Jas. H. Rowell.

☞ We are told, on good authority, that the fire at the old Sugar House, on Bow street, a few weeks since, was distinctly seen in Great Falls; and also in Wakefield, about 40 miles distant in a straight line.—The river doubtless acted as a mirror, in reflecting the great light.

The virtue of a coward is suspicion.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOLTON, MASS. June 1, 1859.

MESSRS. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed in the middle of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings from which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously seen and tried myself the advice of scientific and skillful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had given five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute sufferings, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters. There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, emetics, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters"—Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug. 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it to general Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs.

F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last three years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a b

Local.

CITY COUNCIL,—MARCH 15.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, the Clerk being absent, S. G. Folsom, (having resumed his seat,) was elected Clerk pro tem.

A petition, numerously signed, was presented, asking that the name of Islington street be changed to Congress—so that the two, one in fact, be alike in name.

HEARING BEFORE THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The County Commissioners were in session in this city, on Thursday, engaged in hearing the evidence in support of the petition of certain parties at the west end for the extension of State street from its present western terminus to Cass street. Several witnesses were heard, and the proposed location examined. The hearing is upon an appeal from the action of the Mayor and Aldermen, refusing to lay out the street. W. H. Y. Hackett appeared for the petitioners. A. R. Hatch for city.

POLICE COURT.

Before Justice Odell, March 15.—James Happonny was accused of unlawfully and knowingly raising a false cry of fire on Tuesday night. Plea not guilty. Case continued to March 19.

Before Justice Rollins.—Moses Dustin was accused of threatening his wife, Thirza, with beating, bruising, &c. Plea not guilty. Ordered to find $200 bail for appearance at Court, and for good behaviour. Went to jail, because no responsible person would be safe on his bond.

☞ A veteran Democratic friend strongly objects to our statement that the brawlers of Tuesday night "belong to some other party" than that which "won the day." Well, we are not particular—and don't blame anybody or any party for being ashamed of such patriots or partizans. We think we can safely set them down as belonging to the free rum party, at any rate, without injustice or cause of offence to anybody.

☞ A paper of shavings, with a card of matches which had been burned, was found on Thursday morning beneath the sill of the house of Mr. Daniel Fernald, in Manning street, at the South End; but whether placed there in an attempt to set fire, can hardly be determined.

☞ The Salem Register says:

The community will be glad to learn that Oliver Carlton, Esq., for so many years the able Principal of the Latin Grammar School in this city, is to return to Salem to reside, and to open a private school here.

He has made good proof of his thoroughness as a scholar, and his ability as a teacher, during his residence in Portsmouth.

☞ In reference to the Lectures proposed to be given, by Grace Greenwood and others—it has been deemed best to make no movement of the sort till another season.

WASHINGTON ITEMS, March 16.—The Treasury Department is still in conflict with the President on the subject of the Tariff. Mr. Cobb is bitterly opposed to any increased duties on iron.

All the officers and employees in Boltimore Custom House who voted for Douglas delegates have been dismissed.

Hon. J. M. Hamilton of Texas has addressed a letter to the Hon. Mr. Fouke, of Illinois, advocating the nomination of Judge Douglas at Charleston. He contends that Douglas has not only been consistent, but is the only available candidate for the South. He reviews the territorial question, and concludes it is an abstraction, as the South has not slaves sufficient to develop her own wealth without sending them into distant territories.

CHARLESTON CONVENTION—PROPOSED CHANGE OF PLACE.—Washington, Mar. 14.—It is in serious contemplation to change the location of the Democratic Convention to New York, in consequence of the exorbitant hotel charges at Charleston.

COURT HOUSE WIT. A jury recently imprisoned in the Boston Court House, were singing "Old Hundred" to while away the time—when a wag suggested that they should all unite in the familiar verse,

"Lord, dismiss us with thy blessing."

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Republic newspaper has issued its last number, and the National Era will also be discontinued after next week for want of sufficient patronage. An effort will be made to unite the subscription lists of the two, on which to found a new Republican paper.

Advices have been received here from Nebraska, claiming a Republican majority in the Constitutional Convention, just elected.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS. Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

E. A. STEVENS'

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

OLD DOMINION COFFEE-POTS!!

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water introduced as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffe below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times. Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S

PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of wasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

A FREAK OF NATURE.—A prominent lawyer of Boston was recently excommunicated from one of the fashionable churches simply because nature displayed one of her unaccountable freaks in his house, by confining his wife and servant girl at the same moment. The mothers and children are doing well, but one of the infants made so much noise in the world, and its mother was so eager for an allowance, that the church was compelled to take some action, and excommunication followed. It is said that the scene between the wife and the servant girl, when matters could no longer be concealed, was decidedly rich. "Girl," said the wife, indignantly, "you are like to become a mother." "The same to you, marm," replied the girl, with admirable independence. "But I am married, and my husband will support me and my child," replied the lady. "Faith, I ain't married, but your husband will support me and my child also, or I'll know the reason why," replied the servant; and thereupon there was so much excitement in the house, that both parties were suddenly taken sick, just three weeks earlier than anticipated. Of course there has been much talk and no little fun over the occurrence.—Boston Herald.

Nothing is easier than to grow rich. It is only to trust nobody; to befriend none; to heap interest upon interest, cent upon cent; to destroy all the finer feelings of nature, and be rendered mean, miserable despised for twenty or thirty years; and riches will come as sure as disease, disappointment and a miserable death.

☞ The Rev. Mr. Neal, in a late lecture, said one of the happiest and proudest men he had ever known, was a seller of clams.

A few weeks ago a chap who was peddling "Helper's Impending Crisis" in Vermont, was attacked by a bear, and badly bitten. The bear soon after died—the peddler is living yet.—N. H. Register.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being the channel which pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor leaves one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and dirty habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending—from parents to children, unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, produces the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One-quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system, purify and renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the removal of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, BOILS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR THE DOLOROUREX, DYSPEPSIA OR LIVER COMPLAINT AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from impurity of the blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood, and a thorough purgative and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating property pervades the whole system, and invigorates every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. It is a valuable property these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and efficacious.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The physician below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thru upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has maintained its lofty trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world are speaking of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and pronouncing it the most unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 16th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years, the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dye. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hair and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who have the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald.

Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LEVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Siamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all!

Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage!! but one of which I send you certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and sufficient for most cases; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds about forty per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Cancer in the stomach, Ulcers in the throat, diseased eyes, and all imparities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Honeset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried during the whole term of his long and lucrative practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual cathartic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a vest from that disease to procure them to use." MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. EBENEZER C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and inconvenient voice, in public services. I wish this my card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, N. H. are valuable medicinally. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. EZ. STEARNS, Jun.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. THOMAS CURRIER.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

THOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these incomparable medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, resigned in 1857.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign patents, to ascertain the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent Published, forwarded on One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but many of its inventors have advantage for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that a no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Edy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, and but one of which has yet have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part I can recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on average rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prepare for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING: such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, SICKNESS, lancing the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, its superiority is unknown; you can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that it has enabled us to warrant to your interests as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most economical medicine. Each bottle, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have NEVER CAN SAY OF ANY OTHER ARTICLE, that IN ALL THESE YEARS IT HAS NEVER FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, or did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tried it, all are delighted to speak in terms of the highest praise of its operations, and medical men, from their own experience, and a pledge of the chemists of what we know, after ten years of the most extensive sale, we can say, that in almost every instance where from pain and exhaustion the child has been worn down to a skeleton, this invigorates the stomach, regulates the bowels, and gives rest to the child from pain, but the mother herself, and her friends, will be the first to bear testimony to the astonishing effect it has upon the child, and the relief that ABSOLUTELY SURE this medicine, if properly dosed for using will accompany nine cases in ten, and in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN from teething, or from whatever cause, it is a valuable remedy. We have never heard of a single case in which it did not do good, and we do not hesitate to say to every mother who has a child suffering from any other preparations, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, to follow the use of this medicine, if the directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any symptoms of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are troubled with Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an invigorating remedy, by taking only ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sufficient to cure it, and bring it into a healthy and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A bottle is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weakness, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, will find a speedy and certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and colour and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the not-receiving their Chronicle, and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to furnish duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores open at any time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door or if necessary to the door-step, but not be hung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will hereafter also, renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door

BURLEIGH VS. THE BLACK LIST.—In a late letter from New York to the Boston Journal, "Burleigh" says:

The most contemptible of all the black-mail rascalities of New York is the black-list dodge. It consists in levying contributions on leading merchants of New York, on pain of being put in the "black-list" at the South as an "abolition house." A leading gentleman—a well known Democrat—the other day received a letter from Alabama, asking for the standing of a house in New York reported to be a "Republican house." The firm were quite astonished to find themselves in that catalogue, as they were all out-and-out adamantine Democrats. As the thing had not been done before, it was thought worth while to poll the house and see how the employees stood; and it was found that all the persons engaged in the store were Democrats but two, and those were the porters. Some time before a person had attempted to collect $50, and had not been successful. As the result of this refusal, this house was handed in to the black list.

If the Southern statesmen, patriots and high minded merchants have any regard for their good name, or one spark of honor, they will put an immediate end to this infamous traffic. In the Southern list of "reliable houses" are some of the rankest and most ultra anti-slavery men; and in the "black list" many of the truest friends the South ever had can be found."

THE CROW.—In an article on winter birds, we have this defense in the Atlantic Monthly:—

He consumes in the course of the year vast quantities of grubs, worms, and noxious vermin; he is a valuable scavenger, and clears the land of offensive masses of diseased animal substances; he hunts the grain fields, and pulls out and devours the underground caterpillars, whenever he perceives the signs of their operations, as evinced by the wilted stalks; he destroys mice, young rats, lizards, and the serpent; lastly, he is a volunteer sentinel about the farm, and drives the hawk from its inclosure, thus preventing greater mischief than that of which he himself is guilty. It is chiefly during seed time and harvest that the depredations of the crow are committed; during the remainder of the year we witness only his services, and so highly are these services appreciated by those who have written of birds, that I cannot name an ornithologist who does not plead in his behalf.

Here's Health for the Million!!
CLARKE'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS
Warranted Palatable and Healthy.
Composed of Dock Root, Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Rhubarb, Thoroughwort, Mandrake, &c. For General Weakness, Loss of Appetite, and an unhealthy state of the system.
Man cannot feel too thankful, that our all-wise Creator has so amply supplied us with the effectual means of preserving and regaining our health. This compound is a mild, effectual and regular Tonic, very pleasant to the palate, and exceedingly healthy invigorant.
Weakness.
The patient, trembling with lassitude and weakness after a slight exertion, by the use of a bottle or two of this very popular health-restorer, becomes imbued with new strength and increased energy. As it gives new life and action to the blood, and increases the appetite, on which strength receives its origin and depends.
Nervousness.
Weakness, with over-Exertion, is generally the origin of this horrendous disease. Use DR. CLARKE'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS, and you will be rendered perfectly self-possessed, calm and cheerful.
Broken Down Constitution.
Dr. Clarke's Sherry Wine Bitters are the very thing to give new life to the shackled frame, and energy to the enfeebled mind. For Mechanics, Farmers, Clergymen, and Public Men in general, no medicine can be better adapted for their purpose.
Try them!
All ye lovers of good Bitters and good health, and you will find them a cheap, effectual and pleasant remedy; and sold for the low price of 25 cents for a pint bottle.
25 cts. for a Pint Bottle. 42 cts. 1 qt; 75 cents 2 qts; and only $1,25 for 4 qts.

FIVE SPLENDID STRAWBERRIES.
HOOKER.—Very productive; large, beautiful, and of UNEQUALED QUALITY.
Wilson's A bany.—Exceedingly productive; FINE FOR MARKET.
Triomphe de Gand.—IMMENSE SIZE:—splendid appearance, and high flavor.
Pyramidal Chilian.—very handsome; productive; hardy and good flavor.
Large Early Scarlet.—THE EARLIEST; productive and excellent.
As it is impossible to secure all the excellencies of this most popular fruit in one variety, we offer the above, as comprising, in five sorts, the various points desirable.
We again confidently RECOMMEND the HOOKER, as by far the best for family use, if only one sort is to be planted—combining a greater number of excellencies than any other variety.
☞ All of the above have perfect flowers, and will produce excellent crops, if planted singly or together.
PRICES.—(Securely packed to be forwarded by express.)
Per 100 plants of any of the above varieties, $2,00

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability, and The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.
In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.
If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as "Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

SATURDAY, MARCH 17, 1860.

PROOF OF LIQUORS.

Messrs. Editors:—I wish every person would carry a piece of litmus paper in his pocket, (to be had at the apothecary stores) to test all of the rum, gin, brandy and whisky they may have an occasion to use, in any form, whether internally or externally, and see the amount of sulphuric acid (oil of vitriol) there is in that which they use.

It is frequently asked what produces the decay of the teeth of so many persons. Is it strange what does it, in part, at least, when it is known that so much oil of vitriol is brought in contact with the teeth through the different liquors used. Oil of vitriol is one ingredient of elixir vitriol, which is taken through a quill to avoid having it come in contact with the teeth. The eating of saleratus bread three times a day would not be sufficient to neutralize the acid taken into the stomach of those who drink constantly of these villainous compounds called whisky, rum, gin and brandy.

A large proportion, even of the highest-priced liquors, have an acid reaction, as shown by the litmus paper. This acid lodges between the teeth, settles into the small decayed places, and into the invisible seams in the teeth, which soon become visible from decay. Then, as is often the case, the person calls on the dentist to have a tooth filled, and to his surprise finds from six to twice that number need filling, and others soon follow.

A person who drinks these villainous liquors should have a glass of saleratus water at hand to rinse the mouth with immediately after drinking, to neutralize the remaining acid in the mouth. And then most of the acid has gone into the stomach, poisoning the blood, producing constipation, biliousness, headache, ultimately in some instances, ulceration of the bowels, and chronic diarrhea and death. Indeed much of the rum is not fit to bathe in, because it will rot all cotton and linen cloths, and make the skin rough, and if it is put on the hair it will render it dry and brittle. L.

PRENTICE ON ORIGINAL SIN.—Prentice, in the Louisville Journal, says:—

Miss Harriet Beecher, a woman of great ability, sister of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, and several other Beechers, has published a theological work, inquiring how sin came into the world. There are matters of more practical importance than that inquiry. If there is a pig in your garden, you had better busy yourself in driving it out than in speculating how it got in.

Indeed! but the saying is not original with Prentice; it is an old clerical joke, five times as old as he is. Besides, this question enters into every form of theology, heathen as well as christian; is pondered in every thinking mind; and in the several answers given to it, either strengthens hope or leads the way to despair.

KANSAS.—The Legislature of Kansas adjourned on the 27th ult., at midnight, having distinguished itself by granting many divorces, but with the rest of its business left in a very confused state. For want of the Governor's signature, the General Election bill, over which the Legislature had labored much, failed to become a law. As it provided for a registry of the voters of the Territory, Gov. Medary, who is constitutionally opposed to such formalities, was happy to find an excuse for overlooking the bill in the fact that it was not presented to him until near the close of the session. It is feared that this want of action leaves the Territory without any statute under which it can elect officers.

☞ By Overland Mail from California, we get news from San Francisco, Feb. 24.

Accounts from the agricultural districts say the wheat planting for the present is completed under such favorable circumstances that there has seldom been at this season a better prospect for the crops. The rains have been abundant, gentle and warm.

Over six hundred dollars were devoted to the Washington Monument Fund in San Francisco on the 22d, principally in small sums dropped in the boxes placed for that purpose at the Post Office.

The taxes for the ensuing year on real estate and personal property in San Francisco are fixed at 2 85-100 per cent. on each $100 valuation—about three per cent!

☞ It is said that while the U. S. Supreme Court at Washington is waiting for two or three of the southern judges to regain their health, the venerable Judge McLean of Ohio, will return temporarily to his circuit, to clear off some of the 2700 cases that have accumulated upon the docket. Judge McLean has the great northwestern territory to look after, and performs more labor than any two of his associates, while he does eight or ten times as much as some of the southern judges.

Happiness must arise from our own temper and actions, and not immediately from any external conditions.

LOSS OF SHIP LUNA AND 100 LIVES.—The reported catastrophe to the American ship Luna, outward bound to New Orleans, with a loss of upwards of one hundred lives, on the rocks off Barfleur, near Cherbourg, last Sunday, is unhappily confirmed. It was utterly imposible to go to the assistance of the ship and her living freight, the whole of whom, numbering one hundred and seven persons, perished. Two only reached the shore alive; one of them died almost immediately afterwards. The survivor, an Italian named Clement, stated that the ship sailed from Havre on the previous day, (Friday) and that there were on board seventy-six passengers, of whom forty-seven were men, twenty-seven women, and one child. The crew mustered twenty-six hands, besides a French cook for the passengers. Her cargo was of a general discription. The captain saw his imminent danger, when off Barbeaur, and attempted to beach the ship on a sand bank situated between Barfleur Church and the light house, where there might be a chance of saving the passengers, but in running for it the violence of the gale and heavy sea drove her on the rocks where her destruction followed. The coast is strewn with the wreck. Many bodies have been washed ashore.

☞ On the evening of the 5th of November last, a person named Rouse, alias Reeves, alias Riley, alias Rockwell, while in charge of two police officers from Syracuse, N. Y., jumped from the Hudson River Railroad ferry boat when approaching Albany and was drowned. He was a desperate fellow and a notorious thief and burglar. In Indiana he broke jail. In Cincinnati he committed a burglary. In Syracuse and Rochester he committed similar crimes, and in Jersey City he committed a burglary. He was arrested in Hudson, and was on his way to Syracuse when he made the fearful leap. The Albany Journal says that on Saturday morning his body was recovered at the foot of John Street, opposite that city. His handcuffs were on, showing that he must have perished from cold soon after plunging into the water. It was said that he had a valuable diamond pin in his shirt at the time, but that was not found—In his pockets were found 87 cents and nothing else of value.

☞ The Tennessee legislature having before it a proposition to remove the remains of Andrew Jackson and his wife from the Hermitage to the capitol grounds in Nashville, there to be honored with an imposing monument, the son of the old general writes to Gov. Harris that his father's dying request was to be allowed a peaceful and perpetual burial upon the old homestead. Gov. Harris transmits the letter to the legislature, with the request that it do not disturb the remains.

FAST.—The people of Augusta have just been surprised by the sudden disappearance of Mr. Albert B. Hall, bookseller. Only last summer, Mr. Hall came of age, and at the same time into the possession of $30,000. Since then he has lived fast and free, and one day last week he suddenly decamped, leaving his wife behind him. It is supposed that he has swamped all his property except his dwelling house, which he had given to his wife, and the small sum he was able to raise in a hurry on his stock of books.—Boston Journal.

☞ A jury in Parker, Texas, in the case of a man against whom the crime of horse-stealing was clearly proven, brought in a verdict of acquittal, because a handsome girl present had promised to marry him if he was acquitted, as the horse, for the stealing of which he was arraigned, was taken to carry off the fair Helen.

It is not worth while to bear what your servants say when they are angry; what your children say after they have slammed the door; what beggars say whom you have rejected from your door; what your neighbors say about your children; what your rivals say about your business or your dress.

LOVE.—Jeptha Horde, a young married man in Otsego county, N. Y., recently drowned himself for love of his wife's sister, whom he had seen only once.

MONS. Roger, the tenor singer, who lost his hand in Paris some time since, has fallen in love with a shoe that he saw at a shoemaker's, and married the proprietor of it.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.—The two things which conduce most to health and happiness, are labor and abstinence. But labor and abstinence are two things which mankind take most pains to avoid.

☞ Hon. John S. Wells, of Exeter, still continues quite sick. His condition is such that it is thought he will not be able to attend the Democratic National Convention, to which body he has been chosen a delegate. Hon. Daniel Marcy is the substitute delegate, and will undoubtedly attend the Convention.

☞ The U. S. Senate, Thursday, Mar. 15th, met at 12 P. M.; ten Senators present. No prayer was offered. The galleries contained thirteen gentlemen, but no ladies.

On Motion of Mr. Mason, a resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on Foreign Relations to inquire whether any and what legislation is necessary to carry more fully into effect certain treaty stipulations between the United States and China, Burmah and Siam.

On motion of Mr. Sumner, a resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on Finance to consider whether the numerous Custom House oaths now administered under acts of Congress may not with propriety be abolished, and simple declaration substituted therefore.

On motion of Mr. Benjamin the Senate considered the bill amending the existing laws relative to the compensation of the District Attorneys, Marshals and clerks of the U. S. Circuit and District Courts.

The bill was discussed and passed.

The House passed the Consular and Diplomatic appropriation bill, and Indian Appropriation bill.

Mr. Hamilton moved that the Military bill as returned by the Senate with amendments be referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, saying one of them was of great interest to Texas, and had already been considered by that committee, namely, calling out the Mounted Regiment.

Mr. Sherman desired that the bill should be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Stanton showed why it should be referred to the Military Committee.

Mr. Reagan said the subject required urgent action in view of the existence of hostilities on the Texas frontier, and supported the views of his colleague, Mr. Hamilton.

Pending the question on the reference, the House adjourned.

AMALGAMATION.—We see by the Boston Post that an amalgamation case of a somewhat exciting character has lately occurred at Bridgeport, Conn. The lady is a beautiful white widow, has two or three grown up children, possesses a large amount of property, and has just recovered $5000 insurance on her husband's life. Some months ago she was found to be intimate with a certain black man of Bridgeport, and such was the feeling created in the town that he went to New York, where he opened a restaurant. The widow was only prevented from following him by the interference of friends. At this she told them that they were already married, and that the ceremony was legally performed in New York, last Fall. The lady's friends, however, having received communications from the spirit world that she was insane, had her committed to the asylum, at Hartford; but no sufficient authority being shown for her detention, she was sent back, and after certificates were obtained from three Bridgeport physicians, declaring her to be insane, she was again returned.

Tuesday morning, however, her negro husband appeared at the Asylum to claim her, and as there were no grounds for detention, the negro sailed off with her in triumph. The case has created intense excitement in Bridgeport, and while the lady is described as quite handsome, if not beautiful, her husband is of ebony blackness.

Let this case of bad taste be passed round for what it is worth. It is just about as strong a case for the goodness of amalgamation, as the mulatto family case was for the goodness of slavery.

UTAH.—The report and bill of Mr. Nelson, on polygamy, is being printed. It affixes severe pains and penalties for the practice of polygamy in any of the Territories. It will come up for action in a few days. There is a majority of the House in favor of it.

Judge Eckles of Utah has resigned his seat on the bench, and report says Judges Sinclair and Cradlebaugh will also resign or be removed. There is a conflict of opinion between these judges and Gov. Cumming. It is said the Governor is a Mormon, and the judges are Gentiles—hence the dispute.

☞ On Friday forenoon the 11 o'clock passenger train over the Eastern Road from Salem, ran over an intoxicated Irishman, named Michael Murphy, of West Lynn, who was walking on the track between Swampscott and Salem. Murphy was twenty-eight years of age.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.—The extreme position which it seems certain that Southern Democratic leaders will soon require the party to occupy, had a depressing effect upon the New Hampshire branch of it, and was of essential service to the Republicans, not only through the canvass, but at the polls. But the Democracy of New Hampshire can endure what would grind the Republicans to powder; and in spite of the threatened incorporation of a new and extremely offensive plank into the Charleston platform, came up in solid column, and suffered like martyrs in a holy war.—N. H. Statesman.

☞ The "lady strikers" had a grand procession at Lynn, on Friday.

The moment a man takes it into his foolish head that he has what the world calls genius, he gives himself a discharge from the servile drudgery of all friendly offices, and becomes good for nothing, except in the pursuit of his favorite employment.—Cowper.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY,

Which is embodied in the exquisite proportions and luminous coloring of

TITIAN'S RECLINING VENUS,

Has for two centuries been the admiration of all beholders. Artists, connoisseurs, and the public will therefore by glad to learn that a magnificent Engraving, colored in oil, of the

PICTURE THAT ENCHANTS THE WORLD,

Has been issued by the undersigned, at a price which places it

WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.

Our Engraving is the only authentic copy ever published in America, of the

GEM OF THE DRESDEN GALLERY,

For which the government of Hanover paid

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

It represents the Goddess reclining on a couch and radiant with celestial loveliness. The warm lights and soft shadows which lend such a strange fascination to all the undraped divinities of Titian, are admirably reproduced in this picture, and the accessories, both in the foreground and background, enhance the general effect.

This picture is splendid without gaudiness, warm without prurience, and brimful of the very soul of art. [New York Express.

It is the best piece of flesh coloring ever executed in this country. [New York Leader.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters. There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, emetics, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very unpleasant and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic discovered by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters"—Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles, upon slight the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute sufferings, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug. 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

Yours, &c., JAMES LEWIS, M. D.

REV. DR. PEABODY & HARVARD.

To the Editors of the Chronicle:—I desire to occupy a portion of your space, in some allusions to the subject which has occasioned so much public as well as private comment during the last few days—the call of Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody to the Plummer Professorship of Harvard University.

The citizens of Portsmouth will join with me in the assertion that the removal of the learned Doctor from among us would be a public calamity. The members of his own parish will, as I am informed, make the most strenuous exertions to retain their beloved pastors. Yet it is to be hoped that his friends and admirers will not hesitate to freely sacrifice personal feeling and interest upon the altar of public good.

There are many reasons why Dr. Peabody should accept the position, tendered him with such unanimity by the Board of Overseers. The well-being of his alma mater demands it. The cause of liberal Christianity loudly demands it. The needs of the multitude of the young men of our country, whose characters are to be formed amid the classic shades of Harvard, and who are destined to occupy leading positions in governmental affairs, in society and in literature, demand the stern moralist, the genial adviser, the able defender of Christian doctrine, sans peur et sans reproche.

That the interests of the University demand the addition of Dr. Peabody to the ranks of its Faculty, cannot be denied. Its fair escutcheon has been blotted by the desertion of its recent Plummer Professor. To raise it from the position in which it has been placed in the eyes of the world, it must select a man to fill this most important position, whose principles are fixed, whose faith is immutable, based upon irrefragable arguments; whose theological views, clearly understood in the outset, shall, in an atmosphere redolent of change, prove to be without variableness or shadow of turning.

Liberal Christians throughout the country are ready to admit not only the propriety but imperative necessity of this selection. It is stated with truth that Dr. Peabody is the only clergyman of the Unitarian denomination who could be elected to this important trust. This being the fact, it is to be hoped that no believer in the doctrine of the Unity would feel called upon to offer any serious obstacle to the expressed wishes of the Board of Overseers, however earnestly personal feeling might prompt to such a course.

The members of the South Parish, as well as the citizens of Portsmouth of all denominations, are among those who need not be reminded of the great good which would result to the young men of Harvard from the teachings and influence of Rev. Dr. Peabody. The Preacher to the University and Professor of Christian Morals has the immediate charge of the moral and spiritual well-being of the students during their entire college term. In this extended sphere of usefulness; what great good could not the worthy Doctor accomplish? How would his unswerving advocacy of right, his fearless rebuke of error, his high talents, his reverence and tenderness, his every precept and his pure example, tell upon the forming minds of his youthful parish. The influence thus exerted cannot be computed by any system of mathematics. It would be carried into every ramification of society, and would leave its impress upon the age. Our city has its representatives at Harvard, and will doubtless continue to have so long as the institution exists; and I hazard nothing in asserting that no Portsmouth parent would ask for his son a worthier mentor, or a nobler spiritual guide, than the present revered and honored pastor of the South Parish. And shall a selfish policy on our part shut out the sons of other parents from a participation in the blessing which we would desire for our own children when released from the restraints of home?

I could urge many other reasons why our people should wisely acquiesce in the decision of the good Doctor, should he consider the call favorably; and had I not already trespassed largely upon your columns, I should be tempted to allude to the singular adaptation of the man to the mission; the never-more-clearly-merited honor and commanding position which it confers; to the immense labor at present performed by the devoted pastor—embracing parochial duties far beyond the limits of his own parish; to the need of a more permanent respite from exhausting cares than a few months' vacation could by any possibility afford;—but these facts will readily suggest themselves to every thoughtful reader. But I may be permitted to add, that while I would seek to assist in removing every stumbling-block from the clearly-defined pathway of duty, I should mingle my personal regrets with those of an entire community, should the friend and pastor of a quarter of a century take his departure from the home of those by whome he is so tenderly beloved.

☞ Rev. Joseph Stevens Buckminster and Hon. Stephen C. Phillips graduated at Cambridge University at the age of seventeen—the late John Lowell and Alexander H. Everett at sixteen, and Cotton Mather at fifteen.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.—The Newburyport Herald "judges that the rumors of the extension of the Grand Trunk road to Boston, over the Eastern road, are not without foundation, for we perceive a sudden inflation of Eastern stock, for which there appears no other cause. At the Broker's Board in Boston, Wednesday, the stock of the Eastern was quoted at $67, which we believe is full thirty dollars above the lowest point it has touched; it has gone up some ten dollars a share in as many days. At the same date, the Eastern in New Hampshire was sold at auction at $69.75.—Without the Grand Trunk connection, there would be no basis for the rise; but with it the road may become good paying stock.—To fit it they only require to lay one rail on the same bed, giving the broad guage, and the property the Eastern has in Boston will be needed for the Grand Trunk. There is no reason in the world why the Eastern, with proper management, may not relieve itself of all embarrassments and take its place in the market as a dividend-paying stock."

☞ The Gazette suggests that the name Congress be applied to the whole length of the street now bearing three—from the Navy Yard Landing to the Creek. The three streets are really but one, and the uniformity of name would be a great convenience to strangers. It should extend to the Plains;—then Congress Road would connect Congress Street with Greenland Road. The name Islington is an awkward one, at any rate—and this giving the continuations of one street two or more titles, is ridiculous. There are more like it in the city—but this is the most troublesome.

☞ Nobody likes to own that drum and fife, and the followers. The Journal says "there was a rabble of some kind headed by a drum—it was not of the Republican party; we will not say it was countenanced by the opposite party." On the other hand, the Gazette says,—"our Republican friends in this city marched to the music of a drum and fife."

☞ Mrs. Woodman, quite an old lady, widow of the late Mr. J. Woodman of Rye, was found on Thursday afternoon last, in a well near her house, drowned,—whether accidentally or intentionally is not known.—About six months ago her husband fell from a hay-loft in the barn, and was killed.

There is none so innocent as not to be evil spoken of; none so wicked as to merit all condemnation.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES.—PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heaviest and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

ALLEN & PAINE.

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

STATE OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

A PROCLAMATION

FOR A DAY OF PUBLIC FASTING AND PRAYER,

By His Excellency the Governor.

In accordance with a time-honored custom of our Pilgrim Fathers, I do hereby appoint, with advice of Executive Council, THURSDAY, April the twelfth, as a day of public Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer throughout the State. I recommend to all the people of the State religiously to abstain, on that day, from their ordinary secular employments, that they may devoutly and humbly confess to Almighty God in private and in public their sins as individuals, and implore through Jesus Christ the divine forgiveness, forbearance and mercy for themselves—for our common Country, its rulers, its Legislatures, its Judges and other officers, praying that those in authority may rule in the fear of God, that our national dissensions may be speedily terminated in the triumph of just principles in our general and state Governments, that our liberties and the Union may be preserved and perpetuated and that the private and public prosperity of past years may be continued for the year to come and to all future generations.

Given at the Council Chamber at Concord, on the thirtieth day of December, in the Year of our Lord one thousand Eight hundred and fifty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States the the eighty-fourth.

ICHABOD GOODWIN.

By His Excellency, the Governor, with advice of the Council.

THOMAS L. TULLOCK, Secretary of State.

VOICE OF THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS.

BEFORE ELECTION.

The position of the Democratic party in this State, at the present time, is a most responsible one. This election opens the Presidential Campaign of 1860—a campaign the most important since the foundation of our Government, because it involves the integrity of the Union itself. The eyes not only of all Democrats, but also of all friends of the Constitution and the Union throughout the whole country, are therefore now directed, with anxious interest, towards the Democracy of this State.—How will they meet the first shock of the contest of 1860? Will they yield; or will they stand firm and turn back the tide of sectional fanaticism and strife? Our brethren in Connecticut and Rhode Island now look to us for an example.—Concord Patriot.

The Eyes of the Whole Union are upon us!—It devolves upon New Hampshire, as usual, to open the Presidential ball. Ours is a little state, and far down in the Northern horizon; yet nearly all the millions of voters in the Union, know that the old Granite is to speak next Tuesday, and they will eagerly listen to the words she utters. Surely every Democrat will feel willing to dedicate the few days yet remaining to the good cause. Remember that we may triumph now; but if we do not, that every vote we gain will make the victory in November more secure.—Manchester Democrat, March, 6.

The election in this State is looked forward to with much interest, as being the first of the year—as commencing the grand campaign, which we confidently believe is to be followed up by a brilliant series of State victories, and at last crowned with a glorious national triumph.

New-Hampshire, in the election next Tuesday, sets the Presidential ball in motion—opens the Presidential campaign,—and the Democracy of the whole country are looking hitherward with great anxiety for an encouraging sign—for a result which shall inspire and strengthen the friends of the Union.—N. H. Gazette.

Democrats, all eyes are turned upon New Hampshire. Next Tuesday the great Presidential ball is to be started. Upon which track shall we put our own steed? It is not merely a question of state and local matters, but the influence of our election is to be felt for good or evil in every town and hamlet all over this broad land. Our friends in other states expect, yea they implore us to do our duty like men. Shall we rally and send them on the lightning wires, the glad intelligence that New Hampshire is redeemed disenthralled and stands forth clothed in all her former glory, as bright as the brightest of all our galaxy of States? Democrats, let your votes speak in tones of omnipotence next Tuesday.—Dover Gazette.

AFTER ELECTION.

From the New Hampshire Patriot.

THE ELECTION.

The election in this State (Tuesday) resulted in another triumph of black republicanism, quite as complete (and perhaps more so,) as that of last year. We give the vote of 162 towns, being more than three fourths of the State. The figures may not be entirely correct, but they indicate the general result. It appears that the black republicans have slightly increased their last year's majority in the popular vote; it will probably be not far from 4000.

We have not very full returns of Representatives but it safe to say our opponents will have as large a majority as last year—perhaps larger.

We have neither time nor inclination to comment upon this unexpectedly decisive victory of our opponents.

VOTE OF GREENLAND, MARCH 13, 1860.

For Governor,—I. Goodwin 104—A. P. Cate 65.
R. R. Com.—J. C. Tilton 104—F. Vose 65.
Councillor—R. P. Clark 104—J. H. Butler 65.
Senator—Clement March 107—Simes Frink 57.
The other County officers, same as for Governor.
For Division of the County—Yea 10—Nay 133.
Moderator—Charles W. Hatch.
Town Clerk—Charles A. Clark.
Representative—Rufus W. Weeks.
Selectmen—Charles W. Hatch, Ebenezer Johnson, Benjamin Hawes.

The Republican ticket prevailed throughout.

INCENDIARIES.—We learn, since our last paper, that in the case of the burning of Mr. Webster's warehouse, an investigation was held in a private way by the proper authorities, and that no satisfactory evidence of guilt could be found. As it was done, no doubt judiciously, without the knowledge of the public, many, like us, were under the impression that there was a neglect of duty in the city authorities.

Col. George W. Boyd, of this city whose death at Portland was recorded last week, is said to have left his property, amounting to 8 or $10,000, to Bowdoin College, his Alma Mater.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MARCH 17, 1860.

PROOF OF LIQUORS.

Messrs. Editors:—I wish every person would carry a piece of litmus paper in his pocket, (to be had at the apothecary stores) to test all of the rum, gin, brandy and whisky they may have an occasion to use, in any form, whether internally or externally, and see the amount of sulphuric acid (oil of vitriol) there is in that which they use.

It is frequently asked what produces the decay of the teeth of so many persons. Is it strange what does it, in part, at least, when it is known that so much oil of vitriol is brought in contact with the teeth through the different liquors used. Oil of vitriol is one ingredient of elixir vitriol, which is taken through a quill to avoid having it come in contact with the teeth. The eating of saleratus bread three times a day would not be sufficient to neutralize the acid taken into the stomach of those who drink constantly of these villainous compounds called whisky, rum, gin and brandy.

A large proportion, even of the highest-priced liquors, have an acid reaction, as shown by the litmus paper. This acid lodges between the teeth, settles into the small decayed places, and into the invisible seams in the teeth, which soon become visible from decay. Then, as is often the case, the person calls on the dentist to have a tooth filled, and to his surprise finds from six to twice that number need filling, and others soon follow.

A person who drinks these villainous liquors should have a glass of saleratus water at hand to rinse the mouth with immediately after drinking, to neutralize the remaining acid in the mouth. And then most of the acid has gone into the stomach, poisoning the blood, producing constipation, biliousness, headache, ultimately in some instances, ulceration of the bowels, and chronic diarrhea and death. Indeed much of the rum is not fit to bathe in, because it will rot all cotton and linen cloths, and make the skin rough, and if it is put on the hair it will render it dry and brittle. L.

PRENTICE ON ORIGINAL SIN.—Prentice, in the Louisville Journal, says:—

Miss Harriet Beecher, a woman of great ability, sister of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, and several other Beechers, has published a theological work, inquiring how sin came into the world. There are matters of more practical importance than that inquiry. If there is a pig in your garden, you had better busy yourself in driving it out than in speculating how it got in.

Indeed! but the saying is not original with Prentice; it is an old clerical joke, five times as old as he is. Besides, this question enters into every form of theology, heathen as well as christian; is pondered in every thinking mind; and in the several answers given to it, either strengthens hope or leads the way to despair.

KANSAS.—The Legislature of Kansas adjourned on the 27th ult., at midnight, having distinguished itself by granting many divorces, but with the rest of its business left in a very confused state. For want of the Governor's signature, the General Election bill, over which the Legislature had labored much, failed to become a law. As it provided for a registry of the voters of the Territory, Gov. Medary, who is constitutionally opposed to such formalities, was happy to find an excuse for overlooking the bill in the fact that it was not presented to him until near the close of the session. It is feared that this want of action leaves the Territory without any statute under which it can elect officers.

☞ By Overland Mail from California, we get news from San Francisco, Feb. 24.

Accounts from the agricultural districts say the wheat planting for the present is completed under such favorable circumstances that there has seldom been at this season a better prospect for the crops. The rains have been abundant, gentle and warm.

Over six hundred dollars were devoted to the Washington Monument Fund in San Francisco on the 22d, principally in small sums dropped in the boxes placed for that purpose at the Post Office.

The taxes for the ensuing year on real estate and personal property in San Francisco are fixed at 2 85-100 per cent. on each $100 valuation—about three per cent!

☞ It is said that while the U. S. Supreme Court at Washington is waiting for two or three of the southern judges to regain their health, the venerable Judge McLean of Ohio, will return temporarily to his circuit, to clear off some of the 2700 cases that have accumulated upon the docket. Judge McLean has the great northwestern territory to look after, and performs more labor than any two of his associates, while he does eight or ten times as much as some of the southern judges.

Happiness must arise from our own temper and actions, and not immediately from any external conditions.

LOSS OF SHIP LUNA AND 100 LIVES.—The reported catastrophe to the American ship Luna, outward bound to New Orleans, with a loss of upwards of one hundred lives, on the rocks off Barfleur, near Cherbourg, last Sunday, is unhappily confirmed. It was utterly impoisible to go to the assistance of the ship and her living freight, the whole of whom, numbering one hundred and seven persons, perished. Two only reached the shore alive; one of them died almost immediately afterwards. The survivor, an Italian named Clement, stated that the ship sailed from Havre on the previous day, (Friday) and that there were on board seventy-six passengers, of whom forty-seven were men, twenty-seven women, and one child. The crew mustered twenty-six hands, besides a French cook for the passengers. Her cargo was of a general discription. The captain saw his imminent danger, when off Barbeaur, and attempted to beach the ship on a sand bank situated between Barfleur Church and the light house, where there might be a chance of saving the passengers, but in running for it the violence of the gale and heavy sea drove her on the rocks where her destruction followed. The coast is strewn with the wreck. Many bodies have been washed ashore.

☞ On the evening of the 5th of November last, a person named Rouse, alias Reeves, alias Riley, alias Rockwell, while in charge of two police officers from Syracuse, N. Y., jumped from the Hudson River Railroad ferry boat when approaching Albany and was drowned. He was a desperate fellow and a notorious thief and burglar. In Indiana he broke jail. In Cincinnati he committed a burglary. In Syracuse and Rochester he committed similar crimes, and in Jersey City he committed a burglary. He was arrested in Hudson, and was on his way to Syracuse when he made the fearful leap. The Albany Journal says that on Saturday morning his body was recovered at the foot of John Street, opposite that city. His handcuffs were on, showing that he must have perished from cold soon after plunging into the water. It was said that he had a valuable diamond pin in his shirt at the time, but that was not found—In his pockets were found 87 cents and nothing else of value.

☞ The Tennessee legislature having before it a proposition to remove the remains of Andrew Jackson and his wife from the Hermitage to the capitol grounds in Nashville, there to be honored with an imposing monument, the son of the old general writes to Gov. Harris that his father's dying request was to be allowed a peaceful and perpetual burial upon the old homestead. Gov. Harris transmits the letter to the legislature, with the request that it do not disturb the remains.

FAST.—The people of Augusta have just been surprised by the sudden disappearance of Mr. Albert B. Hall, bookseller. Only last summer, Mr. Hall came of age, and at the same time into the possession of $30,000. Since then he has lived fast and free, and one day last week he suddenly decamped, leaving his wife behind him. It is supposed that he has swamped all his property except his dwelling house, which he had given to his wife, and the small sum he was able to raise in a hurry on his stock of books.—Boston Journal.

☞ A jury in Parker, Texas, in the case of a man against whom the crime of horse-stealing was clearly proven, brought in a verdict of acquittal, because a handsome girl present had promised to marry him if he was acquitted, as the horse, for the stealing of which he was arraigned, was taken to carry off the fair Helen.

It is not worth while to hear what your servants say when they are angry; what your children say after they have slammed the door; what beggars say whom you have rejected from your door; what your neighbors say about your children; what your rivals say about your business or your dress.

LOVE.—Jeptha Horde, a young married man in Otsego county, N. Y., recently drowned himself for love of his wife's sister, whom he had seen only once.

MONS. Roger, the tenor singer, who lost his hand in Paris some time since, has fallen in love with a shoe that he saw at a shoemaker's, and married the proprietor of it.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.—The two things which conduce most to health and happiness, are labor and abstinence. But labor and abstinence are two things which mankind take most pains to avoid.

☞ Hon. John S. Wells, of Exeter, still continues quite sick. His condition is such that it is thought he will not be able to attend the Democratic National Convention, to which body he has been chosen a delegate. Hon. Daniel Marcy is the substitute delegate, and will undoubtedly attend the Convention.

☞ The U. S. Senate, Thursday, Mar. 15th, met at 12 P. M.; ten Senators present. No prayer was offered. The galleries contained thirteen gentlemen, but no ladies.

On Motion of Mr. Mason, a resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on Foreign Relations to inquire whether any and what legislation is necessary to carry more fully into effect certain treaty stipulations between the United States and China, Burmah and Siam.

On motion of Mr. Sumner, a resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on Finance to consider whether the numerous Custom House oaths now administered under acts of Congress may not with propriety be abolished, and simple declaration substituted therefore.

On motion of Mr. Benjamin the Senate considered the bill amending the existing laws relative to the compensation of the District Attorneys, Marshals and clerks of the U. S. Circuit and District Courts.

The bill was discussed and passed.

The House passed the Consular and Diplomatic appropriation bill, and Indian Appropriation bill.

Mr. Hamilton moved that the Military bill as returned by the Senate with amendments be referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, saying one of them was of great interest to Texas, and had already been considered by that committee, namely, calling out the Mounted Regiment.

Mr. Sherman desired that the bill should be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Stanton showed why it should be referred to the Military Committee.

Mr. Reagan said the subject required urgent action in view of the existence of hostilities on the Texas frontier, and supported the views of his colleague, Mr. Hamilton.

Pending the question on the reference, the House adjourned.

AMALGAMATION.—We see by the Boston Post that an amalgamation case of a somewhat exciting character has lately occurred at Bridgeport, Conn. The lady is a beautiful white widow, has two or three grown up children, possesses a large amount of property, and has just recovered $5000 insurance on her husband's life. Some months ago she was found to be intimate with a certain black man of Bridgeport, and such was the feeling created in the town that he went to New York, where he opened a restaurant. The widow was only prevented from following him by the interference of friends. At this she told them that they were already married, and that the ceremony was legally performed in New York, last Fall. The lady's friends, however, having received communications from the spirit world that she was insane, had her committed to the asylum, at Hartford; but no sufficient authority being shown for her detention, she was sent back, and after certificates were obtained from three Bridgeport physicians, declaring her to be insane, she was again returned.

Tuesday morning, however, her negro husband appeared at the Asylum to claim her, and as there were no grounds for detention, the negro sailed off with her in triumph. The case has created intense excitement in Bridgeport, and while the lady is described as quite handsome, if not beautiful, her husband is of ebony blackness.

Let this case of bad taste be passed round for what it is worth. It is just about as strong a case for the goodness of amalgamation, as the mulatto family case was for the goodness of slavery.

UTAH.—The report and bill of Mr. Nelson, on polygamy, is being printed. It affixes severe pains and penalties for the practice of polygamy in any of the Territories. It will come up for action in a few days. There is a majority of the House in favor of it.

Judge Eckles of Utah has resigned his seat on the bench, and report says Judges Sinclair and Cradlebaugh will also resign or be removed. There is a conflict of opinion between these judges and Gov. Cumming. It is said the Governor is a Mormon, and the judges are Gentiles—hence the dispute.

☞ On Friday forenoon the 11 o'clock passenger train over the Eastern Road from Salem, ran over an intoxicated Irishman, named Michael Murphy, of West Lynn, who was walking on the track between Swampscott and Salem. Murphy was twenty-eight years of age.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.—The extreme position which it seems certain that Southern Democratic leaders will soon require the party to occupy, had a depressing effect upon the New Hampshire branch of it, and was of essential service to the Republicans, not only through the canvass, but at the polls. But the Democracy of New Hampshire can endure what would grind the Republicans to powder; and in spite of the threatened incorporation of a new and extremely offensive plank into the Charleston platform, came up in solid column, and suffered like martyrs in a holy war.—N. H. Statesman.

☞ The "lady strikers" had a grand procession at Lynn, on Friday.

The moment a man takes it into his foolish head that he has what the world calls genius, he gives himself a discharge from the servile drudgery of all friendly offices, and becomes good for nothing, except in the pursuit of his favorite employment.—Cowper.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY,

Which is embodied in the exquisite proportions and luminous coloring of

TITIAN'S RECLINING VENUS.

Has for two centuries been the admiration of all beholders. Artists, connoisseurs, and the public will therefore by glad to learn that a magnificent Engraving, colored in oil, of the

PICTURE THAT ENCHANTS THE WORLD,

Has been issued by the undersigned, at a price which places it

WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.

Our Engraving is the only authentic copy ever published in America, of the

GEM OF THE DRESDEN GALLERY,

For which the government of Hanover paid

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

It represents the Goddess reclining on a couch and radiant with celestial loveliness. The warm lights and soft shadows which lend such a strange fascination to all the undraped divinities of Titian, are admirably reproduced in this picture, and the accessories, both in the foreground and background, enhance the general effect.

This picture is splendid without guadiness, warm without pruriency, and brimful of the very soul of art. [New York Express.

It is the best piece of flesh coloring ever executed in this country. [New York Leader.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters. There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, cmetics, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very unmusical and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters"—Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through the frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute sufferings, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug. 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility, general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

Yours, &c., JAMES LEWIS, M. D.

REV. DR. PEABODY & HARVARD.

To the Editors of the Chronicle:—I desire to occupy a portion of your space, in some allusions to the subject which has occasioned so much public as well as private comment during the last few days—the call of Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody to the Plummer Professorship of Harvard University.

The citizens of Portsmouth will join with me in the assertion that the removal of the learned Doctor from among us would be a public calamity. The members of his own parish will, as I am informed, make the most strenuous exertions to retain their beloved pastors. Yet it is to be hoped that his friends and admirers will not hesitate to freely sacrifice personal feeling and interest upon the altar of public good.

There are many reasons why Dr. Peabody should accept the position, tendered him with such unanimity by the Board of Overseers. The well-being of his alma mater demands it. The cause of liberal Christianity loudly demands it. The needs of the multitude of the young men of our country, whose characters are to be formed amid the classic shades of Harvard, and who are destined to occupy leading positions in governmental affairs, in society and in literature, demand the stern moralist, the genial adviser, the able defender of Christian doctrine, sans peur et sans reproche.

That the interests of the University demand the addition of Dr. Peabody to the ranks of its Faculty, cannot be denied. Its fair escutcheon has been blotted by the desertion of its recent Plummer Professor. To raise it from the position in which it has been placed in the eyes of the world, it must select a man to fill this most important position, whose principles are fixed, whose faith is immutable, based upon irrefragable arguments; whose theological views, clearly understood in the outset, shall, in an atmosphere redolent of change, prove to be without variableness or shadow of turning.

Liberal Christians throughout the country are ready to admit not only the propriety but imperative necessity of this selection. It is stated with truth that Dr. Peabody is the only clergyman of the Unitarian denomination who could be elected to this important trust. This being the fact, it is to be hoped that no believer in the doctrine of the Unity would feel called upon to offer any serious obstacle to the expressed wishes of the Board of Overseers, however earnestly personal feeling might prompt to such a course.

The members of the South Parish, as well as the citizens of Portsmouth of all denominations, are among those who need not be reminded of the great good which would result to the young men of Harvard from the teachings and influence of Rev. Dr. Peabody. The Preacher to the University and Professor of Christian Morals has the immediate charge of the moral and spiritual well-being of the students during their entire college term. In this extended sphere of usefulness; what great good could not the worthy Doctor accomplish? How would his unswerving advocacy of right, his fearless rebuke of error, his high talents, his reverence and tenderness, his every precept and his pure example, tell upon the forming minds of his youthful parish. The influence thus exerted cannot be computed by any system of mathematics. It would be carried into every ramification of society, and would leave its impress upon the age. Our city has its representatives at Harvard, and will doubtless continue to have so long as the institution exists; and I hazard nothing in asserting that no Portsmouth parent would ask for his son a worthier mentor, or a nobler spiritual guide, than the present revered and honored pastor of the South Parish. And shall a selfish policy on our part shut out the sons of other parents from a participation in the blessing which we would desire for our own children when released from the restraints of home?

I could urge many other reasons why our people should wisely acquiesce in the decision of the good Doctor, should he consider the call favorably; and had I not already trespassed largely upon your columns, I should be tempted to allude to the singular adaptation of the man to the mission; the never-more-clearly-merited honor and commanding position which it confers; to the immense labor at present performed by the devoted pastor—embracing parochial duties far beyond the limits of his own parish; to the need of a more permanent respite from exhausting cares than a few months' vacation could by any possibility afford;—but these facts will readily suggest themselves to every thoughtful reader. But I may be permitted to add, that while I would seek to assist in removing every stumbling-block from the clearly-defined pathway of duty, I should mingle my personal regrets with those of an entire community, should the friend and pastor of a quarter of a century take his departure from the home of those fly whome he is so tenderly beloved.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.—The Newburyport Herald "judges that the rumors of the extension of the Grand Trunk road to Boston, over the Eastern road, are not without foundation, for we perceive a sudden inflation of Eastern stock, for which there appears no other cause. At the Broker's Board in Boston, Wednesday, the stock of the Eastern was quoted at $67, which we believe is full thirty dollars above the lowest point it has touched; it has gone up some ten dollars a share in as many days. At the same date, the Eastern in New Hampshire was sold at auction at $69.75.—Without the Grand Trunk connection, there would be no basis for the rise; but with it the road may become good paying stock.—To fit it they only require to lay one rail on the same bed, giving the broad guage, and the property the Eastern has in Boston will be needed for the Grand Trunk. There is no reason in the world why the Eastern, with proper management, may not relieve itself of all embarrassments and take its place in the market as a dividend-paying stock."

☞ The Gazette suggests that the name Congress be applied to the whole length of the street now bearing three—from the Navy Yard Landing to the Creek. The three streets are really but one, and the uniformity of name would be a great convenience to strangers. It should extend to the Plains;—then Congress Road would connect Congress Street with Greenland Road. The name Islington is an awkward one, at any rate—and this giving the continuations of one street two or more titles, is ridiculous. There are more like it in the city—but this is the most troublesome.

☞ Nobody likes to own that drum and fife, and the followers. The Journal says "there was a rabble of some kind headed by a drum—it was not of the Republican party; we will not say it was countenanced by the opposite party." On the other hand, the Gazette says,—"our Republican friends in this city marched to the music of a drum and fife."

☞ Mrs. Woodman, quite an old lady, widow of the late Mr. J. Woodman of Rye, was found on Thursday afternoon last, in a well near her house, drowned,—whether accidentally or intentionally is not known.—About six months ago her husband fell from a hay-loft in the barn, and was killed.

There is none so innocent as not to be evil spoken of; none so wicked as to merit all condemnation.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES! — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 15, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

STATE OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

A PROCLAMATION

FOR A DAY OF PUBLIC FASTING AND PRAYER,

By His Excellency the Governor.

In accordance with a time-honored custom of our Pilgrim Fathers, I do hereby appoint, with advice of Executive Council, THURSDAY, April the twelfth, as a day of public Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer throughout the State. I recommend to all the people of the State religiously to abstain, on that day, from their ordinary secular employments, that they may devoutly and humbly confess to Almighty God in private and in public their sins as individuals, and implore through Jesus Christ the divine forgivness, forbearance and mercy for themselves—for our common Country, its rulers, its Legislatures, its Judges and other officers, praying that those in authority may rule in the fear of God, that our national discussions may be speedily terminated in the triumph of just principles in our general and state Governments, that our liberties and the Union may be preserved and perpetuated and that the private and public prosperity of past years may be continued for the year to come and to all future generations.

Given at the Council Chamber at Concord, on the thirtieth day of December, in the Year of our Lord one thousand Eight hundred and fifty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States the the eighty-fourth.

ICHABOD GOODWIN.

By His Excellency, the Governor, with advice of the Council.

THOMAS L. TULLOCK, Secretary of State.

VOICE OF THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS.

BEFORE ELECTION.

The position of the Democratic party in this State, at the present time, is a most responsible one. This election opens the Presidential Campaign of 1860—a campaign the most important since the foundation of our Government, because it involves the integrity of the Union itself. The eyes not only of all Democrats, but also of all friends of the Constitution and the Union throughout the whole country, are therefore now directed, with anxious interest, towards the Democracy of this State.—How will they meet the first shock of the contest of 1860? Will they yield; or will they stand firm and turn back the tide of sectional fanaticism and strife? Our brethren in Connecticut and Rhode Island now look to us for an example.—Concord Patriot.

The Eyes of the Whole Union are upon us!—It devolves upon New Hampshire, as usual, to open the Presidential ball. Ours is a little state, and far down in the Northern horizon; yet nearly all the millions of voters in the Union, know that the old Granite is to speak next Tuesday, and they will eagerly listen to the words she utters. Surely every Democrat will feel willing to dedicate the few days yet remaining to the good cause. Remember that we may triumph now; but if we do not, that every vote we gain will make the victory in November more secure.—Manchester Democrat, March, 6.

The election in this State is looked forward to with much interest, as being the first of the year—as commencing the grand campaign, which we confidently believe is to be followed up by a brilliant series of State victories, and at last crowned with a glorious national triumph.

New-Hampshire, in the election next Tuesday, sets the Presidential ball in motion—opens the Presidential campaign,—and the Democracy of the whole country are looking hitherward with great anxiety for an encouraging sign—for a result which shall inspire and strengthen the friends of the Union.—N. H. Gazette.

Democrats, all eyes are turned upon New Hampshire. Next Tuesday the great Presidential ball is to be started. Upon which track shall we put our own state? It is not merely a question of state and local matters, but the influence of our election is to be felt for good or evil in every town and hamlet all over this broad land. Our friends in other states expects, yea they implore us to do our duty like men. Shall we rally and send them on the lightning wires, the glad intelligence that New Hampshire is redeemed disenthralled and stands forth clothed in all her former glory, as bright as the brightest of all our galaxy of States? Democrats, let your votes speak in tones of omnipotence next Tuesday.—Dover Gazette.

AFTER ELECTION.

From the New Hampshire Patriot.

THE ELECTION.

The election in this State (Tuesday) resulted in another triumph of black republicanism, quite as complete (and perhaps more so,) as that of last year. We give the vote of 162 towns, being more than three fourths of the State. The figures may not be entirely correct, but they indicate the general result. It appears that the black republicans have slightly increased their last year's majority in the popular vote; it will probably be not far from 4000.

We have not very full returns of Representatives but it safe to say our opponents will have as large a majority as last year—perhaps larger.

We have neither time nor inclination to comment upon this unexpectedly decisive victory of our opponents.

VOTE OF GREENLAND, MARCH 13, 1860.

For Governor,—I. Goodwin 104—A. F. Cate 65.
R. R. Com.—J. C. Tilton 104—F. Vose 65.
Councillor—R. P. Clark 104—J. H. Butler 65.
Senator—Clement March 107—Simes Frink 57.

The other County officers, same as for Governor.

For Division of the County—Yea 10—Nay 188.

Moderator—Charles W. Hatch.
Town Clerk—Charles A. Clark.
Representative—Rufus W. Weeks.
Selectmen—Charles W. Hatch, Ebenezer Johnson, Benjamin Hawes.

The Republican ticket prevailed throughout.

INCENDIARIES.—We learn, since our last paper, that in the case of the burning of Mr. Webster's warehouse, an investigation was held in a private way by the proper authorities, and that no satisfactory evidence of guilt could be found. As it was done, no doubt judiciously, without the knowledge of the public, many, like us, were under the impression that there was a neglect of duty in the city authorities.

Col. George W. Boyd, of this city whose death at Portland was recorded last week, is said to have left his property, amounting to 8 or $10,000, to Bowdoin College, his Alma Mater.

Morning Chronicle.

"Mother," said an inquisitive youth of about four years, after witnessing the baptism of an infant, "when am I going to be baptized?"

"When you become a better boy," answered the mother.

"Well, I had rather be baptized than vaccinated, because it don't hurt so much."

CAREFUL AND TOUGH.—Near Newburyport a person recently died of the small pox. His nurse, who had gone through the same disease, was alarmed lest he should carry it to his family; and when he buried his charge, at dead of night, though it was also in dead of winter, before finishing the burial services he stript off every piece of clothing on him and buried them with his patient. He then traveled some distance in the cold and washed in a brook, and afterwards some distance further, in all near a quarter of a mile from the new made grave, to a place where he had ordered clean clothes to be left.—Newburyport Herald.

A PROSPEROUS INSURANCE COMPANY. The Merchants' Mutual Marine Insurance Company of Newburyport. Three years ago the late Mr. Jonathan Bartlett became a member, with the right to subscribe one thousand dollars to the stock, paid $100 in cash, and gave his note for $900. The $100 was drawn out again, and on Tuesday the administrator of his estate, sold at public auction $280 scrip that had accumulated in the three years, for 80 per cent, or $224, and the right of membership and the subscription of $1000 stock for $135; making $359, or 128 per cent. per annum for the use of the one hundred dollars for the three years. Besides this the scrip has been annually receiving interest.—Herald.

On Saturday evening last, Dr. P. A. Delk, of Sussex, Va., was burned to death in his residence, which was totally destroyed at the same time. The Doctor had just disposed of a valuable negro, and he had about $2000 in his possession, and the presumption is that the servants first murdered him for his money, and then set fire to the house. The Doctor was about 30 years of age, and a widower. He leaves one child and a good estate.—Portsmouth (Va.) Transcript.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease in any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is supposed to be mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the diseases which decimates the human family basits origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the lungs, liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from this foul stain, purify and renew the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the purging of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence, it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BOTCHES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS, ERYSIPELAS, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR THE DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND DYSPEPSOLA, LIVER COMPLAINT, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY or the BLOOD. The popular belief in "purifying the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this compound is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC are so compounded that no disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy stabilities. As a consequence of these properties, the gradual wheel of health, clogs with pain or physical debility is astonished to find its health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and efficacious.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The report below annexed is placed to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions of the Skin, Dropsy, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its medicinal usefulness and numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons painfully known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies have failed and been discarded, friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.
FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst. has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had relegated expectation of my hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dye. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, which was to me a gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For the among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the adornation of their wives to profit by this example, and use it if possible, to stay or getting rabid. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Sizmastan, Ala., July 20th, 1858.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir:—"Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the AUDITORY the effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative" have the hair well secure more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the sight of one of my eyes from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1831, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be a very valuable article. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds a least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for five dollars.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines,

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion. Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for Costiveness and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during his practice of 30 years, and is warranted to give relief or no charge. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Cancerous cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Cough, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price or small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854.—"I hereby testify that the Cough Drops I received of you signally relieved my wife of a very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint to make use of them. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CAMAAN, Dec 11, 1851.—"I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from any other medicines I ever thought, I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them as a valuable remedy with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 2, 1841.—"Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain to me of their inability to speak and voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher try Swett's and try it freely. REV. JOSIAH BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 29, 1841.—"I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850.—"This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines we have used.

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
Now Located at Boston,
78 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers in Mechanical Arts, prepared on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered these elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, than the subscriber, and SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that scarcely any office of the kind are the charges of professional services and official fees, more relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and conscientious gentlemen with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, nor more capable of securing their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability, on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him for securing their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAYLOR, of Lowell.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on average one application, SIXTEEN APPLICATIONS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents

Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS.

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that lame or quack has heretofore imposed upon you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in chronic complaints to prescribe for them;—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of our children, instead of rendering its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; two very great benefits from which it is distilled being drug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hand. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit and recommendation, viz:

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, FEVER, &c.; and in softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequaled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For Croup, the most fatal and dreaded of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and seeing a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions we strongly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—It costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, and is so much better, that it will prove as cheap as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable article for all such cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for ten years, and can say, of it, what we have not, of any medicine, it FAILED, IN A SIN-GLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, nor did we know an infant die by any one who tried it, all are delighted with its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we know to be the truth, without the fear of contradiction, in every instance where it has been used, for the last thirty years. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain, relief will be in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used by MANY THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but it also invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it is the best and surest remedy in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA, in CHILDREN from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every suffering from any other quarter, try it, you will not be disappointed, and the poor little sufferer, as for us, will bless you for the relief it will bring, and call you blessed.

GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC,

Full directions for using it will accompany each bottle. None can be genuine except the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper throughout the world. Sold by Druggists at 25 Cedar st., New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—at last resorted, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physiology to the diseased circumstances, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of the "BLOOD FOOD," the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or pain in the side, do not let time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if you find yourself depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is sluggish, or disordered in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking one bottle. In Male or Female Weakness, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated persons will find the "BLOOD FOOD" benefited by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterwards "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and will be found in the circulation office, All papers left at stoops upon at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never on the floor. All be left at residences, to be placed in the house, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door, or if necessarily left out, the bell to be rung.

If subscribers fail to immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and can not supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the vicious infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumptives who decimate the land owe their origin directly to this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

ERUPTIVES AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what auditude to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies time upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Here's Health for the Million!!

CLARKE'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS

Warranted Palatable and Healthy.

Composed of Dock Root, Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Rhubarb, Thoroughwort, Mandrake, &c. For General Weakness, Loss of Appetite, and an unhealthy state of the system.

Many have feel too thankful, that our all-wise Creator has so amply supplied us with the effectual means of preserving and regaining our health. This compound is a mild, effectual and regular Tonic, very pleasant to the palate, and exceedingly healthy for the system.

Weakness.

The patient, trembling with lassitude and weakness after a slight exertion, by the use of a bottle or two of this very popular health-maker, becomes imbued with new strength and refreshed energy. As it gives new life and action to the blood, and increases the appetite, on which strength receives its origin and depends.

Nervousness.

Weakness, with over-exertion, is generally the origin of this heroic-depicting disease. Use DR CLARKE'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS, and you will be rendered perfectly self-possessed, calm and cheerful.

Broken Down Constitution.

Dr. Clarke's Sherry Wine Bitters are the very thing to give new life to the shackled frame, and energy to the enfeebled mind. For Mechanics, Farmers, Clergymen, and Public Men in general, no medicine can be better adapted for their purpose.

Try them!

All ye lovers of good Bitters and good health, and you will find them a cheap, effectual and pleasant remedy; and sold for the low price of 25 cents for a pint bottle.

25 cts. for a Pint Bottle. 42 cts. 1 qt; 75 cents 2 qts; and only $1,25 for 4 qts.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

MONDAY, MARCH 19, 1860.

STRIKERS AND MACHINES.—At Lynn, a meeting of the female strikers was held on Thursday afternoon, and addressed by Hon. John B. Prince of Essex, who believed in the principle of the strike, and advised them to persevere until they were successful. He said that in asking the manufacturers to sign the bill of wages, they were doing no more than right. He cited as examples to warrant the movement, the professional fee tables of physicians, lawyers and railroad corporations.

Perhaps neither Mr. Prince nor his hearers (who applauded him) could see that these cases he cites are not parallel to the manufacturers' signing the strikers' bill of prices. But they are not parallel.

The doctors sign their own bill of prices. The patient don't sign them; he either pays their bills, or doctors himself, or employs some other doctor, outside the strike!

So of lawyers; they sign their own fee bill—the client don't sign it at all, he only pays it—and a pretty thing it is, too.

So of railroads; the Eastern and the Boston & Maine sign and seal their bill of prices, not to carry passengers for less than so much, between Boston and South Berwick; the passengers never sign, they only buy a ticket as cheap as they can, or go afoot.

The strikers can all sign their bill of prices; they have the same right to do so that is exercised by the doctors, lawyers or railroads; but the manufacturers may or may not sign, exactly as the traveller may buy a ticket or go afoot.

Mr. Oliver announced that the machine bosses had prepared a new list of prices, and the proposition was for the girls to go to work under that list, and not to wait until the bill of wages was signed.

Mr. Trefren of Salem stated there were so many machines at work outside of Lynn, that the manufacturers could get their boots stitched without depending upon the workmen of that place.

Mr. John B. Stickney, a machine boss, rose and addressed the meeting. He considered that there were two ways of attaining the objects of the strike. One was to wait until the manufacturers signed the bill of wages, which, in his opinion, would not be done; and the other was to go to work as fast as the prices were paid.

The question was finally laid on the table till next Monday evening, and the meeting stands adjourned to that time.

In Lynn, Friday was made a holiday by the grand procession. The strikers were present from Marblehead, Salem, Beverly, Saugus, and other towns, with flags, banners, music, &c. The procession was a mile and a half long, and numbered 6000 persons; while 10,000 lined the way of the route. It was one of greatest labor demonstrations ever made in New England.

Thursday evening a large meeting was held in Haverhill, and Rev. Wm. C. Clark was one of the principle speakers. Reports were made of the progress of the movement in Northwood, Epping, Auburn, Kingston, and Plaistow, N. H.

☞ There are said to be about 6 or 700 shoemakers in Newburyport; of these, about 200 have formed a society of strikers:—the remainder are at work.

☞ The boot bottomers of Milford have concluded not to strike, but labor and wait till the surplus of hands find other employment.

☞ The "Atlantic Monthly" for April was issued on Saturday, by Ticknor & Fields. For an attractive list of contents, see advertisement.

"Peterson's Magazine" for April is a capital number. The engraving of the Miss disgusted with her lesson is at once natural, expressive and suggestive.

Grace Greenwood's "Little Pilgrim" for March contains, among its good things, a story, "Bearing the Cross," worth double a year's subscription, and which ought to be read by all the growlers who regard their own troubles as afflictions, and other people's as judgments.

NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS.—The telegraph reports that the Constitutional Convention of Nebraska has been carried by the Republicans.

The Convention is to consist of 52 members, and the returns up to our latest information, indicate the election of 40 Republicans. The Territory has also undoubtedly voted in favor of a State government.

On this the Newburyport Herald remarks:—

We think this probable, as we saw a clergyman from there this week, a native of this city, who informed us that he was the only democratic clergyman belonging to the territory. The old proverb is—"like priests like people." There are now forty thousand people in Nebraska, which would be ample for a slave State, but it takes a hundred thousand for a free State, and therefore Nebraska will have to wait a couple of years longer before admission.

☞ Advices from Texas say that Gov. Houston is organizing an expedition against the Indians. Capt. Burbson is to command the expedition.

REV. A. P. PEABODY, D. D., who was nominated by the Corporation of Harvard College as "Plummer Professor of Christian Morals, and Preacher to the University," received eight-ninths of the votes cast in the Board of Overseers—16 of the 18.

Mr. Charles G. Davis rose to ask, before the regular business of the meeting was brought up, whether there was any prescribed mode of worship in the college. He was not inclined, he said, to elect a professor who shall be also a preacher to the University. The community ought to know whether, if the professor turns Roman Catholic, he can introduce mass into the Chapel, or, if he turns Episcopalian, a reading-table and two pulpits, &c. He would like to know whether, in the opinion of the Board, it is expedient to appoint a preacher. Cambridge has a supply of churches of all denominations, in which the students might worship, and indeed those who prefer to worship in some other place than the college chapel are now allowed to do so. He hoped that before the committee to whom the nomination of Plummer Professor was referred, should report, a free expression of opinion on this point might be given.

There being no question before the Board, the committee upon the appointment of Plummer Professor,—to whom the nomination of Rev. Dr. Peabody was referred, consisting of Revs. L. R. Thayer, R. H. Neale and S. M. Weld,—one Methodist, one Baptist, and one Unitarian, reported—

That having considered the subject: while we regret the retiring from that position of the late incumbent, who had so faithfully and usefully discharged its duties—we are gratified with the abundant evidence we find, of the very high standing of the nominee, as a scholar of varied and high learning; of affable and engaging manners, of excellent Christian character, and of cordial catholicity in Christian sentiment and feeling, that in our opinion eminently qualify him for the often delicate, and always important duties of the office to which he is nominated.

Mr. Davis inquired if there were any rules to govern the mode of worship in the chapel. The changes which had been made there were made by the pastor in consultation with members of the society; but the pastor had no powers by himself.—He thought that it would be well to have some rules for the government of the society.

The Boston Transcript says, "The selection of Dr. Peabody for this post, meets with more general favor than could have been expected under the circumstances; and has revealed the universal respect entertained for him in all quarters."

The Boston Courier says:

Dr. Peabody has long been known as one of the leading scholars, writers and preachers in New England. For many years he has edited the North American Review with signal ability. He is a gentleman of a genial nature and a catholic spirit; and his appointment to so responsible a place in the University, will strengthen the public confidence in that institution. Dr. Peabody is a liberal Christain, without a particle of sectarianism; and he has long commanded the respect and friendly co-operation of the best men in all denominations of the church.

The New York Independent, in speaking of the new Professor, says:

We have high confidence in his integrity and fidelity to truth, as well as in his ability and scholarship; and we are sure that his influence upon the students would be always clearly, positively and earnestly in favor of a practical religious life, grounded in humble faith in Christ, and implicit obedience to his will.

☞ The Concord Statesman of Saturday has returns from all the towns in New Hampshire except 8.—These eight last year gave Goodwin 289, and Cate 329.—Adding these 8 towns to the actual returns, gives the following figures:

Goodwin	38,009
Cate	33,410
Goodwin's majority	4,599

Wentworth, the Republican candidate for Senator in the 6th district, is elected, making ten out of the twelve Senators for the Republicans.

The Republican majority in the House is 85.

It will be seen that Governor Goodwin's vote is larger than Fremont's was; while Mr. Cate falls off only 400 from his vote last year. So the result of the election was not brought about by default, but by a trial of strength.

The entire vote was over 71,500—the largest ever thrown; and Gov. Goodwin receives more than any other man ever received in the State.

BRIBERY.—The Massachusetts Legislature has before it a bill concerning the Metropolitan Horse Railroad. $100 was placed in a blank envelope, and handed to Mr. Shaw, a member, as he passed out of the House, with a verbal statement that it came from the attorney of the Metropolitan. Mr. Shaw put the envelope unopened into his pocket, but on ascertaining its contents returned it forthwith to the sender. A Legislative Committee of Invertigation has been appointed to examine the case.

THE POPE.

Mrs. Stowe writes from Florence, that the liberty of the press being established and encouraged by the late revolution, "it rains, hails and snows pamphlets, songs and hand-bills, which are in the hands of all the people." New scenes for a people so long oppressed. One of these pamphlets is "The Life of the last (present) Pope." Another, "Considerations on the Temporal power of the Pope." The Pope will have but few very spiritual devotees in these venerated Dukedoms, hereafter. The Mortara abduction at Bologna was an outrage, proving in its effects to have been as unwise as it was tyrannical and wicked.

For the first time, for ages, Protetstantism is allowed and protected, as in Sardinia for the last ten years or more. But this freedom will yet, most probably have to be maintained by the sword. The bigots at Rome and Vienna, are sharpening their spears for a new contest; which may yet be delayed, if not entirely frustrated, by a Hungarian insurrection.

The sudden departure of Kossuth from England, gives importance to this latter movement; its progress and details so little known, as they must come through Austria. England and France having proclaimed the doctrine of non-intervention, cannot stand aloof and see Austrian bayonets successful.—News Letter.

EXECUTION OF STEVENS AND HAZLITT. Charlestown, Va., Mar. 15.—The town was thronged with visitors to-day, and several companies of military in attendance.

Stevens and Hazlitt were hung at noon. They appeared resigned to their fate—Stevens died very hard, while Hazlitt died without a struggle. Both exhibited great firmness and resignation.

There was no religious exercise at the gallows, as the prisoners persisted in refusing all the kindly offices of the ministry in their last moments. They were both Spiritualists, and had a peculiar religion of their own, which enabled them to meet their fate with cheerfulness and resignation. Both their bodies have been forwarded to Marcus Spring, South Amboy, N. J. They will reach Baltimore in the early morning train.

☞ The Rochester Express records the death of a daughter of Frederick Douglas. "Since her father's absence she had lost her appetite, and interest in her occupation, and had gradually sunk away and died.—She had got the idea firmly in her mind that her father would never come back, and that if he did return, he would have to go to prison and execution."

☞ The young wife of Oliver Brown, slain at Harper's Ferry, died March 2d at North Elba, in child-birth; the infant died soon after birth. She was but eighteen years old, and had been married but five months when her husband went to Harper's Ferry.

☞ Mrs. Allibone, a sister of Turner, one of the Virginians who was killed at the Harper's Ferry siege, has died at Charlestown, Va., of insanity produced by the circumstances of her brother's death.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE. A committee of the National Democratic Committee at Baltimore has enquired the capacity of hotels, terms for boarders, &c., with a view of having an informal meeting of the Democratic Convention at Charleston, and then adjourning to that city.—They say that Charleston will neither be able to accommodate nor to feed the many thousands congregated there. Our hotel keepers promise to the committee the regular charges, with the well known hospitality of our citizens to open their doors to all who cannot be accommodated at hotels.—The delegation from Illinois alone will number 1000.

☞ The N. Y. Journal of Commerce denies the report that the Democratic Convention will be held in some other place than Charleston, and says that the committee have no power over the place of meeting, that being fixed by the convention at Cincinnati.

☞ Green peas were sold in Charleston, S. C., on Wednesday last week, at 62 cents per quart. In New Orleans fruit trees are blooming; and New Jersey papers are speculating concerning the promise of the peach crop, which is said to be satisfactory; while in our Northern climate the fields are yet covered with snow.

AN EARTHQUAKE.—Wednesday evening about 20 minutes before 10 o'clock, persons in Newburyport heard an unaccountable rumbling noise, which some attributed to the sea, though it lasted but a few seconds; and others to a railroad train, though none were passing at the time. It would now seem that it was an earthquake, that was felt all through the eastern parts of Massachusetts.—Newburyport Herald.

A punctual man is very rarely a poor man, and never a man of doubtful credit. His small accounts are frequently settled, and he never meets with difficulty in raising money to pay large demands. Small debts neglected, ruin credit; and when a man has lost that, he will find himself at the bottom of a hill he cannot ascend.

A London paper announces that Piccolomini is married to an Italian Prince, a Roman by birth, and a relative of one of the Cardinals. He does not, as do many persons, marry for the round sum realized by the vocalist, but is a man of some fortune—for Italy. The ceremony took place in the city of Dublin.

☞ The County Commissioners, at their late session in this city, decided to extend State street westward, to Cass street, as was proposed,—and to have it opened the coming summer. The question was not as to its desirability; but whether the abutting landholders should do it, and after making the street, offer it to the City for acceptance, or whether it should be done at the City's cost. The Aldermen declined to involve the City in the expense;—and the Commissioners have now decided that the City must do it.

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE—A little coarse wood-cut, but a few inches square, framed, to be seen in Mr. J. H. Locke's window, contains an invisible likeness of Napoleon I.; though few or none will be able to perceive the likeness, with the eye unaided.—It is an artful work, if not a work of art.

☞ They had no Town Meeting, and of course no Election, at the Shoals, this year. But our marriage record shows that they celebrated the day by a wedding, which event, if the parties prove to be of the few really "elect" to the position, may be, after all, of more importance and interest to the State and world, than never so many political trials.

☞ Messrs. Marston & Hayes are agents for selling in the State of Maine, the patent Marking Can advertised this morning. The article will be found a great desideratum to almost everybody—and our friends down east can rely upon all representations of the young men named, respecting this or other business matters with which they are connected.

They are also agents for the sale of the celebrated Revolving Harrow; and for Prind's patent Shaft Attachment to axles—an ingenious and desirable invention.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE POISONING CASE.—The arrest of Sarah Ann Healey and Richard Richardson, on a charge of having poisoned the husband of Mrs. Healey, causes great excitement at Auburn, N. H., where the parties belong. The appearance of the body of Healey, ten days after death, was fresh and lively, the blood coloring the cheeks, as if he was still alive. The stomach and contents, a part of the bowels and contents, and the liver, are in the hands of Dr. Hayes of Boston, for chemical examination, to ascertain if they contain any poison. The examination of Mrs. Healey and Richardson, if poison shall be found, will take place this week.

We hope the new city government will make an appropriation to purchase a pair of spectacles, for the person having the charge of lighting up the street lights, so that he can tell when it is dark.—Bath Times.

EXECUTION OF STEVENS AND HAZLETT.—SYMPATHY MEETING.—The Traveller states that a meeting was held at the Meionaon in Boston, on Friday evening, to commemorate the martyrdom of Stephens and Hazlett, who were executed in Virginia, on Friday. WASHINGTON, March 17.—The tariff bill will be reported on Monday by one of two expedients. If States are called, Mr. Morrill, who has it in charge, will offer it from Vermont. If committees be called, Mr. Sherman will present it from the ways and means under the new rule.

The miscellaneous appropriation bill passed the ways and means committee today, and will be presented to the House on Monday.

The naval and post bills are the only two remaining in the hands of the committee.

☞ A conviction under the Fugitive Slave act has been obtained in Illinois.—John Hoosack of Ottawa, in that State, a man of excellent character, after a long and patient trial, has been found guilty of aiding a slave to escape, and sentenced to pay a fine of $1000, and to imprisonment for six months.

STRANGE MURDER.—New Orleans papers of the 10th, state that Dr. Jos. Hunter of Bossier parish, La., was in the barber's room, on steamer Lecompte, when a little slave boy employed in the cabin, came into the room. Hunter asked him if he was the boy that was told by him to go after the porter. The boy answered "yes, sir," when Hunter sprung upon him, holding a knife over him, and demanding whom he belonged to. The boy was answering, when he stopped him and asked the question of the barber, who replied he did not know. Hunter said, "tell me or I'll shoot you." The barber answered, "I can't tell you what I don't know myself. The doctor then deliberately placed the Derringer within a few inches of the barber's breast, and fired, wounding him so he died in a few hours.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters. There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, cordials, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters."—Pittsburgh Union.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1858.

MESSRS. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN:—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to severe sufferings, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did the work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug. 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such universal satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

THE GIPSY DAUGHTER.

BY SYLVANUS COBB, JR.

In the far corner of a lovely glade in the Forest of Arden, (situated in the northern part of Warwickshire, England, and in the midst of which was pitched a Gipsy camp,) sat two beautiful girls, members of the vagrant tribe which had long infested that region.

One of these forest beauties was tall and queenly, and of a light, fairy-like form, with deep blue eyes and a pensive cast of countenance, shaded by an abundance of bright, sunny brown hair. Her name was Electra, and she was the daughter of Gondebald, the Gipsy King's chief captain.

Her companion was Leda, the daughter of Mohammed, the Gipsy King himself.—She was shorter in stature than Electra; her form was more full; her face plump and dimpled; her eyes of a dark hazel, and her hair of darkest brown. Both the Gipsy girls were beautiful beyond description, as the daughters of that strange race are apt to be, and on the present occasion, both were sad—unusually sad.

Electra loved a young man of the tribe, named Fabian, as handsome a gallant, and with as true a heart, as ever the sun shone upon; and Leda was her confidante, and sympathized with her in everything. And they had that very morning—it was now toward the close of the warm summer day—learned of a plot hatched by Mohammed and Gondebald, which would not only prevent the union of Electra and Fabian, but also plunge both the maidens into unspeakable and life-long wretchedness.

The plot was that Mohammed should give his daughter Leda in marriage to Gondebald; and Gondebald in return was to give his daughter Electra in marriage to Mohammed. The announcement of this plan had filled the hearts of the two girls with indignation and misery; and they had withdrawn to their secluded nook to consult together, and if possible, comfort each other. But no hope of comfort could they cherish. The power of their fathers was absolute; and so, all they could resolve upon was to die, sooner than submit to such a revolting union.

Just as they had come to this conclusion, they heard footsteps in the forest, and soon Fabian came in view; whereupon Leda hastily quitted the spot, that the lovers might commune alone. The meeting was a sad one, for Fabian had also heard the news. Old Dione, the Sorceress of the tribe had told it to him; and she had also hinted that neither he nor Electra was of Gipsy parentage,—that a strange mystery was connected with them both, which she might at sometime unfold. She had also warned Fabian to look out for his safety. "Wolves are abroad, my son!" she said; "and they thirst for the blood of one whom they fear! Look well to thyself and to Electra!"

The lovers were filled with dismay. Their only hope was in flight; and upon flight they at once resolved. But whither should they flee? As they anxiously revolved this question, they heard footsteps approaching, and Electra, by Fabian's command, hastily fled towards the camp, leaving her lover to meet the intruders alone.

Fabian soon saw two of the most notorious ruffians of the tribe approaching, named Gower and Trogus. They were vile instruments of the Gipsy chief, ever glad to do his bidding, no matter how bloody or infamous the service. They generally travelled together, and their disguises were as many and various as there were occasions for their use. They summoned Fabian, in the King's name, to accompany them, at once, to Atherstone, where they were to meet Gondebald, and then set out on some expedition of great importance. Of course, he had to obey; but as Dione's warning was still fresh in his mind, he first went to his tent and armed himself with a couple of pistols, which he secreted in his pockets.

Before the party had proceeded many miles through the forest, Fabian became convinced that the ruffians meant to do him harm. He was certain that they were not on the path to Atherstone; and as they drew near to a frightful chasm, through which rushed a turbulent stream, he saw, by the demeanor of Gower and Trogus, that the decisive moment was at hand. He had walked between them thus far—one in his front, the other behind him,—but now under pretext of having hurt his foot, he stepped aside, and paused till the rear villain passed him, and then limped on after them.

On arriving at the edge of the chasm, the ruffians suddenly wheeled around, drew their knives, and rushed upon Fabian, of whom they thought to make speedy work. But they were mistaken. Drawing his pistols, he shot Gower dead and wounded Trogus in the right shoulder so severely that the ruffian fell to the earth and begged for mercy. On reflection, Fabian resolved to spare the villain's life; and at once set about dressing his wound as well as he could, with a view to getting him back to the camp. This magnanimous conduct not only astounded Trogus, but it did more—it touched his heart, and he promised forever after to be a friend to Fabian as far as it should lay in his power. He advised our hero not to return to the camp, as the king would certainly take further proceedings against him; thus hinting, though he would not expressly acknowledge the truth, that Mohammed had ordered him and Gower to kill Fabian; and he also hinted about other dark deeds that might be done, and earnestly besought his preserver not to place himself again in the king's power.

But Fabian returned to the camp. The journey was slow, as Trogus could not travel fast; and it was near midnight when they arrived. Fabian went at once to the tent of Dione, and found the Sorceress up, and seemingly awaiting the arrival of some one. She was a strange looking creature, and might have served as a model for any artist who would picture a witch to the life.—Dione was a Spanish Gitano, and she had brought with her from the sunny South many an item of mystic lore before unknown among the English Gipsies.

When Fabian had told Dione his story, she rocked herself to and fro, and muttered, "So soon! so soon!" and then warning the youth to be on his guard, she dismissed him, with a promise to communicate some important secrets to him on the morrow, and plan for his and Electra's future safety.

Mohammed and Gondebald soon learned, through their spies, that Trogus was in his tent; and the king at once sent for him.—On being questioned, Trogus told his story to the astounded plotters, who raved with fury on learning the issue of their attempt upon our hero's life. They soon bent Trogus to their wishes by mingled threats and promises, and his cue having been given to him, three Gipsies were sent to bring Fabian to the king's apartment.

Mohammed and Gondebald were ill at ease. The latter feared that unless he should be able to bestow Electra upon the king, he himself would never be permitted to take the fascinating Leda to wife; and this unexpected escape and return of Fabian perilled all his dearest hopes. The king, however, had deeper cause for disquiet and greater reason to fear Fabian, than resulted from our hero's love for and influence over Electra. Dione had whispered strange things in his ear, and her mystic warnings had caused him to tremble. Of these things he could not speak to Gondebald, but treasured them in his own dark breast, and tried to assume a look of easy assurance, and spoke words of arrogant confidence; but ere he could prolong his remarks, the door was opened and our hero was led into the apartment by the three ruffians who had been sent for him.

When Fabian found himself in the presence of the king and his captain, there was a sense of dread upon him which he had not before experienced. Mohammed looked dark and threatening, his face being settled into an expression of most deadly meaning; while Gondebald, with his sunken black eyes and raised shoulders, looked not unlike a coiled serpent. And then the apartment, with its dingy, ragged walls and dirty floor, with the ghastly light from the smoky glass of the suspended lamp, was not calculated to add anything like cheerfulness to the scene. But the youth was not left long to ponder upon these things, for he was led towards the large oaken chair in which the king sat, who addressed him without much hesitation:

"So, my fine master Fabian, you have had quite an adventure!" This was spoken in a sarcastic tone, and with the teeth closed. Our hero looked up:

"My Lord," he said, using the form of address which was common among the gipsies when addressing their ruler, "if you have any accusation to make, will you make it at once, for I would know whereof I am accused."

"Thou shalt hear right quickly," replied Mohammed; and as he spoke he cast his eyes over the room, as though he would assure himself that all present might be trusted. Gondebald stood at his right hand; while farther away, behind the prisoner, were the three men who had conducted the latter from his tent. They were Saul, Jasper, and Anselmo — three hardened wretches, who were bound to the will of their master, as though they had been mere machines of torture in his hands. "Listen," the king proceeded; "and answer me truly: "Didst thou not slay our faithful servant, Gower?"

"I did shoot him; but 'twas in self-defence."

"Beware, sir, don't add falsehood to your other crimes! Let Trogus be called."

In a few moments the wounded gipsy was brought in. He seemed to be in great pain, but he bore himself as bravely as possible before the king. Once he looked towards the prisoner; but it was only a furtive glance, and was not repeated.

"Trogus," spoke Mohammed, "you have been called to give us your evidence touching this youth's doings to-night. Let us hear your story. And mind that you give us the facts as they are."

When our hero saw how Trogus avoided his gaze, and how he trembled, he knew that the forthcoming story had been already arranged.

"My lord," commenced the wounded villain, "you know you sent Gower and myself to conduct Fabian to Atherstone. We started, as you directed. When we reached the stream near the edge of the forest, we found that we had lost our way, and while Gower went forward to look after a fording-place, Fabian and myself sat down upon the rock. In a little while Gower came back, and as he was about to tell us what he had discovered, master Fabian jumped up and shot him with a pistol which he had drawn from his bosom. I hurried forward as quickly as possible to help my companion; but the young man had another pistol, which he fired at me. The ball lodged in my shoulder. He would have killed me if he could."

"What have you to say to this?" demanded Mohammed.

At first the youth did not know what to say. He had expected something of this kind, and yet the cool falsehood of Trogus for a moment confounded him. He tried to catch the villain's eye, but without effect.

"My Lord," he finally said, addressing the king, "this man hath spoken most falsely. I did shoot Gower, but not until he had tried to kill me; and when I fired at this fellow, it was to escape his poniard."

"A very pretty story," returned Mohammed with a coarse chuckle. "Such stories are very easily manufactured by those who have done great crimes." Then turning to Gondebald, he continued,—"Good captain, you have heard all,—what ought we to do?"

"Why," replied the man thus addressed, as though he were reflecting seriously, "I can see but one course to pursue. The murderer must be secured until you can give him such trial as our customs demand."

"You are right, captain." And then turning to the three men who stood in waiting, he added—

"Here, sirs,—take this fellow, and lock him up. Let him be as comfortable as you can; but first see that he is secure."

Our hero felt that further expostulation would be useless, so he followed Saul from the apartment, Jasper and Anselmo bringing up the rear. In the narrow hall the guide lighted a torch, and then proceeded to the rear of the building, and thence down into the cellar. This cellar seemed to be nearly as broad in extent as was the surface, covered by the main part of the building; but Saul pushed on to a far corner, where he found a door, upon opening which a low, vaulted passage was discovered. Into this the prisoner was led, and presently another door was reached, which opened with a creaking sound, and beyond which appeared a tomb-like dungeon, with solid stone walls, and an arched ceiling, into which the youth, was thrust, and the door shut upon him.

What next to expect Fabian was hardly prepared to guess, though he feared it would be some evil thing.

In the meantime the Gipsy King and his captain held an earnest consultation, during which they exhibited much malice and rage, but did not seem able to hit upon any satisfactory course of action.

"What shall we do?" cried Mohammed, starting up and walking across the floor. "Gondebald," he continued, as he came back, "do you know that the country is already becoming hot about us?—that the officers of the law have a sharp eye upon us?"

"Yes, my lord,—I am aware of that."

"And you know that they are liable, at any time, to come down upon us?"

"Yes."

"Then it is clear enough that we must not have any dissensions in our own camp at present. Were it not for that, this trial should come off this very morning, and the fellow should be hanged before night. But I dare not do it now. But—my captain—your countenance looks bright. What new thought is it?"

Gondebald bent his head a moment, with his finger pressed upon his brow, and then he approached his chief. What he had to say he dared not speak aloud, even in that place; so he whispered into the king's ear. Mohammed started as he caught the idea, and convulsively grasping his wily counselor by the hand, he exclaimed:

"Good Gondebald, it shall be done!—It shall be done.

Near the middle of the forenoon—an hour after the conference between Mohammed and his captain—Electra sat alone in her tent. She had heard some strange rumors concerning the adventure of her lover, but as yet she had not arrived at the truth. The weight of suspense was agonizing, and she resolved to seek old Dione, in hopes that she might there gain further light. She had risen, and was about to draw her light mantle over her head, when her movements were interrupted by the entrance of Gondebald.

"Sit down, Electra, sit down," her father said. He took a seat as he spoke, and when she had done the same, he continued: "I have something to say to you. I think you have heard some news. Is it not so?"

"I have heard vague rumors," she replied.

"And I'll wager a golden crown that you were about to go out after information. You were going to seek old Dione, were you not?"

"Yes," Electra replied; but she looked down as she spoke, for her father's gaze was fixed upon her so keenly that she could not meet it.

"Electra, listen to me." He spoke quickly and sternly, and the fair girl was startled as she heard his tones. "If you trust that old witch, you will trust a bengue! You don't know her. In Spain she caused the ruin of a thousand virgins like yourself. Her evil eye is upon you. Beware of her, or a worse fate shall be yours than any you ever yet dreamed of. Do you know the story of the terrible charm she wears at her girdle?"

"No," the maiden replied, wonderingly; for she she believed that the sorceress possessed more than mortal power.

"Did you not know that that charm was composed of human bones?"

"I have heard so," said Electra, shuddering.

"Did you never hear what particular kind of bones they are?"

"Bones of the finger, I think."

"Aye, but that is not all. Mark me: Each bone is from the right fore finger of a girl like yourself; and she wears them to mark the number of those who have fallen into her fiendish toils. She must have fifty of them to make her charm all powerful. She now has eight-and-forty. She has fixed her evil eye upon you and Leda!"

"No! no!" cried Electra, really terrified. "O, it cannot be!"

"But I know," asserted Gondebald, slowly and emphatically. "And now I warn you to beware of her. At present her power is limited; but, if you submit to her wiles you are lost!"

Electra dared not dispute her father, and yet she was unwilling to believe that Dione could meditate any such cruel plan. True, she did believe that the woman was a witch, but still she felt some confidence in her personal friendship. Gondebald seemed to read the girl's thoughts, and he presently interrupted them:

"But, my child, I did not mean to speak of Dione when I began; though I am glad that the thought occurred to me, for now I have given thee a sufficient warning for a great danger. I meant to speak to you of this Fabian. Ah—you start. You are interested!"

"Aye—I am interested," the maiden replied, after a moment's hesitation. "I should be foolish were I to attempt the concealment of so palpable a truth."

"I am glad that you are so frank with me, Electra. But, to the story: Fabian is under arrest, and in close confinement, for killing Gower and attempting to take the life of Trogus; and if he comes to trial, he must surely be condemned."

Electra uttered a quick cry of pain, and pressed her hand upon her heart.

"But," pursued Gondebald, who, though he watched his child sharply, yet seemed to take no particular notice of this sudden emotion, "the king desires to save the youth if he can, and he has called me to his counsel. We deliberated a very long while upon the matter. It was evident that, if Fabian were brought to trial, his condemnation must follow, for our plain laws cannot be set aside. At length we hit upon the only plan by which his salvation could be effected. We mean to let him make his escape. Do you understand me?"

"Escape?" repeated Electra.

"Yes. We mean to let him escape. A way will be opened to him, as though by accident, and he will be permitted to go free."

With one of those powerful efforts, by which the maiden could at times entirely control the most passionate emotion, she calmed the wild beating of her heart, thus utterly concealing the feelings which were rending her soul. She could not plainly understand the plot, but that there was a plot against her lover she felt sure. Should she, at present, seek further information from her father, she feared that she might expose herself, so she spoke from the necessity of concealment which was upon her.

"I am glad," she said, "that you told me this; for now I shall be more easy. I did feel much anxiety when I heard of Fabian's danger. We have been children together—we have been playmates together—and in later years we have been warm friends. I have learnt to prize his companionship much; and I will not deny that I have looked upon him with more than a mere friendly affection. But, even to bear me company, I would not have him remain here, and be in danger. I am glad, therefore, that you have planned to let him go."

Gondebald was completely deceived. He had watched the maiden's every expression, and had caught every intonation of her voice; and not a single sign could he detect upon which to fasten a suspicion that she did not mean and feel just what she spoke. He thought he saw her real feelings; and furthermore, he imagined that she had been very frank with him; so he left her with a feeling of satisfaction, which would doubtless have been changed to rage could he have overheard the plot arranged in his tent a few hours afterwards by his daughter and Leda. The Gipsy Fathers were crafty; but what man could ever outplot a maiden when striving for her lover's safety.

CHAPTER II.

THE BLOOD-HOUNDS!

Sometime near the middle of the day a man came down to the cell and brought Fabian some food and drink. It was Saul, the robber—or, in Gipsy parlance, the ostilador. He seemed a fitting man to stand in the shoes of the dead Gower; and surely he was a ready and expert tool in the hands of the Gipsy king.

The prisoner had a thought of poison in his mind, but it did not prevent him from eating; though he did not relish the food quite so well as he otherwise might have done. Saul waited a little while, as though from curiosity, and then left. When Fabian had eaten what he pleased, he walked about the cell, feeling his way along by the wall, talking with himself as he went. In this manner he had spent an hour or more, when he was disturbed in his reflections by the approach of some one towards his place of confinement, and shortly afterwards the door was opened, and Saul again made his appearance; but he did not this time come alone; his companion, Anselmo, bore him company.

"Well, my master," spoke the latter, "would you like to smell the fresh air, and see the stars? We have come to lead you out of this place; and I shouldn't think you'd feel many regrets in leaving it."

"That may depend upon what I gain by the exchange," replied Fabian.

"I guess the exchange will be all in your favor—that is, if you improve it. However, we'll see by and by."

When the party reached the upper hall, instead of turning towards the main part of the building, they moved on to the rear, and passed out, by the stables, into a small yard, where they were joined by Jasper, a ruffian whom we have once before noticed. In this yard were secured two large and powerful bloodhounds, which leaped furiously at our hero as he entered, but their stout chains prevented their reaching him. Nevertheless, he was startled by their savage appearance, for he knew their disposition too well, and he withdrew to the further corner of the enclosure. Jasper spoke to the brutes, and bade them be quiet.—They obeyed him in a measure by crouching away towards their kennel and lying down; but they still kept their fiery eyes fixed upon the youth, and their low, deep growling seemed to tell that they did not fancy the presence of the interloper.

In the meantime the three ostilators conversed apart, and finally Saul and Anselmo approached the prisoner, and informed him that he was to accompany them.

"We have learned the king's will," said Saul, "and we know now exactly what to do. We shall go with you a little way, and when you know our object I don't think you will want to make any fuss. So don't be frightened."

"I am not used to being frightened, sirs!" said Fabian, quickly and proudly.

"I didn't mean that you were," responded the villain. "I only meant that you should not have any fears of us, for I thought you looked and acted as though you fancied we would do you harm; but as I'm alive, we don't mean to harm you in the least. We're not going to hurt a hair of your head."

Our hero wondered if Saul spoke truly. If he did, then what meant this secret departure from the camp? And, on the other hand, if they did mean violence, what object could they have in denying it? Perhaps to keep him quiet, and thus render their work the more easy. He pondered upon it, and was, in the end, inclined to doubt the truth of the villain's assertions.

Meantime they had reached the deep wood, at a point where a narrow, blind hunting-path wound its devious way among the big trees, and Anselmo had taken a small lantern from beneath his frock to help light them on, for it was very dark in the deep forest. The moon was not yet up, and the stars could dart but few beams through the rank foliage of the great oaks. Saul held the prisoner by the left arm, keeping close by his side as they walked, while Anselmo kept as close upon the other side as possible. Fabian remembered his adventure with Gower and Trogus upon the rocky precipice, and he could not help feeling that these two scoundrels might be meditating the same kind of business as that which he had before frustrated. If such were the case, how should he escape? He had no weapon of any kind, while his conductors were armed to the teeth. He could think of but one chance, and that was flight. If he could break away from the villains, he might save himself.

With such thoughts in his mind, he walked quietly along for some time. By and by he hesitated, and turned towards the man who held him by the arm.

"Saul," he said, with much anxiety in his tone and manner, "was there poison in the food you brought me?"

"Poison? No—not a bit of it. Why—what makes you think so?"

"Because I feel it here," replied the youth, placing his right hand upon his bosom and uttering a groan. "I do not feel right. O, if there was poison in it, let me know it. If I am dying, let me know!"

"Bless your body, my master, you are foolish. There was no more poison in it than there is in a maiden's kiss."

"Then what is this faintness which comes over me? Why can I not see as I would? What is it?" and the youth put forth his hand as though he would feel his way, at the same time staggering and leaning heavily upp his guide.

"Majaro Undebel!" ejaculated Saul, stopping and supporting the prisoner. "What is all this? you must have eaten too much, and drank too much of that cold water! I told the king he'd better send you wine!—Here, Anselmo, take hold of him."

The man thus addressed set down his lantern upon the ground, and started to obey. This was the opportunity for which our hero had plotted. As soon as he saw that he had thrown the villains off their guard, he gathered all his strength for the effort, and with one blow he sent Saul reeling to the earth. He then took Anselmo as he was rising from his lantern, and served him in like manner; and then he darted off along the narrow path at the top of his speed. In a little while, however, it became evident that he must soon be overtaken if he kept on in the path, for his pursuers were gaining on him every moment. They were used to forest ranging, and could glide along under the tangled branches like beasts of prey.

Many thoughts flashed through Fabian's mind; but they availed him nothing. He regretted that he had not stopped and given the ruffians a few extra taps on the head, while he had them down; but 'twas too late now. The only hope was in concealment; so, on the first opportunity, he sprang into the thick wildwood, and was struggling bravely on, when the voice of Saul sounded close behind him. He turned his head to look; and as he did so, his foot caught in a stout vine, which sent him headlong among the underbrush. On the next instant Saul was upon him, with a vice-like grasp upon his throat. In a moment more Anselmo came up, and the youth's struggles were now in vain. As he lay there, pained and bewildered by the fall, and by the grasp upon his throat, they bound his arms behind him with a tight leathern thong, and then dragged him back into the path. A huge oak was close at hand, and having forced him down by the side of this, they bound his ankles as they had done his arms, thus rendering him utterly powerless, either for flight or resistance.

"Now," said Saul, as he straightened up from his work, "I'll tell you what you've been so anxious to know. I don't bear you any malice for the blow you gave me, nor for the effort you made to escape, for I should probably have done the same myself; though, I must say, if I'd got my hands upon you while the smart was in my head, you might have got a bitter taste of Saul's muscle. However, you're safe now, and I'll tell you what this all means. The king don't seek your life—he don't want to have the laws executed on you; so he gives you this chance of escape. But, mind you, you mustn't tell any body that you were let off on purpose. You must make it appear that you escaped by your own wits. And—one thing more—you mustn't come back to the camp again. You'll be in danger if you do."

"Hold!" cried the youth, as the villains were about to turn away. "If it is as you say, why do you leave these bonds upon me?"

"Because we were so ordered. The king said you'd get clear of them easy enough. Perhaps they're to save him from speaking falsely when he says, he can't imagine how you got clear." Saul gave a low chuckle as he ceased speaking, and then hurried away, his companion following close behind him.

Fabian listened till the sound of retreating footsteps was lost in the distance, and then he turned his thoughts upon his present situation. It was strange, and, for a while, incomprehensible; but finally he fancied that he could, at least, imagine something of its meaning. He had been left there to die of hunger! No one ever traversed that path save the Gipsy hunters, and they might be kept away until he had starved! As these thoughts came upon him, he strained upon the bond that confined his arms; but the tough thong was proof against his utmost strength. In a little while he tried again; and he thought that the bond gave a little beneath the strain; but he was soon satisfied that it was only the sinking of the thong into the flesh that had caused the apparent loosening.

He sank back once more against the tree, well nigh exhausted; and he now noticed that the moon had risen. With the coming of the moonlight his spirits for the while seemed to revive, and he tried to set his wits upon some expedient whereby he could cast off the lashings from his limbs. He was thus engaged when his ear caught a sound which startled him.

Hark! What is that low, frightful howling that comes breaking through the forest? It is the voice of the blood-hounds! Hark! why do they howl so cruelly—so vengefully? Why seem they so eager and so hot-breathed? Hark! they are close at hand, and their howls are changed to quick, snuffing cries. Ha!—see! They are here! The moonbeams stream in through an opening in the leafy canopy, and reveal the hounds, not a dozen yards away.

As if he had read it upon a fiery scroll, did the whole truth unfold itself to Fabian's mind. Thus could Mohammed gain his destruction, and the people of the camp should never know the murderous villainy of the deed. They would think he had escaped from his prison, and fled to the woods, and that the dogs had there overtaken and destroyed him.

But—would the brutes take his life?

The youth's blood seemed to freeze in his veins as this query came to his mind. He now remembered a remark he had heard Jasper drop, only a few hours before, in the kennel-yard, while the dogs were so uneasy. The hounds had not eaten a morsel for four-and-twenty hours!

The above is all of this story that will be published in our columns. We give this as a sample. The continuation of it from where it leaves off here can be found only in the New York Ledger, the great family paper, which is for sale at all the stores throughout the city and country, where papers are sold. Remember and ask for the New York Ledger of March 31, and in it you will find the continuation of the story from where it leaves off here.

The Ledger is mailed to subscribers at $2 a year, or two copies for $3. Address your letters to Robert Bonner, publisher, 44 Ann street, New York. It is the handsomest and best family paper in the country, elegantly illustrated, and characterized by a high moral tone.

OLD DOMINION COFFEE-POTS!!

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an-hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times. Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is enforced by the common method of roasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; send circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1856.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I have no objection to give it, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeables increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

From the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by this example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very respectfully, yours,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Slamaston, Ala., July 28th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known the PUBLIC the benefit to the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three size, viz: large, medium, and small; the small bottle half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium, a little more than a pint, and more in proportion than the small, retails for four dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 6 years of his study and use of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Compound cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottle, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use them." MARY BICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. BICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MILLER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, caused from the bore. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, are a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. REV. THOMAS BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
REGISTERED AT 1-37.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE SILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense experience of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. He has, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, rendered it desirable, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, or more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted. I regard this as conclusive and unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part (made me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications. SIXTEEN APPEALS. REVERSED all of which were decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

Firstly—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is free from opiate preparations or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of stupefying the sufferer. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; the vegetable from which it is distilled being drug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING: such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for assisting the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most obstinate and trying of diseases, it is recommended on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend it to those no time to be lost in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as other makers of like expensive their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have of any other medicine, never been able to say NEVER HAS ONE SINGLE INSTANCE, when timely used, Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tried it. On the contrary, all are delighted with it, and cheerfully recommend it to all who require it. We speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects in this matter, "what we know," after ten years of our experience for the "our reputation for the truth of what we assert." In almost every instance where it is administered, the child will be refreshed from pain and exhaustion, within one or twenty minutes after they have taken it.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but it invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives a healthy tone to the whole system. It will almost RELIEVE INSTANTLY the GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and SUREST REMEDY we know of in DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your own prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that ABSOLUTELY SURE will give you relief. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The Chronicle Office is open from 4 o'clock in the morning till 8 in the evening; and advertisements, notices, &c., duly authenticated and authorized by responsible parties, may be left in the drop-box in the street-door, after the office is closed—and will be inserted next morning if necessary or desired.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "strayed or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk, and never outside the door. All left at residences, to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door; or if necessarily left out, they will be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and diseased. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor tenure one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whetever be its origin, it is hereditary in constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which renders the blood depraved, destroys the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are rendered fatal by the taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the cure of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BIOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and when its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thru t upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,

Here's Health for the Million!!

CLARKE'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS

Warranted Palatable and Healthy.

Composed of Dock Root, Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Rhubarb, Thoroughwort, Mandrake, &c. For General Weakness, Loss of Appetite, and an unhealthy state of the system.

Man cannot feel too thankful, that our all-wise Creator has so amply supplied us with the effectual means of preserving and regaining our health. This compound is a mild, effectual and regular Tonic, very pleasant to the palate, and exceedingly healthy for the system.

Weakness.

The patient, trembling with lassitude and weakness after a slight exertion, by the use of a bottle or two of this very popular health-maker, becomes imbued with new strength and increased energy. As it gives new life and action to the blood, and increases the appetite, on which strength receives its origin and depends.

Nervousness.

Weakness, with over-exertion, is generally the origin of this horror-depleting disease. Use DR. CLARKE'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS, and you will be rendered perfectly self-possessed, calm and cheerful.

Broken Down Constitution.

Dr. Clarke's Sherry Wine Bitters are the very thing to give new life to the shackled frame, and energy to the enfeebled mind. For Mechanics, Farmers, Clergymen, and Public Men in general, no medicine can be better adapted for their purpose.

Try them!

All ye lovers of good Bitters and good health, and you will find them a cheap, effectual and pleasant remedy; and sold for the low price of 25 cents for a pint bottle.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

TUESDAY, MARCH 20, 1860.

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, March 10.

Springing up to bask in the genial sun, the green grass is beautifying the public squares and private garden plots; the sycamores and elms, as if suddenly made sensible of the nakedness of their "limbs," exhibit a commendable alacrity in assuming their garments of green; the roses and tulips delight by their beauty and fragrance; the orange trees show promise of future fruitfulness, notwithstanding the severe winter, which it was feared would kill the trees;—the early vegetables—strawberries, tomatoes, green peas, cucumbers, asparagus, lettuce, radishes, &c.,—are displayed in the windows of the restaurants, to tempt the unwary; and woe betide him who "reckons without his host." The warmth of the season has produced a crop of light vests, and other articles of masculine apparel, whose name is sacred to Silence; all betokening the arrival of the "heated term."

Since I last wrote, New Orleans has been very lively. There has been an almost uninterrupted succession of balls of all kinds, concerts, theatricals, military, firemen's and other parades. Then there was "Mardi-Gras," the last day of the Carnival, when every one is licensed to make himself or herself look as ridiculous as possible, by masking and dressing, and when not a few "disguise themselves in liquor." Unfortunately the day was stormy, but an adventurous few sallied forth during the day; and in the evening, the weather having cleared up, the "Mistick Krewe of Comus" paraded the streets, representing the "great men of our country," from Columbus to Webster Dressed in a costume fabricated from white gutta percha, the light of the torches giving it the appearance of marble, their tableaux had a fine effect.

Washington's birthday was one of the loveliest days of the year, and the military made a fine display on their turnout.

Speaking of balls, the attendance is usually of a mixed order; for instance, a few evenings since Mr. C. requested Mr. N. to furnish him with a partner, to which request he received an affirmative; but as they approached the lady for an introduction, Mr. N. heard his friend mutter, "Confound it, that's my servant!" They danced, however. The mask and fancy dress balls are numerously attended, and some of the costumes exhibit a deal of taste and are worth seeing. Taking advantage of leap year, the ladies of Fourth District will give a grand ball at Union Hall, on the 19th inst., to which they invite the gentlemen, and where the masqueraders will be under their special protection.

Messrs. Shorey and Carle's Burlesque Opera Troupe have been pleasing the citizens of this place with a series of their Etiopian entertainments.

On the 12th prox. the Clay statue will be inaugurated with appropriate ceremonies. The Governor and Legislature have accepted an invitation to be present, and Edward Everett has been invited to deliver his oration on Washington. The statue will surmount a monument in the centre of Canal street, at the junction of Chartres and Royal. Among the arrangements for the occasion is a procession, to embrace all associations of benevolence, industry, science and art, the military, &c. The shipmasters will head their corps with a beautiful ship, perfect in all its details; the steamboatmen, a steamboat, with steam up and wheels in motion; and other departments appropriate symbols of their various callings. Some papers have presume to consider it an admission of poverty—that the flourishing city of New Orleans should erect a monument of Clay in its principal street; but when they are shown that the banks of this city hold specie to the amount of $12,947,064, and that on the increase, they may alter their opinion.

On the same day, at Baton Rouge, the Industrial State Fair will commence its first exhibition, to continue five days. Premiums amounting to nearly $5000 will be given, and a considerable rivalry is expected.

Last Sunday was the day for the firemen's parade, and though some objections were made to turning out on that day, they were overruled. The day was cloudless, but rather warm, and the streets were thronged with spectators. About thirty companies were in the procession. The gay decorations of the "machines," the bright uniforms of the firemen, and the proud-stepping horses pleased the eye, while the music of many bands gratified the auricular sense.

There is a musical prodigy on exhibition here at present—Tom, a blind negro boy, not ten years of age, who, without one hour's instruction, plays the most difficult music correctly, after once hearing.

The "lion" last week was Phelan, the billiard player, but that excitement has died out. Madame Anna Bishop is favoring us with some of her delightful notes.

Mushroom shows are numerous—the "largest woman in the world" is on exhibition at four different places in the world, reminding one of that passage of history stating that Christopher Columbus "set sail from the little port of Palos in three small vessels!"

Among the strangers in town on the the previous week, I noticed the smiling face of Mr. A. G. Paine, of the enterprising firm of Allen & Paine, in your city, who, combining business with pleasure, has, I understand, been taking heavy orders for mantillas, from some of the largest of our dry goods houses. Leaving early in the week, he will probably have reached home ere the arrival of this.

I once had an idea that Boston was the paradise of cripples and monstrosities, but now perceive my error. They swarm here, basking in the sun, and very industriously doing nothing. Some make anything but mute appeals to charity, by grinding incessantly on phthisicky old hand-organs, which destroy the sense of hearing and oftentimes harden the heart.

They have "some" fogs here. Some mornings since an alarm of fire was given, and the report spread that St. Patrick's Cathedral was about to be consumed. The firemen rallied, and beheld the massive tower enveloped in smoke, but not a spark of fire. After the most gallant exertions they were rewarded by finding that it was nothing but a heavy cloud of mist, which, in the grey of the morning, had deceived all beholders.

Murders, stabbings, fires, and such slight incidents, still continue to relieve the monotony of our every-day life, furnishing items for the "locals," but not exciting half as much interest as the drawing of the Havana lottery.

ION.

☞ Ex-Treasurer Peck, of Maine, has been arraigned before the Supreme Court, at Augusta, and gave bail in $20,000 for his appearance for trial. The indictment is under the statute of 1856, for the recovery of the pecuniary penalty provided therein.

The Governor and Council of Maine, have removed Geo. M. Weston from the office of Claim Agent at Washington, on account of his position in the Peck affair. And the Hallowell Gazette says "it would be no more than just for the President to remove D. F. Leavitt as Collector for the Bangor District, and it would also be 'eminently proper' for Somes to resign his seat in Congress. We don't believe in making Peck the scape-goat for all the rascality revealed by the Investigating Committee.—We do not object to 'giving the Devil his due;' but it seems to us that there are several of the cloven-footed race mixed up in that swindling concern." Yes, and several of the Maine Banks appear to be implicated—and to have come about as near conniving at villainy and swindling, as they well can.

☞ A Sad Waste of Life, by ignorant and reckless use of a great gun, has just occurred at Wolf boro'; as we see it reported in the Manchester Mirror. The Republicans of Wolf borough celebrated the victory of the late election on Thursday evening, the 15th inst., by cannonading. They had an old iron cannon, and put in 1 1-2 lbs. of powder the first time, and the second time time 3 1-4 lbs., and rammed it in with wet sand, and when it went off it exploded, scattering into innumerable pieces. A young man from Great Falls, by the name of Garland, 20 years old, and another by the name of Warren of Wolf borough, 17 years old, were instantly killed. A young man near, by the named Kimball, who touched it off, was senseless, and it was thought he could not live. Four or five others were severely injured. One piece weighing about 30 or 40 lbs. went through the side of Dr. Hall's house into the parlor.—One piece weighing about 20 lbs. just grazed the cheek of Daniel Horne. Several others narrowly escaped. The firing was at Wolf borough Bridge.

☞ Baltimore dispatches of the 17th, speak of its being probable that the National Democratic Committee will have the National Democratic Convention meet at Baltimore, as it appears to be impossible for the large masses of people, likely to attend, to get accommodations at Charleston, even at the most exorbitant prices.

On the other hand, the Washington correspondent of the Atlas says:—

The Democrats wish to change the location of the Convention, but the Executive Committee, after several sittings, have decided that they have no power to make the change.

☞ The Perthshire Courier tells of a widower in that locality, on the wrong side of fifty, and with a small family, who, desiring a young wife, advertised for one in the London papers. He received a host of answers, and wrote to request a personal interview with one of his correspondents. The lady went down from London; and, the interview being satisfactory, the pair were in a few days united.

☞ The vote of Manchester at the late election was larger than ever before by 84. This time it is 3025.

SPIRITUALISM TESTED; or the Facts of its History classified, and their cause in nature verified from ancient and modern testimonies. By George W. Samson, D. D., President of Columbia College, Washington, D. C. 185 pages. Boston: Gould & Lincoln.

This book is evidently the work of a thoughtful man, a scholar, and one who means to be always candid and courteous. Its general character may be inferred from the following paragraph from the preface:

The admission of the reality of the facts of the phenomena called "Spiritual Manifestations," may awaken a prejudice in the minds of one class of readers; while the apparent suggestion of a natural cause for them, may disaffect inquirers of an opposite caste. But, have not all learned that it is the imperfection of our nature which leads us all to idolize our preconceived opinions, and which makes us to deny to ourselves a fair hearing of what seems counter to, or in advance of, our already formed judgments? Will not the reader, of whatever class, grant the credit of sincerity and impartiality professed in the title "Spiritualism Tested:" and allow himself to be, for the time, the friend addressed in these familiar letters?

It will be a useful book to any readers who are afraid of spirits—and an interesting book to those who have no such fear, whether they believe or disbelieve in the Manifestations, or the spirits themselves.

Of course every one cannot agree with the author's views;—but his statements of historical facts are quite reliable, and his book instructive if not decisive.

Speaking of Mons. de Gasparin, he says:

He quotes a case examined by Chamillard, doctor of Sorbonne, in the seventeenth century; in which the same result was thus sententiously recorded: "Mulla ficta, pauca vera, a dæmone nulla;" "Many things fictitious, a few true, from a demon none." He well argues in a chapter on the Scripture-teaching, that a physical abode of future torment, and present physical torture inflicted by demons, are alike unscriptural, and both inventions of a hierarchy that assumed to hold the key of heaven and hell.

Coming to the consideration of the natural cause of these phenomena, he unhesitatingly ascribes them to the excess of nervous excitability. He unshrinkingly applies the rule to his Christian brethren in America. Declaring his "respect le plurant des pasteurs qui convoquent les camp meetings," he thinks the cases of the swooners who shout, "Gloire! gloire!" come under the same "category" with the "mediums." He adds, with all the sincerity of pious devotion: "I should not love my brethren of the United States, I should not render justice to their magnificent evangelic and missionary labors, to their orthodoxy, to their praiseworthy establishment of their churches, separate from the state, and distinct from the world, if I did not point out the scandal of certain awakenings (reveils) of theirs."

☞ At a late strikers' meeting of the shoemakers in Haverhill, Mass., Mr. Hawley, one of the leaders, said:—

That the strikers, when they first struck, had closed up the liquor shops, and it was the first time it had been done in Haverhill. He was proud to lead such a noble army of men as long as they kept sober. The saloons had been opened again, but they should be closed up and the beer pumps cut off.

Mr. Hawley advocated the appointment of a committee to shut up the rum holes, and asked if money should be paid to those who had been known to be intoxicated?—One man asked if this was a strikers meeting or a temperance meeting. Loud cries of "Put him out." It was carried by unanimous aclamation, that no money should be paid out to those who use spirituous liquors.

Moved by Mr. Scates and carried, that the chair (Mr. Hawley) be empowered to appoint a committee to notify the rumsellers to close their places of business, and to obtain evidence and prosecute all violations of the liquor law; the names of the committee to be kept secret, so that the rumsellers may not be put on their guard.

A DISHONEST ENGLISH CURATE.—The Rev. H. Garratt, Curate of Chesterfield, England, has been committed for trial on a charge of embezzling the sum of £18 3s. 9d., which was collected at the church in May last on behalf of the Church Missionary Society.

SEWING MACHINES EXEMPT FROM ATTACHMENT.—An act exempting from attachment one sewing machine of a value not exceeding one hundred dollars, in actual use by the debtor or the family of the debtor, has passed both branches of the Massachusetts Legislature and received the approval of the Governor.

☞ A little boy fell into the river, at Greenfield, Maine, a few days since, barely escaping drowning. When asked by his mother, what he was thinking about while in the water, he said he thought "he should furnish an item for the newspapers."

☞ Letters had been received in New Bedford from Capt. Winsor, of ship Viking, of that port, at Hong Kong, Dec. 30, loading coolies, stating that they had revolted, but were subdued after firing among them several times, and confining them in the hold for three days.

☞ The Illinois House of Assembly has disposed of a bill for restoring the death penalty, quite summarily,—by laying it on table by a large majority, and without debate.

The root of the world is selfishness; the root of the family is love.

A Great Stir—Mon-ster!

A Floating Dock—Had-dock.

The author of a recent work on etiquette remarks that it is improper to use the word petticoat in the presence of ladies. In the name of all that is sensible, what is modesty?

Enoch, the father of Methusaleh, was translated, so that he did not see death; therefore the oldest man that ever lived died before his father!—Investigator.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters. There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, emetics, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic demanded by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters."—Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general dilapidation of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute sufferings, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a Kind of infinite sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug. 28, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in cases of Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs.

F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last fifteen years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

R. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

Yours, &c., JAMES LEWIS, M. D.

Local.

☞ About half past one o'clock, on Monday, a fire broke out in the wood-house of No. 4 Elm street. The wood-house was on Jackson street. The buildings were undergoing repairs and improvements, and the wood-shed having been used by the joiners, burnt rapidly; but, favored by the hour of day, the engines were soon there, and the house was saved, with a little scorching, by a liberal dose of water. The shed was nearly destroyed. The premises formerly belonged to the late James Nowell; Horace Webster, Esq., is the present owner.

The two old Distillery Reservoirs near by, were quite handy in furnishing water, which would otherwise have been scarce, as the tide was low.

☞ It will be seen that Messrs. Allen & Paine are out again, or rather in again, with a new and showy advertisement, this morning. We have been asked many times of late, since they have temporarily withdrawn their names from among our list of advertisers,—whether they had failed, or were tired of advertising, or if we were tired of having them. Well, they state that so firmly are they convinced of the benefits of newspaper advertising, that they shall increase rather than diminish their expenditures in that direction, this season: and we shall always welcome them to as good a place as we can find unengaged in our columns, as long as they pay as promptly and as liberally as heretofore.

They are going at once to resume their business of manufacturing ladies' outer garments, by wholesale, more largely than ever: and will employ a great number of workmen and girls, on sewing machines, &c. Besides their store in this city, they have also a jobbing depot in Boston. They are energetic and enterprising young men, and well fitted to manage business successfully. As to details, the advertisement speaks for itself—as theirs usually do.

☞ New Post Office.—Everybody is impatient to get into the elegant structure, which Uncle Sam has just built for us,—(thanks to Frank Pierce and Congressman Pike,)—that is, everybody but Uncle Sam, and he don't appear to be in a hurry at all to occupy it, now it is done. And done it is, "all but finishing"—which includes the fixed and movable furniture, shelving, &c. inside; and fencing, paving, &c. outside.—This would consume a month or two, after getting orders to do it—which is all the Superintendent is waiting for. The money is not all used up, by $10,000 or more; and we wish Uncle Sam would just say the word, and let the work be done.

☞ We are requested by a gentleman who is connected with religious meetings for youth, some of which are held in the evening,—to say that some boys, and some youths of both sexes, who are gladly welcomed as orderly spectators or hearers,—as disturbers by giggle and play, are not welcome,—and as the names of some are known, they may be reported to parents or friends, rather to the mortification of the young people themselves.

Early.—Hyacinths were in bloom, out-of-doors, in this city, on the 1st and 2d of March; and Heart's-Ease, or Ladies' Delights, as early as the 17th.

☞ Town Meeting in Eliot took place on Monday. The following gentlemen (all Republicans with the exception of Mr. Junkins) were elected:

Moderator—Alexander Junkins.
Selectmen—George C. Bartlett, James Shapleigh, Daniel P. Spinney.
Town Treasurer—James S. Tobey.
Supervisor of Schools—Otis Holmes.
Overseer of the Poor—Jas. M. Shapleigh.
Town Clerk—Samuel A. Remick.

☞ At Lynn, Mass., some outrages have been perpetrated on shops where the workmen have refused to join in the strike—such as besmearing the buildings and breaking the windows, under cover of night.

Some of the best workmen have left the strike and gone to work, and others are daily following their example. The places of the poorer class of workmen have been supplied by Newburyport, Stoneham and other towns, at old prices, while it is said the manufacturers will never sign the bill of wages.

The Clinton Courant learns that the men in the employ of Maynard & Whitney, shoe manufacturers, in South Berlin, struck for higher wages last week, and after remaining idle for about a week, concluded to go to work at the old prices.

☞ A Washingington writer for the Boston Atlas says:

Mr. Douglas is now in his seat very little, the greater portion of his time being occupied among his friends, logrolling for the Charleston nomination. "If he gets it," says Abe Lincoln, "it will not be because he is their choice, but through his own indomitable will and perseverance."

Mr. Hickman of Pennsylvania is endeavoring to obtain the floor to speak of the aggressions of the South on the North. It is understood that he will show up Douglas's slave-code policy, as recently developed in his first Senate speech this session.

☞ The trial of Edwin W. Reed, of Springfield, the seducer of Laura M. Kendall, was concluded in the Superior Criminal Court, Boston, Saturday afternoon, by a verdict of guilty on two indictments for adultey, and an acquittal on a third indictment. Exceptions were filed, but the Atlas thinks the case will not be materially changed from its present position. Reed is evidently good for a term at Charlestown.

☞ We learn from the Salem Register that on Saturday and Sunday four attempts were made to set fire to the shoemaker's shop and dwelling house of Henry W. Perry in that city. Isaac B. Wiggin, a young man who had worked for Mr. Perry, has been arrested on suspicion of being the incendiary.

Steamboat Explosion.—Savannah, Mar. 17.—On Monday night last the steamer S. M. Manning, for Hawkinsville, on the Ocmulgee river, exploded. All the crew are missing. Capt. Taylor, five whites, and eight negroes were lost, and several others wounded. Among the white passengers known to be killed are three citizens of Telfair county. All the heavy freight was saved, and the light freight ruined.

Washington, March 18.—Direct information has been laid before the Democratic Congressional Committee, to the effect that every man who registered his name at the Charleston hotels during the sitting of the Convention, would be charged seven dollars a day. An ordinary parlor and chamber will cost fifty dollars daily.

New York, March 19.—Advices from Nassau, March 10th, state that Gen. Pierce and wife still remained there. An abandoned American brigantine had been brought in, supposed to have been a slaver.

Stephens and Hazlett, the Harper's Ferry conspirators, were buried yesterday at Eagleswood, N. J., from the residence of Marcus Spring.

Ratification Meeting.—Philadelphia, Mar. 17.—The people's ratification meeting in this city to-night was largely attended.—Addresses were delivered by Hon. Tom Corwin, Mr. Curtin, the nominee for Governor, and others. The utmost enthusiasm prevailed.

☞ The kidnappers, Wilson and Hall, who recently, in Lancaster county, Pa., kidnapped a free negro, John Brown, and tried to sell him in Maryland, have been arrested in Baltimore and held in $10,000 bail. Brown has been sent back to Lancaster. A man named Fisher, a hotel keeper, at McCall's Ferry, who concealed the kidnapped negro in his house, has also been arrested.

☞ Harper's Magazine for April is received from John J. Dyer & Co., Boston. For sale in this city by J. H. Locke.

☞ It is said that in case the Homestead bill should pass both Houses of Congress, the President will veto it, on the ground of the necessities of the public treasury, as well as upon high constitutional and prudential objections.

☞ A Singapore date of Jan. 21, says the Dutch war steamer Onrust, when about five days' steaming above Benjarmassing, was suddenly attacked by about 600 men in prahns. The crew had not time to fire more than one shot when the assailants were in possession, and after murdering all on board, (seven officers and fifty men,) they ran the vessel aground.

Now that Portsmouth (N. H.) has gone over to the Republicans, that custom house will have to be closed. What's the use of keeping up a garrison that can't keep the place it holds, and keeps it?—Trav.

Aaron W. Sawyer, Esq., was elected Mayor of Nashua, N. H., Friday, by a majority of 166 votes over Aaron P. Hughes, Democrat.

MARRIED.

In Newburyport, Mr. Horace G. Wells to Miss Philena R. Pike, daughter of the late A. S. Pike.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in one day remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY.

"I saw a glorious beauty in her face,
And with her breath she did perfume the air,
Sacred and sweet was all I saw in her."
—Shakspeare.

"The fire of her eyes dazzles the two worlds."
—London Journal.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY,

Which is embodied in the exquisite proportions and luminous coloring of

TITIAN'S RECLINING VENUS.

Has for two centuries been the admiration of all beholders—artists, connoisseurs, and the public will therefore be glad to learn that a magnificent Engraving, colored in oil, of the

PICTURE THAT ENCHANTS THE WORLD,

Has been issued by the undersigned, at a price which places it

WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.

Our Engraving is the only authentic copy ever published in America, of the

GEM OF THE DRESDEN GALLERY,

For which the government of Hanover paid

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

It represents the Goddess reclining on a couch and radiant with celestial loveliness. The warm lights and soft shadows which lend such a strange fascination to all the undraped divinities of Titian, are admirably reproduced in this picture, and the accessories, both in the foreground and background, enhance the general effect.

This picture is splendid without guadiness, warm without prurience, and brimful of the very soul of art. [New York Express.

It is the best piece of flesh coloring ever executed in this country. [New York Leader.

Engraver and colorist have produced a work of art that has the Titian tone, as well as the fault; less outline of the bewitching original. [N. Y. Mercury.

The drawing, coloring and finish are beyond praise. [N. Y. Atlas.

It deserves a place in the "porte-feuille" of every admirer of the fine arts. [N. Y. Sat. Press.

Reader—Inclose $3, and 15 cents in stamps, and you will receive by return mail, a gem of art, with an elegant gift.

A LIBERAL DISCOUNT TO AGENTS AND THE TRADE.

A really valuable GIFT OF JEWELRY is presented with the Engraving. Address,

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES.—PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The ease with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "Grover & Baker" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Portsmouth, April 12, 1859

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others.

ALLEN & PAINE.

Portsmouth, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, come to Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

The "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" removes the common objection of waste of strength and flavor by evaporation in boiling. It is made with a condenser at the top, in which two syphons are arranged. After the coffee and water are placed in the coffee pot, the condenser, containing a small portion of cold water, is put on, and the spout closed with a movable cap, so that not a particle of vapor can escape. As soon as the coffee begins to boil, the vapor, instead of being given off into the room, passes up one of the syphons, and is condensed by the cold water into which as much of the aroma as was carried off with the vapor is discharged. As the coffee continues to boil, the vapor, loaded with the aroma, continues to pass through the syphon into the water held in the condenser, until the water is raised above the level of the other syphon, when the whole passes back, by suction, into the coffee below. Thus the coffee is boiled, and yet does not lose a particle of its fine aroma or strength.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times. Ladies' Home Magazine.

The above is only one of hundreds of like testimonials in favor of these justly celebrated Coffee-Pots.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of roasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage,
FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and uniformity to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald.

Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. HAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Slamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage. I have sent you four certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a blessing.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holding half a pint, the medium a full pint, and the large bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds at least 50 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of Mrs. Ricker, in regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's celebrated Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELEAZER CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to inform them, and all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick, I set every sufferer to whom I can take a phial and try it. REV. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaint of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together
THEOPHILUS CURRIER,

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, assistant clerk of 1-3T.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign patents, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, greatly facilitates him in examining and the collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, with the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot find a more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me FIFTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in his profession I feel bound to advise all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all ordinary cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for soothing the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and before Cold in the Chest it is a sure relief. For convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—at costs as much money as the other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as cause those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the human system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Pain in the Side, Shortness of Breath, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." It has never failed in curing Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

All advertisers are requested to hand in their notices as early as convenient.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In consequence of the numerous complaints we have made to us, by city subscribers, of the non-receipt of the Chronicle; and the frequent instances in which we are called upon to duplicate papers, often already once delivered, but afterward "returned or stolen," from unprotected positions at the doors of subscribers—we are induced to adopt the following plan, in attempting to secure more prompt and regular delivery of our papers, and less vexation for ourselves and patrons.

We expect all papers to be delivered as early as half-past 7 o'clock, in pleasant weather and under favorable circumstances. All papers left at stores, open at the time of delivery, to be placed on the counter or desk; but when we are informed that at residences, to be placed in the storm-house, if any; and if none, to be put inside the house door; or if necessary, left on the door bell to be rung.

If subscribers will immediately inform us of any deviation from these rules, we will endeavor to remedy the evil; but when we are convinced that they are complied with, and that any loss results from lack of a suitable place to protect or secure the papers, we shall consider our contract ended when once the paper is delivered, and cannot supply any loss at our own expense.

We will here also renew our offer of $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle from any door.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY.

"I saw a glorious beauty in her face,
And with her breath she did perfume the air,
Sacred and sweet was all I saw in her."
—Shakspeare.

"The fire of her eyes dazzles the two worlds."
—London Journal.

THE BEWITCHING BEAUTY,

Which is embodied in the exquisite proportions and luminous coloring of

TITIAN'S RECLINING VENUS,

Has for two centuries been the admiration of all beholders. Artists, connoisseurs, and the public will therefore by glad to learn that a magnificent Engraving, colored in oil, of the

PICTURE THAT ENCHANTS THE WORLD,

Has been issued by the undersigned, at a price which places it

WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.

Our Engraving is the only authentic copy ever published in America, of the

GEM OF THE DRESDEN GALLERY,

For which the government of Hanover paid

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

It represents the Goddess reclining on a couch and radiant with celestial loveliness. The warm lights and soft shadows which lend such a strange fascination to all the untraced divinities of Titian, are admirably reproduced in this picture, and the accessories, both in the foreground and background, enhance the general effect.

This picture is splendid without gaudiness, warm without pruriency, and brimful of the very soul of art. [New York Express.

It is the best piece of flesh coloring ever executed in this country. [New York Leader.

Engraver and colorist have produced a work of art that has the Titian tone, as well as the faultless outline of the bewitching original. [N. Y. Mercury.

The drawing, coloring and finish are beyond praise. [N. Y. Atlas.

It deserves a place on the "porte-feuille" of every admirer of the fine arts. [N. Y. Sat. Press.

READER—Inclose $2, and 15 cents in stamps, and you will receive by return mail, a gem of art, with an elegant gift.
A LIBERAL DISCOUNT TO AGENTS AND THE TRADE.

A really valuable GIFT OF JEWELRY is presented with the Engraving. Address,

Here's Health for the Million!!

CLARKE'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS

Warranted Palatable and Healthy.

Composed of Dock Root, Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Rhubarb, Thoroughwort, Mandrake, &c. For General Weakness, Loss of Appetite, and an unhealthy state of the system.

Man cannot feel too thankful, that our all-wise Creator has so amply supplied us with the effectual means of preserving and regaining our health. This compound is a mild, effectual and regular Tonic, very pleasant to the palate, and exceedingly healthy for the system.

Weakness.

The patient, trembling with lassitude and weakness after a slight exertion, by the use of a bottle or two of this very popular health-maker, becomes imbued with new strength and increased energy. As it gives new life and action to the blood, and increases the appetite, on which strength receives its origin and depends.

Nervousness.

Weakness, with over-exertion, is generally the origin of this horror-depicting disease. Use DR. CLARKE'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS, and you will be rendered perfectly self-possessed, calm and cheerful.

Broken Down Constitution.

Dr. Clarke's Sherry Wine Bitters are the very thing to give new life to the shackled frame, and energy to the enfeebled mind. For Mechanics, Farmers, Clergymen, and Public Men in general, no medicine can be better adapted for their purpose.

Try them!

All ye lovers of good Bitters and good health, and you will find them a cheap, effectual and pleasant remedy; and sold for the low price of 25 cents for a pint bottle.

25 cts. for a Pint Bottle. 42 cts. 1-qt; 75 cents 2 qts; and only $1,25 for 4 qts.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Bickford's Spring Balance,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1860.

TEMPERANCE IN EXETER.

EXETER, N. H., March 17.

Messrs. Chronicles:—Scarcely has the annual election passed away—(which is here an exceedingly tame affair, being "all one way," unless the ruling party can manage to get up a little family quarrel over some petty office)—before a question of greater import—the temperance question—is urged upon the attention of our citizens, by individual effort. Last Sabbath, notice was given in the churches that on Thursday evening Dr. Johnson would address the citizens of Exeter, at the Lecture room, on the subject of temperance.

The room was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the lecturer commenced by stating that he had called the people together, to speak to them of his own life, experiences and labors for the twelve years he had dwelt among them. He went on to give, somewhat in detail, his labors in private and public, with and for the rumsellers and rum-drinkers; stating that he had shrunk from taking legal measures for the suppression of intemperance, and had hoped by moral suasion and private influence to put a stop to the accursed traffic. But, in spite of these, it had constantly increased.—And now, other means having failed, he was ready to try the effect of law; and had determined to devote his time and means to the suppression of this evil; and pledged himself emphatically, never to cease his efforts as long as there remained one place in Exeter where intoxicating drinks were sold contrary to law.

He then branched off into other subjects—spoke of his investigations of spiritualism; of the prejudice they had created against him; but declared that in them he had found a new life and a higher incentive to duty. He spoke of the jail library, and how he had watched its influence, and said it promised tenfold more than he had hoped for when he commenced to labor to obtain it; and that he had endeavored to interest the citizens of other places to procure libraries for their prison houses.

He closed with an earnest appeal for material aid and the countenance and support of all order-loving citizens, in the new crusade against the king of earthly demons.

He was followed by remarks from Rev. Messrs. Fletcher, Lamphear, and others;—and after 10 o'clock the meeting was adjourned to Friday evening, in the new Town Hall, and a committee appointed to prepare resolutions for consideration, &c., at that meeting.

The next evening the large Town Hall was filled in every part to overflowing; and a series of resolutions presented, setting forth that crime and pauperism were rapidly increasing, as the legitimate result of illegal and unrestrained sale of intoxicating liquors; that the town and county expenses were thus enormously increased: and that it was clearly the duty of all good citizens to use every means to suppress such sale;—and thanking Dr. Johnson for his timely offer to lead in the matter; and pledging him their countenance and support.

Stirring and earnest appeals were made by Rev. Messrs. Fletcher, Cole and Lamphear, and the meeting dissolved, after unanimously adopting the resolutions.

What the result is to be, the future alone can disclose; but the people seem to be thoroughly aroused, and the liquor dealers decidedly uneasy. No man could have come forward for the service, who possesses in a more eminent degree the confidence of the community, than Dr. Johnson. I have heard but one opinion expressed, and that is, that he is to be relied on for all that he promises; and that the only way to stop him, is to shoot him.

As for the necessity for this movement—I have travelled over a large part of the country; have been in the uniformed cities of the West, where there was neither law nor public opinion against liquor selling;—have boarded in public houses, and have lived five years in Portsmouth, N. H.; and yet I can truly say that I have never seen a worse place for liquor-selling than this same Exeter—where the best locations on the business streets are given up to this accused traffic, and the bottles are openly displayed at the windows. And this in the good old town of Exeter—in the classic shades of an institution that is the pride and glory of our State.

But it appears that this evil, grown impudent by long tolerance, has at last exhausted the forbearance of the people, and brought upon itself a merited punishment. God grant it may prove so. ALEXIS.

EXETER, March 19.

Dear Chronicle:—The new temperance movement goes bravely forward. The liquor-sellers seem to be entirely alarmed, and are already beginning to yield. It is reported that some of the heaviest and most influential dealers have already stopped; and that probably every place, with the exception perhaps of one or two of the lowest, will be closed this week; and if those do not also shut up, their proprietors will find themselves shut up.

A more forcible example of the power of one man, armed with the right, was never presented. Here is an evil that has defied the citizens and cursed the place for years; over which the good have prayed and trembled; and which has grown constantly larger, more glaring and more defiant—humbled, prostrated, and almost annihilated, by a single blow from a resolute and energetic mind. The fact is, they know that Dr. Johnson means all he says, and will fulfil his promises if it is possible; and this is the secret of his power over friends and opponents.

A town meeting is to be immediately called, to place unlimited means at his disposal, for the purpose of suppressing liquor-selling in the town. The rum-sellers are taken by surprise, for a week ago not a ripple of this great wave was seen on the surface of the public mind; and now there seems to be no way of escape but to give up the business. The law is certain, and they would soon be under bonds not to sell; or failing to get bonds, would be in jail.

Attempted violence or intimidation would speedily bring a more direful and even more certain punishment upon them, in the present excited state of the public feeling. Besides they know there is in Dr. Johnson's mind no feeling of ill-will towards them;—and no personal ambition—but a desire to rid the community of a curse.

The winter term of Phillips Academy closes Tuesday. The ice has gone down the river the past week, and the pleasant weather makes it seem quite spring-like.—

Yours truly, ALEXIS.

The total contributions from California, for the relief of the Jews at Gibraltar, amount to $4600.

The Republicans fired a salute in the different towns of the State, on receiving the news of the election of the Speaker o the House at Washington.

A bill has been introduced into the Legislature which proposes, for the sum of $50,000 per annum for ten years, to have the State take charge of the Indians and reservations of California, without any further expense to the general government.—The bill also provides an apprentice system for Indians, with a view of compelling them to acquire industrious habits, and labor for their own support in the reservations now established. The total number of Indians now in the State is estimated at 60,000.

Steamer Columbia arrived from the Southern ports of Oregon to day, bringing the news of a horrible massacre of Indians at several villages around Humboldt Bay, by a party of white men. On Sunday morning at daylight, on the 26th, at Indian Island, opposite the town of Eureka, and distant from there but 400 yards, more than 40 Indians were killled, three-fourths of whom were women and children. On the beach at the south entrance of Humboldt Bay, 40 or 50 men were massacred, that being every human being with a red skin at that village. It was reported and believed at Eureka that a simultaneous attack was made the same morning on the Indian villages on Eel river. From what was known, not less than 200 Indians, men, women and children, were killed that morning. These deeds were perpetrated by the farmers and graziers of Eel river county, who have suffered from Indian depredations during the past year. They claim that the peaceful Indians around Humboldt Bay have furnished aid and ammunition to the hostile Indians in the mountains, and hence a war of extermination has commenced.

NEW ORLEANS, March 19.—The steamer Gen. Miramon is below, a prize to the United States, in charge of Lieut. Minor, from Vera Cruz 13th inst.

The city was besieged by Miramon. On the 5th he notified the representatives of the foreign governments, of his intention to cannonade the city. On the night of the 7th, he made an attack in force, but was soon repulsed by the Liberals, who are confident of a successful resistance.

The U. S. ship Preble was to sail for New Orleans on the 14th.

No particulars of the capture of the steamer Gen. Miramon have yet been received.

Steamer Marquez is also below, a prize, in charge of Lieut. Chapman of the Saratoga, which vessel also captured the Gen. Miramon which arrived at noon; both vessels were captured off Anton Lizardo on the morning of the sixth, after a brief action and with only slight loss. The Marquez has a portion of the prisoners; the Preble will bring the rest.

The town of Alvarado is reported to be in possession of Miramon.

SHAKING IN THEIR SHOES.

The Boston Post of March 9, had a short pungent appeal to the "Democrats of New Hampshire," which began thus:—

The Black Republicans are shaking in their shoes, in fear that they will lose their ill-gained power in your State, on Tuesday next.

The Address closes thus;—

Consign the Helperite party to the same oblivion that the New Hampshire democracy did, for so long a period of years.—If the New Hampshire mechanics and workingmen are half as much alive to the deleterious and paralysing effect of the Black Republican misrule upon their most vital interests, as those here in Massachusetts just now appear to be, we expect to hear of such a reaction against that faction there as will make sectionalism tremble to its foundation stones.

Following this piece, in the same Post, there was more than a column of peculiar politics for the striking shoemakers of New Hampshire, the upshot of which was, that black republicanism has ruined the shoe trade,—as said the Post:

Here is the whole matter in a nut shell. The Southern consumption of boots and shoes has already been sufficiently crippled to bring ruin on many of our boss manufacturers and threaten their workmen with starvation.

What, then, is the remedy? We say to all interested, it lies in going to the polls and putting down Black Republican agitation. Do this, or bide the consequences.

In default of doing it, another year will witness worse times than you have yet be gun to experience, not only in the shoe business but in every other description of manufactures.

In the same column, was appended what the Post calls a "very sensible view of the subject, by a democrat," viz. "Mr. Thomas J. Spurling—one of the two or three Democratic manufacturers of the town" of Dover, N. H. who was represented as saying that he looks upon the strike, "mainly as the result of the agitation which has taken place upon the question of slavery, and an interference with the politics of the South." Mr. S. was also represented as saying that he did not think a majority of the journeymen viewed the matter in this light, "because their votes have been more or less influenced by their employers, and they have not taken interest enough in the politics of the country at large to understand the subject."

We see by the Dover Gazette of March 17, that the same Mr. Spurling was up for Representative from Dover, and that in his ward he received just 14 votes more than Mr. Cate had for Governor: this shows exactly how much influence the strike had on politics in that instance.

There is another curious fact about the politics of the few shoe towns in New Hampshire. In the towns of Dover, Farmington, Northwood and Danville, there are republican majorities, and in the three latter towns, there are republican gains.

And yet, so far from everything going to wreck, the Dover correspondent of Monday's Traveller says:—

The position of affairs at present is—that the strike here is already successful. It is so regarded on all sides. The manufacturers, seeing that spring business is improving, are ready and willing, as they have always said, now to pay the advanced prices, of course employing as many as their business will allow, which is the finality of the whole matter, as the poorest workmen must necessarily be refused work. They have been the clogs to the arrangement of the business, and now the thing is accomplished, the men will resume work, and perhaps before another week everything will be as quiet and easy as formerly.

This is not very frightful.

☞ The Concord Patriot extra of Saturday, contains a table of returns of votes, differing a little from those of the Statesman. The Patriot table gives all the towns but seven, which last year gave Cate 334 and Goodwin 248. Taking the last year's vote in these towns, the whole vote will stand thus:—

Goodwin	38,014
Cate	33,472
Majority for Goodwin	4542

The whole vote is 71,486. The whole vote last year was 69,128. Increase of whole vote 2358. Increase of Democratic vote 670. Increase of opposition vote 1688. Increase of the opposition majority, 1018.

The whole vote of the State in the last Presidential election was 71,556, and the majority against the Democrats was 5978. The majority against us now is 1436 less than it was then; our vote is 683 larger and the opposition vote 653 less than it was then.

We gave the vote for Fremont, as declared, 37,591: but there were 11 towns, which returned their votes too late to be counted in. This accounts for the apparent discrepancy. The Patriot says;—

The Councillors for the ensuing year are all black republicans. The Democracy lose a Senator in No. 1, by the apathy and defection in Portsmouth. The Senate will this year consist of two democrats and ten black republicans.

The Patriot gives the following account of the House of Representatives:—

The list foots up 115 Democrats and 208 black republicans. Twelve more remain to be heard from, ten of whom will doubtless be Democrats, and two blacks, which will make the House stand Democrats 125 and black republicans 205, black republican majority 80. Last year the black republicans had 199 and the Democrats 126.

That is, the black mon last year had 73 majority; now they have 80. But Gosport sends none this year, so that their majority is 81.

The manufacture of Stomach Bitters.

There is nothing more common and annoying at the present day than ailments of the stomach, and whether these ills are caused by the quantity or quality of the food and drink we use, or some other cause, it is not our purpose to inquire. The fact is conceded, and hence the necessity for pills, emetics, tonics, etc. Now, everybody who has swallowed a dose of pills, or tartar emetic, knows that both are attended with very nauseous and debilitating effects. Hence they are generally thrown aside, except in extreme cases, and an invigorating and wholesome tonic recommended by all whose digestive organs are out of repair. A great many scientific men have spent much time and labor in combining the medicinal properties of herbs and extracting the same by various means. Among these, none have been more successful than Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, the well known manufacturers of the celebrated "Stomach Bitters"—Pittsburgh Union.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Boils.

These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better is it to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healthy activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Letter from Rev. Richard S. Estes.

BOLTON, MASS., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co.—GENTLEMEN,—For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. In 1854, a carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed on the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack, two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. I had previously availed myself of the advice of scientific and skilful physicians, and had tried various remedies which were recommended to me. They sometimes produced a temporary relief, but none of them had the effect to break up the tendency of my system to boils and carbuncles. Formerly the slightest injury to the cuticle, a scratch, or an abrasion was almost certain to result in a boil, sometimes a succession of them. I continued taking the Peruvian Syrup until I had used five bottles of it, and since then I have had nothing of the kind, although occasions have since occurred which would have given rise to acute sufferings, had my system been in its former diseased condition.

I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Peruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character.

Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The qualities of this medicine have placed it upon an imperishable foundation. In destroying disease, and inducing health it has no parallel.

For the following Complaints these Bitters are a Specific, viz:—Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Heart Burn, Acidity, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, and General Debility.

In many sections of our country this preparation is extensively used by physicians in their practice, and it seems to have restored many to health who were apparently beyond the reach of the healing art.

Subjoined are a few tributes from well-known physicians:

MANSFIELD, TIOGA CO., PA., Aug. 26, 1858.

I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration, &c., and confidently recommend it in General Debility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M. D.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 6, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have been in the drug business the last seven years, and have never sold a medicine which has given such great satisfaction in cases of Dyspepsia as the Oxygenated Bitters, and in this disease I always recommend it.

H. G. FOWLER.

BURLINGTON, VT., Nov. 12, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I am pleased to state, that I have tried the Oxygenated Bitters for Indigestion and Debility, and found immediate relief from using only a part of a bottle. I have the greatest confidence in it as a cure for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and recommend it with much pleasure.

Yours, &c., JAMES LEWIS, M. D.

☞ We understand that John M. Harvey and wife have sued the city for $6000 damages, for injury to the woman by a defect in the sidewalk on Market street, in front of the Goodrich Block. The injury took place while the building was going on, and the sidewalk in some disorder. The woman stepped into a cavity, fell, and injured one knee; for this, they claim large damages, and call upon the city for pay.

POLICE COURT.—Before Justice Odell, March 19, Robert Huse was found guilty of being drunk in the street, and sent to the House of Correction for ten days; costs, $3.42.

James Halfpenny was found guilty of repeating a false alarm of fire; fined $5; costs, $10.93. Appealed.

George Brown plead guilty to a charge of being drunk in the street; sent to the House of Correction for one day; costs, $3.42.

☞ Crowds surround the show window of Mr. Wm. P. Walker's store, to examine the elegant Uniform of the Governor's Horse Guards, at present on exhibition.—The suit is of U. S. Army blue, richly ornamented with gold lace; and the scarlet hanging jacket, which is worn suspended from the left shoulder, is trimmed with black and gold. The undress suit is of Navy blue, and the whole presents a neat and highly attractive appearance.

☞ The Ball of Laconia Engine Company, No. 2, takes place this (Wednesday) evening, at Rechab Hall. The Twos know how to do up such affairs as brown as anybody; and with the excellent Band announced, there will be neither fear of failure, nor doubt of having a good time.

SPRING TIME, 1850.

WILLIAM MOSES, ESQ.,—Superintendent of the City Farm—Dear Sir:—In behalf of the Ladies of this city, I would most respectfully request that you despatch at the earliest moment, a squad of your efficient corps, to Market street, and remove me to the suburbs; as I am heartily tired of a city residence, having remained on said street ever since last year, without the least disturbance, save by the wind, or carriage wheels, of the feet of bipeds or quadrupeds.

Yours very respectfully, MUD.

☞ A statuette of Washington, by Mr. French, the sculptor, is at Mr. Shores' Bookstore, where it may be seen for a few days.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Monday, Mar. 19th, the house bill authorizing the publishers of newspapers to print on their papers the dates when subscriptions expire, was taken up.

Mr. Yulee reported an additional section, to the effect that the drop letters delivered in large cities by carriers be charged one cent postage instead of two as heretofore, which was adopted and the bill then passed.

The Homestead bill was taken up, and Mr. Nickerson spoke in favor of the passage of the Senate bill, after which the bill was postponed till Wednesday.

In the House, bills were reported,—to provide for the payment of treasury notes; to authorize a loan regulating and increasing duties on imports and other purposes; making appropriations for the necessary executive and judicial expenses of the government for the fiscal year; making appropriations for lighthouse establishments; repealing the act providing for fortifications at Willetts Point; providing for the payment of the depredations committed by whites on the Shawnee Indians of Kansas; providing for the exmination of claims occasioned by Indian depredations in New Mexico.

All the above-named bills were referred to Committee of the Whole.

The House acted on the several amendments to the rules heretofore reserved for separate votes, and one was adopted, empowering the Clerk to preserve order and decorum during the pending election of Speaker.

Mr. Reagan moved to refer the Military Academy bill, as returned from the Senate, with amendment authorizing the calling out of a regiment of mounted volunteers, to the Military Committee, and spoke in favor of the amendment.

Mr. Cox made a speech in favor of affording material support to the Juarez government of Mexico, saying there is an international law which would justify us in suppressing such a government as there is under Miramon at the capital.

Mr. Reagan said he wanted the people of Texas protected, and let those of Mexico protect themselves.

Pending the question to refer the bill to the Military Committee, the House adj.

The House to-day worked under the recently amended rules. The experiment shows that, if strictly observed, they will effect a marked improvement in the manner of transacting business.

A MISSING WOMAN DISCOVERED IN ITALY.—New York, Mar. 20.—The Tribune learns through a private letter from Florence that Mrs. Brennan, whose disappearance from Staten Island caused much excitement some fifteen months ago, and who was supposed to have been murdered, is now in Italy, and was recently for a short time in Florence. By whom she was accompanied is not stated, but she is thought not to have been alone. She was seen and recognized there by persons who knew her perfectly well.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Mr. McLane carries explicit and emphatic instructions to Vera Cruz to land troops for the protection of the American Consulate, and citizens and property. He refused to return upon discretionary or general orders, knowing that the Administration would fix the responsibility upon him in case of any serious turn in events. He is also instructed to disregard the blockade that Miramon may attempt by vessels from Havana, upon the ground that it is an obstruction to commerce.

The President communicated his instructions to Mr. McLane confidentially to the Senate to-day, in reply to a resolution. On the 14th of May and the 30th of July last, he was authorized to offer ten millions of dollars for Lower California. Juarez desired a separate treaty for this purpose, and the negotiation fell through.

☞ Steamboat Eastern Queen was totally burnt at Wiscasset, Me. at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. Loss $75,000; insurance small. She was refitting for her summer trips between Boston and Bath.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over a 1 others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES!! — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

Just received, a fresh invoice of the world-renowned

of which so many thousands have been sold during the past year.

COFFEE.

Boiled coffee, it is well known, is superior to coffee made after the French fashion, by straining; but, when boiled in an ordinary coffee pot, the fine aroma goes off with the vapor, leaving the infusion flat or bitter, hence a resort by many housekeepers to the French biggin.

Several attempts have been made to construct a coffee pot that would accomplish this desirable object, but, until the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot" appeared, none was found entirely adapted to the purpose. It is simple in construction, easily used, and will always give good coffee at one fourth less cost than by the old modes of boiling.

There is in coffee both an aromatic and a bitter principle. In boiling, the aromatic (which is very volatile) escapes if the boiler is open, and the bitter remains. The excellence of coffee depends on the amount of aroma retained in boiling; but all know that this delicious fragrance of the berry is allowed to pervade the whole house for half-an hour or so before breakfast, during the boiling process, and that, in too many cases, the flavor of the coffee is so impaired, that little or no enjoyment is found in the drinking. Coffee thus deprived of its aroma, is neither so pleasant nor so healthy as a beverage.

We would recommend to housekeepers a trial of the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," which some families have had in use for over a year, and say they would on no consideration be without it, as it retains the whole of the strength as well as the aroma of the berry. One-fourth less coffee is required; and this is a consideration in these times.

Ladies' Home Magazine.

OLD DOMINION TEA-POTS.

made upon the same principle as the Coffee-pots.

WOOD'S
PATENT COFFEE-ROASTER.

A great loss of the aroma of the coffee berry is suffered by the common method of wasting it in an open pan. This is entirely obviated by the use of the Patent Roaster.

It is a simple, hollow iron syphon, or globe, intended to be placed over the fire in a stove or range, and so constructed as to be easily turned during the process of burning—so that every particle of coffee is equally roasted, and in this manner retains much more of its strength, than if burned in the ordinary way. No family that uses Coffee should be without a Coffee Roaster and an Old Dominion Coffee Pot.

Morning Chronicle.

ABOMINATIONS IN UTAH.—A correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce, writing from Salt Lake, says:

Little idea can be formed of the state of things in this plague-spot of your country. The history of Mormondom is made up of outrages and violations of the laws of God and man.

The Mormon Church asserts its independence of all earthly governments, exercises all the attributes of sovereignty, and yields no obedience to the laws of the United States.

No Gentile can hold land in Utah. His cattle and crops would go the hierarchy.—No gentile can live out of sight of Camp Floyd. No woman is safe unless sealed to one of the "saints."

Emigrants to California cannot pass through Utah without great risk of being robbed and murdered, and many a one owes his life to the troops of Camp Floyd, Fort Bridger, and on Bear River during the summer of 1859. Should the army be wholly removed, the roads to California and Oregon will be impassible to any other persons than Mormon robbers. Utah will be a wedge driven in between the Pacific States and the Mississippi Valley; between Oregon and New Mexico!

This vile Territory is a disgrace to the United States, and to all Christendom.

The Mormons take as many wives as they please. For ten dollars a man may get married, and for the same sum he can get divorced. Brigham and the Probate Judge do a lucrative business. A Mormon Bishop has his half-sister (his mother's daughter) for a wife; a Mormon bishop has four nieces (the daughters of his own brother) for wives; (he has other wives;) it is not at all uncommon for Mormons to take a mother and daughter or daughters for wives; and it is quite common for them to have, at the same time, several sisters for wives.

The New Hampshire Democrats are so cast down, that they can't even look up to heaven, because it is blue. They saw stars enough on Tuesday afternoon, long before others could see them, to satisfy an observatory full of astronomers.—Tru.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the child becomes vitiated weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, confinement or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems as if the sin of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous conditions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, bowels, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIVE AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, VENTRALGIA OR THE DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the great host of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth. Disease is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or escape them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored, and his disease so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also those formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Biliousness, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are frequent to our climate. While many inferior remedies that upon the community have failed and been decarded, this has proved, by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.
FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefited by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since I began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeables increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make a bald place.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head. Very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald.

Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Alamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood:—A year ago Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC the fact, that it is now beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, the strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing desired. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

STANLY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds a pint and a half, and is more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $6 a bottle.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Breast Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 25 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried in his extensive practice of 30 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Purge. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY A. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from any other medicine put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, are a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. NABOT F. JONES.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NABOT F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed in correct form, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and giving legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond competition, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, or more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, 12 of which were decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—it is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of stupefying its sensibilities. Thirdly—it is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; the variety made from which it is distilled being drawn from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other medicine.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING, such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for the gums and relief from all pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, it should accompany every nurse no time in procuring it.—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford it and long advertising, so we leave those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to the intelligent mothers. Its directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

Sold by CHURCH & DUPONT, Druggists, No. 38 Maiden Lane, New York.

GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Wholesale Agents, Boston.

And by all respectable Druggists throughout the country.

In Portsmouth by W. R. PRESTON.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and ten years, and can say, of it, what we have of any other article, it FAILED, IN A SIN TO EFFECT A CURE, or did we know an instance in which it failed to give immediate relief, when timely used. Never was a medicine so universally used it. On the contrary, all who have used it have but one voice in regard to its value, and invariably recommend it to their friends as possessing the virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we know," after ten years of experience, and believe it to be here declare. In almost the entire confidence in the infant is suffering relief will be found by using the SYRUP. Dispose of twenty-five cents a bottle.

This valuable prepa-tion is the PRESCRIPTION OF THE MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and never-failing success, in the hands of mothers. It will almost STOP THE PAIN, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in the INFANT'S DEATH. In all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause, we know of no other remedy so effectual, and the relief that we have sold this article for over ten thousand cases, and never in one instance has it failed in giving immediate relief. Mothers, we speak in confidence and truth, when we say to you, that if your child is suffering from any other cause, this will give you immediate relief. Do not let your own prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand in the way of your suffering child and the relief that will be ABSOLUTELY SURE and WITHOUT HARM. We have no fears to offer for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.
